WHAT WE APPROPRIATED.

The Last Legislature's Expenditure as Shown By the State Auditor.

STUDY FOR TAXPAYERS.

A Stormy Effort Being Made to Retain Lieutenant Dudley at the State University-State Capital News

FROM THE BEE'S LINCOLN BUREAU. The state auditor has compiled the statement of appropriations made by the last session of the legislature. This statement covers the appropriations of every kind and character and foots up the princely sum of $2,722,896.96. If any member of the last session was confronted by the query "What are we here for?" he would not have to search the stars to read the answer. These figures state with the greatest eloquence that the members were present to make appropriations. In round numbers the increase in the appropriations made by the last session of the legislature exceeds by over $1,000,000, the amount appropriated by the preceding legislature. In exact figures the appropriation of the present is $2,722,896.86 and the exact figures of the appropriations two years ago were $1.678,790.19. In all this astounding increase of appropriations there is a study in political extravagance that will undoubtedly occupy the attention of a great many thinking taxpayers. Such an increase in appropriations is undoubtedly without a parallel in Nebraska or any other state and the following exhibit shows the purposes for which this volume of appropriations were made. They are of more than ordinary interest:

Temporary university.
Institute for feeble-minded....
Live stock indemnity.

ington in relation to the efforts to retain Lieutenant Dudley at the university the coming year. The letter embraces the resolutions adopted by the board of re-gents, and accompanying this was an ad-ditional personal letter from Governor Thayer to the secretary of war.

Thayer to the secretary of war.
Following is the letter:
LINCOLN, Neb., March 28, 1887.—The folnowing are copies of resolutions adopted by the board of regents of the university:
Whereas, It is, in the opinion of the board of regents of the university of Nebraska, quite important that Lieutenant E. S. Dudley, professor of military science and tactics, be retained until the expiration of the next university year.

ley, professor of military science and tactics, be retained until the expiration of the next university year.

1. That there be no interruption in the studies and drill in the midst of the session.

2. Because it is desirable that he should continue in charge until the building for armory and drill room that is expected to be erected from plans prepared by him, may be completed before the university is deprived of his valuable services.

3. Because of the value of his services in the organization of the militia of this state.

Resolved, That the board respectfully request of the war department if it is not incompatible with the good of the service to extend the detail of First Lientenant E. S. Dudley, of the Second regiment, United States artillery, as professor of military science and tactics, until the close of the university year, sept. 1, 1888.

We, the undersigned, heartly concuring in the above presumble and resolution, respectfully request the Nebraska delegation in congress to use all legitimate means to secure the extension of detail asked for; and in view of Lieutenant Dudley's work in connection with the organization of the state militia, we request that the detail may be extended until the list of September, 1888; Jehn M. Thayer, governor of Nebraska; William Luse, attorney general; H. A. Babcock, auditor of public accounts; George B. Lane, superintendent public instruction; G. L. Laws, secretary of state; Jas. Scott, commissioner public lands and buildings; C. H. Willard, state treasurer.

LETTER FIROM FRED GRANT.

Lieutenant Dudley has received the following letter from Colonel Fred Grant

Licutenant Dudley has received the following letter from Colonel Fred Grant in reply to a letter written informing the colonel of the action of the Nebraska legislature in creating the Grant Memolegislature in creating the Grant Memorial hali at the university campus:

New York, April 17, No. 3 East Sixtysixth street.—Dear Dudley: Your very kind letter of the 2d inst. has been received by me.

All the members of my father's family are grateful to your and to the old soldlers of the Nebraska legislature for the "Grant Memorial hall." The perpetuation of my father's hame and deeds is to me almost a religion, and I believe that every monument or mename and deeds is to me almost a religion, and I believe that every monument or memorial erected to the memory of U.S. Grant is a testimonial also to the brave men he led to glorious victory. In future years the children will point to these works and say with pride, my father fought with Grant at Belmont, Donelson, Vicksburg, or some other great battle. I am, and always will be glad to tear from you, my old classmate friend.

Yours faithfully,

F. D. GRANE,

HASTINGS BUILDING ASSOCIATION. The Hastings building association with a capital stock of $50,000 has filed articles of incorporation with the secretary of state. The shares of stock are fixed at $100 each, the paid in capital to be invested in the purchasing and improving of real estate; business to commence on the 18th of April, 1887, and to continue for twenty years. The incorporators are J. F. Ballinger, T. E. Ferrell, C. H. Deit-rich, C. L. Stone, M. K. Lewis, G. W. Mowrey, A. H. Cramer and H. Bostwick.

MR. MORTON CANED.

