IT TOOK ELEVEN INNINGS.

Leavenworth Defeats Omaha in a Very Hotly Contested Game.

COSTLY ERRORS THE CAUSE.

The Coming Colt Races of the Omaha Fair-Yesterday's Turf Events-Two Nebraska Gun Tournaments.

The game between the Omahas and Leavenworths yesterday drew 800 spectators to the ball park. The contest proved one of the most exciting of the season and ought to have resulted in a victory for the Omahas. because they both outbatted and outfielded the visitors. But costly errors by Walsh in the ninth and eleventh innings cost them the game. Waish has been playing in bad luck for some time and vesterday was not an exception. He had two balls which were properly his, jump from clods in the uneven ground over his head. On the ninth inning, when the score was 8 to 5 in favor of the Omahas and it appeared as if they had vice

tory in their grasp, he fumbled a hot ball

with two men on bases and allowed runs to commence. The visitors piled up three as a consequence of that one break, and thus continued the struggle be-yond the usual limit. On the eleventh In-ning, with two men out, he lost a ball just long enough to allow a man on third base to get in get in.

But it was not altogether Waish's bad But it was not altogether Waish's bad playing which won for the Leavenworths. They had a peculiarly strong run of luck at the right time. With two men out on the last inning, Fitzsimmons, who never before made a three-base hit in his life, sent the ball among the carriages outside the ropes in the left field. It was that advantage of good luck and one Omaha man's poor luck which secured the visitors the game. Noticeable good plays were a left-hand catch by Messit, of the home team, on second base, and Dwyer's four or five stops of wild balls which were thrown him from third base and short-stop.

The following is the score:

DEVER, June 4.- [Special Telegram to the BEE.]-Denver batted Hafner out of the box to-day, Werden going in in the ninth. In the sixth Tebean made a home run with three men on bases, tleing the score, for which the spectators threw him $57.65. Voss, Silch and Smith also made home runs and were liberally paid by the audience. Gunson did fine work for Topeka behind the bat. but the rest of Goldsby's pets were tired of chasing leather. Voss was hit hard at the start, but finished in fine shape. Denver will now take after the Kansas City, as Topeka is meat for her sluggers. The score was as follows:

St. Joe Downed By Lincoln. Lincoln, June 4.--(Special Telegram to the Bee.)--The third and last of the games between St. Joe and Lincoln was won to-day by the home club by superior playing. The visitors lead in the start but went to pieces in the last half of the game, the Lincolns winning easily. Miller and Doian were the battery for the home club and they were encouraged through the game by 1,800 spectators. The Lafevre Club. The regular weekly meeting of the Lafevre club took place yesterday, and the following core is reported by Penrose & Hardin:

The Concert and Walk To-night. The fact that pools are being sold in Chicago and Kansas City on the six days go-asyou-please, which begins at the exposition building at midnight to-night, is sufficient evidence of the interest felt away from Omaha in the event, Interest does not flag A SWINDLE THAT MISCARRIED.

at home. Two prominent Omaha men of the sport-loving fraternity made a wager yesterday on the result. Five hundred dollars was the amount of the bet and the distance named was 550 miles. The record shows that the best distance for 144 hours of walking is 520 miles, while in go-as-you-please the distance covered was 610 miles. So it would appear that there is ground for a difference of opinion. One of the contestants, Huffman, says that he is bound to beat the best record. If he does so he will earn the extra $1,000 offered by the management for the performance of the feat.

Everything is now in readiness for the match. The men are all here, quartered at the exposition building, and they are all hopeful, full of life and confident. The start will be made at 12:05, and for three hours prior to that time the Musical Union Orchestra will discourse sacred music for the start and who do not care to weary in well doing.

A Nice Little Game Nipped.

