An Infuriated Crowd of Orangemen Pursue Him Through the Streets.

Lansdowne's Policemen Stand By and Offer No Protection—The Irish Patriot Escapes Without Serious Injury.

Tuesday Night's Wind-Up.

TORONTO, May 18.—[Special Telegram to the B.E.]—It was not until at a very late hour last night that the streets of Toronto assumed their usual quietude. After midnight crowds of loyalists paraded the streets, singing, shouting and setting off fire-crackers. Orangemen's banners and hastily improvised Union Jacks mounted on walking sticks and umbrella handles were being flourished and waved in all directions, and shouts of "Long Live Lansdowne," "To Hell With O'Brien," "God Save the Queen," etc., filled the air.

When O'Brien came down to breakfast this morning he was fresh for another year. His telegrams from New York, Boston, Atlanta, Ga., and other cities, as well as several provinces of the Dominion, awaited his perusal. Everywhere the news of yesterday's rioting in Toronto, and of Lansdowne's sympathizers as regarded as a victory for O'Brien's cause. Among the telegrams of congratulations was one from James Gordon Bennett of New York, who expressed himself of the belief that the crusade against Lansdowne has been immensely strengthened by the rioting in Toronto. O'Brien chatted freely with your correspondent. "At last I have brought Lord Lansdowne face to face with me, and I think the verdict of the world will be that I have not got the worst of it."

WYOMING'S CAPITOL BUILDING

Imposing Ceremonies at the Laying of the Corner Stone.

CHEYENNE, Wyo., May 18.—[Special Telegram to the B.E.]—The most gorgeous display ever known in the history of this territory was that made to-day in connection with the laying of the corner stone of the capitol building. The occasion was made a general holiday in this city. All banks and other places of business were closed by noon. A large number of visitors from abroad swelled the city population that poured into the streets. The procession consisted of nine companies of the seventeenth infantry, Masons and Knights Templar from this territory and Colorado, and all the uniformed societies in the city. About 1,000 men participated. The corner stone of the building was laid under the auspices of the Masons by N. R. Davis, grand master of the territory. Addresses were made by Judge Joseph M. Corey, delegate in congress, and Governor Thomas M. Monaghan. At the conclusion of the ceremonies the delegates and people who witnessed them adjourned to the neighboring grounds, where stacks of beef, pork, mutton, and other articles were piled up for the benefit of the poor. The building of the capitol was authorized at the last session of the legislature for $1,500,000 and is now in course of construction, and about $100,000 more of the cost of the building will be required.

PHYSICIANS IN COUNCIL

The Illinois Medical Society Meets at Chicago.

CHICAGO, May 18.—The thirty-seventh annual meeting of the Illinois State Medical Society began its sessions Tuesday morning at the First Methodist church. Over a hundred physicians were in attendance. The first report was that of the committee of surgery, presented by Dr. P. H. Opler, of Mount Pleasant, who dealt mainly with the treatment of diphtheria, alleging that the disease is caused by an acidity of blood, and can be best treated by alkalies. Yesterday morning a nominating committee of twenty-five was appointed to report a list of officers for the coming year. In the afternoon the report of the committee on surgery was presented. Dr. A. K. Stewart, of Chicago, presented his annual report, showing receipts of $780, and expenditure of $675.00, with a balance of $105.00. He then made a motion that $500 be appropriated as a contribution to the expenses of the international medical congress, to be held in Washington, D. C., in September. This motion was carried, and the sum was increased to $750, and Dr. Ephraim Ingersoll, of Chicago, reported for the committee on necrology, announcing the deaths of Drs. William T. Kirk, of Atchafalaya, and Dr. J. M. McArthur, of Ottawa, and Robert C. Hamill, of Chicago. The meeting then adjourned to convene for the last day's session at 9 o'clock to-morrow morning.

A COMPROMISE

The Lake Shore Brings the Chicago & Atlantic to a Standstill.

CHICAGO, May 18.—The squabble between Chicago east-bound lines over the question of rates on grain took on a new phase to-day. At a meeting of officials held in the morning the Lake Shore and Chicago & Atlantic refused to return to the tariff the Lake Shore would reduce the grain rate from Chicago to New York to 20 cents per 100. This would pull down all local rates from Chicago to Buffalo, and the Chicago & Atlantic, rather than cause such procedure, agreed finally to compromise, which it did by consenting to an 11 cent rate on grain from Chicago to New York, and 10 cents to other points. This is less than the old rate and 1 cent more than the Chicago & Atlantic had offered. The new tariff will take effect after the required ten days notice.

