

NEWS OF NEBRASKA TOWNS.

Notes From Central City Which Show Her Material Progress.

GENEVA'S BRIGHT PROSPECTS.

The Latest Moves at Wahoo—Life and Activity at Crete—Ord Organizing a Room—Creton's Rapid Growth.

Central City's Progress.

CENTRAL CITY, Neb., April 28.—[Correspondence of the BEE.]—There is considerable life hereabouts, owing to the B. & M. extension. The graders have begun work at the end of the track here, and are making the dirt fly on the first eighteen miles northwest. Several hundred men and teams are employed, and the grade will soon be ready for the iron and ties.

Hon. George W. Post, the Chicago & Northwestern right of way agent, has been in town this week and the prospects are good for Central City getting the Chicago & Northwestern railway here soon.

W. R. Persinger is absent on a flying trip to Alabama.

Central City is growing to be a good stock shipping point, the shipments averaging about fifty cars per month.

The B. & M. has leased 120 acres of land near their yard here for storage of material, and it is coming in at a lively rate.

The Lanco Creek cattle company has purchased considerable land near Central City for feeding purposes and will feed about 1,500 head of cattle the coming winter. This makes the farmers feel jubilant as it means good prices for hay and grain.

Central City has a board of trade in full blast, and with every man's shoulder to the wheel and fortune favoring us with so many necessary advantages, we are going to have a boom such as has never been seen here.

Our new three story brick hotel is expected to be ready for opening within thirty days, which will give Central City hotel accommodations as good as any place in the state.

Mr. M. C. Martin, late of Omaha, has become a citizen of Central City, having formed a partnership with W. S. Newmyer, drugs and musical instruments.

Central City would be glad to welcome more Omaha people, and they cannot come to a livelier place to commence business.

John R. Kash, of Pittsburg, has been in town looking after stock to be sold at the Harrows in view to Chicago with part of the sheep he has been feeding.

Isaac Praver, Jr., and Wm. Vierzeg took charge of a shipment of E. W. Ormsby's sheep to Chicago this morning.

The Methodist college at this place is in a flourishing condition under the charge of Rev. Marquette as president and financial agent. The attendance is nearly 100.

H. B. McCollum, late of Kahoka college, Missouri, has entered upon the duties of principal of the high school. The professor comes highly recommended and Central City will retain her reputation as the best school second to none outside Omaha and Lincoln.

Anyone to get an idea of the wholesale hardware business of Central City should see the car load after car load of goods recently shipped by Berryman, Patterson & Co.

Cur creamery is making nearly 1,000 pounds of butter weekly and cannot begin to keep up with orders from Denver, Salt Lake, Omaha, Mont. and western Iowa.

Deputy Sheriff Best has gone to Los Angeles, Cal., to recruit his herd.

Attractions at Geneva.

GENEVA, Neb., April 25.—[Correspondence of the BEE.]—Geneva, the county seat of Fillmore county, is booming to such an extent that it is attracting people here from all over the country, and every day's train brings in people who are looking for homes and business locations. We now have two railroads, the B. & M. and the Fremont, Elkhorn & Missouri Valley. The latter is now being built from Seward, making this its terminus for at least one year. A large amount of ground has been bought for depot purposes, and we are assured of the fact that this will be the division station. The Kansas City, Wyandotte & Northwestern railroad has submitted propositions to build a road from Kansas City to this place, running west through Clay Center and to Hastings, making this point their division station. They will also start a branch from here, running northwest through Grafton and on up into Holt county, making this the junction and division point. Our town has an actual living population of 1,200 people, and will be found the most energetic people on earth—up, alive, and adding.

Geneva being the county seat, with four railroads, and the center of the coming city and railroad center between Lincoln and Hastings. Buildings are being erected at the rate of one a day. We have two brick yards in full blast, they being a demand for all the brick they can make this season. There are two brick blocks now under way, and magnificent structures they will be.

Real estate is advancing at a rapid rate, and the city is being built up. Geneva's bright prospects, and well they may.

Waftings From Wahoo.

