Moth's Romantic Marriage.

A sensational story has just been made public concerning the big hippodrome wrestler, Charles, Moth, who recently left this city. During his stay of five months in Omaha Moth established his reputation as a masher, if not as a wrestler. Tall, fine-formed, fair-looking and with an abundance of leisure he gave almost his entire attention to extending his circle of acquaintance. He was a constant attendant at all of the bicycle races at the exposition building and added a number of conquests to his list. Before he left the city he was daily in receipt of a large number of perfumed billet doux from the objects of his alleged admiration, and his departure no doubt caused more than one sigh of regret among his fair friends. But the climax of his career as a masher has been made public in the statement that a short time before Moth came to Omaha last fall he was secretly married to the daughter of a wealthy Kansas City banker. The story is to this effect: Moth was in Kansas City several months last fall where he had a series of wrestling matches with the Jap. In training for one of these matches he used the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium. It was there that he met one day a vision of loveliness in the person of the banker's daughter already mentioned. She is described as a tall, finely formed young lady, eighteen years of age, with clear complexion, large lustrous eyes, and a wealth of blonde hair that added much to her general attractiveness. When Moth first saw her she was accompanied by an elderly lady. He asserts that she smiled at his glances of admiration and he determined to form an acquaintance. After walking the streets for several days he saw the lady alight from her carriage and enter a dry goods store on one of the principal streets. A dollar was slipped into the hands of her colored coachman and Moth possessed the information that her name was Stella Wilcox and that she was to attend an entertainment at Coates' opera house that night. Moth was on hand. Miss Wilcox occupied a box. There was the usual preliminary exchange of glances and a final nod of recognition. Moth went home wild. He sent a note to the young lady the next day and appointed a meeting for the afternoon. The meeting resulted more favorably than Moth had hoped. The woman asserted that on her part it had been a case of love at first sight and announced that she was ready to marry the burly wrestler at a moment's notice. Will Smith, who came here with Moth, was in Kansas City at the time with his wife and Moth pressed them into the scheme to effect his purpose. He induced Miss Wilcox to visit Mrs. Smith, where he met her day after day. Miss Wilcox's mother finally grew suspicious of the attentions of Mr. and Mrs. Smith, and decided to take her away on a visit. This quickened the performance of Moth's programme, and one afternoon, early in November, Moth and Miss Wilcox were united in marriage in the presence of Smith and his wife. The affair was kept secret, as Miss Wilcox claimed she was afraid she would be disinherited if her mother learned of her alliance before she became of age. During Moth's stay in Omaha he received letters daily from his wife. It is understood that she is the step-daughter of a well-known banker of Kansas City, and has a large amount of money in her own right. Just how she could be led into a marriage with a big ignorant nobody like Moth is not readily understood. It is stated that since the matter has become public the young woman's relatives have commenced proceedings to have the marriage annulled.

Destruction of the St. Paul and Omaha Store House.

The Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis & Omaha oil house and supply store burned yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock. The master mechanic discovered a slight smoke issuing from the platform on the west side of the building and hastened to throw water upon it. In two minutes the whole structure, a wooden one-story building, was ablaze. It was beyond hope of being saved by the time the firemen were there. Two alarms were turned in and nearly the whole department responded. Five streams were directed against the blazing building, but not until the woodwork was gone was the water of any avail. For so small an amount of visible material the flames hung on with remarkable tenacity.

In the cellar were over 500 gallons of oil used in locomotive headlights and on machinery. All other supplies, including packing and candles, were in the building. This inflammable material furnished the fuel for the fire. The books containing the accounts of stores, and a quantity of tools were also destroyed. The loss approximated $5,000, covered by insurance. The fire was produced, it is thought, by a handful of packing which, saturated by oil and heated by a hot journal, had fallen under the platform where the fire started. It was purely accidental.

THE LAND LEAGUE.

A Fund For the Relief of the Evicted Tenants of Ireland.

A meeting of the Irish land league at Cunningham hall, yesterday afternoon, was attended by but thirty members. President J. A. McShane presided, and read a letter he had received from Rev. John Williams, pastor of St. Barnabas church, in which, as an outsider, the writer expressed his indignation at the charges against the Irish character which had been made by Major Saunderson in the English parliament. The reading of the letter was received with applause, and a vote of thanks tendered to the reverend gentlemen for his appreciated expressions of sympathy for the oppressed Irish.

Secretary Broderick read a letter from the secretary of the state league, calling attention to the abuses that are now being practiced by the English landlords in evicting the poor tenants in Ireland. The letter urged the calling of a mass meeting to take action in condemning this coercion. Upon this point there was a lengthy discussion. Several of the members present favored the calling of a monster mass meeting to formulate a protest against the continued abuse of Ireland at the hands of the English government. President McShane took an opposing view. He said he had more care for the evicted tenants than for any protest against the landlords. He said the evicted tenants of Ireland needed bread more than they needed sympathy. He was in favor of taking up a subscription for the relief of the peasantry and stated that he would give $1,000 to such a fund. Whalen & Brennan Bros. added $50 and M. Lee $25. The list was quickly increased until the amount reached $1,200. The matter was then referred to a committee of three to continue the work of securing subscriptions and to call a general meeting of the league at Cunningham hall on next Sunday afternoon.

