THE WHEAT MANIPULATION.

No Longer Any Doubt That The Clique Will Take Cash Wheat.

A STRONG FEELING PREVAILS.

More Gossip as to How the Deal Will Terminate-But Little Transactions in Corn - General Market Quotations.

CHICAGO PRODUCE MARKET.

CHICAGO, April 25 .- | Special Telegram to the BEE. |- Wheat for May closed at 8434c to-night, Kershaw & Co. having been steady sellers to-day, and "pegging" the market to prevent an advance, just as last week they "pegged" it to prevent a decline. May wheat was at Stige at the very opening to-day, with very little offering. On Sunday the crowd felt for a long while that by persistent hammering it could get this option down under 84c, and tried pertinacionsly to do it. There was an improved tone to cables and the prospects for a substantial decrease in the "visible" were good long before the official figures were made public. But these influences had nothing to do with the advace of 1c in the May option over Sunday. This was because faith in the wheat clique was increasing. If the clique brokers had not relieved the tension it is not easy to tell where May wheat would have gone to. At $5 4c Kershaw sold liberally and sold until the market was down to to 843cc. Dwight & Gillette had a selling order for somebody in May and the crowd took this. The crowd wanted it all. The official figures, putting the decrease in wheat at 1.935,000 bushels, gave a little impetus to the market and sent June to 8414c. There was just a little reaction after this, but it did not amount to anything. The news that the clique was making its arrangements with the banks for not only the month of May, but for June and July, gave the crowd courage. There is not any longer, in the minds of anybody, a doubt that the clique will take cash wheat. This, however, is about the only thing that is universally admitted. There is even the wildest sort of a division over whether May, June or July is to see the cul-mination of the manipulation. The clique traders themselves (and this is one of the queerest features of the deal) are apparently as much in the dark over this point as any-body else. This is explicable because Ros-enfeld & Co., for instance, have had no orders except in May. Some other of the clique houses have had orders apparently to change over all their May either to June or July. Part of the gossip going about to-day was that one of the cliques—some records bewas that one of the cliques—some people be-lieve there are two—made a proposition to the stronger and bigger of the two to com-bine. The proposition, the story ran, was rejected on the ground that it was too late for combinations; but if wheat was for sale, the bigger clique added, it could be sold out in the pit and would be bought there.

the bigger clique added, it could be sold out in the pit and would be bought there.

Corn was fairly steady to-day, but operations in it were small. May sticks under 89c even when wheat is at the strongest. People who are given to talking "deals" are declaring it their belief that the clique must take hold of corn to help out wheat. With the latter at near 80c and corn near 40c, it would not be such a dead sure thing to bring vast quantities of corn just to avoid buying quantities of corn just to avoid buying wheat. The latter is about as near a reasonable shipping basis as the cheaper grain, and certainly is in sharper demand from the mar-kets east of here.

Hogs—Business was active and values the same as Saturday. In the Rock Island division there was a kind of sky-rocket market. Values went up like a shooting star and came down like a burnt stick, all on account of a little competition between speculators, who at one time had values 5@10c higher than Saturday. They let go, however and fell rather "sick" at the close, with a large number on their hands, which they could not sell as high as they bought. In the other divisions business and prices was the same as on Saturday. Common mixed sold at $5.20@5.25 good mixed and packing sorts, $5.35@5.55; good mixed and packing sorts, $5.35@5.55; best and closely assorted heavy, also butcher weights. $5.50@5.65; light sorts, $5.80@5.40; pigs, $4.70@4.95.

FINANCIAL.

NEW YORK, April 25 .- [Special Telegram to the BEE. |-STOCKS .- Fully one-half of the trading in stocks up to noon to-day was in New England. The break in it last week of about 4 points, and the fact that the bull pool which had been operating in it for some time had liquidated, made the bears confident sellers. The opening was 1/4 per cent under Saturday's close and the directors' party at once began putting out a line of short stocks. Room traders jumped in and sold with in siders until a break of 2 per cent has been secured. About 5:30 o'clock there was some buying by people who thought a reaction might be secured, but the prevailing sentiment was that New England would have to dritt lower before there would be any chance for a bull movement in it. The rest of the market was very naturally affected unfavorably by the sharp drop in New England, notwith-standing the fact that London prices were all 14 to 36 per cent higher. The exception, however, to the general weakness was Union Pacific, which opened very strong and advanced to 68 on the appointment of T. J. Potter to the position of manager of the company. Coal stocks were only moderatively active and showed little disposition to advance. Western Union made a fractional gain after the effect of the New England scoop had been partially discounted. Oregon Navigation, too, was up 14 per cent, being favorably influenced by the signing of the lease whereby the Union Pacific company guaranteed 5 per cent on the stock. At noon the market was rather firm, sales to that hour aggregating 197,000 shares. One of the features of the day was the general weakness in fancy stocks. Fort Worth & Denver, Kingston & Pembroke and Lake Erie & Western preferred sold down about 1 point each and closed rather soft. Western Union moved up just before the close on big buying orders. and the point was that it would move up rapidly this week. The general marke closed steady at, is most instances, a decline from the opening prices. The total sales were about 375,000 shares.

The Week. There has been a scarcity of the leading articles of produce, and a firm market has been the result, the same as a week ago. There have been very few changes to note, prices continuing very steady on most lines. noticeably so on butter, ezgs and pouitry. In vegetables there has been some change owing to the arrival of home grown stock on the market, which always lowers the prices. Strawberries are also lower on account of the arrival of stock grown near this point. Other lines of produce very steady as quoted below.

General Produce. Monday, April 25. The following prices are for round lots of produce, as sola on the market to-any.

Eggs—The market is steady at 10c.

been liberal during the week, and upon the whole the market has been very fair, although it experienced quite a heavy decline. The week closed with an active market and the pens cleared.

The cattle.

The cattle market to-day was active at an advance of at least 10c on good, handy fat cattle. There was a good demand and the buyers were in the yards early in the morning. Everything was sold out early. Butchers stock was also in better request and went at stronger prices.

There were a few loads sold early to-day at a shade stronger prices than on Saturday. The general market, however, was about steady and the close weak. There were no hogs left over.

Sheep.

There were no fresh receipts.