WAHOO, Neb., April 25.—[Correspondence of the BEE.]—The news of the appointment of Representative Charles J. Harrison as postmaster at this place, to succeed J. N. Davis, created a great deal of surprise and consternation among the many would-be postmasters in the democratic ranks. His appointment gives general satisfaction to the people, and it is only the disgruntled of his own party that are kicking. Harrison is at present in Kansas looking up a location for a bank, and it is thought by many that he will not accept the office, but will carry out his intention of removing to Kansas. It is, however, safe to presume that he will not remove until removed or until it is about time for his postmaster commission to expire.

Wahoo's new creamery is finished and in running order. The cans have been distributed among the farmers and the first product of the creamery will be turned out to-morrow. The creamery is the most complete of any in this part of the state, in all its machinery and furnishings, and of the finest quality of dairy product is the anticipated result.

The waterworks have been being agitated and the committee appointed by the board of trade and by the citizens' meeting are investigating the subject thoroughly, and will soon report on the best system of waterworks, and if they want, and submit the question to a vote of the people until the work will be begun.

Crete's Boom Begun.

CRETE, Neb., April 30.—[Correspondence of the BEE.]—A boom for Crete is no longer a question. It is a settled fact that the Missouri Pacific will build to his point during the coming summer. Many important real estate transfers have been made and the building boom has rightly begun. Johnson, Foss & Stevens purchased 1,200 lots from the South Platte Land company. These men evidently mean business.

Ex-Governor Dawes has purchased the handsome residence of H. H. Whittlesey and will make his home with his family here after May 1. Consideration $5,000.

The Crete Creamery and Cheese factory has begun business under favorable circumstances and will undoubtedly prove a profitable enterprise.

The Nebraska Chautauqua assembly promises to be more attractive this year than ever before. The management has secured the best lecturers from the east and west. Ten days last year was found to be short period to afford an opportunity to all who desired to attend. The assembly will open this year June 23 and continue until July 8. Contracts have been made with Frank Beard, George F. Hunt, Colonel Homer B. Sprague, Dr. Henson, George W. Bain, Dr. J. L. Hurlbert and others to deliver lectures during the whole season.

Activity at Ord.

ORD, Neb., April 25.—[Correspondence of the BEE.]—The Ord board of trade has just been organized. Our citizens are showing a good deal of interest in the matter, and much benefit to town and county must undoubtedly result from it. The question of water works is agitating the community, and a good system will be put in at no distant day.

The Central City & Black Hills line of the B. & M. railway, has bought right of way and depot grounds through the town, and contracts for grading east and west of town have been let. Cars will be running into Ord by August or September.

Prospects for getting the extension of the Chicago & Northwestern railway from Scribner are good, and a first-class boom is looked for by the least sanguine of our citizens.

The brick building of the First National bank is nearly finished. It is a very handsome building and when completed will cost over $100,000. The brick building of W. W. Haskell, of the Quin, is also nearing completion, and makes a creditable appearance.

A broom factory has been started by two experienced broom-makers from Iowa, and they are turning out an A. No. 1 article of manufacture.

Ord's new creamery is opening for a creamery, canning factory and steam grist mill.

Creton's Rapid Growth.

CRETON, Platte County, Neb., April 25.—[Correspondence of the BEE.]—The first house at this place was built last October. Creton's prospects for a boom rest on a solid basis. We have as fine a site for a town as can be found on the Scribner branch of the Fremont, Elkhorn & Missouri Valley road. Our town is built on a gentle western slope, thus giving excellent drainage, and affording to the traveler a good view of the town.

Mr. Ed. Graham is building a three-story brick mill of capacity of 100 barrels of flour a day. Seeley, Son & Co. are building a steam elevator for the Nyo Wilson Morehouse company. Smith & Fuller are also to begin their elevator in a few days. Besides the above, there are many residences and business houses a building.

Considerable first-class prairie land can be had close to town for $10 per acre, improved land for $15 to $20 per acre. It may be well to mention the fact that this road was only completed through here last August.

Affairs at Oakland.

OAKLAND, Neb., April 30.—[Correspondence of the BEE.]—The North Platte conference of the Evangelical Lutheran synod of Nebraska will convene in Oakland on Wednesday, May 4, and continue for several days. About fifty ministers will be in attendance and a good time and general religious awakening is anticipated.

The farmers of Burnett county have begun planting corn in earnest, and increased acreage will be planted in this county. Oats and wheat are suffering for want of rain, but the farmers are hopeful for copious rains in a few days.