to the BEE.]-An ingenious attempt to commit a forgery on the sergeant-at-arms of the house of representatives was perpetrated a short time ago. It was fortunately discovered in time to prevent any loss. About three weeks ago a letter was received at the office dated from New York and bearing the New York post mark. It purported to come from Congressman S. S. Cox, and as he is known to use a private secretary the body was written in one handwriting and the signature in an entirely different one. It asked that the sum of $247 be paid to the order of Mr. Leatch, clerk of the Riggs house, in payment of his (Mr. Cox's) account there. days after a letter came signed in Mr. The purse was $50. It was a hard race, Kendall leading up to within eighty yards of the tape. There Brazee shot by him like a deer and discouraged Kendall so that he won easily. No time was announced, although it was stated to have been fast. Leateh's name and enclosing a receipt for 8247. This note, which was brought by a district messenger, stated that the writer supposed that Mr. Leedom had by this time received an intimation from Congressman Cox that he was authorized to pay the sum mentioned to Leatch and asked that the money should be sent by the bearer, or if that was not convenient, that a check-should be made out payable to the bearer. The suspicions of both Mr. Leedom and the paying teller of the office were, however, aroused by the fact that this method of doing business was entirely unusual with Mr. Cox, who was accustomed when paying his bills to give a race to-day and was beaten by the Genesta and Irex. The course was from Nore to Dover. The Genesta won, Irex second and Thistle third, half a mile behind. check for the amount due. Accordingly Mr. Leedom sat down to write a note to Mr. Leatch, saying that he could not pay the bill until the end of the month, which was two days distant. While he was engaged in days distant. While he was engaged in writing this, however, another note came, also signed in Mr. Leatch's name, asking that the money be not paid to the messenger, as the writer himself would be up at the office and get it in person, as he did not want any one to know about the matter since it was entirely a personal affair between Mr. Cox and himself. A yisit to the Riggs house soon showed that some one was trying to impersonate Mr. Leatch and a telegram to Mr. Cox revealed the fact that he had never sent any such letter as that imputed to him, Steps were immediately taken to secure the arrest of the imposter, but up to the present they have been fruitless. If there had not been some unusually sharp men in the sergeant-at-arms office, the plausible story would have cost the office a nice little sum. This is the third time within the last year that attempts have been made by means of forgeries to secure government cash from this office. It is nearly a year ago since a check was presented by the runner of a bank in this city for something over a $100. The signature was a very clumsy forgery of General Long's name, and it was at once detected. The next attempt occurred two or three months ago and Congressman Houle's name was the one An Unexpected Turn of Affairs Causes CHEYENNE, Wyo., June 4 .- [Special Telegram to the BEE.]-The twenty days allowed by law in which to file a schedule of the assets and liabilities of the Swan Brothers expired last midnight. It had been expected that the schedule would certainly be filed. for it was given out that the firm was hard at work preparing it. Instead of a schedule being filed with the probate judge, a deed of trust to Erasmus Nagle, a substantial business man of Cheyenne, was filed, with the county clerk. This document conveys in trust all the personal document conveys in trust all the personal and real property of the firm and the members of it to Mr. Nagle to realize upon it as his best judgment may dictate. This result was unexpected here. In the opinion of some lawyers it operates precisely as though no assignment had been made. The result of it was the issuing of three attachments to-day in suits brough by Joseph Frank, of Chicago, to recover $1,23; Lazarus Silverman, of Chicago, to recover $25,000, and the First National bank of Gasyenne to recover $25,000. The latter attachment includes F. W. Lafrentz, bookkeeper of Swan Bros., whose signature is upon their paper now in the hands of the First National bank. This proceedure will bring the matter at once into name, and it was at once detected. The next attempt occurred two or three months ago and Congressman Houk's name was the one used. The forger in this instance was an ingenious fellow. After writing out the check he made it appear as though it had been handled a good deal. Then he wrote on the back the following: "Judge Hous, what in h—l do you mean in drawing on us? You haven't got a d—n cent coming to you. J. H. Leedham." Notwithstanding this highly original endorsement and the fact that Mr. Leedham's name was spelt wrong, the forger induced some tradesman to buy the check, which was for a comfortable sum, and cleared out. proceedure will bring the matter at once into the courts, where the legal questions involved may be decided.

-Special to the BEE.]-Since Cardinal Giboons' remarkable report appeared, the Knights of Labor have somewhat grown famous in Europe, which, till then, took but slight interest in their existence. Cardinal Manning's letter has been followed by a lengthy essay on the organization of the Knights in the current number of the Review Politicue et Litteraire. In an article on "Catholic Socialism." John Lemainne also gives them prominence. It may interest the Knights to know that lately, on his return from Rome to Paris, Bishop Keane, one of their staunchest defenders, went out of his way to discuss them in a familiar address to the students at Sulpice seminary. He thanked heaven that American papers had, by revealing the text of Gibbons' report, been providentially enabled to show the true attitude of the Catho lie church on the labor question, to prove to all the world that it was not at the beck and call of Dives, but honestly in sympathy with Lazarus.
