ANYBODY TO BEAT SEAVEY.

The Council Combine in Favor of Any But the Present Chief.

MANDERSON AND THE BRIDGE

Alleged Cattle Thieves-An Iowan Confidenced-A Postmaster Assaulted-A Horrible Case-Court News-Local.

Anybody to Beat Seavey. Upon the very best of authority the statement is made that Councilman Hascall, who is at the head of the aldermanic combination to down Chief of Police Seavey, has made overtures toward a compromise of the breach between the board of police commissioners and the council. It has been conveyed to the commissioners that if they will throw overboard the present chief, the members of the council who have agreed to stick together will grant the commission anything that may be asked. All the aldermanic combination ask is, that Seavey be ousted. It has been con-veyed that any other man-from abroad veyed that any other man-from abroad or at home—whom the commission may name as chief of police will be accepta-able to the council combination if Seavey is only bounced. The rules and regulations passed by the board will be approved by the council, the latter body will also yok any restangible expanditure will also vote any reasonable expenditure of money, and practically abandon any effort to interfere in the affairs of the po-lice department if the commissioners lice department if the commissioners will only accede to this one request—de pose Chief Seavey. There is no doubt that such a proposition has been made to the board of commissioners. It is taken by those who are on the inside of the present fight between the coun-cil and the commission as an evidence that the aldermanic clique are satisfied that their position will not be sustained and that the clique's only desire is to let itself down as lightly as possible. It is gener-ally understood that the commissioners, individually and collectively, have been assiduously investigating the sensational charges made against Chief Seavey and that the board is in possession of oral and written evidence that the charges of the disappointed schemers cannot be sustained. This, in conjunction with the growing sentiment in the chief's favor on growing sentiment in the chief's favor on the part of the better and more thought-ful element of the community, has convinced the council ring that they were going too far. Having carried the fight against the commission and the chief to the present extent, the council combination does not feel that they can alford to back down, preferring to carry the case to the courts even with the certain prospect of defeat. Hence the effort to compromise.

It was rumored on the streets yesterday that Mayor Broatch had signified his in-tention of joining the councilmen and signing the ordinance which was passed last night. It was asserted that the mayor would do this on the ground that Seavey was not his choice for chief and that he only voted for him as a compromise candidate. A reporter for the BEE sought Mayor Broatch in his place of business yesterday morning for a confirmation or denial of the report. in response to the question Mayor Broatch said: "I have nothing whatever to say upon the subject. I prefer not to talk. I will state this much, however, there are no grounds for such statement." Ex-Marshal Cummings appears three Ex-Marshal Cummings appears three times daily at the central station. He at-tempts to give no orders, but merely ap-pears morning, noon and night. This has been done for some days past, and is in accordance with the tip given him by members of the ring. Tuerday night in the council meeting that body voted the marshal his new roleing to recoming marshal his pay, refusing to recognize Seavey as chief of police. The mayor has power to refuse compensation, but as Mr. Broatch refuses to talk it is uncertain how the matter will come out. Meanwhile Chief-of-Police Seavey calmy proceeds with the dis-charge of his duties, and is daily investigating reforms in the department, of which he is at least the acting head. The bitter and fractional political warfare which is being carried on against him, together with the fact that Scavey has already done good work against great odds 15 creating sympathy for him even among those who were unfavorably dis-posed toward him at the first.

D-Hawkins, the men who assaulted Post-master Spohn a Superior. One of these has a forbidding cast of counte-nance, and the other's is not inviting. It seems that they went into the office on the plea or getting mail, and when they found there was none for them, they raised such a disturbance that the post-master opened his door and caused them to desist. As he did so one of them as-master opened his door and caused them to desist. As he did so, one of them as-saulted him, though not dangerously injuring him. It is not yet known what will be done with them. John Simon and James Ray, the al-leged cattle stealers from the Rosebud agency, were arraigned this morning be-fore Judge Dundy, and their trial set for next Sentember. The story of Simon is that on the first of January he picked up sixteen head of cattle on his property. These were branded. He advertised the fact, with the brands, in the Democratic Blade, published in Valentine. Later he bought nine of the cattle from Charles Takett, paying $113 for the same, and Ray bought four of them for $45, a third party taking the remaining three. They claim to have bought the cattle in good claim to have bought the cattle in good faith, and do not know why they were arrested.

