VICTORY FOR THE COWBOYS.

THE CONTEST VERY PRETTY.

Umpire McQuade Causes a Riot in Baltimore By a Rank Decision-Doings of the State Shootists.

The Visitors Victorious. Notwithstanding adversity base ball continues to boom in Omaha.

There is no doubt as to that. Six hundred people so declared yesterday on the Omaha grounds. But for the existence of a superabundance of caloric three times that number would have been there. The occasion was the second game of the first home series between the Kansas Citys and the local team, The Omahas "done" the valiant Cowboys in great shape Wednesday and went out yesterday to do it some more, but there's many a slip 'twixt the home plate and the home

They had blood in their eyes, and when the Omahas get the crimson life fluid in their visual organs look out for them. They are bad men.

The grounds looked lovely and the day was a tine one for superb playing.

But it wasn't the grounds or the weather that lent all the color to the scene. They lent a good deal, it is true, but their contribu-tion was almost dwarfed in comparison with that furnished by the ladies.

Many of them? Yes, the grand stand was well dotted with Pretty?
Decidedly.

Decidedly.

Their eyes sparkled with excitement, their bands were busy with plaudits, their enthusiasm excelled almost that of the men who frequently essayed to shout themselves boarse.

Great is base ball and enthusiastic its ad-

Omaha went out out one, two, three, in the first inning. For the Kansas Citys, Liffle flew out to Barston, McKeon to Dwyer, Mansecond, and took third on a balk. Hassamaer went to first on balls, stole second, Manuing coming in on the return of Swift to Harter. Score I to 0 in favor of the Cowboys, and the Score I to 0 in favor of the Cowboys, and the Omahas very blue.

In the second, Krehmeyer made first bag on a hit. Rourk flew out to Hassamaer. Harter lined a beauty out to left center for two bases. Krehmeyer undertook to score on the hit and was caught at home, Harter, however, reaching third, and home on Genins' one-bag drive. Genins stole second, but Bader spoiled all by a high fly to center. The Cowboys, in their half, were quickly disposed of, leaving the score I to 1, and Omaha very happy.

The third for Omaha was one, two, three again, the Cowboys accomplishing but little more, Manning being left on third.

And again in the fourth the Omahas retired in quick succession, the Kansas Citys gradiously following suit. The fifth and sixth were repetitions of the fourth, so far as Omaha was concerned, but the Kansas Citys in their half of the sixth did better. Manning secured first on a fumble by Walsh, stole second. Hassamaer popped up a high one to Rourke and retired, but Ringo banged a rattler to right and took second on Krehmeyer's throw to hold Manning on third.

one to Rourke and retired, but Ringo banged a rattler to right and took second on Krehmeyer's throw to hold Manning on third. Mansell followed with a clean one and two pairs of marcon legs crossed the plate. Mansell was put out a moment later in an attempt to commit petit larceny on second. Kinsie ended the agony by an out from second to first. Score, Kansas City 3, Omaha I, and Omaha very, very bine.

The seventh was a picnic for Omaha. Harter, the first man at the bat, was hit with the ball. It would have gone clear through a dude, but "Judy" simply smiled and trotted to first. Genins came along with a hit, Harter going to second, but Bader struck a lawn mower to third, forcing Harter out at that bag, but reaching first in safety himself. Bartson hit to first, who threw home without touching the bag to catch tienins, but the latter made a circus attle, feet first, and was safe, Bader followed to third on the play. Swift then seat one to third on the play. Swift then sent one too hot for Manning to hold, and it went through him and Bader and Bartson galloped home. Three runs for Omaha and one ahead. Ah how pleased the audience were!

The cowboys smiled mysteriously and winked at one another.

Provinged this betting head how and the property of the proving the Previously their hitting had been weak and scattering, now it was just the reverse, and in a july they pounded out three great ble elegant runs. The villians. This is the way they did it.

This is the way they did it.

Crane hit a one bagger to left. Nichols flew out, Lillie imitating his example, but Crane made third on the latter's out. McKeon astonished himself by a three base hit, Crane accring, of course. Then Manning comes along and piles it on and rubs it in with a home run over Genins head. Hassamaer gets his base on hells, but Ringo dies on a soaring fly to center.

on hells, but Ringo dies on a soaring fly to center.

It was too bad, so it was, and the fellow who had been howling all the afternoon "We've got 'em in the hole!" changed his tune to "They've got us in the hole!" And so they had.

