The dropping out of a figure "2" makes some difference sometimes. In noting the number baptized in the Baptist church here during the past year the BEE placed it at 3. It should have been 23. To thus drop out a "2" is too, too, and it is gladly corrected. The church is growing more rapidly than the first statement indicated.

Annie Christensen, the unfortunate girl who came here from Dakota, is having a serious time for some place of refuge. She went over to Omaha, but finding no place there where she could be cared for, returned here only to start out yesterday for Sioux City on a like mission. There seems to be plenty of chances for a man who yields to temptation, or who tempts a woman to sin, but for a woman every door is barred.

Grover, who was recently brought back from Kansas City on a charge of embezzlement, had a hearing before Judge Aylesworth yesterday. For some reason the county attorney did not think there was enough in the case to warrant a prosecution, but the Omaha firm who made the complaint secured private counsel and Grover was bound over to await the action of the grand jury, bail being fixed at $500. The partner of Grover, Besser, waived examination and was also bound over.

CHRISTIAN YOUNG MEN.

The Annual Report of their Association Shows Progress.

THE NEW HOTEL PROJECT.

Firemen Get Hot and the Investigation Asked for—Model Residences Contracted to be Built at Once—City Parliament.

Annual Report of the Y. M. C. A.

Another year has passed away and we feel glad when called upon to give an account of our stewardship. How well our talents have been used may be seen by a careful perusal of this brief report.

The good Lord of the harvest has seen fit to shower abundant blessings upon our labors and to Him we lift our hearts and voices in praise.

This has been by all odds the most prosperous year in the history of our association. Each year we grow in knowledge of the work, as well as in more practical methods of how to carry it on.

The greatest step in advance was probably taken when the Sunday afternoon gospel service (mixed) was changed on January 1st to a meeting for young men only. Long we had contemplated making this change, but never saw the way clearly until the above date. Since then there has been a decided improvement, there being much more freedom on part of the young men, and a more positive decision to lead Christian lives.

A workers' and training class has been established and promises to be one of the leading features of the work. In this class are taught methods of doing Christian work, how to deal individually with inquirers, and a bird's-eye view of the Bible as a whole, also of the different books therein.

In the boys' department many bright, active lads have been enlisted, and some of the older ones have become regular attendants at the religious and literary meetings. We have great faith in the boys and realize that in the near future our most earnest workers will be graduates from the boys' branch.

Literary and social work that was suspended for a time for lack of room has been resumed. Special arrangements having been made to close the gymnasium on the evenings the meetings occur. These meetings are held on Tuesday evening of each week. A programme of literary and musical exercises is prepared and at the intermission the social element is cultivated. Large numbers of strangers attend and an effort is made to see that they all become acquainted with the workers and are made to feel at home. Under the head of literary exercises are given essays, debates, readings, recitations, general talks, character sketches, conversational, methods of conducting business, or organizing companies, etc.

The rooms of the association are kept open each week day from 9 a. m. to 12 m., from 2 to 5:30 p. m., and from 7 to 10 in the evening. On Sunday from 3 to 6 p. m. There is a goodly supply of papers and magazines on file in the reading room, and a number of games of skill are almost constantly in use in the parlors.

Through the kindness of our lady friends our rooms have been covered with velvet and brussels. The ladies have also furnished us with provisions for several socials and suppers.

On New Year's day members of the association, aided by lady friends, kept open house, and a large number of young men called.

The Daily Press—Nonpareil, Globe and Herald of this city, and the World of Omaha have aided us materially by publishing free notices of our meetings and by donating their publications. Some of the best scientific and religious publishers have also sent us regularly free copies of their papers.

Never have our citizens contributed so liberally to the support of the work as they have this year. More than $2,000 have been wisely spent. This money did not come in without earnest solicitation but when men have been approached in a manly way and asked to contribute the majority have willingly done so. Our aim has been to do a work that the people will approve and we know that the money will come when asked for. To our contributors we desire to express our thanks and at the same time to ask them to continue in well doing.

The secretary has kept on hand a list of good rooms for rent and suitable boarding places for young men, and has given information of this kind to thirty-two persons. Employment has been secured for eleven young men. Some of these have been sent to positions of considerable responsibility.

In summing up results we would say that the religious department has been well sustained and has produced excellent fruit. Fifteen young men have decided to lead Christian lives and in the workers a marked development can be seen. The young men's meetings on Sunday afternoons at 4 o'clock are meetings of spiritual power.

Socially we are reaching a multitude of young men whose keen intellects bespeak for them a future of promise, and they are taking hold with a vim that means success.

Our great need now is a building. If we had a thoroughly equipped home of our own with plenty of room and attractions, this organization would be of untold benefit to the city in a financial as well as in a moral point of view.