The Oakland hotel of her hotel which has recently been reopened, the Commercial, and she may well feel elated, as the landlord, Mr. Stephens, is a practical hotel man. The traveling public now flock to Oakland to reach Omaha on Saturday, as the Commercial affords them first class hotel accommodations over Sunday. This has been a long felt want for Oakland.

Congregationalists in Session.

LONG PINE, Neb., April 28.—[Correspondence of the BEE.]—The Elkhorn Valley association of Congregational churches held their spring meeting at Long Pine on April 26 and 27. The meeting was well attended and every one present took an active part in the proceedings. A well studied sermon was delivered on Tuesday evening by Rev. J. H. Nelson, of Norfolk, which pleased everyone present. There was a touch of transcendentalism in the sermon, but every subject was so beautifully pictured that everyone was carried away with his thoughts. On Wednesday afternoon Rev. A. F. Marsh, of Neligh, delivered a very interesting and instructive sermon on "The Social Life of Our Churches." The Congregational church is pushing to the front, and every new town that springs up finds Rev. H. Brass, general missionary, on hand looking up the interests of the church, and there is a church in process of erection before the town is many months old.

An Exciting Trial Ended.

NELIGH, Neb., April 30.—[Correspondence of the BEE.]—Our district court, Judge Crawford presiding, has just closed. On Wednesday afternoon Rev. A. F. Marsh, of Neligh, delivered a very interesting and instructive sermon on "The Social Life of Our Churches." The Congregational church is pushing to the front, and every new town that springs up finds Rev. H. Brass, general missionary, on hand looking up the interests of the church, and there is a church in process of erection before the town is many months old.

Stella, Neb., April 27.—[Correspondence of the BEE.]—Business is brisk in this thriving little burg and the prospects are that we will enjoy a boom soon.

Quite a surprise was given the Rev. C. L. Smith on the event of his fiftieth birthday. About fifty of his friends gathered at his home and presented the reverend gentleman with many and valuable presents. Among them was a large center table. Rev. J. D. Newell made the presentation speech which was appropriate and to the point. The event will long be remembered by the reverend and all participants.

Miss Rachael Rees has returned from Omaha where she has been for a month or so with the family of George M. Gates, formerly editor of the Tribune.

Thomas Beard started for his new house at Sutton Thursday.

A. L. Moore has bid his many friends adieu, and will now embark in business at Holdrege, Neb.

H. E. Clark and lady spent a few days visiting at St. Joseph this week.

Prof. Grinstead, of Salem, was in Stella recently.

S. M. Hale, formerly of Stella, but now professor at Avoca, Neb., passed down the road Saturday.

James Brisby was the lucky finder of a den of wolves Mouday. He scalped eight of them.

Rev. Wells, of Humboldt, was in Stella Friday en route for Omaha.

Johnny Hall, assistant cashier of the Bank of Stella, Sunday at home.

THE MONTH OF MARY.

A Solemn Celebration in the Holy Family Church.

The Catholic church takes many of her lessons through the senses. For this reason she calls to her aid the fine arts with all their elevating influences, brings into the sanctuary the flowers of the summer, and surrounds her altars with all the pomp and ceremonial she so well knows how to use. Poetry, oratory and music are also her handmaids and it is with these she reaches the hearts of her children and draws them up to a better and holier life. All times and seasons she has dedicated to the worship of God. At one time the churches are draped in solemn purple or sombre black to remind all of the sufferings of her founder and of the shortness of time and certainty of eternity. At other times flowers, lights, gold, incense and all the beautiful things are employed by her to teach the children through the senses that there are also joys beyond as well as a judgment. The month of May has ever been devoted to the honor of the Blessed Virgin Mother of God. During this season in every Catholic church throughout the world some special effort is made to decorate a statue or altar of the mother of saints. Extra prayers are said and extra good works are performed for the same purpose. The month of Mary, as the month of May is designated, is one of rejoicing throughout nature, and its observance in the church is therefore most appropriate.

