A horse was put in the pound last night and, becoming tired of being conlined in the enclosure, tried to jump the fence, which is about ten feet high. He suc-ceeded in getting one of his fore feet caught, and after hanging there for awhile succeeded in extricating himself. Henry F. Miller, who, while in jail Sat-urday night for drunkenness, broke the stove, was yesterday fined and let out. He was arrested again last night, and again went for the stove, this time smash-ing it up badly. He has has only $11 of his night for the new the domeness this his pile left to pay the damages this morning. Burdick, who was arrested for disposing of mortgaged property, was dis-charged by Justice Barnett on the ground that the prosecution failed to prove that the mortgage was not satisfied at the time the property was sold by Burlick. Attorney Stewart was acting for the defendant, and he has won a victory, al-though Burdick gets out by a small hole. Dr. R. Rice has for years been at work perfecting his hernia support, or truss, and has at last got one which seems so perfect that the afflicted will be relieved as by no other appliance yet invented. He has just received a large quantity of these trusses, which he had made in Philadelphia. They are the finest in workmanship and material of anything ever put upon the market. The devise needs to be seen and examined to gain a knowledge of all its points of merit, but it is in brief a complete abdominal wall, affording a support not to be gained by any other truss thus far produced.

THE OGDEN HOUSE TROUBLE.

How This County Voted on Saloons Thirty Years Ago-Why is the Record Mutilated?-Bluffs Sportsmen Arrested.

The Knights Investigating.

Some stir is caused among the Knights of Labor concerning the management of the Chicago & Northwestern round house, of which William Hutchinson is the foreman. Some time ago Hutchinson discharged two men, and it seems that this was very displeasing to the order. The local assembly No. 1,688 had a committee appointed, who examined into the claims of these two men, and waited upon Mr. Hutchinson and demanded, their reinstatement. Hutchinson insisted that he discharged them for good and sufficient cause, and refused to re-employ them. John S. B. Coggeshall was the chief one of this committee, and was the chief one of this committee, and he was not content to let the matter rest there. It was insisted that these men had been discharged because they were Knights of Labor. It was claimed that Hutchinson had issued an order that none of his men could belong to that order. The complainants further sought to get even with Hutchinson for his to get even with Hutchinson for his alleged unreasonable prejudice against the order, and unfair discrimination against its members. They charged that Hutchison had been using material belonging to the company for his own private purposes. They claimed in this he had been wronging the company, and that this should cause his discharge. These complaints were sent up to the master workman of the Knights of Labor of the state, Mr. Wheat, and he in turn notified the master mechanic of the rail-way company, Mr. Quail. There has been considerable correspondence on the subject, and an arrangement has been been considerable correspondence on the subject, and an arrangement has been made by which Mr. Wheat and Mr. Quail are to be here to-day to examine into the case. The knights have made the direct charge against Hutchinson that he discharged the two men, James Campbell and Otto Strausser, simply because they were Knights of Labor, and that he nad issued an order against the employment of any knights. These charges they will be called on to substanbe called on to substan-tiate by evidence at the examination to-day. As to the charge that Hutchinson has been appropriating material belong-ing to the company, that is a matter be-tween Mr. Hutchison and the company which employs him, and it will be settled without any interforence on the part of without any interference on the part of the knights, as that question does not concern them directly. The main charge, concerning Mr. Hutchinson's prejudice against the order, is a serious one, and one which does concern them greatly. Mr. Hutchinson denies in every partic-ular the causes of complaint. He is prepared to show the reason why he dis-charged the two men, and that they gave good cause for their discharge. He says that he did not even know that they both belonged to the order, and that this did not enter into the action at all. He had never issued any order against the Knights, never asked men, whether they belonged or not, and in fact hired one man to take the place of one of those disman to take the place of one of those dis-charged. He did not ask this man whether he was a knight or not, but he noticed a badge upon his vest which in-dicated that he was a knight. He is quite confident that he will be able to convince Master Workman Wheat that there is no cause for complaint, and that no injustice here here down another of the order As for some purpose, and what purpose is not known. No one about the county offices seems able to give any informa-tion throwing light upon this strange mutilation of the records concerning so important a matter as the saloon question has been for the past thirty years.

Municipal Solons. The city council met last night with all except Alderman Metcalf present.

