The Mercer Reception.

The principal society event of the week was the reception of Dr. and Mrs, Mercer to their friends Thursday evening at their elegant home on Mercer avenue, Walnut Hill. The roads were badly torn up and rendered very muddy by the heavy rain during the afternoon, but the long line of carriages tound no difficulty in following the circuitous route as it was designated by a plentiful supply of lanterns. Besides a number of guides were stationed at frequent in-

Upon arriving at their destination the visitors were charmed at the magnificent display of Chinese lanterns, which were distributed throughout the extensive grounds. It had been the intention to give a lawn party, but the rain prevented this delightful feature of the evening's entertainment being carried out. The capacious and handsome Mercer residence was brilliantly illuminated and presented an attractive appearance. Mr. and Mrs. Mercer gave a cordial welcome to their numerous guests, who in turn congratulated them upon possessing one of the most beautiful homes in the city There was but very little, if any, formality during the evening, everybody feel-ing perfectly at ease. It was indeed an enjoyable aliair. Notwithstanding the rain, there were but few regrets sent in.

CHICAGO PRODUCE MARKET.

CHICAGO, June 11 .- [Special Telegram to the BEE !- There was wild commotion in the wheat pit to-day, the excitement being concentrated into the last half of the session, however. Up to 11:30 a. m. the market ruled steady and rather quiet, with July ranging between 8516c and 8616c. The initial trades in July were at 85%c. The prices worked up to 86%c, with light business passing. It then worked off to 85%c, which point was reached about 11:30. The crowd and scalpers generally had been operating for several days on the theory that the market was pegged at 85%c. Every time the price got near that limit the crowd had taken the market and run it up a little ways. The number of tailers was on the increase, and presumably their holdings swelled at the same time. The clique was expected to come along any minute and put the market up to enable tailers to seil out at a profit. The clique concluded to let the tailers and the crowd have the market. Possibly the clique may have let them have some wheat, too, at the peg price. At any rate, when the peg price was reached, some of the bears put out feelers and they couldn't find the peg and were encouraged to offer property. Nobody wanted any and the market looked weak. No sooner had the market settled under $2\%c than everybody wanted to sell, and a flood of orders poured in. In about three minutes the market broke ic. From $4\%c. The next drop was to bic, then $3\%c was struck. A reaction to $3\%c occurred, followed by another sharp break to $3\%c. Again there was a \%c recovery to $3\%c. Again there was a \%c. This was freen or twenty minutes before the close. From that point to the end of the session there was a steady advance and the final quotation was $3\%c. The total break from the beat price was $\%c. and have some wheat, too, at the peg price. At the c.i.d of the session there was a steady are vance and the final quotation was $3%c. The total break from the best price was $3%c, and at the close the market showed a loss of 2c as compared with yesterday. The clique brokers did nothing whatever that anybody could see until about hair on hour before the bell tapped. During the last hair hour they were busy enough, however, and bought tremendously, closing the market firm at 1%c recovery from the bottom. There seemed to be no difficulty in getting the crop below 84c. June wheat may be described as firm as a rock. The fluctuations were between 91% (492%c and the last quomation was 92%c. Very little was done. August opened at $1%c advanced to $2%c, broke to 79%c and closed at $3%c. September was quoted as high as $1%c selections and further was again weak to-day, and a further corn was again weak to-day, and a further closed at 80%c. September was quoted as high as 81%c. And as low as 70%c. closing at 80%c.

Corn was again weak to-day, and a further shrinkage in values took place. The opening figures were only a shade below yesterday's closing sales, but as there was quite a pressure to trade, a large amount of July long corn coming out, and good buying of more deferred deliveries, the tendency was to increase the premium. There was heavy trading in the aggregate, and at 836.38%c for July there appeared to be unlimited buying orders. Norton and Worthington were the largest local buyers to-day, the lowest figures being established during the last hour of the session. Sellers for the month rested at 37%c, July at 38% (38%c, and september at 40%c.

Oats were extremely weak and heavy in the speculative market, and prices broke 160%c on the entire list of futures, all closing at the bottom. July sold down from 20%c to 25%c, August, from 25%c to 25c, and September from 35%c to 24%c.

In the provision trade the speculative interest developed was confined mainly to short ribs, with pork neglected and lard only moderately active. Traders were given ample opportunity to watch the rib market, which was both active and Irregular. The undertone governing it, was however, a strong one, and though it was depressed for a time by the selling of "tailers" and weak holders, who were infinenced by the weakness in wheat and corn, the day's movement showed remarkable strength. The depressions suffered here speedily recovered, and at the adjournment of the board the different deliveries of ribs showed an actual improvement of 5c on last night's closing. In lard the fluctuations were 5c, 7%c and the closings only 2%c lower. Pork for June delivery was again quoted at 23.00.

On the Curre, June wheat steady at 22%c lower, ranged 83%c with trades on the

NEW YORK, June 11 .- | Special 'Telegram to the BEE|-STOCKS-The market to-day was dull and uninteresting, sales being confined to 53,206 shares. London was weak and lower and foreign houses had selling and lower and foreign houses had selling orders. The bank statement was rather a disappointment and only showed an increase in the reserve of $92,300. The general feeling was weak and prices declined *% per cent, the close being tame; the only stock showing strength of taportance being St. Paul and Duluth, which gained 1% but broke % per cent. Business with Chicago houses amounted to practically nothing. The Satunted to practically nothing. The Saturday half-holiday is a bar to business on either Friday or Saturday, as it is impossible to settle contracts and deliver stocks on Saturday, and those of Friday have to go over until Monday. This keeps both parties in the gap too long and the governing committee are expected to decide at the meeting next Wednesday to ignore the Saturday half-holiday and to return to the regular hours for trading.

GOVERNMENTS—Government bonds were dull but steady.

Armour's purchase of over a thousand hogs on Friday may have had something to do with Saturday's advance, as it cut down the surplus just so much. John B. Robertson, of the Allerton Pack-in; company, Chicago, was looking over the yards. They are heavy packers and always buy the best hogs they can get.

yards.

The hog buyers were determined to fill their orders, and as the receipts were light, they rushed in and paid more in some instances than they would probably have done had the receipts been more liberal.

H. E. Palmerton, formerly in the commission business at the yards, is now located at Holdrege, Neb., having leased the yards of the Holdrege Live Stock company, and buying at several other stations, had in two loads of hozs which struck the boom. He has averaged nearly a car a day since he got