A Kick from Jobbers Imminent.

CHICAGO, May 18.—An uproar from jobbers at Mississippi river points and throughout interior Iowa is imminent, Chicago and Iowa railway lines at a meeting here to-day have agreed that only manufacturers shall have the benefit of the special rates granted yesterday. These rates are about 30 per cent below tariff enforced for the past month or two. They apply to such articles as pig iron, salt, cement, lumber, printing paper, etc., and will go into effect June 1. The transcontinental lines would appear to be meeting to-day agreeing to put into effect the west-bound rates proposed a week ago Saturday, based on 23, first-class, New York to Chicago to New York, and Chicago to New York to Chicago, at 20 cents per 100. The Missouri river 70 per cent, and St. Louis 90 per cent.

BLAINE'S EUROPEAN TRIP.

Positive Assurance That the Plumed Knight Will Sail in June.

NEW YORK, May 18.—[Special Telegram to the B.E.]—A New York special from Augusta, Me., to the World says:—Mr. Blaine, accompanied by Joe Marley, Governor Bodwell and Attorney General Orville D. Baker, returned here Monday afternoon after nearly a week's trip to Bar Harbor and Mount Desert. Yesterday it was officially announced for the first time that Blaine has finally decided to go to Europe this summer. When the party left here last week Blaine said that the report that he had engaged passage on a steamer to sail from New York June 4, was untrue. He now, however, says his plans have been made and that he will go abroad early next month. His decision was made by his friend, Joe Bar Harbor, with the well known lieutenant who went with him. The reason assigned by Blaine for his trip across the waters is poor health and much needed rest. This no doubt is one of the reasons why the Maine statesman will travel. Since his sickness in the west Blaine has been thoroughly alarmed about his health. At the time he was stricken he lost his courage and insisted that a physician be sent from Boston to attend to him. He recovered quickly and Colonel Coppinger and his wife urged him to remain at the fort. Blaine would not listen to them and hurried back to his home in Augusta. He has since assured him there was no danger. Since his return here from the west Blaine has taken care to say nothing publicly about his health. He has been seen by a physician several times to see him nearly every day. The doctor, who has talked with Blaine's physician, says that he is in good health. "Blaine is the most frightened man alive, but is no more sick than I am. What signs of sickness can be observed are attributable to his nervous system. He is very nervous. Blaine's friends have been opposed to his idea of going abroad, and have urged him to remain at home. They point out that the next campaign is not far off, and that great political changes frequently occur in short intervals of time. Besides this, the general health of the country is such that matters of importance are likely to come up which may require his immediate attention. They also point out that the United States senatorship, or any other office within reach, Dr. Smith, of Whitefield, of the ex-governor's counsel, and Governor Bodwell are all competing for the territory. Addressing the party, it is reported that others will join this party and that two western senators will be among the number.

DES MOINES KICKS ON THE UMPIRE.

DES MOINES, Ia., May 18.—[Special Telegram to the B.E.]—Des Moines lost another game to Milwaukee by the grossly unfair decision of the new umpire, Sullivan, a Milwaukee man. In the middle of the fifth inning the Des Moines players made a telegraphic protest to all the officials of the Western League against the umpire's decision. The following is the score by innings: Des Moines..... 0 0 3 0 1 0 0 0 3 Milwaukee..... 1 0 3 0 0 0 3 4 0 11

WINNERS OF THE CUP.

NEW YORK, May 18.—[Special Telegram to the B.E.]—Miss Davray has just purchased for $500 a silver vase of classic shape and intricate design known as the Grecian loving cup, which she will present to the base ball club winning the pennant in 1887. She is an enthusiastic admirer of the game.

LOUISVILLE JOCKEY CLUB RACES.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 18.—The attendance at the Louisville jockey club grounds to-day was fair, but the programme was a disappointment. The Merchants stake, which promised to be the greatest event of the meeting, dwindled down to a walk-out. The Elgin stake, which was won by Elgin, a three-year-old, was a disappointment. GREAT DISAPPOINTMENT FELT.

The Princess of Wales Does the Honors—Many American Ladies and Gentlemen Presented—Foreign News.

THE FOURTH JUBILEE DRAWING ROOM.

