WHISKY CAUSED HIS DEATH

Martha Stoddard Sues a Saloonist's Estate for Her Husband's Death.

THE REPUBLICAN COMMITTEE.

Articles of Incorporation - Reckless Guarding - Police Court-The Barley Crop-Brief Mention-Lincoln Locals,

[PROM THE BEE'S LINCOLN BUREAU.] Another test case under the Slocumb law was commenced in the district court yesterday, Judge Pound hearing the case. The petitioner is Martha Stoddard, who sues Joseph Whitman, administrator of the estate of August Hoppe and others, for damages, in the sum of $10,000. The petition in this case cites that the plain-tiff's husband prior to his death was a stone mason by trade; that his wages averaged at least one thousand dollars a year, which he used to provide for the maintainance of his family; that her husband was both sober and industrious but on the 7th day of April 1885, the day of the city election in Lincoln, he became Intoxicated and remained in that condition for nearly two weeks thereafter. The wife alleges that the following persons, then engaged in selling liquor, provided her husband with the same during this time to wit: August Hoppe, John Brown, Rudolp Shafer and Schwartz and Mayer. Further assidavit is made that the result of this long protracted spree was the death of her husband, caused by delirium tremens brought on by this excessive drinking.

The defence is not fully outlined in the papers on file but the course of the trial portends that they will attempt to prove that Stoddard was not an industrious or a sober man and also that he did not pro cure the liquors that threw him in the tremens from these defendants.

RECKLESS GUARDING.
The man who is employed by the city, with other assistance furnished him, to guard the city prisoners, has demon-strated his total unfitness for the position and he should be discharged at once. The other day ten men were placed in his charge to work out fines on the street and yesterday one of them, with a lone-some look, approached the judge in the morning court and related that his nine companions had cut and run and he companions had cut and run and he alone was left. He thought as long as all the rest had escaped the judge might as well let him go also. It was stated by one of the police that one day the guards, three in number, came in at night, bringing between them two men, all the rest of the men having here allowed to make their essents. two men, all the rest of the men having been allowed to make their escape. It is of no use for the police judge to assess fines against tramps and vagrants to rid the city of their presence, when the city hires men to watch the prisoners, who let them walk off at their leisure. When tramps are taught a lesson with a ball and chain, or given a bread and water dict for a few weeks, they give the city a wide berth, and the police judge has been doing his whole duty in this line. However punishment loses its terrors when a man with a $25 tine can walk off without hindrance. without hindrance. THE POLICE COURT.

The scene in police court yesterday was animated. The afternoon of the day before, a gang of the toughest specimens seen for many a day were drinking and fighting and begging beer, in the rear of the row of buildings opposite the B. & M. depot. Two telephone messages were sent in to headquarters, and three officers rounded up nine men who were up for sentence. Yesterday those of the party who pleaded guilty were given $20 and costs, and the others $25. Four plain drunks and one man who exhib-ited pugilistic qualities were fined $8 and

Had a Narrow Escape. Detroit Free Press: Henry Kennedy, thirty-five years old and colored, was arraigned before Police Justice Haug the other morning, charged with disorderly conduct. The testimony of the officer in the case went to show that the prisoner had imbibed enough beer for a grown person, and was engaged in exhibiting his astonishing smartness to a number of persons who were coldly unappreciative. A murderous looking knife was found on e prisoner, together with three boxes of matches.

"What were you doing with this knife about you?" inquired his honor.

The Philosophy of Life,

The Philosophy of Lite.

The philosophy of Francis Bacon is the philosophy of life. "Despise no new accident in the body," said he, "but ask opinion of it, in sickness principally respect health, and in health action."

There are many so-called slight affections which men think it brave not to notice. It is not bravery; it is folly. As Bacon says, "despise no new accident in the body." DRETH'S PILLS.

London is a Big Town. St. Nicholas: If any one were to walk one way through all the streets of Lon-don he would be obliged to go a distance of 2,000 miles, or as far as it is across the American continent, from New York the American continent, from New York to San Francisco. In our approach to this city, as well as in our rambles through its streets, we shall not be struck so much by its splendid and imposing appearance as by its immensity. Go where we may, there seems to be no end to the town. It is fourteen miles one way and eight the other, and contains a population of nearly four million people, which is greater, indeed, than that of Switzerland or the kingdom of Denmark and Greece combined. We are told on good authority that there are more Scotchmen in London than in Edinburgh, more Irishmen than in Dublin, and more Scotchmen in London than in Edinburgh, more Irishmen than in Dublin, and more Jews than in Palestine, with foreigners from all parts of the world, including a great number of Americans. Yet there are so many Englishmen in London that one is not likely to notice the presence of these people of other nations.

This vast body of citizens eat every year 400,000 oxen, 1,500,000 sheep, 8,000,000 chickens and game birds, not to speak of calves, hors, and different kinds of fish. They consume 500,000,000 oysters, which, although it seems like a large number would only give, if equally divided among all the people, one oyster every third day to each person. There are 300,000 servants in London, enough people to make a large city; don, enough people to make a large city; but as this gives only one servant to each dozen citizens, it is quite evident that a great many of the people must wait on themselves.

"A remarkably well preserved woman! Remarkably well preserved! though she's sixty. Egad ! She must have used Sapolio all her life !

WHAT IS SAPOLIO?

It is a solid, handsome cake of House-cleaning Soap, which has no equal for all scouring purposes except the laundry. To use it is to value it. What will Sapolio do? Why it will clean paint, make offcloths bright, and give the floors, tables and shelves a new appearance. It will take the grease off the dishes and off the pots and pans. You can scour the knives and forks with it, and make the tin things shine brightly. The wash-basin, the bath tub, even the greasy kitchen wink will be as clean as a new pin if you use Sapolio. One cake will prove all we say. Be a clever housekeeper and try it. Beware of imitations. There is but one Sapolio. No. 11. [Copyright, March, 1877.]

This will certify that I have examined the Belle of Bourbon Whisky, received from Lawrence Ostrum & Co., and found the same to be perfectly tree from Fusel Oil and other deleterious substances and strictly pure I cheerfully recommend the same for Family use and Medicinal purposes.