Plans are now being laid which we hope will develop into a substantial brick or stone structure. Such a building should cost not less than $25,000. If that amount is secured in the next year, it means that some must give largely and that all, friends and well wishers, as well as the members of the association, must go down deep into their pockets and help all they are able. Our prayer now is that the Lord will open the hearts and pocketbooks of our benevolent, philanthropic and public spirited citizens and cause them to bring forth the accumulated treasures of ages, or inspire them to write checks payable to the treasurer of the association. Such a building must be erected before we are fully prepared to do the great work in this field and before the officers and managers will be content.

Hustling For a Hotel.

The move for a large new hotel to cost $300,000 is fairly under way and with good prospects of being a successful one. The parties who proposed originally to put up such a building agreed to do so if the citizens would raise $20,000. They wanted the right to select their own location and buy such a site as they saw best. The citizens who have taken hold of the matter prefer to have something more definite in regard to the site. The committee found that many objected to giving anything unless they knew where the hotel was to be located. Others preferred one location to another and would give more if it was located on a certain site than if it was located on some other site. It was therefore deemed best to have the givers offered a chance to express a preference. The committee yesterday received propositions from those having sites which they wanted to sell for this purpose. The syndicate who recently bought the Pacific house property for $20,000 proposed to sell it for $40,000 if anyone would put a $20,000 hotel upon it. The corner lot, owned by W. E. Sapp, can be had for $10,000 for this purpose. The Pacific house syndicate also proposed that if the citizens would give them a $10,000 bonus they would build a $20,000 hotel upon the site. The Pacific house property has a frontage on Broadway of 132 feet. What is known as the Woodbury property, corner of Pearl street and First avenue, has a frontage of ninety feet on Pearl street and runs back 150 feet. This can be had for hotel purposes for $35,000. Another site is on Broadway, corner of Seventh street, owned by Colonel Sapp, who proposes to let it go at $30,000 front feet, which would be $39,000 for the full lot front desired. John Keller proposes to sell his Fourth street property, next to the Masonic temple, for $20,000. He has 140 feet on Fourth street and 311 feet on Bluff street. The committee was yesterday securing subscriptions and meeting with good success. There are many who will give liberally for a hotel on any site in the central part of the city. Others will naturally consent to give a location which they own, and can afford to do so, as they own property which will be more benefited by having the hotel in one place than in another. With the most of the citizens the hotel will be much more to them in one place as another. A number of citizens have started the subscription with $1,000 each. There will be a goodly number who will give $500 each. With such sums the work seems no reason why whatever is needed cannot be raised at once. United, earnest effort with a public spirit which will not allow an enterprise to be stalled on a mere question of location, will readily secure not only this improvement but many others which are greatly needed here.

The committee on subscriptions have selected Mayor William Groneweg as trustee for the subscribers, by J. D. Edmundson, J. B. Johnson and N. P. Dodge as assistants, and these gentlemen are so well known that no greater assurance could be given the people that their interests will be looked after wisely and honestly. It is a long and arduous task possible that whatever is given will be so handled as to secure the purposes for which the money is to be paid.

Hot Firemen.

There is a little flurry in the fire department. When the alarm came in Sunday noon Pete Kuykendall, the driver, was at dinner, and Foreman Neil Vorhis was in charge of the house, there being another of the boys there also. Neil, on receiving the alarm by telephone, directed the team to about the alarm, while he went up stairs to send the alarm to the other houses. While doing so Pete came rushing in, jumped onto the seat and away he flew to the fire, leaving Vorhis behind. On reaching the fire Chief Templeton made a roar because Pete left the house without Vorhis. Pete was hot and did not think he had to wait for anyone. It was his business to get to the fire, and as he thought that Vorhis was sleeping up stairs, he did not feel it to be his duty to stop to awake him to attend to duty. There were some hot talks about the matter, and it is said that Kuykendall so far forgot himself as to talk very insolently to the chief, and to strike at him once. The chief yesterday laid him off duty, deeming that was the lightest penalty which could be affixed for so grave a breach of discipline. Kuykendall at once demanded an investigation of the affair. He did not think he had done enough to warrant any such action on the part of the chief, and he appealed to the fire committee of the council. They were examining into the affair some yesterday, and their report will be watched for by the fire lads with much interest. There has been little trouble under the chiefship of Templeton, and the affair is quite a surprise.

The Inter-State Law at Omaha.

Mr. Christian, of Omaha, who ships considerable stock, is puzzled as to some of the charges made under the new inter-state law. He recently shipped some stock to Chicago, on which he had to pay $57.77 a car, whereas it used to be $70 a car. What puzzled him still more was to learn that stock shipped from stations further distant by twenty miles, only cost $70 a car. The difference seemed to be in the instructions given agents in regard to taking shippers' weights. In regard to loaded hay, which was formerly shipped here at $13 a car, he states that it now costs double that amount. There is naturally a roar among such shippers at the increase of rate. The discriminations complained of will doubtless be presented to the commissioners for adjustment, unless amicably settled otherwise.