There were present a large number of citizens. The reports of the city officers were read and placed on file. Petition protesting against grading on avenue A, referred. The contract for hose for the fire department was referred back to the committee. The hose to be delivered in August next and payable in April 1888, Mr. Keller, the chairman of the fire com-mittee, didn't see any reason why the contract wouldn't be dated December 1 as it was next. it. Adopted unanimously. A proposition from Milwaukee for printing bonds was referred. The electric light ordinance was re-ported with amendments and referred back to the committee. The bids for grading different streets were opened and referred.

The Sheriff Leaves the Ogden. There was a little change in the situation at the Ogden yesterday. The sheriff has been in charge of the furniture, Mr. Stout having attached under his landlord's writ. J. T. Baldwin, Mr. Silsbee and Colonel Sapp claimed to have an interest in the furniture, the first two named having mortgages upon the furni-ture, and Colonel Sapp having in the house some furniture of his own, of which was bought from some Mr. Niman about the 1st of June, just before Niman's departure. These gentlemen insisted that Mr. Stout should give an indemnifying bond, and Stout refused to do so, as he did not re-cognize these claims upon the furniture. As he would give no such bond, the sheriff stepped out and left Mr. Stout in possession of the house and the furniture, just as be-fore the writ of attachment under the fore the writ of attachment under the landlord's lien had been served. It thus leaves these claimants a free chance to seek to take the furniture out of the hotel, by some process of law, if they hotel, by some process of law, if they feel so inclined. Stout assumes posses-sion and control of the property under the landlord's lien, and the sheriff and his posse who have been on guard at the hotel left it yesterday afternoon. It is not known what the next step will be. The hotel is closed to the traveling public and there will be no resumption

An Old Game.

A large number of those who are continually wondering that in this enlightened age anybody can be confidenced, were themselves victimized by an old trick. In the afternoon two pert young men stationed themselves on Broadway, one at the corner of Main street the other at Bryant. They commenced selling gilt chains at $1 each, and then returning $2 in money to those who purchased chains. The excited crowd went on buying the glittering jewelry, and after returning double the money to a good many, the double the money to a good many, the fellows kept on selling, offer-ing watches and chains for $10, the buyers expecting to get $20 back. After gathering in several hundred dol-lars the fellows concluded that the re-turns were all in. They quickly drove off, caught the dummy train. and are denbtices now in Omats emission their doubtless now in Omaha, enjoying their easily earned money,

Playing Even.

The Crescent fishermen, having been made to smart for fishing with seines, have been waiting for an opportunity to get even with Council Bluffs sportsmen. John Bohn, Will Steinkopf, of this city, John Bonn, will Steinkopr, of this city, and Pat Gilmore, of Crescent, went out to have a little Sunday recreation in the lake near Gilmore's place. Gilmore was rowing the boat and John Bohn sat on the bank smoking, when a constable ar-rested the party for violating the Sunday law. They went to Crescent and took a change of venue from Justice Dunkle to Justice Hough who allowed the trip to Justice Hough, who allowed the trio to go on their own recognizance to appear Tuesday of next week for a hearing. The affair was good natured in all its details and the trio were not locked up, but treated courteously.

Through the kindness of one of charch. Through the kindness of one of the members of the vestry who pays the expenses of the choir, the rector has secured the boys for an evening of sacred music. They will enter the church in full robes singing a proces-sional, leaving in the same manner. Mr. Will T. Taber, the Omaha organist, has been engaged to play several brilliant selections on the organ, and Mr. Brig-ham, the well known tenor, will sing several solos. An opportunity will be given to hear the grand organ at its best and those who were not able to attend the opening recital will now have even a better opportunity, as Mr. Taber is foundation of truth under it, the investigation is ordered. Its result will probably be known to morrow. If it appears that Hutchinson is as bitterly prejudiced against the order as to lead him to such acts of injustice as are charged, he cer-tainly should be removed to give place to some one who has more justice and judg-ment. If, on the other hand, it should appear that this trouble is all caused by the complaints of men who were right-fully discharged by Hutchinson, then those fully discharged by Hutchinson, then those who have urged the investigation will find the climate a little warm, as Master Workman Wheat declares that he will make it interesting for somebody if he has been called on to make a fool's er-rand by the misrepresentation of any-body. The two men who were ais charged are naturally much interested, for to a certain extent their character is involved, their brother knights claiming that they are worthy men, who never the opening recital will now have even a better opportunity, as Mr. Taber is said to be one of the best organists in the west.
