The Great Railroad King Pays Lincoln a Flying Visit.

HE DIVULGES NO STATE SECRETS

Only One Judge Provided For the Second District in the New Judicial Bill-State House Notes-Capital City News.

IFROM THE BEE'S LINCOLN BUREAU.] Jay Gould arrived in Lincoln yesterday, coming from Denver over the Burlington & Missouri railroad in special coaches 100 and 142. Mr. Gould was accompanied by S. H. H. Clark, general manager of the Missouri Pacific system; Sidney Dilton, William Kerrigan, general superintendent, and a number of lesser lights in high railway circles. The party reached the city near the noon hour and were immediately switched to the Missouri Pacific depot, where they passed the mid-day in partaking of dinner in their dining ear, departing for Omaha at 1:30 p. m. The fact of Gould's arrival was known only to a few, but John Fitzgerald, ex-Mayor Burr, Mayor Sawyer, Messrs. Burks, Humphrey, Dean and others were visitors to the magnate at the depot, although little or no opportunity was given them to discuss matters of interest. When the BEE representative saw Mr. Gould the great railroader was engaged in washing his throat with a glass of water. This act on his part was so commendable for railroad men of high and low degree to in dulge in that the reporter had not the heart to break the good example that the same time. Mayor Sawyer could have received excellent material for another inaugural address had he been so fortunately located as the BEE man. A good deal of talk may be made over this inspection trip of the president ever definite was left behind regarding the action of the company in building

the present season. ONE JUDGE IN THE SECOND DISTRICT. Testerday the fact came to the atten-tion of the state officers and others that the new judicial bill only provided for one district judge in this, the Second disone district judge in this, the Second district, comprising Cass, Lancaster and Olive counties. The first thought was which of the two judges would have to go—Chapman or Pound—or if one of them would serve his country two years without the appropriation. Attorney General Leese is of the opinion that the clause in the judicial bill giving this district one judge is inoperative and unconstitutional, anyway, from the fact that the constitution prohibits the altering in any respect of a judicial district more often than once in four years. Two years ago the Second district had a judge added, and the taking from or adding to that change at this time the attorney general believes unconstitutional. Again, general believes unconstitutional. Again, both of the judges are constitutional officers and regularly elected for their terms, and constitutional officers cannot be legand constitutional omcers cannot be legislated out of office. This glaring error, however, in the judicial bill arose over the change made in it in committee when it was considered for passage in the legislature. The original bill had the district divided, with one judge each, but Cass and Otoe broke this combination and had the district united again, but they failed to carry back the judge they had taken away, and the bill was left reading one judge for the Second judicual

The articles of incorporation of the Lowe Avenue Building association of Omaha were filed yesterday, the capital stock of the company being $112,000, divided into shares of $2,800 each, payable in monthly installments of $25 each, and the remainder at the expiration of five years. The incorporators are Edwin S, Rawley, Charles K. Collins, Walter Brigham and H. B. Frey.

How Dr. Lyman Beecher Persuaded Mrs. Jackson to Become His Wife.

Cleveland Plaindealer. "Saints and sinners and the Beecher family" has been printed as the remark of the late Dr. Todd, of Pittsfield, Mass. Possibly the following anecdote of the father, which I had from his eldest son, Rev. William H. Beecher, may illustrate the peculiarities of his family. The old gentleman had lost his second or third wife and was resolved to marry again. Hence at a family gathering at Cincinnati he said: "My children, hitherto I have married altogether to suit myself, but now I intend to marry again and am willing to marry again and am willing to marry to suit you if you can think of any suitable and proper person who will have me." The children put their heads together and concluded that a certain Mrs. Jackson, who kept a large boarding house in Bos-ton and was a member of Edward's church would make him a capital wife, and it was arranged for Rev. Edward to negowas arranged for Rev. Edward to negotiate with Mrs. Jackson. After waiting a week or so the old gentleman became impatient and started for Boston, driving for Mrs. Jackson's house, calling for her and unfolding at once the object of his mission. The good lady was thunderstruck; protested that she had no idea of marrying and couldn't think of such a thing; it was impossible. To all of which the old doctor replied that he was equally surprised. The arrangement had been made in Cincinnati. Edward was to prepare the way, and he had made in arrangements to preach in had made his arrangements to preach in Andover and Amherst and to attend the May anniversaries, and expected, of course, to take her with him as his wife. At this point the good lady expressed herself as shocked that Edward had never spoken to her on the subject, nor would it have made any difference if he had; for has made good time and will be discharged to-day.

The board of public lands and buildings held an adjourned session yesterday to act upon the advertising for the sale of the state lots in Lincoln and other unfinished business. The question of prosecuting work on the salt well is yet in abeyance, although it probably will be continued to the 2,000 foot limit required in the contract.

To-day Governor Thayer well accompany the board of public lands and build-the doctor, "I will go round to Edward's and come and take tea with you." And sure enough at tea time he was there and sat next to Mrs. Jackson at the table. It was one of those large boarding houses on Beacon street, at which the lady of the house presided as a sort of matron, and to the tea-table of which the boarders kept coming and going for two or three hours. Of course the old doctor became impatient, and kept whispering to Mrs. Jackson: "I want to see you alone!" "I must see you alone!" "Can't you see me alone?" At length Mrs. Jackson left the table with him, and they went to a room by themselves. What then occurred God only knows, but the family story is that the good lady protested, expressed her amazement, and even said: "You must be crazy; the subject is too serious and solemn to be thought of without prayer to God." "Have you not prayed about?" asked the doctor. "Prayed about it? No." said Mrs. Jackson; "nave not thought of such a thing." "Let us pray," was the solemn response of Beecher, and they knelt down and prayed, Of course the Almighty was argued with; what a good wife Mrs. Jackson would make him; what a blessing it would be to her; how much good she could do in the holy cause; what a disappointment if she did not marry him. Then, observing her to be in a melting mood, he reached out his hand, took hold of hers and said, "amen." Yes, and amen it was. The grand boarding house was broken up, to the surprise of all Boston, and Mrs. Jack-son became Mrs. Lyman Beecher, making a "capital wife" indeed.

It Is a Curious Fact

That the body is now more susceptible to benefit from medicine than at any other season. Hence the importance of taking Hood's Sarsaparilla now, when it will do you the most good. Sent to His Friends.

John Jones, a man fifty-seven years of age, who has lately become a wreck of insanity, was sent by the police yesterday to his friends in Beecher, Itls. He was rescued from committing suicide by browing himself under the wheels of a Union Pacific train. Jones was formerly a well-to-do, respectable and respected citizen of Iilinois. The loss of his fortune was followed by the more trying less of his wife and several children. His mind gradually became unbalanced, until now he is totally msane.

A Turners' Entertainment. The Turners, under the supervision of Professor Kummerow, are preparing to give a grand athletic entertainment at Boyd's opera house on May 18. All sorts of athletic feats will be performed by the two advanced classes of the turners and the programme will be filled out with music by local singing societies. The object of the entertainment is to raise money to take the Omaha Turners to the meeting of the Missouri Valley Turnbezirk in Topeka, Kas.

Wanted-Brains Not Breeches. It is said that Allen Thorndike Rice ha secome the owner of the slik coat, waistcoat, become the owner or the silk coat, waistcoat, and knee breeches and the gold buckles which George Washington wore when he took the inaugural oath as first president of the United States. If Mr. Rice will go to the Pennsylvania Historical society buildings in Philadelphia and try on Daniel Webster's hat, in which his head will rattle around like a dried pea in a pod, he will find out that it is not breeches so much as brains that some persons most sadly need.
