REELING OFF THEIR LAPS,

The Six-Day Pedestrians Pounding the Sawdust.

START OF TEN CONTESTANTS.

D'Leary, Hart, Herriman and Other Foot Flingers-How the Race Commenced-Score at 3:00 A. M.

ahe Go-As-You-Please.

When the clock on the stage at the Exposition building pointed to 12 o'clock last night J. C. Crawford, score-keeper and judge of the six-day go-as-you-please pedestrian contest, announced that the match was to begin. He designated the contestants by the following numbers, which were to be worn, placarded, for a few hours:

Frank Hart, New York, No. L. W. A. Smith, Colorado, No. 2, Dan O'Leary, Chicago, No. 3, F. J. Brezee, Omaha, No. 4, J. S. Herriman, St. Louis, No. 5, George E. Huffman, Bellwood, Neb., W. A. Gregg, Omaha, No. 7. P. Rockbood, Omaha, No. 8.

J. Rodney, (unknown), Omaha, No. 9.
Fred Cunningham, Kansas City, No. 10.
At 12:10 the word go was given and the men were off. Hart lead, Brezee next, and Herriman next. The others bunched for a while and then they gradually strung out. track is of sawdust, five feet wide,

10 laps to the mile.

An audience of 500, including many ladies, witnessed the start. The Musical Union orchestra furnished music from the nedestrian 0:30 o'clock until 12, when the pedestrian contest began. The stage is occupied by the scorers who both keep tally sheets and a large blackboard tally. In the center of the hall is a book-makers' stand. C. L. Schriver, the manager of the event, has provided very comfortable accommodations for the men in the way of dressing rooms.

The scorers, who will keep accurate the scorers, who will keep accurate the scorers and accurate the sco track of the progress of each pedestrian,

At the board for the day, C. H. Craig, T. O'Brien, J. E. Earle; for the night, C. H. Elder, Al. Freese, J. D. Albert. On the sheets for the day, F. Parrish, L. E. Ryan, R. P. Mornfield; for the night, J. D. Conklin, A. D. Wilkinson, C. H. Moutard. The trainers of some of the pedestrians

For Brezee, Ed Campbell and D. E. For Huffman, C. E. Borg and A. D. oolbert. For O'Leary, Jerry Murphy and Chas. Buckley. For Rockbood, Mrs. Rockbood and

and Sammy Keyes.

The characteristics of the pedestrians were worth watching during the first hour. The easiest trayelers were O'Leary, with his wonderful clock-work walk; Hart, with his free and steady lope; Brezee, showing a remarkably easy run; Gregg, with his Indian courier space-killing stride, and Herriman, with a run and walk alternating, which forbode no picnic for anyone who tried to keep pace with him.

O'Leary was frequently cheered and Hart was warmly applauded, by the colpred people especially. Brezee and Gregg were ahead at 1 a. m.

Hart and O'Leary have very simple quarters, neither having anything in their dressing rooms to show that they intended to rest. Brezee and Gregg both intended to rest. Brezee and Gregg both have comfortable beds into which they can drop for a few minutes' or hours It is understood that Hart and U'Leary have agreed upon remaining on the track 40 hours without rest. There s not much harmony, however, between the trainers, and this may be only speculative. Hart's custom is to keep at it 8 to 40 hours; rest six hours; resume for 20 hours; and rest thereafter 4 hours for each day.

THE BOYS OF THE BAR. The Omaha Turn Verein and Their

Trip to Topeka. The turn fest of the Missouri valley turn bezirk will this year be held in Topeka. It will be attended by a number of vereins from the principal cities along the river. In this meeting of athletes more interest is this year centered than In any year since the organization of the bezirk. This is mainly due to the rivalry engendered between the cities composing the bezirk, and this rivalry is in great degree due to the remarkable success which last year attended the Omaha verein at St. Joe. It will be remembered that or boys won nearly all the prizes and some of them as many as four and live individual distinctions. Besides they were accompanied by some of the most influential and representative German citizens, all of whom rejoiced in the success of the home verein and left nothing undone in the way of liberality to keep the name of Omaha bere the people. As a consequence, the delegation from this city was talked of all over the city, more especially because in connection with these it had also with them the finest band in the meeting, that of the Second infantry of Fort Omaha.