Yesterday was the feast of the patronage of St. Joseph and it was observed at the church of the Holy Family with more than usual solemnity. The importance of this feast was enhanced by its falling on the first day of the month of May and the celebration therefore was doubly important in this climate. The Rev. Bishop O'Connor presided at the solemn high mass, and sat within the sanctuary. Solemn high mass was celebrated by the Rev. Father Koopmans S. J. with Rev. Father Collins as deacon and the Rev. Mr. Decher as organist of Creighton college sub-deacon. The Rev. Father O'Meara S. J. and Rev. Mr. Conahan S. J. acted as deacons of honor to the bishop. Rev. Mr. Mars, S. J. was master of ceremonies. The choir consisted of Mrs. E. C. McShane, Mrs. Bethge and Messrs. Frank and Harry Berkley aided sang St. Clair's mass, and Mrs. Bethge sang the Massie by the same composer.

After the gospel of the day had been sung the Rev. Father J. P. Dowling S. J. president of Creighton college presided on the virtues of St. Joseph. The reverend gentleman, who is known throughout the east as one of the most prominent pulpiter orators of the Society of Jesus, unfolded to the congregation a time to devote to pulpiter eloquence at present. When he does appear in any of the pulpits in the city the congregation is assured of something not only instructive but also eloquent. The congregation on the virtues of St. Joseph. The reverend gentleman, who is known throughout the east as one of the most prominent pulpiter orators of the Society of Jesus, unfolded to the congregation a time to devote to pulpiter eloquence at present. When he does appear in any of the pulpits in the city the congregation is assured of something not only instructive but also eloquent. The congregation on the virtues of St. Joseph.

Mr. Gallagher formally entered upon his duties as postmaster yesterday morning. His advent was not signalized by any noticeable change in the aspect of the affairs of the office. Some changes and improvements will doubtless be made, though some time will be required before they can be completed.

Some time ago the office yesterday, Mr. John Evers, who for some time has acted as superintendent of the carriers, and a most accommodating one he has been, tendered his resignation. It was accepted, and Mr. Evers, one of the best carriers in the service, was appointed to succeed him.

Mr. McMahon, who, for several years has been in charge of the newspaper postage department, has retired, but no successor has as yet been appointed.

Hit Her With a Cap.

Jose Huaton, who domesticates at the United States hotel, Tenth and Douglas streets, was standing at a window last evening when a rough appearing fellow came along, and asked her to kiss him. Jose retorted by telling him to go along about his business. Instead the fellow reached for a cap just inside the window and threw it at the woman's head, striking her on the head cutting quite a gash. The man then ran toward the river. Two male employees of the hotel followed and surrounded him. He was taken back to the hotel, and in the morning he was taken to the patrol wagon. At the station he gave the name of Strong.

The Her Artesian Well.

The work still goes on night and day at the Artesian well west of the Willow Springs station. The ponderous limestone rock, which proved to be three hundred or more feet thick, has been pierced, but after only a few more feet boring another rock was struck. The well men think they have gotten into a family of immense boulders. The depth of the bore is now 1,300 feet. It is expected that the Artesian well will be employed by Mr. Irwin in sinking a hole south of the city and also north of it, will arrive in a short time.

Another Canadian Recruit.

WINFIELD, L. I., May 1.—A sensation, which has produced the utmost excitement throughout Queens county, has come to light in the announcement that District Attorney Thomas H. B. Smith has secured a recruit to the extent of between $10,000 and $20,000, and that he had left for parts unknown, probably Canada.

Terrific Heat Storm.

ST. PAUL, May 1.—After a day of summer heat this section was visited last night by a terrific heat storm, which did much damage. The hail-stones ranged in size from a pea to a grown goose egg, some of the largest weighing four ounces and measuring three inches in circumference.

Weather Indications.

For Nebraska: Warmer and fair weather, northerly winds, becoming variable in character.

For Iowa: Cooler but fair weather, preceded by local rains in eastern portions, high northerly winds diminishing in force.

Mrs. Carter Harrison Dead.

CHICAGO, May 1.—At midnight last night Mrs. Margaret Stearns Harrison, wife of Carter Harrison, ex-mayor of Chicago, died of rheumatic neuralgia after an illness of two weeks.

The Maine Floods.

ELLSWORTH, Me., May 1.—Serious freshets throughout this section of country have rendered the roads impassable, washouts on the railroad in several places, and rendered bridges unapproachable. The floods are more serious than has been known for years.

