STRIKERS SCORE A VICTORY.

The Painters and Paper-Hangers Secure Very Valuable Concessions.

THE STRIKE DECLARED OFF

The Episcopalian Council-The New Chief of Police-The W. C. T. U. Headquarters-Potter's Western Trip.

Will Return to Work.

The differences between the painters and paper hangers and their employes have been adjusted, and the striking laborers will return to-day and on Monday to their work. The settlement of the troubles was affected at a conference yerterday afternoon between State Master Workman St. Geyer, President McCargle, of the central labor union, and Chairman Hunt, of the executive board, K. of L. The result of the conference was a decided victory for the strikers, nearly all of their requests being granted. The painters who were receiving $2.50 for ten hours work per day will now receive $2.75 per day for nine hours work. This is looked upon by the painters as a great concession to their claims. Heretofore no regular scale of wages has been received by the painters. Some of them received as high as $2.50 and $2.75 for a day's work, while others received only $2 per day and some as low as $1.50. Hereafter the uniform price of $2.75 per day will be paid all union painters for nine hours work.

The paper hangers were not quite so successful as the painters. We they failed to secure the ject of their strike they concessions that better their present condition and assures still further benefits for next year. The paper hangers struck for piece work. This point could not be granted without working a great injury to the contractors, many of whom have taken large jobs of work on the basis of the wages that have been paid the paper hangers. On this account a compromise was effected. The paper hangers will receive from $2.75 to 33.75 per day for the present year. On January 1, 1888, they will submit a price list for piece work which will take effect on the first of next March. This will enable the contractors to lay out their next year's work with a knowledge of the

The settlement of the troubles was announced last evening, and was received with satisfaction by both the painters and their employes. The large amount of work that has been delayed by the strike will now be resumed and pushed to com-pletion. The painters held an informal jubilee at their headquarters last night over their victory.

A call has been issued for a general meeting of all the painters, paper hangers and sign writers to be held at Metz Hall on Tenth street at 70 clock this morning.

THE EPISCOPALIAN COUNCIL.

Close of the Session-A Letter From Rev. Williams, The Episcopal council adjourned sine die yesterday at noon. The reports of committees were received and acted upon. A vote of appreciation of the services of the chancellor was passed, and steps taken to make him ex-officio a member of the body.

The report of the committee on christian education was peculiarly interesting. It was quite long and full. It was adopted and ordered printed in separate form. special committee was appointed to prepare for the next missionary meeting; the rectors of the city parishes with one layman from each vestry and one member from St. Andrews' brotherhood.

The meeting has been very harmonious and very successful, especially in relation to the work of societies connected with the church and the missionary work. Enough is pledged for missionary purposes to put seven new men in the field at once without waiting.

Regarding the episode of Thursday, in which Revs. Pearson and Williams figured, a clergyman remarked: an instance of one clergyman talking about something he knows nothing of and of another one falling into the trap. It amounts to nothing and in no way disturbs the harmony of feeling in the dio

REV. WILLIAMS EXPLAINS.
Rev. John Williams, rector of St. Barnabas church, has written the following letter relative to the "sensation" that marked Thursday's meeting of the coun-

To the Editor of the BEE: If your sensational report of what you cail a "Sensational Controversy in the Council of the Episcopal Church" only concerned Mr. Pearson or myself personally. I should follow my general rule as to newspaper reports and leave it uncorrected. But as your report has more than a mera personal bearing, I ask you to permit me to correct you. The Rev. Mr. Pearson did not in his sermon attack the doctrine Transubstantiation. The Rev. Mr. Williams did not retire from the council because of anything said by Mr. Pearson. As a rule he is not given to playing the fool. He had to leave the council chamber in fifteen minutes after the council was called to order, to attend a funeral twenty-five miles distant at 4 p. m. Before retiring he asked the customary permission of the council to retire, which permission was accorded. In making the request for permission to retire, as he did not then expect that the council would be in session to-day (Friday) he took accession to-day day) he took occasion to object to Mr. Pearson's course in preaching a partisan sermon in the council of the church. He had a special object in antagonizing Mr. Pearson's course just at that time. That object was accomplished. In conclusion let me assure the BEE and the city press generally, that the sensation was a very small one, in no way affecting the peace and harmony of the diocese, not even affecting the peaceable relations existing between the Rev. Mr. Pearson and my-JOHN WILLIAMS.