This year the verein is in better condi-tion than it was a year ago, while at the same time the devotion to practice that the other clubs have shown leads people the other clubs have shown leads people to believe that the success of our young will not be achieved without considerable rivalry. The home verein, however, anticipates the struggle, and if there be a possibility of winning they will certainly win. This was well illustrated by the magnificent work which they did in their entertainment in the opera house on Friday last.

ment in the opera house on Friday last.

The trip to Topeka, however, will be more expensive than it was last year.

The inter-state law has destroyed some of the privileges which were then enjoyed. One of these was the ability to take a band with them, which it is feared must this year be abandoned. Nevertheless, the boys will be grateful for whatever assistance they may receive. Already about forty-four leading German pitizens have signified their willingness to accompany the verein, which will leave here on Tucsday next.

The Motors' Motions.

This aggressive company again placed Itself prominently before the publie yesterday morning by sending force of men at about four p'clock to lay a line of its track on Fifteenth street, south of Howard. When daylight broke forty-five men were engaged on the work. The ties were of cheap pine, which the foreman, bir. Brode, said would last as long as pak in that kind of clay. The rails were light and of the T order, which is not in compliance with the ordinance of the city. The track was completed, toward with nature, evening, to Leavenworth street, where it connects with that of the same company laid several weeks ago.

Street Obstruction. OMAHA, Neb., June 5 .- To the Editor of the BEE: The manner in which the railways are obstructing the streets of the city is an outrage upon the rights of the citizens, and a disgrace to the fair name of Omaha in the eyes of visitors. The "Cable Line" company, for instance, is obstructing Dodge street for four and five squares so as to make it wholly im-passable, in several places the crossing even being closed, and the company is entirely without any rights to the public streets. Contractors put up signs on streets that they are "closed by order of the council," and keep them closed at their own "sweet wills." It is perfectly feasible for railways to be built and streets to be paved without obstructing traffic, and those in authority should see to it that those engaged on the city streets, especially interlopers, should do their work with the least possible inconvenience to the public. Kansas City and Minneapolis are doing as much street work and railway work as Omaha, but in neither one are the streets allowed to be obstructed by the work. VOTER.

OUTRAGED BY TRAMPS.

An Elderly Woman Brutally Beaten Above Florence. Two tramps entered the house of Mrs. Shipley, who resides on a farm above Florence, at 4 o'clock yesterday morning for the purpose of robbery. A watch dog attacked one, but the man brained the faithful animal with a club. Mrs. Shipley, a women about 45 years of age, struck the other ruffian with a chair and knocked him down; but the one who had laid out the dog, and who is described as a powerful man. wrested the chair from her and then both beat her until she was insensible. They did not dare to remain to ramsack the house, but fled in the dawn As soon as the injured woman recovered she attracted the attention of the people living in a neighboring house, and they went to her assistance. The information brought to the city concerning the affair was meagre, but it was stated by the messenger that Mrs. Shipley's injuries were serious, if not fatal.

AMUSEMENTS.

METZ' GARDEN.

The popularity of this garden seems to be increasing with the growth of the city and the advance of the season. Each succeeding Sunday performance brings out an attendance larger than the pre-ceding one. This was exemplified by the audience last evening, which filled the garden and laughed with extreme heartiness over the events of the two funny plays, "Der Hauschlussel" and funny plays, "Der Hauschlussel" and "Eine Ueberraschung," which were excellently produced by the German comedy company. A ball followed the performance and lasted until midnight.

Salvation Workers From Omaha. Knox Boude and Charles Smith, formerly in the local Y. M. C. A., are reported to be gaining success in Salvation army work recently undertaken. They were among the number of Salvationists who were arrested and tried here some time ago on the charge of disturb-ing the peace. After being released, Mr. Bonde went to Denver and Mr. Smith to Lawrence, Kan.