MR. DONNELLY DENIES.

No Discrimination in the Second Ward Registry.

To the Editor of the BEE: The communication in the BEE Saturday evening, signed "Republican Voter," and the comments of your reporter in the Sunday BEE, asserting that I discriminated against republicans, has not a single element of truth to back it. The fact is the name of every voter in the district known to me, has been carried to the new registry. The names of Fred Behm, David Cole and Mr. Devallen, mentioned by a "Republican Voter," as having been omitted, can be found in the list of voters published by me in the BEE of the 27th. "Mr. McDonald and his four sons" I did not know until they called and were registered Saturday afternoon before the communication referred to appeared in print.

JAMES DONNELLY, Sr.
Registrar Second district, Second ward.

AMUSEMENTS.

Oysters and Champagne Played at Boyds's Last Night.

"Oysters and Champagne" is a beautiful comedy. It deals with a dangerous subject in an artistic manner. At times it is intensely suggestive but it always escapes the danger of condemnation by the adroitness of the author which is everywhere displayed in both sentiment and situation.

Last night the audience, which witnessed this piece at Boyd's, was not as large as the usual audiences of the past season. This is to be regretted, the more so because the piece was excellently played. It was slow in obtaining the appreciation of the audience, but when the coldness of the gathering had been broken, the rest of the night was passed between smiles and peals of applause. All the performers did well, the following being in the cast: Messrs. Koch, Puls, Uhlig, Baureis, Lindemann and Mrs. Baureis. Puls-Ahl, and Lindemann.

THE CARLETON OPERA COMPANY.

"Erminine," the reigning craze at the New York Casino during the past year and still holding uninterrupted sway, is beyond question the most popular opera ever produce in New York. It is very closely copyrighted and can be presented only by the Casino and Carleton companies. Otherwise it would be spread out over the country more widely than even "Pinafore" and the "Mikado" in their palmy days. As it is "Erminine" is already becoming the popular music of the day. It is whistled on the streets, sung in the parlors and its lively airs are heard everywhere throughout the east. The "Erminine" lullaby has been adopted by Emma Abbott as a substitute for "Nearer, My God to Thee" in the "Traviata" and "Home, Sweet Home," in "Rigoletto." Mr. Carleton will open his season of three nights and Wednesday matinee at Boyd's opera house to-night with "Erminine" and will give it a second time at the matinee. "Nanon" will be given to-morrow night, and "The Drum Major's Daughter" Wednesday evening.

BERNHARDT.

Mr. Edgar H. Strakosch, representing Sarah Bernhardt, arrived in the city last night to make the final arrangements for the appearance of this eminent actress at Boyd's on Friday and Saturday evenings. The sale of reserved seats will commence to-day. The regular sale will commence to-morrow.

Ladies should reflect well before using any preparation that is appplied to so delicate a surface as the skin. Any cosmetic will at first impart a beautifying effect and not apparently injure the skin, but in a very short time little blotches and discolorations appear on the face which conclusively show the poisonous drugs in their composition. It can be safely said that more than two-thirds of the face powders contain these injurious ingredients. Pozzoni's medicated complexion powder is not only absolutely free from all deleterious matter, but its principal ingredient is an active curative for all diseases of the skin. It has stood the test of years. Sold by all druggists, and at the depot 607 N. Sixth street.

The Pullman Vestibuled Train.

That magnificent wonder in modern railway train building, which is to run daily between New York and the West as the new "Limited Express" over the PENNSYLVANIA LINES, will be on exhibition at Omaha Union Depot from 9:00 a. m. to 2:00 p. m. Tuesday, May 3rd.

The ladies, newspaper men, railway men, business men and the traveling public generally are invited to take a look at it---a series of new and incomparable Pullman palaces on wheels, connected by ingeniously constructed vestibules of steel, mahogany and glass, thereby forming an absolutely solid train, without an open platform from the front end of the smoking, bathing and shaving parlors to the rear end of the last sleeper composing this curiously beautiful and successful creation.

Virtue in Brandreth's Pills.

There is more virtue in one BRANDRETH PILL than in a bottle of the best Sarsaparilla. The solid extract of Sarsaparilla contained in BRANDRETH'S PILLS in combination with other Vegetable Extracts, makes them the strongest blood purifier known. One or two at night for a week will remove all pimples and eruptions of the skin and make the complexion fair as an infant.

A Young Lad's Experience.

About two weeks ago a bright faced young lad about thirteen years of age applied for work at the Metropolitan hotel. He gave his name as Bert Brooks and said that he had run away from his home at Conneautville, Pa., and had beat his way to Omaha in just a week's time. He was given employment and advised to write to his parents informing them of his whereabouts. He did so and received a request for him to come home at once. He had tired pretty well of life among strangers and so returned home.