Hon. J. Sterling Morton, while in Lincoln over Arbor Day, was a guest of Mayor Sawyer. It was known that Arbor Day was the fiftieth birthday of the gentleman from Otoe, and a number of his admirers and friends of long standof his admirers and friends of long stand-ing embraced the opportunity in connec-tion with the day to present Mr. Morton with a very elegant gold-headed cane that was appropriately engraved. A large number of friends were in attend-ance at the presentation, which it is re-ported was a very place of the standard o ported was a very pleasant event in every particular.

Two men named M. McCarty and Tom Kelley were arrested yesterday charged with entering a room over the depot hotel and abstracting therefrom clothing belonging to one Harry Yokman. They were also charged with stealing a watch from William Kinger, which they sold, and it is claimed tried to sell the clothing. Their hearing was set for yesterday afternoon. Two lads, named Phiny White and Ed Mann, were up in police court yester-day charged with stealing pocket knives from Jones' drug store. The police judge held them for appearance in the county court as proper candidates for the state reform school

AMUSEMENTS.

BOOTH. The appearance in Omaha this week of Mr. Edwin Booth will be an event of great interest. He will be seen in three of his most notable impersonations, namely: "Richelieu," "Hamlet," and lago in "Othello."

Manager Boyd announces that during the Booth engagement the doors will be open at 7:30 p. m., and the curtain will rise at 8:15, thus giving ample time for all to be in their seats before the per-formance begins. Those coming after the rise of the curtain will not be shown to their seats until the end of the first act.

SWISS &ELL RINGERS. Of the company which opens next Monday, to-morrow, at the People's theater, the Lincoln Journal said:

Among the many entertainments for amusing the public a comic concert is certainly out of the usual line. Therefore, the amount of fun the Swiss Bell Ringers succeed in furnishing is perhaps a just criterion to judge of their claims to recognition. While, judged by this standard they are worthy of high commendation, it should be remembered that they also furnish a marical entertain they also furnish a musical entertain-ment of superior excellence.

"A Rag Baby" with Mr. Frank Dan-iels and all the original company will return to Boyd's on Saturday next, April 30 for one night only. The popular farce comedy is too well known to all onr amusement going people to need any ex-tended notice. At its last appearance here it was greeted with packed houses.

A Trip to Europe. Miss Minnie J. Wood of this city has arranged two excellent vacation tours in Europe, each commencing on the 2nd of next July, which will doubtless be appreciated by people who desire to go abroad, with but reasonable expenditure of time and money. The first is a trip to Liver-pool, Stratford-on-Avon, London and Paris, including first class travel, hotel accommodations, carriages, fees and all occupying thirty-five days and costing $240 The second comprises a visit to England, Belgium, Germany, the Rhine, Switzerland, France, under the circumstances specified, occupying sixty days and costing $400. At all the points mentioned sufficient time will be afforded tourists to visit every some or structure of note and interest, and on all visits the party will be accompanied by competent interpreters. For each of these tours, it s understood, a number of Omaha people have already signed, and a most agreeable trip to the other world may certainly be expected. Miss Wood may be addressed or consulted at 1113 N. 18th st.

The Mayne Hat.

Nine of the gentlemen who are connected with C. E. Mayne's real estate company surprised him last evening by walking in, "Ingun file," as George W. Jones of Wyoming pronounces it, and politely saluting him with high stiff hats of exactly the same shape and slyle. Mayne was non plussed for a minute and then went down to Frederick's, where he learned the tiles were obtained, and was soon ornamented with one himself. The incident—and the hat—are the outcome of a joking remark made by two of the Mayne household who went into Frederick's after headgear. They were Jones and Harry Potter. Frederick tried to sell them white "keg" hats, and they rejoined that if he would get a C. E. Mayne hat of the same style, they would take a dozen. Frederick wasn't to be bluffed, so he ordered them. When they came, the boys were notified and had to take their hats and their medicine. The name and the style of the hat are both taking, and Frederick has had so many inquiries during the last two or three days that he has sent for a number. The Mayne hat promises to become a fixture.

Police Court News.

O. H. Rothacker, the thug charged with assault with intent to kill, will be arraigned before Judge Stenberg on Tuesday. He will probably waive examination.

Two women of not doubtful reputation were arrested last night by the offi-cers for the respective offenses of drunkenness and indecent exposure. The in-toxicated woman is in jail. The other debosited her fine.

COUNTY CENT'L COM.

Old Man Ford.

Nathaniel Ford was arrested this morning on the complaint of Mrs. Ford, the woman owning the grocery store in which Kerr shot Way yesterday. She charges that Ford kicked down her door last night and caused her to fear bodily last night and caused her to fear bodily danger. Mrs. Ford claims to have been divorced from Nathaniel, but the latter is unwilling to admit it, and wants to live with her, which she will not permit. The accused was brought before Judge Berka by Coustable King, this afternoon, and agreed to leave the town. He is the same old fellow who was arrested for burning a house in South Omaha last summer. His story of marital infelienty is sensational if true.