Anxious Diamond Owners. Philadelphia Record: "One might imagine that every family in Philadelphia in which diamonds have found their way possessed a butler skilled in the business of a jeweler, and that all the gems in the city had suddenly turned to paste," said a well-known Chestnut street diamond merchant yesterday. The success with which Theodore Hahr has lately substituted paste for gems in numerous New York families, where he was employed as a butler, has set haif of fashionable Philadelphia by the ears, and there was a rush to the jewelers yesterday by ladles who were anxious to find out whether their glittering ornaments were genuine stones or only carbon or paste imitations. There were few diamond experts in the city who were not sought out and asked to pass upon the genuineness of stones which their female owners feared had been tampered with. Happily no cases in which there is reason to suspect that a theft had been committed have been reported. The jewelers can readily detect whether a setting has been tampered with or not. Some gems, however, which their fond owners supposed to be of the first water were found to be very ordinary and cheap diamonds, and some for which large amounts had been paid were pronounced by the expert to be mere brilliants, not much better than paste imitations. In these cases, however, the trouble has not been with a skillful and daring servant, but with the credulity of the owners, who had been cleverly swindled in the purchase. In the case of the butler, Hahr, in New York, on Thursday, several other victims turned up, and it was found that his operations had been extensive. He was held for trial. were genuine stones or only carbon or paste

ARKANSAS' MINES. Immense Wealth Which Nebreskans

are Winning From Them. Hor Springs, Ark., May 28.-[Correspondence of the BEE. ]-It has been some time since we have sent you any news from Arkansas, and, believing that many of your readers in the city of Omaha and in the state of Nebraska, besides other states and territories where the BEE so readily finds its way, are more or less interested in mining enterprises. I venture a brief communication from the land of the tick, the chigger and big prospects. The little band of Nebraska men who have been sticking so tenaciously to this country with a firm belief in its mineral wealth, is now beginning to reap the reward of perseverance. Time and again have so - called assayers reported "no trace of metal and absolutely valueless," on Arkansas ores sent them for treatment. Fortunately there were among the list of assayers, metallengists, chemists and geologists, a few possessing originality and common sense enough to treat ores by methods different from those of their grandfathers, who even dared to deviate from written formulas and receipts laid down in the books, and to these advanced thinkers and scholars, together with the "sand" of a few "fanatics, cranks, schemers, and fools" Arkansas is indebted for the presentrapid development of her vast mineral resourses, centering in the lively, rushing mining camps adjacent to Hot

Those who have seen the wild rush of miners, leaving half a head of water in their sluice boxes, grabbing pick, pans and shovel, with a blan-ket and two days grub, and joining the mad stampede for newly-discovered diggings, will best understand tne feelings of men when the prospect of great and sudden wealth completely absorbs the rushing crowds of prospectors for gold. Such a condition of thega is now being realized to some extent in the earnest search for vacant territory and corner lots at Bear City and Crystal Springs. These places are each putting on metropolitan airs, and the goodnatured rivairy between the two causes healthy competition and stimulates all worthy enterprise. A large force of carpenters, millwrights and laborers are employed in executive tenth of the control of ployed in erecting buildings, placing the machinery for the new stamp mill for the Lost Louisiana Mining company. At the five saw-mills there is a continuous rush for lumber.

Springs.

There is heard the steady pounding of the old stamp mill, the ring of many anvils, the sound of the numerous saws and hammers necessary to rapid building on all sides, the occasional dull thud of exploding dynamite from the surrounding mines. Many companies are preparing to furnish ore for the mammoth smelter erected by Colonel Moffet at Crystal Springs, which will have a capacity of 1,000 tons a day. The Louisiana company have already 1,000 tons of ore on their dump, two tons of which was recently treated by the improved Hartsfeldt's appoints at improved Hartsfeldt's smelter at Newport, Ky., with a result of $54 to the ton in gold and silver. Professor Samuel Aughey, superintendent of the company, with its president and other members were present and witnessed the entire handling and reduction of the ore. A previous mill run by the Electro-Amalgamation Works at Denver, Col., gave a report of $34 in gold and 14 7-10 ounces in silver per ton. satisfactory results have caused the directors to make a contract with Colonel Moffet to reduce to bullion at least 500 tons of the ore already mined, and it will be immediately hauled to the smelter and treated within sixty days according to contract. The run will probably commence about July 4. As the new stamp mill will be completed about the same time, the camps anticipate a glorious celebration,—and that reminds me to give you a cordial invitation to celebrate with us. We promise you a front seat on the platform, a good dinner of roast ox, a sight of gold and silver brick, and Arkansas bullion produced before your eyes. C. C. CHAPIN,