Base Ball.

The C. E. Mayne club easily defeated the Ft. Omaha nine at the ball grounds yesterday afternoon by a score of 29 to 10. The severe wind of the afternoon made it decidedly unpleasant for both the players and the spectators. The C. E. Mayne's propose to cross willows with any amateur nine in the state.

The Omaha club did not play at Denver yesterday on account of the rain at that place. The second game of the series will be played to-day with O'Leary and Krehmeyer as the battery for the home team.

To Whom It May Concern.

The republican party of this city in convention assembled presented to the electors of this city on Saturday April 23d a most excellent municipal ticket. The work of that convention is not the result of a faction or fight, nor was it contributed to by bossism or chicanery, but it represents the honest sentiment of representative citizenship. A ticket which merits the hearty support of all classes of society. To-morrow the republican party proposes to have a full ballot, an honest election and a fair count, and to that end the executive committee of the republican central committee has perfected a detective system whereby each voting district in this city will be protected from election frauds. Our detectives are duly authorized and each man discovered violating the election law, in any manner whatsoever, will be arrested and prosecuted. The present election law is a very stringent one, and a violation of it will send the transgressor to a criminal's cell. D. H. MERCER.
Chairman Republican City Central Committee.

There will be a republican rally at Pruyn's carriage repository, corner of Twenty-third and Izard streets, at 8 o'clock p. m. this evening. Hon. C. F. Manderson, W. J. Broatch, W. F. Gurley, John Rush, E. K. Long and Leavitt Burnham will address the meeting.

Swedish May Festival.

The only May festival of which record is to be made to-day was that of the Swedish Library association, at Metz's garden on Saturday. The idea was excellently conceived and very successfully carried out. It incorporated the old-time yet ever-interesting May-pole dance, besides a dance programme of twenty-four numbers. All of these were greatly enjoyed by the large attendance and a good sum was realized for the society. The orchestral music was supplied by Professor Steinhauser, aided by an excellent corps of musicians. Besides, there was the following short supplemental programme:

Festtalet..... .....Herr Olof Bergstrom
Orchester, Svenska Folkmelodier.....
Aria Bas—Infelice (Opr. Ernani) Nerdi
.....Herr C. A. Jacobson
Signor Ellodore De Cumpi, Accompagnist
Grand March, arranged by Prof. F. M.
.....Steinhauser

The committee in charge was a follows: Andrew Newman, Chas. W. Widell, Chas. Hanson, Chas. L. Olson, Gust. Hauson and Svan Wickman.

Floor managers—C. A. Jacobson, John Holmbery and Chas. Johnson.

Before You Start.

On a journey, go to a drug store and get a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhœa Remedy, as a safeguard against an attack of bowel complaint. Many prudent and careful persons never travel without it. Hundreds of traveling men are never without a bottle of it in their grip. Many lives and much suffering has been saved by its timely use. No one can afford to travel without a bottle of this pleasant, safe and reliable preparation.

A Change for the Better.

The weather promises a change for the better, or, at least, the cooler. The storm signal flag is waving from the United States building. In the east, last night, an ominous cloud appeared, which looked all the more black because it was frequently illuminated by fitful lightning gleams.

To cure Rheumatic or other pains, take a thick piece of flannel, saturate it well with Dr. J. H. McLean's Volcanic Oil Liniment, bind it round the limb, or wherever the pain is, and place over it a hot iron, or hold to the fire, so as to apply as much heat as possible.

Their Flag is Still There.

A short time ago the impression was spread broadcast, accidentally or otherwise, that the Arbuckle Coffee company had purchased the business of McLaughlin, the great XXXX coffee man. Mr. Robert M. Simons, who represents the McLaughlin company in Nebraska, in conversation with the BEE yesterday, emphatically denies any such sale on the part of his company, but to the contrary Mr. Simons says that the justly celebrated McLaughlin coffee is monthly reaching increased sales all over the west and that the firm will continue to push business, satisfy their many patrons and be open competitors in the coffee trade.

THE ONLY METHODS

Which we employ to gain patronage, are low prices for good, honest goods. The people are quick to recognize this fact and our success so far shows it. Our salesmen do not need to use much persuasion to sell goods; our prices speak loud for us and convince the customer every time that WE HAVE NO COMPETITION IN THAT LINE.

Last week we received 200 more of our popular $5.75 Mens' Suits. We have sold over 300 of them already, and every one sold is making for us a dozen new customers. They are strictly all wool cassimere, of a nice, stylish brown plaid color, serge lined and well made. We will sell them at same price, $5.75. They cannot be duplicated by other dealers for less than $8.50.

We still have a fair assortment of Spring Overcoats. Two weeks ago they were marked down very low, but as we are very crowded and need room for our constantly arriving summer goods, we have put the knife still deeper into them. They must go. The weather is not yet so warm that you can safely dispense with a light overcoat. Here is an opportunity to get one at less than half price.

All goods marked in plain figures and at one price.