MORTUARY NOTES.

Brief Accounts of Those Who Have Gone Before,

The funeral of Mrs. Bernard McGinnis took place yesterday morning from the late residence of the deceased, Thirtyeighth and Leavenworth streets. It was largely attended by friends and relatives, making it one of the most imposing funerals seen in this city for some time. The remains were borne to St. Philomena's cathedral, where solemn requiem mass was chanted. They were afterwards interred in Holy Sepulchre cemetery. The gen-tlemen acting as pall bearers were Hugh McCaffrey, M. Walsh, E. Walsh, Edward Robertson, Samuel Falconer and William (cantiewan) Gentleman.

MR. GOODWIN. Yesterday morning John McMillan, brother-in-law of Mr. Goodwin, the market man who committed suicide on last Sunday, arrived in this city from Galt, Canada, to look after the remains of the deceased. He says that the sudden news shocked the deceased man's wife, so much so that she was unable to attend. Mr. Goodwin's financial affairs have been left in the hands of his attorney, Mr. Am-brose. Mr. McMillan is now awaiting a telegram from the sister of the deceased in Chicago, and does not know until he receives that answer, when he shall take the remains to Canada,

MISS OVERALL.

Yesterday morning E. R. Overall, the Yesterday morning E. R. Overall, the letter carrier, received notification that his daughter Florence, the young lady of whom mention was made in these col-umns a few days ago, had died in Kansas City, and the remains would be brought here by her sisters Grace and Ida this morning. The funeral will take place at 10 o'clock a. m. to-day from the residence, 2215 Chicago street, thence to Prospect Hill cemetery.

A HORRIBLE CASE.

Arrest of a Man Charged With a Nameless Crime.

Officer Pulaski was attracted Tuesday night by a boy who was crying on the corner of Farnam and Fifteenth streets. The boy appeared to be suffering and when questioned told a story too horrible for repetition. Proceeding upon the information gleaned from the boy a man named Schonbeck, a bill-poster familiar known as "Sheeney," was arrested yesterday morning and is now lodged in the Central station, together with agood-sized boy, who is charged of complicity in the name-less crime. The victum, a boy apparently ten or the low rooms of the same ten or twelve years of age, gives his name as Henry Green Williams, and says he fered to give him $1,000 for the immediwas taken from New Orleans to Lincoln, and from the latter place came here two weeks ago. He is a waif, a mulatto, and knows nothing about his antecedents. A medical examinothing nation of the boy shows that he is suf-sering from a loathsome disease. It is said a number of arrests will follow in connection with the case. There is a great deal of indignation among those acquainted with the case. The details are too nauseating for publication.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER.

Free from Lime and Absolutely Pure.

The Royal Baking Powder is made from Gream of Tartar specially refined and prepared for its use by patent processes, by which the Tartrate of Lime is totally eliminated.

This highly important result has been attained only with great care, labor and expense. In money alone a quarter of a million dollars has been invested in patents, machinery and appliances by which the crude Cream of Tartar, being procured direct from the wine districts of Europe, and subjected in this country to these exclusive processes, is rendered entirely free, not only from the objectionable Tartrate of Lime, but from other foreign substances.

This adds greatly to the cost of manufacturing Royal Baking Powder; but, as all its other ingredients are selected and prepared with the same precise care and regardless of labor or expense, an article is produced that is entirely free from any extraneous substance and chemically pure in all respects.

No lime, earth, alum or impurity of any kind can, by inadvertence or by the use of adulterated articles or otherwise, be introduced into the "Royal," and it contains no ingredients except those certified by the most eminent chemists necessary to make a pure, wholesome and perfect baking powder.

It costs more to manufacture the Royal Baking Powder than any other, but it is, as shown by chemical analysis, the only absolutely pure Baking Powder made.

Royal is the only Baking Powder made that is free from both lime and alum.

THE OLD STORY. An lowa Farmer Confidenced Out of $80.