A Promising Town OARDALE, Neb., May 30 .- [Correspondence of the BEE. |-This finely situated town of 800 to 1,000 people is on the Fremont, Elkhorn & Missouri Valley railroad, near the center of Antelope county, one of the best farming counties in the state. It is also the western terminus of the Scribner branch of the same road. The railroad improvements consequent upon the building of this new line consist, in part, of engine house and repair shop, coal sheds, water tank, extensive sidetracks, etc. Two new banks in addition to the one already here attest the confidence of capitalists in the future of the town.

Oakdale seminary, a commodious building under process of construction under the auspices of the Oakdale Pres-bytery, will greatly enhance the educational facilities in this locality in the near future. One of the most apparent needs of the town at the present time is a roller mill. There are two fine water powers on Cedar creek within the corporation limits. One of these is improved and fur-nishes power for running a burr mill, which is kept constantly busy, mostly in grinding feed. The other could be improved at a comparatively small expense, and with a roller mill of modern style would undoubtedly prove a good invest-

The question of waterworks is being agitated and will probably take definite shape soon. ELKHORN.

Tekamab's Boom. TEKAMAH, Neb., May 30. — [Correspondence of the Bee.]—Tekamah is forty-three miles north of Omaha on Tekamah creek, one of the finest locations for a town in the west, with a population of about 2,000 good looking women and girls and the balance as homely men as you ever saw. But they have a little of scads in the pocket and propose to raise Tekamah out from the nap she has been taking for the last two years. In the first place we have well graded and well located streets, good side walks, pure water, not a saloon in town, not even bitters for

The new improvements this year are a new machine shop and planing mill; a new roller floaring mill, with all late improvements; the best canning factory in the state, which has doubled its capacity this year, and will run day and night on peas, beans, corn, tomatoes and straw-berries, employing 150 hands; a new creamery, costing $5,000, and the stock all taken in less than a half a day. Then we have the largest hennery west of the Mississippi. There are twenty acres in pens and buildings. It will be heated by steam in the winter, using in-cubators and all the latest improvements to take the care of eggs from 1,500 cacklers. Then we are to have a $12,000 water works, which will be a great benefit to the city, as we have no protecbeneilt to the city, as we have no protection from fire whatever.

We have three good hotels, four churches, two large school buldings, and almost all kinds of societies except the Salvation army.

The Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis & Omaha railroad will put up a handsome passenger depot here soon—something that is much needed—and will also build about one mile more of side track.

The big ditch that cost $50,000 will be widened twelve feet, which will make 500 farms that are now of no use, and as it is on the cast side of Tekamah all the penefit of the improved bottom will be for Tekamah.

With all these improvements how can Tekamah help but have a boom?

Helps For Holdrege. HOLDREGE, Neb., June 1.-[Correspondence of the Bes.]-Holdrege is a name with which Omaha people are well acquainted, and you can rest assured that when that name was given to the town, which the B. & M. company located in Phelps, the banner county of Nebraska, it meant a great deal for that town. Your correspondent has always contended for this, and from the day of its contended for this, and from the day of its birth. Our city has shown what is in a name. Not yet four years old, Holdrege ranks to-day with Hastings, Kearney, Red Cloud and McCook. From recent developments, however, it is patent to every observing mind that Holdrege is to outrank all her rivals in importance, population and wealth. For the past two weeks your reporter has been aware that weeks your reporter has been aware that movements were on foot which were of vast importance to Holdrege, but the facts never came to the surface until within the past forty-eight hours, and now it shines forth and has electrified our en-tire community. The B. & M. company has purchased a large body of land just a mile west of the city limits and have already surveyed grounds for shops, which will be the largest in the west, and will duplicate the slops in Iowa. The material is also on the ground for a round house which will be located about four blocks west of the depot. The shops will employ 3,000 men permanently.