Republicans in Council. The republican city convention assem bled yesterday afternoon in the council chamber at 2:20 o'clock, and was called to order by Chairman Gray, of the central committee.

Ralph Breckenridge was nominated by Lee Estelle as temporary chairman. S. S. Auch Moedy was nominated as temporary secretary. Both gentlemen were elected and expressed their thanks for the honor. Mr. Breckenridge said that as there was more before this convention than before any previous city convention he believed the proper thing was to proceed at once to business.

John Clark moved that a committee of three on credentials be appointed, and that the committee recognize no proxies except those held by persons residing in the wards from which the proxies came.

Several amendments to this motion were interposed, and the last one, making the membership of the committee nine, was adopted. The original motion then carried unanimously. A motion by Mr. Lindsay, that no person be alowed to hold more than one proxy, was also adopted. The following committee on credentials was appointed: Messrs, Clark, Es-telle, Morrison, Maul, Redman, Kammer, Sholes, McConnell and Needham.

During the fifteen minutes recess, which was taken to enable the committee to examine the credentials of elected delegates and the proxies, the council chamber was a busy scene of caucusing. No little excitement prevailed and above the loud hum of voices the two names which were attracting most attention were heard—Broatch and Strang. The committee on credentials returned and presented a report showing that fiftyfive delegates were present as having been elected and also eight represented by proxies, as follows. FIRST WARD. William A. Kelley

Mr. Butier moved that the convention proceed to the nomination of a candidate proceed to the nomination of a candidate for mayor, whereupon some enthusiastic democrat in the rear of the over crowded hall, shouted, "$50 to $10 that Broatch don't get there." The bet was either immediately taken or the noisy individual was hustled out of the room, because nothing further was heard from him.

The first ballot, an informal one, resulted in presenting the names of J. W. Broatch, E. Strang and C. A. Fried. The ballot was dealared to be irregular on the ballot was declared to be irregular on the ground that there were more votes east than there were delegates, and the same was true of the succeeding ballot when 65 votes were cast. On the arst ballot the Ninth, Fifth and Second wards voted solidly for Broatch and his total vote was

35. The Eight ward voted as an unit for Strang and his total vote was 21. After the second ballot was declared the chairman announced that it was void owing to there being 65 votes for 93 delegates. Thereupon a scene of great ex-citement ensued. Mr. Clark declared it an outrage that sixty-three men could not vote without someone stuffing the Mr. Broatch been declared the choice of the convention by a majority vote and he moved that he be nominated by acclamation. (Applause and counter manifestations.) The chair's decision to take another ballot was finally sustained and the vote resulted: Boacth 42, Strang 21. Mr. Boatch was made the unanimous nominee of the convention.

Messrs. Morrow, Clark and Moore were appointed as a committee to wait upon Mr. Boatch, and brought him forward amid a furore of applause. He ward amid a furore of appinuse. He said:

Mr. Chairman and Gentlemen of the Convention: I need hardly say that I feel very thankful to you for this nomination. I consider it, coming as it does from the republican party of this city, equivalent to an election, and if elected you can depend upon me conducting my share of the city government upon the same business principles upon which I manage my own affairs. I came to this city thirteen years ago with but little, and by hard labor and economy I have accumulated a competence. Omaha is a prosperous and rapidly growing city, and its citzens demand that its affairs shall be so managed that there shall be no extravagance whilst continuing an extensive system of improvements. I do not know that there is anything else that will more fully express my thanks than that I consider it a very great honor.

John Groves, John Rush and Mr. Gelatte were placed in nomination for city treasurer. The informal ballot resulted: Groves, 27: Rush, 27; Gelatte, 9. The formal ballot resulted: Rush, 44; Groves, 19. Mr. Rush's nomination was then made unanimous. Upon being introduced, he said:

"Mr. Chairman and Gentlemen of the Republican Convention: This is the fourth time I have been nominated by you either by acclamation or almost unanimously. Three of these times the party ticket upon which I have run has been elected by an overwhelming majority. This time we go into the fight with the democracy of the city actively aggressive. If we do our duty to the ticket, victory again will grown our beamers. In promising to do my duty, I cannot promise that I'will do more toan the gentleman who is about to lay down the pen, which I shall take up. (Applause and laughter.) I concede all praise to an honest democtat. If I do as well as Truman Buck has done, that is all I shall have hoped for. I thank you for the honor you have done me.' (Applause.)

E. K. Long was, upon a motion, de-clared the unanipous choice of the con-vention for the office of comptroller, Upon being called upon he said that he had been a republican for nineteen years and never had he seen so bright a prospect for success of the republican ticket.

