A Suicide.

One of the worst cases of suicide which has yet attracted the attention of Coroner Drexel was discovered yesterday morning at 11 o'clock, in the Atlantic hotel on Tenth street between Howard and Jackson streets. The name of the victim was Wm. Holtschneider. He had resided in Harlan, Iowa, and came to the hotel about three days ago. He was a heavy stout man, with thick, rough and short beard covering his face. He was with-out friends, and the clerk of the hotel Sunday night importance him for the would be paid yesterday. Yesterday morning the man did not make his ap-pearance and the chambermaid spoke of the matter to the clerk. Knocking at the door of the room failed to arouse the in-mate, and the door was seen the inamount of his bill, and was told the same mate, and the door was accordingly opened by means of a pass key, which pushed out the key on the inside of the

On the bed lay Holtschneider, his face buried in the pillows and his body in his underclothes. The bed was saturated with blood, and some of the latter spurted four feet upon the walls. On the floor lay a razor covered with blood. Coroner Drexel was called about noon and held an inquest. The dead man was turned on his back and a ghastly wound in his throat showed that he had almost

In his throat showed that he had almost severed his head from his body. On a table in the room lay a note written partly in English and German, which is reproduced as follows: 1 live in Harlan, Ia. 1 keep a bakery and restaurant there. I was married to the widow Schaffer in Plattsmouth, Neb, March 1, eight years ago, and she has, with the help of her children and her sop-in-law, driven me from home. She took another baker and drove me away without a cent. Please let drove me away without a cent. Please let her know about it that I could not live any

The coroner empaneled a jury and : verdict was returned that the deceased had come to his death by his own hand by cutting his throat with a razor. The remains were taken to Drexel & Maul's, where they will await the dispo-sition of friends.

THEIR PLEAS IN VAIN.

Candidates for Justice Berka's Shoes Barking Up a Wrong Tree.

A member of the legislature stated last evening that the applications which have been made to the county commissioners for appointment as justice of the peace in place of Louis Berka, who resigns in a day or two to accept the police judgeship, are all useless. When Justice Berka resigns there will be no office to appoint anyone to, because the office will disappear.

The reason is that Omaha is no longer under the provisions of the law relating to cities of the first class, but under the the provisions of the law governing metropolitan cities. The charter bill which was enacted by the legislature will govern any other city reaching the nec-essary population, as well as Omaha. In its provisions nothing is said concern-ing justices of the peace and the city consequently reverts to the primeval con-dition of two justices for each ward. Justice Berka's office, therefore, has been legislated out of existence. As Such also did her company, not hesitating in their contempt to put the stage thunder-sheet in motion during some of the alleged interesting scenes. The climax was interesting scenes. The climax was reached when Bernhart allowed herself reached when Bernhart allowed herself to be bundled up like a drab and carried bodily by two men and deposited on a sofa in the front of the stage. The curtain dropped the next instant. And the people ap-plauded. If Bernhart has a defense against such conduct, it would be difficult to imagine what it is Cortangle a but to imagine what it is. Certainly a lady would never have so debased herself. It shows the nature of these foreign frauds. You must either fill their pockets or they will spit upon you." "It is a fact well known to our trade," said a retail eigar dealer the other day, "that as a general thing those makers who are continually bringing out new brands of eigars, work up their business in a manner which is not wholly honest. Supposing a firm brings out a new eigar which it wishes to boom. It is sent out on the market with big advertisements to back it, and in a very short time every-body has heard of it. The first 20,000 or so are made of superfine quality, and the public at once vote the brand a first class one. When the cigar has achieved a reputation, the makers are not particular about quality and deceive the public by palming off an inferior article under the same brand. Finally the demand for the cigar ceases altogether, and the same process is repeated with a new brand. This is especially true of five-cent cigars.

How Some Women Pay Extravagant

Prices for Their Purchases. "There goes a woman whom I have deliberately swindled," said a dry goods clerk in a large establishment the other

"How is that?" inquired a reporter who overheard the remark. "I'll tell you," said the clerk, as he kicked a lot of empty collar boxes under the counter. "She came in here just now and wanted to buy some underwear. She "She came in here just now wanted the very finest we had, to cost not less than ten dollars a suit. I didn't have anything as fine as that, so I sold her for $10, a suit that is worth just for $10, a suit that is worth just exactly $5. She said she thought it was just too nice for anything, pulled a roll of bills out of her pocket, paid the money and left my counter per-fectly satisfied with her purchase. I had to do that for if I had told her that we didn't here one and to do her that we didn't have any $10 underwear, she would have gone to some other place and never patronized our store again. She is just one of a very large class of women who want to pay high prices for every-thing and take a pride in that sort of display. No, men are very seldom troubled that way. Do we very often 'swindle' the poor darlings, that way? Yes, quite frequently. We have to do it, you frequently. know."

Omaha Bicyclists to Have a Good Clay Path.

