Omaha Gains a New Score. The BEE man, while counting the firms on Farnam street, found a new star in the real estate firmament located at 1610 Farnam street, just west of the old city hall. The style of the firm is Sherwood & Southard. Mr. Edwin H. Sherwood, the senior partner, is a well known capitalist of our city whose integrity and business ability are well known. Mr. Ed B. Southard is a bright young man who has been for a long time employed by the firm of Byron Reed & Co. These gentlemen intend to do a legitimate real estate business. Owning large tracts of city and state property they can offer their customers property titles, descriptions, etc., of which they are perfectly familiar. The buying public are not slow to appreciate the advantage of buying from first hands. The sale of the county farm was a fair example of this fact. In addition to property owned by this firm they offer a select list of city and suburban property upon which the buyer will realize handsomely. Mr. J. Saunders, familiarly known as John Saunders, for a long time a popular conductor on the U. P. R. R., will be with this firm. Taken all together this new and strong firm start under very propitious circumstances, and with such gentlemen for its members is destined to be a prominent factor in our business circles.