Governor Thayer and Mrs. Thayer.

Gov. Thayer and Mrs. Thayer will be in Omaha on Monday, May 2, at the residence of Mr. E. Rosewater. The other guests were Judge Groff and Mrs. Groff, Hon. W. A. Paxton and wife and Mr. Edward Haney and wife.

children are withdrawn from the influence of a christian education. For a few dollars a week fathers will allow their children to leave school long before their characters have been formed. Is it without a reason the church puts St. Joseph as a model of the head of the church?

Then the daughters of the household are allowed to go when and where and with whom they will, until, to your surprise, they gail you very hearts by an alliance with a man of no account, who they have or are about to form an alliance with one who knows nothing of the duties of religion and with whom it is impossible to have that christianity which should bind two hearts together and which is sanctioned and blessed by the church. This marriage tie in only too often a matter of convenience, committed too hastily and not through any real affection, and the church has set her seal, and also her ban, on marriages. Here is where the christian family is striking a rock which will bring it to ruin.

The month of the holy family is intended not merely for those rising up. It is useful for the mother to take the example of the Blessed Virgin. She must not neglect her family, nor must she be altogether a woman of prayer. There is a midway, and she has obligations to fulfill. On her depends the faith and piety and seal the sons and daughters will receive. And in this great example she will learn the reason why she should be a mother and a wife. Children will also learn obedience from the divine model.

In these times there is so much prate about the womanhood and manhood, which is not a subject for subject. It makes feel that there is no law to which they shall be subject. Subject seems almost forgotten, and it would seem as if our very faith is slipping away from us. Let us hold on to those things which it is supposed will advance our material prosperity even at the expense of our faith. St. Joseph will teach us the importance of his faith. He was a man of prayer, and he will teach us to remember that we must hereafter answer for the precious deposit. This precious faith that so many are willing to barter, and of which so many make light of, is the only thing which will give us a little knowledge. There are many mysteries in the mind more easy to prove than to understand. Puffed up with conceit, how many accept nothing they cannot prove, and are ready to grasp at anything they are willing to let go the most important of all—their faith. Hold on to this. Rest satisfied with the hope of honor, dignity and wealth. All these are not nearly so important as the deposit of your faith.

At the conclusion of the mass, the Rt. Rev. Bishop O'Connor solemnly blessed a richly embroidered altar banner which the Rev. Father Collins, of the Holy Family church had recently purchased in the east. The banner is of great richness. The front is of white silk, richly embroidered in gold thread, representing the Holy Family church. In the center is a hand painting of the Blessed Virgin and a fair copy of Michael Angelo's great work. On the reverse side, which is of dark blue silk, is inscribed:

MARRIED LADIES' SOCIETY.

B. V. M.

Hcl. Family Parish.

Yesterday morning, for the first time the sodality received holy communion under the banner in a body. There were a large number present.

Postoffice Changes.

Mr. Gallagher formally entered upon his duties as postmaster yesterday morning. His advent was not signalized by any noticeable change in the aspect of the affairs of the office. Some changes and improvements will doubtless be made, though some time will be required before they can be completed.

Some time ago the office yesterday, Mr. John Evers, who for some time has acted as superintendent of the carriers, and a most accommodating one he has been, tendered his resignation. It was accepted, and Mr. Evers, one of the best carriers in the service, was appointed to succeed him.

Mr. McMahon, who, for several years has been in charge of the newspaper postage department, has retired, but no successor has as yet been appointed.

Hit Her With a Cap.

Jose Huaton, who domesticates at the United States hotel, Tenth and Douglas streets, was standing at a window last evening when a rough appearing fellow came along, and asked her to kiss him. Jose retorted by telling him to go along about his business. Instead the fellow reached for a cap just inside the window and threw it at the woman's head, striking her on the head cutting quite a gash. The man then ran toward the river. Two male employees of the hotel followed and surrounded him. He was taken back to the hotel, and in the morning he was taken to the patrol wagon. At the station he gave the name of Strong.

The Her Artesian Well.

The work still goes on night and day at the Artesian well west of the Willow Springs station. The ponderous limestone rock, which proved to be three hundred or more feet thick, has been pierced, but after only a few more feet boring another rock was struck. The well men think they have gotten into a family of immense boulders. The depth of the bore is now 1,300 feet. It is expected that the Artesian well will be employed by Mr. Irwin in sinking a hole south of the city and also north of it, will arrive in a short time.