Mr. Bosworth of Arlington, Ia., has been in the city for three days. Mr. Bosworth is accompanied by his wife and several children, and is putting up at the European hotel on South Tenth street. Mr. Bosworth is a man who has full contidence in human nature and scraped up the acquaintance of a person who claimed to be a Colorado stockman and who was a most agreeable and congenial companion. They have and congenial companion. They have taken in the walking match and other interesting features of the metropolis. About 7 o'clock yesterday morning the stockman appeared at Mr. Bosworth's hotel, and untolded a scheme to the Iowan whereby he could make a little "spec." The stock-man presented an old and faded bond of Gage county, Nebraska, printed in green ink, representing a face value of $1,000. The stockman said he needed money and if Mr. Bosworth would advance him some money on it he could take the bond. One money on it he could take the bond. One thousand dollars in great big green let-ters caught the cupidity of Mr. Bos-worth, and he advanced $80 on the bond until Mr. Stockman could draw on the bank. Banking hours had long begun when Mr. Bosworth took a precipitation and reported the affair to the police, who are now search-ing for the Colorado stockman. Mr. Bosworth is on his way west to pur-chase a farm. He still has a little money left. He will remain a day or two to see left. He will remain a day or two to see if the police can find the man who of-travel by water, they could easily learn to go slower than by rail. But my ob-ject (which it seems I have almost lost sight of) in writing this letter, is to make a suggestion to you, hoping that you will agree with me in a proposed course of action, and that you will call the atten-tion of others to it. It is this, tion of others to it. It is this. There is much wealth now in each of your twin cities, as we used to call them. The possessors of this wealth, I take it, desire to add to the present cap-ital. Many of them have made much of that wealth by reason of real estate, and doubtless many of them still own lots and lands which they hope to realize on in the future. in the future.

It occurs to me that the value of that realty could be vastly increased by an outlay of cash sufficient to buy or build enough steamboats to put in motion a daily line to connect with some other line at some large city below-Kansas City, St. Louis or New Orleans-thus enabling your towns to possess the ad-vantages designed by their founders, to-wit: Railroad and water communication with other trade conters Iowa and Nebraska must become large producers of articles of commerce needed by other countries, as well as consumers of their products.

I am unable to perceive the necessity for the shipment of many of your pro-ducts to Chicago or New York, when an outlet for them might be obtained in a direction which could be reached by boats and ships much cheaper than by rail

If Mr. ller and his partners should fail in furnishing cheap coal, that article could be obtained from Missouri by boats at less cost than it is furnished by rail, and coal your citizens must have if are to and especially if they are to become manufacturing points, as is to be desired. I have mentioned as desirable, a line of steam boats, to which I would add, a few steam tugs and barges to accompany them.

SENATOR MANDERSON.

He Leaves For Washington to Look After the Nebraska Central Bridge. Senator Manderson yesterday said that he had offered the position of clerk of the senatorial printing committee to a Nebraskan, whose acceptance or rejection he would hear about the 15th inst. The senator would not disclose the name of the gentleman in question. He said, however, that the party was not an Omahan, but had been in the newspaper business, was an excellent literary man, had a practical knowledge of printing, was a gentleman and an old soldier. The senator leaves immediately for Washington to look after the affairs of the committee of which he is chairman and which is in session the greater part of the recess. He is also going to see the secretary of war, in behalf of the bridge of the Nebraska Central. He had secured the passage of the bill for the bridge of the road in question three years ago. He was in favor of the bridge which he un-derstood to be both wagon and railroad bridge. He felt that such a structure was absolutely necessary for the best in-terests of the states of both Nebraska and lowa, though he would not say anything against the proposed wagon bridge of the people of Council Biuffs.

THE COURTS.

The Business Occupying Judicial Attion Yesterday.

The jury in the case of Buddenstein, Tuesday afternoon returned a verdict in favor of the plaintiff for $198, with acerued interest. The attorney for Mittman will appeal to the supreme court on the ground that the court erred in not allowing a transcript of the time-book, made before the latter disappeared, and sworn to as authentic, to be produced. The jury disagreed in the case of Mary Ann Riley, who sought damages from Mrs. John O'Connell, who had sold liquor to her husband. The information against Mittman, for the killing of the railroad foreman at Millard last year, has been changed from murder in the second degree to manslaughter slaughter. Judge Neville, yesterday morning with a jury commenced to hear the case of the defunct Post-Dispatch company against the Wallace brothers, for alleged dam-ages amounting to $30,000. John M. Rose, yesterday morning com-menced suit against C. E. Mayne, on the ground that the latter sold him a house and lot in Walnut Hill, the description of which was not as accurate as required by law.

by law. UNITED STATES CIRCUIT COURT. Yesterday morning Judge Dundy, with jury, commenced to hear the case of Becker vs Brown, sheriff of Dawson county. Clark's O. N. T. Thread.