POLICE JUDGE. Over the nomination of police judge Over the nomination of police judge a lively but entirely good natured contest arose. The names presented were D. H. Mercer, Louis Berka, Lee Hellesley, and D. B. Hauck. On the informal ballot Mercer obtained 8 votes, Berka 22, Hellesley 21, Hauk 10, The formal ballot brought out 19 for Mercer, 25 for Berka, 18 for Hellesley, and 1 for Hauck. Berka was nominated on the next ballot, receiving 32, while Mercer held 18, and Hellesley 13. Mr. Berka's nomination was made unanimous. He briefly was made unanimous. He briefly thanked the convention. D. H. Mercer, one of the defeated candidates, was then called upon and in a minutes speech clectified the convention. He said: I certainly feel proud of the testimonial I have received this afternoon. You have acted wisely. You have nominated a man whom I can earnestly support. You have added magnificent strength to the ticket which, I trust, will receive a magnificient majority.

COUNCILMEN AT LARGE Upon the nominations of councilmen at large there were but three contests. These were from the First, Fourth and Eighth wards. In the First war1 it was between Mr. Goodman and I. S. Hascall; in the Fourth between W. J. Welshans and J. A. Woodman; and in the Eighth, between Leavitt Burnham and A. J. Herold. The following were the nominees of the convention by wards: First ward—Isaac S. Hascall, Second ward—C. B. Strycker. Third ward—Dr. Hertzmann.

Fourth ward—J. A. Woodman.
Fifth ward—Jacob N. Counsman. Sixth ward-Francis E. Bailey.

Sixth ward—Francis E. Bailey.
Seventh ward—Michael Lee.
Eighth ward—Leavitt Burnham.
Ninth ward—Charles Unitt.
All of the nominees made speeches of acceptance. That of Michael Lee was terse and stirring. He said: "I have come from a new territory, and before I thank the convention, I must thank the citizens of the Seventh ward. I am in favor of progressive, intelligent, public improvements. We should build for the future and not for the present. We should make improvements for a half million inhabitants."

THE CENTRAL COMMITTEE. As soon as the chair had announced the nomination of Mr. Unitt as councilman-at-large from the Ninth ward, some delegate exclaimed: "Mr. Chairman, I nominate John T. Clarke as chairman of the central committee for the ensuing year." The nomination was seconded, and the chair put the obestion, which was carried. Thereupon arose some confusion. Lee Estelle said that the convention had been waiting for Mr. Unit to speak, and had not known what was before it when the question was put. He nominated Mr. Jurley as chairman of the central committee. Finally, through the pacific talk of J. S. Hascall and others, quiet was restored, and, after Mr. Unett had spoken, D. H. Mercer was nominated as chairman. man of the central committee and unan-mously elected. Mr. Mercer made a ringing speech full of republicanism. The full central committee was then made up as follows:
First Ward-William A. Kelley, Lewis

Second Ward-John F. Behm, M. Mor rison and Anton Franci, Third Ward—M. O. Maul, Charles Fourth Ward -- P. O'Hawes, R. W. Breckenridge. Fifth Ward-B. F. Redman, John Wallace, E. A. Parmelee.

Sixth Ward-W. B. Morrow, Joseph Rowles, R. S. Cheney.
Seventh Ward-H. C. Aiken, J. B.
Hensel, J. N. Pierce.
Eighth Ward-J. J. Saville, Peder Pederson, M. F. Swigleton.
Ninth Ward-C. P. Needham, C. J.
Johnson, D. L. McGuckin. The convention then adjourned.

Meeting of the Central Committee. As soon as the convention adjourned the central committee met and organized, with D. H. Mercer chairman, Frank Redman secretary and and J. J. Brown treasurer. Another meeting will be held o-morrow afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Call of the Republican City Central Committee.

There will be a meeting of the republican city central committee at the council chamber Monday, April 25, at 2 p. m. A unanimous attendance is requested.

who has aircady served thirty-one vears of a life sentence—the longest term of imprisonment ever served in New York state. Gorman was convicted of murder. When he was a young fellow he was a teamster in Brooklyn. One night he of drunk and went to sleep on a sidewalk. Two brothers named Johnston awakened him. Gorman drew a pocket knife and slew them both in a drunken fore. In slew them both in a drunken fury. In his defence he declared that he believed the men were trying to rob him. He was tried before Judge Gilbert Dean, and was convicted of marder in the first degree. Governor Clark saw enough in the circumstances to warrant him in changing the death sentence to imprisonment for life, and since his incarceration the prioner's father, mother, sisters, prothers, and friends have all died—all except ore friend. Through all these years a goodhearted court officer of Brooklyn has stuck to Gorman, and now, attached to the application for pardon is the officer's