THE NEW CHIEF OF POLICE. Captain Seavey Enters Upon His Preliminary Work.

Captain Seavey was found on the streets yesterday "rustling" about and seeking all of the information he could well obtain concerning the conduct of saloons, number of people who are to be found around them, and also the houses of ill fame.

"I'm at work," he said. "I have not yet concluded the arrangements concerning my bond, but will do so to-night. Thave lived here and been in business year, despite the insinuations that only came here four months ago. enlisted in the army from here twenty five years ago and was here again thr-teen years ago. Naturally very many of the citizens who have come here during the last ten years do not know me, as during my recent residence I have at-tended strictly to my business and have taken no part whatever in political matters, This appointment came to me take hold to morrow or the following day."

The new chief called at the police station yesterday afternoon and made the acquaintance of Marshal Cummings and several members of the police force. He will probably assume active control of the force on Monday. W. C. T. U. NEW QUARTERS.

A Change to North Fourteenth Street Opposite the Exposition.

The W. C. T. U. headquarters, which have been located on Twelfth street at the Buckingham, will be moved on June 1 to No. 205 North Fourteenth street, opposite the exposition building. The house to be taken has ten rooms. These will be utilized for all purposes which the union has heretofore used the Buckingham except a restaurant. A Rare Opportunity. The sale of all the stock belonging to the well known Homan livery stable, on South Thirteenth street, which takes place next Saturday, May 28th, offers a splended opportunity to secure horses and carriages at a low price.

This stock consists of a large number of fine horses, carriages, phætons, laundaus, etc., and must be closed out en-tirely on the day mentioned above.

This is an administrator's sale and everything must be sold at public auc-tion, the highest bidder taking the prize. The sale will commence at 10 a. m. Saturday and continue through the day until everything is sold. Those who wish to know full particulars can get them of Henry Homan at the office of the stables, at 413 South Thirteenth street.

Funeral of Matthew Boland. The funeral of Matthew Boland, a stone cutter, was held from St. Philomena's cathedral yesterday forenoon. The attendance was large and included delegations from the stonecutters', plasterers' and bricklayers' unions. The funeral cortege to Holy Sepulchre cemetery, where the remains were buried, was large and imposing. About one hundred men of the organizations referred to, headed by the Union Pacific band, marched ahead of the carriages. The deceased was popular and leaves a family to mourn his loss.

Metz's garden, on South Tenth street, opens to-morrow night with a play, "Liebeskrank," by the German company which has just closed the winter season at Boyd's. It will introduce Messrs. Baureis, Puls, Koch, Ulig, and Lindemann, to gether with Mesdames Baureis, Puls Ahl and Lindemann. The entertainment will be an excellent one and will doubtless draw the audiences which last year attended these performances. Prof. Stein-hauser's orchestra will be in attendance, and render the delightful music for which he is so well known.

Assessor August Uhtof complains that several Council Bluffs manufacturies who have branches on this side of the river, will not list any of their property for assessment. Mr. Uhtof holds that as the firms employ teams to do their business on this side, and compete with simiar manufacturies in this city, they should be assessed upon their property which is in Omaha. The assessor will seek legal advice upon the question, several firms having peremptorily refused to make a return, notably a cracker manufactory.

National League Meeting. The Irish National league will hold a meeting at Cunningham hall on Sunday afternoon. At the last meeting a fund was started for the relief of the evicted Irish tenants, denominated the "Eviction Relief Fund." A committee was anpointed to solicit subscriptions and the committee will report on Sunday. Good progress has been made and it is expected that the meeting will be largely attended. The committee consists of John Rush, F. W. Gray, J. H. McShane, Dennis Cunningham and Michael Lee.