Another Canadian Recruit.

WINFIELD, L. I., May 1.—A sensation, which has produced the utmost excitement throughout Queens county, has come to light in the announcement that District Attorney Thomas H. B. Smith has secured a recruit to the extent of between $10,000 and $20,000, and that he had left for parts unknown, probably Canada.

Terrific Heat Storm.

ST. PAUL, May 1.—After a day of summer heat this section was visited last night by a terrific heat storm, which did much damage. The hail-stones ranged in size from a pea to a grown goose egg, some of the largest weighing four ounces and measuring three inches in circumference.

Weather Indications.

For Nebraska: Warmer and fair weather, northerly winds, becoming variable in character.

For Iowa: Cooler but fair weather, preceded by local rains in eastern portions, high northerly winds diminishing in force.

Mrs. Carter Harrison Dead.

CHICAGO, May 1.—At midnight last night Mrs. Margaret Stearns Harrison, wife of Carter Harrison, ex-mayor of Chicago, died of rheumatic neuralgia after an illness of two weeks.

The Maine Floods.

ELLSWORTH, Me., May 1.—Serious freshets throughout this section of country have rendered the roads impassable, washouts on the railroad in several places, and rendered bridges unapproachable. The floods are more serious than has been known for years.

Governor Thayer and Mrs. Thayer.

Gov. Thayer and Mrs. Thayer will be in Omaha on Monday, May 2, at the residence of Mr. E. Rosewater. The other guests were Judge Groff and Mrs. Groff, Hon. W. A. Paxton and wife and Mr. Edward Haney and wife.

A PICTURESQUE RASCAL.

Exploits of Nubar Pasha, Prime Minister of Egypt.

A LIFE OF DECEPTION AND CRIME.

A Most Remarkable Oriental Statesman Who Lacks Sufficient Acuteness to Conceal the Shady Sides of His Character.

Cairo Letter to New York Tribune: The scandalous proceedings of the members of the Khedive's cabinet have reached a climax, and as usual, the least guilty man was made to suffer for the sins of his colleagues. In a former letter I described how Mustapha Pasha Fehmi, the minister of the interior, strangled the former minister of finance, and how his hand still bears the traces of a bit of indigestion by the dying pasha who was struggling for his life. In the present letter I propose to show briefly that the past and present history of Nubar Pasha, the present prime minister of Egypt, in every way qualifies him not only to act as the colleague, but even as the chief of the "thing" minister above mentioned.

Nubar is generally regarded as the most remarkable of Oriental statesmen, a perfect Bismarck of the Levant. But those who have had the opportunity of personally studying his character day by day will be slow to admit that he is so much a Bismarck. It was not until early in his life that he assumed a position in the Russian consulate at Smyrna. One of his relatives, Boghos Bey, being employed in the service of the Egyptian government, young Nubar made his way to Cairo, and at the age of eighteen years found him, a singularly handsome young man, holding the post of reader and secretary to the ruler of the sultan, the prince Abul-Fasha, who was one of the wickedest monsters who have ever disgraced an oriental throne. Nubar occupied the same position as a reader and secretary to the ruler of the sultan, the prince Abul-Fasha, who was one of the wickedest monsters who have ever disgraced an oriental throne. Nubar occupied the same position as a reader and secretary to the ruler of the sultan, the prince Abul-Fasha, who was one of the wickedest monsters who have ever disgraced an oriental throne.

He had become the bosom friend of Prince Ismail, the younger brother of Achmet, who was heir to the throne. Ismail, who spent his time chiefly at Paris, where he was made much of at the societies, was a man of great energy, and never ceased cursing the fact that he was not a younger brother. In the spring of one of the years immediately preceding said's death the latter gave a garden party at Alexandria, and Nubar, who had been invited to the members of his family and to other prominent personages. A special train was ordered to convey the princes and their suites from Cairo to Alexandria. Nubar, who had been invited to the members of his family and to other prominent personages. A special train was ordered to convey the princes and their suites from Cairo to Alexandria. Nubar, who had been invited to the members of his family and to other prominent personages. A special train was ordered to convey the princes and their suites from Cairo to Alexandria.