Mr. Koch, of the large wholesale house of Kilpatrick-Koch Dry Goods Co., re-ports the sale of the celebrated O. N. T. Spool Cotton as unprecedented. It is rapidly taking the place of other threads that have been in the market in this section of the country for a long time. This certainly speaks well for it, when it is considered that this cotton has only recently been introduced in this region. A trial of the O. N. T. thread will convince any person of its superiority of finish and strength. This thread is also sold by M. E. Smith & Co.

Court House Wall Paid For.

Yesterday morning there wasa confer ence between County Commissioners O'Keefe and Mount, Contractor Ed Brennun, Architect Voss and the superintendent of the construction of the court house dent of the construction of the court house retaining wall, as regards thefinal amount due the contractors. Mr. Voss made a measurement of the wall, and the same was adopted, and a voucher for $8,000 was made out in behalf of the contractor. This was the last instalment upon the cost of the wall.

WATER TRANSPORTATION. Hadley D. Johnson on the Missouri

River. SALT LAKE CITY, May 10.-Hon. Alvin

Saunders, Omaha.-Dear Sir: 1 occas ionally read some of the Omaha newspapers, from them I learn, or at least surmise, that some uneasiness exists in the minds of some of your citizens lest the schemes and machinations of railroad managers would result injuriously to your city. As one of the pioneers of western Iowa and of Nebraska, 1 naturally feel a deep interest in the prosperity of those states, and as an early resident of Council Bluffs and of Omaha, especially am I solicitous for their welfare.

It seems to me that whatever may be the aims and intentions of railroad men they are not now, and never can be, in a condition to materially injure the two cities named, the reason why I will sug-gest to you by asking a question, which I shall also answer: Why did the early settlers of Council Bluffs, and afterwards those of Omaha, lay the foundations for the cities now being built at the points selected by being built at the points selected by them? The answer is, first, up to the time when we first settled that country, nearly all of the commerce of the west was carried on by means of waterways. Chicago is Chicago because her site is on Lake Michigan. Cincinnati is what she is because her tounders built upon the Ohio bank. San Francisco is only her present self because upon the Pacific. St. Louis owes her prominence, her wealth and her population to her location on the Mississpopulation to her location on the Mississ-ippi. Omaha and Council Bluffs owe what they are to the fact of their location on the Missouri river. Whoever claims that railroads have made Council Bluffs and Omaha, base that claim upon a false premise. Railroads have not made those cities; they are merely aux-iliary helpers, perhaps expediting a result which was sure to ac-crue. The citizens of the two cities have made them what they are, and despite made them what they are, and despite the efforts of unfriendly capitalists, they can continue the prosperity now existing can continue the prosperity how existing: or they can, by an unwise policy, or by a lethargic course, or failing to avail them-selves of their natural advantages, dwarf the proportions of their respective cities. It is a source of wonder, in view of the advantage possessed by your cities, in being on the banks of one of the long-est rivers in the world, and knowing as your citizens must know, the advantage of water transportation as the cheapness of water transportation, as to cheapness as compared with rates fixed arbitrarily by railroad managers, who claim a right almost divine, to dividends on roads con-structed at an extraordinary high rates, structed at an extraordinary high rates, as well as upon stocks highly watered— that you have not provided a line of steamboats to ply upon that stream. OAs I have already intimated, the sites of your two cities were selected because the Missouri's muddy waters coursed be-tween. Had it entered into their calcu-lations that One here a line of the sites lations that Omaha was to be a railroad station merely, there is no good reason why some other and more central loca-tion should not have been selected, such was not the design. In the early days we housed that railroads would come to us, but we already had the waterway, with-out money and without price. In the bosom of that waterway floated many steamboats, through whose means we re-ceived our supplies. Our mode of travel was upon them. The same things could be done again, and although in this fast age most people are in too great haste to lations that Omaha was to be a railroad

No doubt objection will be made that the Missouri river is not a suitable stream for navigation. To such objection, if made, I reply, the water is there, and it has made a channel and that channel can be much improved by use, and ought to be, by removing obstructions, and the expense ought to be borne by the government, at any rate so long as public money is expended in the improvement of any waterways. Respectfully yours, H. D. JOHNSON.