The Union Pacific has already surveyed from Kearney to Holdrege and the Northwestern will be extended from Hastings, southwest, and Holdrege will bid high for that road. Capitalists from a distance continue to arrive and the boom is just begun. Thousands upon thousands of money has changed hands in the past forty-eight hours. Waylaid the Wrong Couple.

MEMPHIS, June 5 .- Near Fulton, Tenn. last night, a negro named Sam Hayes shot and killed John Strickland and his wife. Hayes was laying in wait for his mistress and rival, and in the darkness mistook the Stricklands for them.

"Gentle as the Breeze of Evening." This line of an old hymn is quite appropriate when applied to "Pleasant propriate when applied to "Pleasant Purgative Pellets." "I don't like to take pills if I can avoid it." we often hear persons say, "because they constipate me so." Now the "Pellets" never do this. They are so gentle and mild that their effect is almost precisely similar to a natural movement of the bowels, and no unpleasant effects are left behind.

A farm house near Cooyal, Australia, it is said has been mysteriously stoned every night for months. Showers of pebbles and sand fall upon the building, and the utmost watchfulness has failed to dis-cover from where the showers come. Dark, light, windy or calm the hovse is A FEW DOG STORIES.

Intelligence Exhibited by Tray, Blanche and Sweetheart.

Youth's Companion: An Arctic voyager gives an amusing description of the Esquimau dogs which accompanied his party. One of them was named Dublin, another Suarley, and two others Port and Starboard, respectively, one curling his tail to the right, the other to the left. We extract an account of one of Starboard's characteristic performances, which il-lustrates once more the familiar truth that dogs have a good deal of human nature about them. One day the whole whole ship's company were witness to the means he employed to steal a bone which Joe had given to one of the other dogs. This dog was rather small and somewhat timid, unless Dublin-her natural protector—was there to take her part; but Starboard knew that if he tried to take the bone by force. Joe would interfere in an unpleasant manner with a whip. So he went to her with a smiling face and a wagging tail, and leaning against her, began to push her aside in the most friendly way possible. She, not quite un-derstanding this maneuver, let go the bone and began snapping and growling in a very threatening manner. This was in a very threatening manner. what Starboard had expected, apparently, for he instantly lay down on the treasure and looked about in an unconscious and abstracted manner, as though nothing was farther from his thoughts than the bone. The other dog snifted around a little, evidently not understanding the trick, and then walked away, growling in high dungeon. Starboard then discovered, to his great astonishment that he was lying on a bone, and proceeded to pick it with a hypocritical assumption of unconsciousness that must have been extremely offensive to Snarley, who had been an interested spectator of the proceeding and expressed his con-tempt for such tricks by a growl.

The Widow's Dog Jack.

Boston Transcript: There is a dog that lives much nearer Boston—in one of our nearest suburbs, in fact-that proves a great solace to a widow to whom he does not belong. Dogs are usually given to confining the benefits of their care to their own household, but this one, recognized the unprotected state of the widow, who lives alone, is willing to extend his watchful services to her household. She is a little afraid of the visits of the tramps who frequently pass her house on the way to Boston. The farmer who owns way to Boston. The farmer who owns the dog, therefore, when he sees a suspi-cious character coming up the road says to the dog: "Jack, go over to Mrs. H.'s and sit on her piazza till the tramp gets by," whereupon the dog-a large St. Ber-nard-flies over to Mrs. H.'s, posts himself at the door, and, if the tramp comes up the walk, steps forward and growls unpleasantly at him. As the dog is a very big one, and rather forbidding in appearance, though he has never been known to bite any one, the tramp, in ninety-nine cases out of a hundred, remembers that it is getting late, and that he hasn't any time to fool away along the road. When he is well out of sight the dog promptly returns home. The dog carries his gallantry to the same lady to such an extent that when she is visiting his master's house of an evening he always accompanies her home, taking her to the very door of the house.