Complimenting the Fire Boys. The following letter was received by the chief of the fire department from General Crook:

OMAHA, May 19.—I. J. Galligan, Esq., Chief Fire Department—Dear Sir: I wish to thank you and engine company No. 3 for your prompt action in the occasion of the lire at my house last night. Arriving in an almost incredibly short time after being called the quiet, intelligent manner in which your work was done entitles you to the highest praise and reflects credit on your department and the city you represent. Very respectfully, your obedient servant.

Wants the Omaha Road.

Secretary Nattinger, of the board of trade, has received a letter from C. T. Evans & Co., of St. Helena, Cedar county, Neb., relative to the proposed building of the Omaha & Northwestern railway. Mr. Evans states that the citizens of St. Helena and Cedar county will offer liberal inducements to secure the road. A delegation of St. Helena citizens will visit Omaha soon to consult with the proper people concerning the matter.

The Squatter Cases.

Judge McCulloch of the county court yesterday morning handed down his decision in the ten cases against the river bottom squatters. In nine of the cases the decision was against the squatters and gave the plaintiffs the right to the prop-erty. In one case—in that of Seamon— the judge held that the defendant had lived on the land long enough to be entitled to aclaim to the ground. Two more cases remain to be tried by jury.

Damages by Overflow.

R. H. Hudderston against the Union Pacific railroad was on trial yesterday before Judge Neville. The case is a test case and grows out of an overflow of the Elkhorn river caused by a fill of the rail-road company. A dumber of cases of similar nature will follow should the present case prove successful. amount of damages claimed is $2,000.

Chautauqua Meeting.

In the board of education rooms last might there was an informal meeting of the Chautauqua Literary Association circle. The meeting was called for the purpose of outlining a course for the coming season. As there was not a full attend-ance the meeting was informal and ad-journment was taken for two weeks, at the board rooms, when a programme will be announced.

THE METROPOLITAN.

The Cable Line Which is to Run to the Patrick Farm.

The sale of the Patrick farm to the Kansas City syndicate means a big thing for Omaha, ' said a gentleman who is well acquainted with the parties and plans. "It means the bringing here of a great deal of foreign capital and its investment in per-manent improvements. The purchasers of this farm are men of means, experience and this farm are men of means, experience and enterprise."

This remark led a reporter of the BEE to make some inquiries which resulted in securing some information which no doubt will prove interesting to the people of Omania just at this time. The purchasers of the Patrick farm are F. L. Underwood. W. H. Craig and N. D. Allen. Mr. Underwood, who formerly hailed from Boston and later from Kansas City is a practical cable railway man. He built the Metropolitan cable railway of Kansas City, which property was sold to Boston parties for $3,000,000. He also built a portion of the Union Pacific and several of its branches. Mr. Underwood is worth in his own name about $800,000, and is backed by F. L. Ames, who, by the way, has recently made some heavy investments in Omaha and is now putting up several substantial business buildings here. Mr. Craig, one of Mr. Underwood's associates, is worth $200,000, and Mr. Allen, the other associate, is worth $200,000. These gentlemen have paid $215,000 cash down on the Patrick farm, and are under contract to spend $35,000 within the next ninety days in within the next interpret to spend so, own within the next interpret days in starting improvements upon the property, which joins the western city limits. They have a million dollars to put into improvements at once if they get certain privileges from the city. They propose to build a lar e number of first-class houses as good as any that can be They propose to build a lar e number of firstclass houses, as good as any that can be found in Omaha, and they will start the work at once, by platting the property, grading the street, and introducing gas, water, and other public improvements. It is desired by these gentlemen to secure quick transportation to and from this addition to the city, and with that view in end they have asked for a franchise for a cable rallway, to be called the Metropolitan cable. The manner in which they have proceeded in this matter is certainly commendable. They have not asked for the earth, but are willing to accept what the people are willing to give them.
They asked the city attorney to draw up a franchise to protect the interests of the city as well as their own. The city attorney has done so. The franchise is very binding. Itruns for only thirty years and is not transferable.
The company must accept the ordinance The company must accept the ordinance within thirty days; it must begin active build-ing operations within six months; must comwithin thirty days; it must begin active building operations within six months; must complete two miles within eighteen months thereafter; and must build one mile each year thereafter. Upon any attempt to dispose of the franchise without the consent of the city council or upon failure to comply with any of the terms of the ordinance, the franchise is forfeited. The company is compelled on the terms of the ordinance to do all the paying between the rails, and for eighteen feet outside of each side thereof, and to do its own grading, with the same penalty for a failure. The streets over which right of way is asked covers a route from the stock yards past the Union Pacific depot and from the depot to the Patrick Land company's tract.