John S. Prince and John Harden, the well known sporting men of this city, have leased the grounds on Sixteenth street formerly known as the Athletic baseball park. They propose to put down therein a first class clay track for the use of bieyclists, to be one quarter mile in length. Work on the construction of the track will be commenced to morrow. It will be twenty feet wide all around, except at the homestretch, which will be 25 fee wide. It will be of clay, the top layer to be of the finest clay, pounded fine, wet dried and then rolled so as to make the

A telephone message was received at police headquarters about 11 o'clock yesterday, asking that the patrol wagon be sentat once to 1413 Davenport street, as a young man had just attempted to commit suicide there. The wagon was sent down there with two policemen. The young man in ques-tion proved to be Frank Vierse. He had not committed suicide, and if he attempted it did not come at all near to being successful. It is probable that he did resolve to shuffle off the mortal coil, but that his courage failed him at the last moment and that he fired into the air. The occupants of the boarding house say that Vierse was in his room alone, when the shot was ifred so that in all probabil the shot was fired so that in all probabil-ity the exact state of affairs will never be known. Vierse intimated at first that he tried to kill himself, but when locked up in jail on a charge of discharging fire arms, said the shooting was accidental. An acquaintance of the young man says that Vierse tried to kill himself on account of a young married woman named Hattie Redman, who did not requite the affection he entertained for her who was about to leave town to-night. Vierse hunself remarked when the offi-cers placed him under arrest that the "d-pistol was no good" and that "Hattie has gone back on me."

Ever since our opening here we have labored under great disadvantage on account of our store being too crowded. We were heretofore not able to get such a large place as we desired, and not only were we prevented from keeping the stock we intended, but we could not even properly display the assortment we did carry.

We have at last succeeded in securing additional room and have leased the two floors above as also the rear part adjoining our store on 14th street. This, in addition to our present salesroom, will make us the largest clothing house in the west.

The necessary alterations will crowd us fearfully, and this as well as the desire to open the enlarged quarters with entirely fresh goods prompts us in making a SPECIAL SALE, at which we will offer extraordinary bargains.

We are Now Marking down our Stock throughout at such prices that it will make a stir in the clothing trade, and will move our goods quickly.

A Great Victory Gained for the South Omaha Stock Market,

Mr. John A. McShane returned yesterday morning from Chicago. As has already been stated in the BEE, Mr. Mc-Shane went to that city to meet the repres entatives of the different Iowa and Nebraska lines, in order to induce them if possible, to remove the discriminations against the South Omaha market, notably in favor of Kansas City. His mission was a success.

was a success. "I met the representatives of the differ-ent roads at Chicago," said Mr. McShane yesterday in conversation with a reporter, "including the Union Pacific, B. & M. and Northwestern. They listened to what I had to say in regard to the discrimination against Omaha, and agreed to re-adjust their tarifis, so that the South Omaha market would not suffer." "Will this settle the difficulty finally?"

was asked of him. "Yes, I think it will dispose of the question altogether," he answered. "If the roads keep their promises made to me, the South Omaha market will be placed on an equal footing with that of Kansas City. And that is all we ask." Kansas City. And that is all we ask." "When will these changes in the tariffs be made?'

"I was assured by the railroad men that they would be made at once. Yes, I regard this as a great victory for Omaha."

A reporter learned yesterday, however, from a high source that Major Bash was held responsible for the loss. and that he will be made to refund to the United States the $7,200. As Major Bash is a new man in this branch of the service, his punishment will probably not be made any more severe. Captain Ray, of Fort Niobrara, arrived

"I am ready to believe that we are the worst gulled people in the universe," said a gentleman yesterday morning. "My experience at the opera houseon Saturday night has opened my mind to conviction. The insane folly of paying ex-tortionate prices to hear a crowd of French people jabber on the stage was well illustrated by the fact that nine-tenths of those who had paid the money demanded were disgusted after the per-formance and could not be induced to witness enother. It was stated at the Union Pacific headquarters yesterday that President'Adams, when in Omaha on Saturday, left word that work on the company's improvements in Council Bluffs, which has been suspended for some months, should be re-sumed and pushed. These improvements will cost about $250,000, and include roundhouses, storage depots, oil houses, tacks, etc.

Messrs, Kimball, Monroe and Stebbins have returned from Chicago, where they attended the meeting of railroad men. The meeting was adjourned until next, week to allow the Central Pacific people an opportunity to communicate with New York officials. Vice President Crocker, of the Central Pacific, and a party of railroad friends passed through the city eastward yesterdav.

Treasurer McFarland, of the Union Pacific, and wife went up to Minneapolis yesterday. President Adams and party have gone west.

Sunday Track-Laying. Sunday morning at about 7 o'clock. the residents on Twenty-fourth street, south of Vinton, were surprised to see a force of men engaged in laying a track upon their street. The material had been deposited during the night, and when the earliest riser left his couch he found a considerable amount of track laid in a reason-ably good condition. Seventy-five men and fifteen teams were engaged during the day. Some heavy plowing was done in quick time, and when the work ceased at 7 o'clock in the evening three fourths of a mile of track had been laid. This was a flank movement on the part of the Omaha Motor railway to shut out the South Omaha, who were contemplating commencing to build yesterday morning.

Asked His Wife's Forgiveness. "I shall release you if you think it worth while to ask your wife's forgive ness," said Judge Stenberg yesmorning to one of the prisoners. He was a man named John G. Morrissey, who had been arrested for striking his wife. Mrs. Morrissey, a well-appearing woman, with one eye badly discolored, where her hus-band's blows had failen, interceded for him, telling the judge that she did not be-heve he would do such a thing again. She did not want him sent to jail because on his wages she and her children depended. Morrisey very humbly begged his wife's pardon and the judge released him. Several unimportant cases of drunks, vagrants and disturbers of the peace were disposed of by the judge.