A Dog That Upset a Thief.

Newark (N. J.) News: An intelligent dog owned by Patrolman Toner, of the Third precinct, Jersey City, assisted him to capture a burglar the other night. While the officer was patrolling Palisade avenue he noticed three men, who ran away as he approached. The officer gave chase, and so did the dog. The ani-mal quickly overhauled the fugitives. and by running between the man's legs upset him. This was repeated as the man regained his feet, and the officer was thus enabled to capture him.

Granddaughter of the Queen's Dog. Pall Mall Gazette: A messenger from Windsor castle arrived the other day at Tyninghame house, the residence of Lord Haddington, with a beautiful blackand-tan collie, as a present from the queen to his lordship. The collie is a granddaughter of her majesty's favorite old dog "Noble," which she received from the Duchess-Dowager of Roxburgh sixteen years ago, and which is still alive. The earl is making rapid improvement toward recovery from his recent accident in the hunting field, and is now able to take outdoor exercises.

A Dog That Rang the Farm Bell. Pittsburg Commercial Gazette: A dog belonging to John Davidson of New-castle, Pa., found it too cold nights out doors, so at 11 oclock one night he pulled the rope that rang the farm bell. The household was alarmed, but the cause of the ringing was soon apparent. The dog continued his exercise at the ame hour until he was made comfortable in the house every night.

The tamily of a Buffalo man who had gone out of town received a dispatch from him announcing, briefly, "was hurt," and adding that he would be home by next train. He dissipated a great deal of distress when he arrived in good shape and explained that the dispatch should have read "washout."

Beware of Scrofula

Scrofula is probably more general than any other disease. It is insidious in character, and manifests itself in running sores, pustular eruptions, boils, swellings, enlarged joints, abscesses, sore eyes, etc. Hood's Sarsaparilla expels all trace of scrofula from the blood, leaving it pure, enriched, and healthy. "I was severely afflicted with scrofula, and over a year had two running sores on my neck.

Took five bottles Hood's Sarsaparilla, and am cured." C. E. LOVEJOY, Lowell, Mass. C. A. Arnold, Arnold, Me., had scrofulous sores for seven years, spring and fall. Hood's Sarsaparilla cured him

Salt Rheum

Is one of the most disagreeable diseases caused by impure blood. It is readily cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla, the great blood purifier. William Spies, Elyria, O., suffered greatly from erysipelas and salt rheum, caused by handling tobacco. At times his hands would erack open and bleed. He tried various preparations without aid; finally took Hood's Sarsaparilla, and now says: "I am entirely well." "My son had salt rheum on his hands and on the calves of his legs. He took Hood's Sarsaparilla and is entirely cured." J. B. Stanton, Mt. Vernon, Ohio.

It produces Practical Results in Baking and Reasting never before attained in any Cooking Apparatus, and will Revolutionize the Precent Methods of Cooking

ITS THEORY

Is, that all Food Baked or Boasted, should be cooked in fresh air freely admitted to the oven. This is done by discarding the close oven door heretofers used, and substituting for it a door containing a shoet of Wire Gauze nearly as large as the door itself.

Through this Gauze Door the air freely circulates, facilitating the process of cooking, and producing food that is unequalised in flavor and nutrition, and actually cooked with less consumptions of facilitating the process of cooking, and freely than in an oven with a closed door.

It makes an enormous saving in the weight of meat. It also produces larger Loaves of Bread, regifree less attention from the cook, and premotes the health of the family by the supraison quality of THE FOOD COOKED IN IT.

OPINION OF AN EXPERT. MRS. MARY B. WELCH, Teacher Lemestic Economy. Jown State University, says: "My deliberate judgment is that the even of the Range, accomparal with others, is not cally more equally heated in every part—front as well as rear—buths a result of its superior vanislation the food placed therein is better cooked, while retaining a sweeter flavor, and a larger proportion of its better closes. I find, also, that the consumption of fool in this alongs is much less than any other for same work."