He had become the bosom friend of Prince Ismail, the younger brother of Achmet, who was heir to the throne. Ismail, who spent his time chiefly at Paris, where he was made much of at the societies, was a man of great energy, and never ceased cursing the fact that he was not a younger brother. In the spring of one of the years immediately preceding said's death the latter gave a garden party at Alexandria, and Nubar, who had been invited to the members of his family and to other prominent personages. A special train was ordered to convey the princes and their suites from Cairo to Alexandria. Nubar, who had been invited to the members of his family and to other prominent personages. A special train was ordered to convey the princes and their suites from Cairo to Alexandria.

He had become the bosom friend of Prince Ismail, the younger brother of Achmet, who was heir to the throne. Ismail, who spent his time chiefly at Paris, where he was made much of at the societies, was a man of great energy, and never ceased cursing the fact that he was not a younger brother. In the spring of one of the years immediately preceding said's death the latter gave a garden party at Alexandria, and Nubar, who had been invited to the members of his family and to other prominent personages. A special train was ordered to convey the princes and their suites from Cairo to Alexandria. Nubar, who had been invited to the members of his family and to other prominent personages. A special train was ordered to convey the princes and their suites from Cairo to Alexandria.

He had become the bosom friend of Prince Ismail, the younger brother of Achmet, who was heir to the throne. Ismail, who spent his time chiefly at Paris, where he was made much of at the societies, was a man of great energy, and never ceased cursing the fact that he was not a younger brother. In the spring of one of the years immediately preceding said's death the latter gave a garden party at Alexandria, and Nubar, who had been invited to the members of his family and to other prominent personages. A special train was ordered to convey the princes and their suites from Cairo to Alexandria. Nubar, who had been invited to the members of his family and to other prominent personages. A special train was ordered to convey the princes and their suites from Cairo to Alexandria.

He had become the bosom friend of Prince Ismail, the younger brother of Achmet, who was heir to the throne. Ismail, who spent his time chiefly at Paris, where he was made much of at the societies, was a man of great energy, and never ceased cursing the fact that he was not a younger brother. In the spring of one of the years immediately preceding said's death the latter gave a garden party at Alexandria, and Nubar, who had been invited to the members of his family and to other prominent personages. A special train was ordered to convey the princes and their suites from Cairo to Alexandria. Nubar, who had been invited to the members of his family and to other prominent personages. A special train was ordered to convey the princes and their suites from Cairo to Alexandria.

He had become the bosom friend of Prince Ismail, the younger brother of Achmet, who was heir to the throne. Ismail, who spent his time chiefly at Paris, where he was made much of at the societies, was a man of great energy, and never ceased cursing the fact that he was not a younger brother. In the spring of one of the years immediately preceding said's death the latter gave a garden party at Alexandria, and Nubar, who had been invited to the members of his family and to other prominent personages. A special train was ordered to convey the princes and their suites from Cairo to Alexandria. Nubar, who had been invited to the members of his family and to other prominent personages. A special train was ordered to convey the princes and their suites from Cairo to Alexandria.

He had become the bosom friend of Prince Ismail, the younger brother of Achmet, who was heir to the throne. Ismail, who spent his time chiefly at Paris, where he was made much of at the societies, was a man of great energy, and never ceased cursing the fact that he was not a younger brother. In the spring of one of the years immediately preceding said's death the latter gave a garden party at Alexandria, and Nubar, who had been invited to the members of his family and to other prominent personages. A special train was ordered to convey the princes and their suites from Cairo to Alexandria. Nubar, who had been invited to the members of his family and to other prominent personages. A special train was ordered to convey the princes and their suites from Cairo to Alexandria.

He had become the bosom friend of Prince Ismail, the younger brother of Achmet, who was heir to the throne. Ismail, who spent his time chiefly at Paris, where he was made much of at the societies, was a man of great energy, and never ceased cursing the fact that he was not a younger brother. In the spring of one of the years immediately preceding said's death the latter gave a garden party at Alexandria, and Nubar, who had been invited to the members of his family and to other prominent personages. A special train was ordered to convey the princes and their suites from Cairo to Alexandria. Nubar, who had been invited to the members of