A DAY FOR THE SCALPERS.

That Element Manipulates the Market to Suit Themselves.

CORN AGAIN WEAK AND LOWER.

Previous Interest in Barley Maintained in the Provision Pit—The Cattle Market Without Feature—General Quotations.

Chicago Produce Market.

CHICAGO, May 14.—[Special Telegram to the BEE.]—Wheat opened firm at yesterday's prices, with the crowd eager buyers. The market sold off very slightly, but started upon indications of clique buying. Many of the scalpers who had sold on the bulge yesterday afternoon came into the market, and finding that offerings were limited, began bidding for the wheat they wanted. This element took the market away from the clique and put June up to 86¾c, when the demands of the shorts were satisfied. The market, left to itself, worked off, June receding to 86¼c, July touching 85½c, and August 83¾c. Here again clique houses appeared as buyers, and as the session drew towards a close the music of the band became louder and the tune livelier. About ten minutes before the bell tapped June touched 87c. There it stuck tenuously to the finish, July resting at 35¾c, August at 83¾c and September at 83¼c. Brokers had orders to close the market at 87c, and they did it. They did not have to buy a great quantity of grain to do it, either. Transactions in the pit were below the average in aggregate, the market very narrow. Local scalpers and those who can have instantaneous connection with the exchange, try to tail onto the clique, but the public does not seem to have availed itself generally of the clique "yes," so generously and continuously put out. Commission houses report a light run on outside orders. It is said, however, that the bucket shops are great sufferers, which would indicate that the multitude of little fellows had caught on and were passengers on the clique train.

Corn was again weak and lower, especially the June option. There was less changing over to-day, or, in other words, less buying of June and selling of July, which accounted for the conspicuous weakness in the former month, and it sold "a split" lower than on last break, when the inside figures on the crop, up to that time, were touched. The principal feature of to-day's trade was the very general and heavy unloadings by longs. Discouraged holders dumped large quantities, and although the shrinkerage in values occasioned by free offerings were not severe, it was a heavy slugging market from the opening to the close. Initial trades in June were at 39¼ and in July at 41c, or ½c under yesterday's closing. June sluffed off to 38¾@38c, and closed at 39c straight, and July rested at 40¾c, after touching 40¾c. May closed at 1c under June and August at about 3c premium. The actual decline in the leading futures was ¼@¾c. Larger receipts are predicted for next week, Monday's run being estimated at 175 cars. Port clearings yesterday from two ports were 98,000 bushels, and foreign markets were quoted quiet and steady. To-day's charters by lake shippers were for 146,000 bushels. Oats were fairly active and prices weakened ⅛c for the principal trading months. Fine weather, good receipts, free speculation offerings and the depression of corn, all helped to weaken the market. Fluctuations were narrow, June closing at 27¼c and July at 28⅛@28¼c. Just at the close 20,000 bushels were sold for August at 26¾c.

In the provision pit yesterday's interest was barely maintained. The market opened with a promise of more active trading, but on the appearance of a weaker and more bearish feeling than was expected, traders became comparatively conservative, hence to-day's business, all told, was somewhat unsatisfactory and without special feature. From the start the bear side was regarded with the greatest favor, and at the close lard stood at 7½@10c and short ribs 10@12½c under last night's final quotations. The best prices reported were obtained on opening transactions Speculation was confined to lard and short ribs and to the usual months—June, July and August. Pork was held at $21 for May and June. The cash product sold slowly, though buyers were evidently making more inquiries and showed more disposition to take hold. Lard sold moderately for export. Cash meats were held at about yesterday's prices.

FINANCIAL.

NEW YORK, May 15.—[Special Telegram to the BEE.]—STOCKS.—The New York stock market was rather more narrow to-day than it has been for some time, but there was no material break in prices. The most sensational move of the day was in Manitoba, which advanced 2 per cent on big buying orders from the west. It was stated that the stockholders would have the right some time this year to subscribe for new stock on the 1,000 miles of road which the Manitoba is building. Granger stocks were all very quiet and steady, notwithstanding rather heavy selling to realize. A good many traders were out of town attending the races, and this had a tendency to detract from the interest which traders usually take in the market. A story was current that a big bull deal had been started in Norfolk & Western, London operators being credited with having designs of some kind on the road. The result was a jump of 1 per cent in the stock. The bank statement, showing a decrease of only $361,000 in the reserve, was regarded as favorable. At least it was not construed as unfavorable enough to sell stocks on. London prices were all a shade up and arbitrage houses reported a fair amount of buying for foreign account. Western Union and the Vanderbilts were down a fraction, but there was no pressure to sell these stocks. The feature of the afternoon was a sharp bulge in Norfolk & Western and a quick rally in cotton seed oil certificates. The report was on the street that insiders in the Cotton Seed Oil company had a statement showing over 6 per cent earned on certificates and that 3½ per cent in dividends would be paid in July. The market closed very strong at about the opening prices. The total sales were 300,000 shares.

GOVERNMENTS—Government bonds were dull but steady.

OMAHA LIVE STOCK.

Saturday, May 14.

Cattle.

The receipts of cattle were heavier than for some time past and especially for the last of the week. The market was slow on account of the owners being unwilling to sell their stock at the decline. To-day's market was very nearly steady with yesterday. Mr. Swift of Swift & Co., Chicago, was on the market and picked up a few loads.

Hogs.

The run of hogs was very liberal for the last of the week. The market opened fairly active at a decline of about 15c. The bulk of the hogs were sold early in the day. The decline in the market is in sympathy with the decline in other markets and the lower prices of all kinds of provisions, lard, etc. There were eight loads of light skipy and coarse heavy hogs left over.

Sheep.

There was no market.

Live Stock Notes.

Hogs 15c off.

Cattle steady.

A heavy run for Saturday.

Eight loads of hogs left over.

Nothing doing in butchers' stock.

George Varnes, Missouri Valley, was in and sold a load of hogs.

C. E. Lillybridge, Weston, came in with two loads of cattle.

J. A. Garton, Dewitt, Neb., was in and sold three loads of cattle.

There were 3350 hogs on the market, counting fresh receipts and stale.

R. Hutchinson, Republican city, was here and marketed a load of hogs.

E. Pettys, Shelby, was here with a load of hogs which sold on the market.

J. B. Hunter, North Parke, a well known cattle owner, was among the visitors at the yards.

R. A. Heaton, of Clark, Heaton & Co., Weston, was in with two loads of cattle and one of hogs.

A. Spelts, David City, was here and sold 89 head of cattle. Fifty-three head averaged 1315 and brought $4.20.

This morning Fowler Bros. had about 7,000 live hogs in their pens, which was enough to last them for two days or more. In spite of that fact they bought 2,600 more.

Complaints are made that the telegraph company does not deliver messages with sufficient promptness. A few hours delay makes a great difference in the live stock business.

The number of cattle sold on the market was very small in comparison with the number in the yards. This however is always the case when there is a sudden and heavy decline in the market. Shippers come in with cattle which were bought when the market was higher, and finding that they can not get out on them, they prefer to go on to Chicago in hopes of bettering themselves. Experience has shown, however, that nine times out of ten the shipper does not receive as much in Chicago as he may be offered here. Yesterday Mr. Swift, of Swift & Co., made a bid on every load of fat cattle in the yards, but only a very few were sold. It remains to be seen whether the same cattle will net their owners any more on the Chicago market.