In the eighth, after Krehmeyer had gotten his base on a fumble by Manning, Harter, Genius and Sail they had us in the hole! The Cowboys came in for another slice. Mansell drow the sphere to center for one base; Rinsie got there by being hit by the pitcher. Crause went out from third to first, Riansell baking third and Kinsie second in the throw 'erest. Nichols hit a little one to Walsh, who hesitated, then threw to first, putting Nick out, but allowing the inflammatory haired youth from Auburn to add snother taily to his side. Lillie then retired on a foul tip.

It was too bad! Nobody wanted Kansas City to win.

Dejectedly the Omaha's came in for their last whack, to do or to croak! They croaked, but not until Walah made a beautiful hit for three bags over Mannell's head, driving in Swift, who had made his base on a grounder that was utilized in extinguishing Barston at second, he having reached first on a clean hit. Score, 7 to 5 in favor of Kansas City.

And thus ended the bright dream.

Those greeny cowbows!

Those greasy cowbows!
What rescale they are!

Yes, it was an interesting game, well played and characterized by some brilliant setding, as well as some very rank, and some timely hitting.

Harter caught and threw to bases finely, while Swift and Walsh both made phenomenal above. These sly cowboys did some great fielding too, and at the right time made their hits tell.

between the St. Louis and Baltimore clubs a riot was averted only by the vigorous action of the police. The score was tied in the ninth inning, when Welch, in attempting to steal second, was thrown out clearly, but deliberately ran out of the base line and knocked Greenwood off his feet, making him drop the ball. Umpire McQuade, whose previous de-cisions had aroused angry comment, de-clared Welch safe. The crowd howled and swarmed over the field. An extra large poswarmed over the field. An extra large police force was on hand and succeeded in preventing a fight. In order to allay the excitement they arrested Welch for assaulting Greenwood. The game was called back to the eighth inning and made a tie.

KICKING ON KALAKAUA. The Sandwich Islands On the Verge of a Revolution. SAN FRANCISCO, June 16 .- News from Honolulu, by the steamer Australia, shows the government there has been searching for and detaining arms on the ground of public safety. It is claimed that the people have become exasperated at the king's actions in fortifying the palace walls and taking in supplies of ammunition there, and that American and British residents have appealed to their governments for protection, and ask for war ships. It is reported that the utmost discontent prevails among the people on account of the wasteful extrava-gance of King Kalakua, he using many thousands of dollars for himself and for thousands of dollars for himself and for things which are of no benefit to the country or people, and refuses to devote anything to public improvements. A revolution is not unlikely. The Chinese, who had to pay him enormous sums of money for the opium monopoly, are among the most dissatisfied, and are reported to be secretly arming themselves. Everything is unsettled and trade is at a standstill.

Colman for irregularities in office and violation of the laws governing the management of his office, regarding the purchase of seeds for the department. In the opinion of the majority of eed merchants the commissioner has been guilty of showing a great deal of favoritism to certain seed dealers, to such an extent that it has seriously impaired the usefulness of the service and has been the means of dis-tributing throughout the country an inferior and stale quality of seeds, which has brought forth much complaint from farmers.

SENSATION IN PARIS. Startling and Romantic Abduction of a Rich Spanish Beauty.

[Copyright 1887 by James Gordon Bennett.] PARIS, June 16. — [New York Herald Cable-Special to the BEE. |-Society has a new sensation to-day-a romantic abduction, strange, startling and aristocratic. Yester-day at about noon the Bois de Boulogne was looking its brightest. Crowds of promenaders were strolling home from the bois, among them General Boulanger on his famous war horse, Lesseps and his children galloping home to lunch, MacMahon and his daughter were stroiling towards the Faubourg St. Germain, and Mile. The maid, who is strongly suspected of having been an accomplice in the extraordinary affair, declares there were at least ten men who took part in the abduction. but cannot swear to any of their faces. She says she was so taken aback by the suddenness of the attempt that she could not collect her wits enough to cry for help. As for the bystanders, they fancied the whole thing a joke and did not interfere, while the victim or heroine of the drama offered so little resistance as almost to justify the belief that she rather liked being carried off than other-

Mile de Campos was lately the heroine of a drama in a Paris law court. For a short time she was the wife of the Marquis Santenio, son of Marshal Serano, but her noble spouse, having failed to level his conjugal duties, the irate bride applied for and obtained an annulment of her marriage. Since then she has resumed her maiden name to which she has as good Spanish right as ever. The Spanish ambassy and Paris prefect of police are searching for the missing beauty in all directions, and have reason to think, though they are very mysterious about the matter, that they are on the track of her abductors. The chief offender is supposed to be a young, dashing but impoverished viscount, on whom the black eyes and fortune of Mile, de Campos had made a great impression, on det, and had recourse to violence in the hope that the scandal would force the lady's family into consenting to the mar-