This ordinance has been introduced in the council and will probably be submitted to the public at a special election. It is said that the company is willing to pay the expenses of this election, as the men engaged in the enterprise are anxious to begin operations at once. They promise to begin work the day after they get a franchise. It is a notable fact that no one has ever applied for a franchise on such binding terms and restrictions as are contained in this ordinance, and it shows that the parties mean business and ere not mere speculators.

AMUSEMENTS.

First Appearance of Daniel Sully at Boyd's Last Night.

"Daddy Nolan" can in no way be compared with the wretched sketches of Hibernian life in New York which for some time were produced on our stage. Whatever exception may be taken to some unedifying, overdrawn and rather unpleasant features in it, the piece has an excellent motive, which may well excuse the parts to which exception may be taken. It alternates from deepest senti-ment to most hilarious fun. There is not enough of the tearful to weary an audience, while there is enough of fun to keep it in laughter three-fourths of the time Mr. Sully, the star, does not seem te act. If he really does act, his art is crude and not worthy of commendation. He seems to be natural, and being natural he abandons those stage tricks which so frequently attract unmerited applause. The leading members of his company are well adapted to their parts, and aid materially in the success of the presentation. This afternoon the same piece will be presented, and tonight will be played the "Corner Grocery."

Turners' Exhibition. President Heimrod of the Turners' society, states that the coming exhibition of the Turners' at the Boyd's May 25, 18 expected to exceed anything of the kind ever given in this city. The class which will go from Omaha to the annual turnbezirk will carry off greater honors than did the class of last year.

From Carnival to Earthquake. Following is an extract from a letter written by a bright young American lady who has spent much time abroad, to a friend in this city. The letter is dated at Nice, April 15, and gives a very interest-ing description of the Mardi Gras carnival there, and the earthquake that fol-

The week before the beginning of Lent we had a very fine carnival, very much like that held in New Orleans, I imagine. We had a loge at the opera house for the grand mask balls and took some friends, put on dominos and masks two days and went on the streets and threw 'confetti' with a jolly good will at everybody. We had seats near the committee who gave the prizes to the people in the procession for the most original costunes or the handsomest chariots. The 'confetti' is a tiny pill, rather soft, made of lime plaster. You use tin scopes to throw it. Two days everybody dressed up in their best street suits, and went out on the principal promenade (either in carriages or had seats put up for the oc-casion) and threw tiny bouquets of flow-ers at one another. Hundreds of dollars were spent upon some of the carriages in covering them and the harness with nat-ural flowers. The committee gave satin banners of honor to those beautifully decorated. The carnival ended by the burning of 'King Carnival' and grand

"The next morning at 6 o'olock we were awakened by an earthquake. You have read all about it in the papers. imagine. The house shook like a ship on a rough sea; we were thrown from one side of the beds to the other. It one side of the beds to the other. It did not take us long to get up, dressed and out. The first shock was followed by three, all inside of half an hour, the longest and hardest lasting fifty-eight seconds, which seemed to us like five long minutes. The street scenes beggar description and children description; men, women and children upon the street in their night clothes, upon the street in their night clothes, making for the country, trying to get away from all tall houses. The town had been crowed for the carnival. In two days it was deserted. Fortunately, there was very little loss of life, but quite a good deal of damage to property by faling and cracking of houses. For two days and nights we kept our clothes and shoes on, ready to run. Most of the and shoes on, ready to run. Most of the people who remained slept out of doors for a longer time than that. We were so nicely fixed that we thought it wires to stay than to run away with the excited crowd. We have had a few slight shocks since but they did no damage." since, but they did no damage.'