LONDON, May 18.—[New York Herald Cable-Special to the B.E.]—Great disappointment to-day befell hundreds of ladies who made their debuts at the fourth jubilee drawing room, not a few aspirants, finding the queen absent and the princess of Wales acting, postponed their presentation. Beyond this incident, da capo can be written after all reports of royal drawing rooms at Buckingham palace. Every such event is alike in preparation and in the meeting of the guests on the pavement with St. James, in carriages in the long way, or in the crush, or in the heart-burnings or delays of getting home. Mrs. Minister Phelps presented nine American ladies in the diplomatic circle, which is the first formed before the general hobnobbing presentations are made and which circle includes exclusively royalties, the cabinet ministers and wives, and the very distinguished names. This places a democratic diplomat like the courteous and tactful Phelps in a dilemma. Every American lady considers herself a society queen and equally distinguished. Heart burnings, therefore, may arise. He has been ordered to make no presentation in diplomatic circles, but to serve all the ladies demurely and alike, according, perhaps, the occasion when Mrs. Cleveland shall honor the palace with an infusion of white house social aroma. There could be heart burnings to-day when, in the circle, were presented the wife and daughter of ex-Cabinet Officer Manning, recognized here as having been the same as chancellor of the exchequer, and Mrs. Phelps' daughter, Mrs. Loomis.

THE LATEST LONDON FAD.

How Royalty and Aristocracy Shine in Palace Halls.

LONDON, May 18.—[New York Herald Cable-Special to the B.E.]—The queen's state ball is just concluding, yet it was a queen's ball without the queen, because the latter's fatigue of last Saturday prevented her attendance. The possible future queen exercised the functions of royalty in opening and matronizing the ball, the prince and minor royalties assisting. The ball was given by the queen's private state balls described in the Herald. The princess' dress, like those of the royalties generally on such occasions, may be considered plain in juxtaposition with the magnificent toilets of aristocracy and rich country families crowding the great saloon of the Buckingham Palace. She wore a dress of pale gray satin and silver brocade veiled in crepe and looped with marabout feathers, corsage to correspond; head dress a tiara of diamonds; ornaments, pearls, diamonds, and her usual jewelry. Her daughter, Princess Louise, wore a dress of white brocade and tulle, corsage of white and blue tulle, and a tiara of diamonds. Mrs. Albert Crane wore a mouve tulle corsage and a tiara of diamonds, and Mrs. Phelps wore a dress of white and blue tulle, corsage of white and blue tulle, and a tiara of diamonds. Mrs. Austin Huntington wore a corsage and train of rich gold and silver tinsel brocade, trimmed with yellow feathers and aigrettes of silver, petticoat draped with yellow craps de chine, trimmed with feathers to match the train, and diamond ornaments. Mrs. J. P. D. sister wore a white and gold brocade draped with old point lace, her train and corsage of pink Lyons velvet, trimmed with white ostrich feathers. She added a veil to the traditional plumes in the hair and wore diamonds. Her bouquet was of tiny white and red Riviera roses alternated. Mrs. Albert Crane wore a mouve tulle corsage and a tiara of diamonds, and Mrs. Phelps wore a dress of white and blue tulle, corsage of white and blue tulle, and a tiara of diamonds. Mrs. Austin Huntington wore a corsage and train of rich gold and silver tinsel brocade, trimmed with yellow feathers and aigrettes of silver, petticoat draped with yellow craps de chine, trimmed with feathers to match the train, and diamond ornaments.

AMERICANS BANQUETED.

PARIS (via Havre), May 18.—[New York Herald Cable-Special to the B.E.]—A grand dinner in honor of the American delegates to the Exposition Universelle was given at the Hotel de Ville to-day. The guests included the American delegates, the French government, and the French press.

THE HERO OF THE HOUR—HIS ELECTION TO PARLIAMENT.

DUBLIN, May 18.—[New York Herald Cable-Special to the B.E.]—O'Brien, here, as in Toronto, is the hero of the hour. Full details of the Canadian mission are daily called to the Freeman's Journal. His answering cable to his election, full of thanks and good cheer, was also published. But his Tory enemies are very bitter here. One of their organs, the Dublin Union, for instance, has this ingeniously suggestive paragraph: "If he gets back alive from Canada, it is not improbable that the editor of beaighted Ireland will take up his abode permanently in New York and personally direct the dynamite and dagger campaign from the safe precincts of Barclay street. In any case, Ireland is well served for a time, of one of the most mis-