DUBLIN, June 16.-[New York Herald Cable-Special to the BEE. -The apparent friction among the nationalists in the commons caused here in nominating H. J. Gill, M. P., by a small majority over Mr. Sexton as lord mayor, is to-day explained by the former, who has put the matter into the hands of Mr. Parnell. He says there is no possible ill feeling between him and Sexton. His words are from personal knowledge: "I can say that if I was selected instead of Sexton it was not on the ground of any possible comparison between us respecting political success or merit, which would be simply absurd to imagine. Much less was it intended as a slight on him. It was simply a protest against the system of intrique and dictation introduced of late years by certain persons into the corporation which had become intolerable and against which the majority of members, including myself, were bound to make a strong protest." comparison between us respecting political appoint a committee to inquire into the matter. He was therefore bound to demand an open discussion in parliament. The eviction of thirty-five families disclosed features of the greatest harshness. Seeing public interest in the matter, the government ought to grant a committee of inquiry, the same as after the Belfast riots.

Balfour asked why Dilion raised the question at the present time when members knew the house must report the crimes bill Friday. Regarding the conduct of the police, no government could accept mere newspaper reports as a basis for procedure, especially when such reports were highly colored. He had no knowledge of the details of the alleged police assaults.

T. P. Healy—More shame for you.

"But," continued Balfour, "considering the treatment the police received, it is not surprising if in some slight measure they exceeded their duty." The resistance to the law at Bodyke had been cited by persons who ought to know better. He urged that the best means to secure the remedy was to procure the legal amendment needed.

After considerable further bitter debate, in which Morley, Churchill, Harcourt and others took part, Dillon's motion was rejected—256 to 165.

Extraordinary Precautions. LONDON, June 16 .- The head of the metropolitan police force has ordered the ambulances belonging to the police to be stationed et various points along the route of the jubi lee procession Tuesday. The order of St. John of Jerusalem will also supply a number of ambulances. It is proposed to secure the services of a number of volunteer medical staff corps. A CUT IN LIVE STOCK RATES.

The B. & M. Orders a Reduction That Promises a Freight War.

THE DIFFERENCE IS IN CARS.

Live Stock Rates Reduced.

For some time past the tariff on rive stock has been maintained by the railroads and there has been no cut in rates. The following circular, known as circular 189, to take effect immediately, has been issued by the B. & M., and is virtually a cut in rates. The circular reads as follows:

The published rates on live stock between all B. & M. stations and between all B. & M. stations and all stations on the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy and Kansas City, St. Joe & Council Bluffs, which now apply on thirty-foot cars, will, until further notice, apply on shippents loaded in cars not exceeding thirty-four feet in length. Cars of thirty-four feet in length will always be furnished when practicable and shippers should be informed and understand that 34 foot cars will be furnished when possible, and that orders for special sizes will not be accepted. Cars of less than 34 reet in length will take the proportion of the published tariff rate, as follows: Thirty-three foot cars, 97 per cent of tariff rate; 32 foot cars, 94 per cent; 31 foot cars, 91 per cent; 30 foot cars, 89 per cent; 29 foot cars and under, 85 per cent."

Live stock shippers will see at a glance that the above will make quite a reducthat the above will make quite a reduc-tion in the old rates. Under the old rate the railroads charged 10 per cent above the tariff rate for a 34 foot car, but under the rate established by the B. & M. a 34 foot car will be hauled at the tariff rate. A 29 foot car was taken as the tariff rate; 4 per cent was added for a 32 or 31 foot car, and 7 per cent for a 33 foot car. Thus an $85 rate on a 29-foot car, under the old rate, would be 15 per cent less under the new, that is $12.75 less, which is a big reduction. The Chicago & Mil-waukee and the Northwestern roads have met this cut on the part of the B. & M. and will haul stock at the same rates Live stock rates are somewhat demoralized as the result of this move, and it is impossible to say whether the other roads will be content to meet the B. & M. only, or whether they will make a

The well-known wholesale and retail liquor house of Geerge C. Duncan was closed at 8 o'clock last evening by the First National bank. This action was taken by the bank people on a chattel mortgage for $21,000 which Duncan had given them yesterday afternoon and which they proceeded to foreclose at once. Duncan, it is reported, has be-come financially involved by the failure of an eastern house with it which he was connected, which necessated the giving of the chattel mortgage in order to pre-vent attachment by creditors. His friends, however, assert that he can extricate him-self easily, and that the doors of the house will be opened for business again to-day.
