Cass Street School.

Cass school is a squat looking structure. It was formerly known as the Cass street school, but somebody has had the name changed, so that the institution is now like the thoroughfare upon which it stands, a monument to the memory of the departed statesman.

When the Bee representative visited the school yesterday the children were romping in the yard. A gust of wind raised the hat of one of the young gentlemen and dropped on the sidewalk at the writer's feet.

The first room visited was that of Miss Simonds. Here were about thirty interesting little tots, averaging about five years.

Miss Kroutier is in charge of the first B and C class. The walls contain moulding, cubes and other designs.

The classes of second A and B are in charge of Miss Mary Frazier and comprise forty-two children averaging seven years.

Miss Emily Robinson is in charge of the third B and fourth A, comprising forty-four children. The average age of these was ten years.

Miss Nellie Bennett has charge of the sixth and seventh B, comprising a twenty-six boys and girls, averaging thirteen years of age.

of little people, and some of them seemed ambitious to court attention in the display of their work when called for by the teacher.

St. Barnabas. This school is a frame building, situated on California street, in the rear of St. Barnabas church.

A fair visitor stood in the doorway as the Bee man approached. Her features beamed as if pleasant thoughts of vacation were running through her mind.

Regulating Construction of Gas Mains, Pipes and Fittings. Under the ordinance just passed the city council are awaiting the approval of the mayor, the Nebraska and Kansas Gas and Heating companies are granted permission to lay down and construct two gas mains and pipe lines along and across the streets and alleys of Omaha.

It is to begin to lay pipes and construct their buildings at a location approved by the city council, and within two years are to have laid and own thirty miles of gas mains and have completed works of capacity of not less than 75,000 cubic feet of gas per day.

That until such time as other and better rules and regulations shall be made by ordinance, that all ordinances as have been enacted relative to the fire department of the city of Omaha and that are unrepelled by other ordinances, that are not in conflict with the present city charter, shall continue as the rules and regulations of the said fire department.

A pleasant little gathering of the alumni of Monmouth college, Monmouth, Ill., was held last evening at the residence of Rev. J. N. Boyd, 627 South Nineteenth street.

Signal Service Officer Hass-Hagan reports that Thursday was the hottest day of the season. At 8 o'clock a. m. the temperature registered 70 degrees; at 2 p. m., 88 degrees, and at 4 p. m. the highest temperature for the month was registered at 99 degrees.

THE SOLID TWELVE.

Councilmen Will Hammer the Chief as Much as Possible.

The impression is beginning to gain ground even among the solid twelve of the council who have agreed to stick together against the board of police commissioners and the chief of police that they have gone a little too far in their opposition to Seavey. The plan is now not to pass the police ordinance over the mayor's veto, but postpone action upon it and to prevent the increase of the police force, which is so badly needed.

Before Judge Hopewell again yesterday morning the case of Calvin Manning et al. vs. J. Sheriff and Mayor Branch was argued and the court held that Leslie's mortgage was the first lien and the several mortgages held by Tootle, Maul & Co. and by other creditors of Doherty & Carpenter were subject to Leslie's mortgage.

Judge Brewer rendered his decision in the case of Gandy vs. Whitcomb, which came before the court for decision on a new trial by the defendant. The case was originally heard at the last October term. Judge Brewer dismissed the application and ordered that the $5,500 in the hands of the court be paid over to the plaintiff in ten days.

Sheriff and Mayor Branch was argued and the court held that Leslie's mortgage was the first lien and the several mortgages held by Tootle, Maul & Co. and by other creditors of Doherty & Carpenter were subject to Leslie's mortgage.

Up to yesterday there have been 375 cases before Judge Berka since June 1. This does not include the cases called on warrant and tried usually during the latter part of the afternoon. It includes only those cases arrested by the police. The business of the court is daily growing. There were twenty-four vagrants yesterday morning, one of whom was ordered to leave immediately, five committed, ten discharged and eight continued. Out of three peace disturbers, one paid a fine and two others were discharged.

All sorts of complaints are received at the police court. Yesterday a lady living on St. Mary's avenue appeared before the judge and wanted a search warrant issued against one of her neighbors whom she alleged had taken her large Thomas cat and locked him up. She said she wouldn't take $30 for the feline, as he was such a pet and always slept with her at night. She could not sleep without Tommy. She was directed to one of the justices of the peace.

The remains of the late Hon. James G. Chapman arrived at 8 o'clock yesterday morning from Chicago in charge of Mr. M. F. Chapman. The funeral cortege started from the late residence of Mr. Chapman, 1307 Capitol avenue, at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon, enroute for the cemetery at Florence where the burial took place. The Rev. A. F. Sherrill will direct the funeral service.

Production of "Forget-Me-Not" at the Boyd Last Night. The genius of Clara Morris has given a more than passing interest to "Article 47," as that of several celebrated actresses has given to "Camille" and other pieces of a similar nature. The plays live despite the fact that there is little in them which savors of refinement and morality on the part of the heroines. Yet, there may be some extenuation for the shortcoming of the leading character in those pieces, but there can be none for that of Stephanie in "Forget-Me-Not," which Miss Jeffrey Lewis last night played of the opera house.

It is that of a female gambler, procuratrix, female pander, adventurer and fraud. There is little of morality in the final defeat of her pernicious aspirations, because it is not conviction but fear which prompts her to abandon her sinful designs.

The programme which the German theater company has issued for next Sunday evening promises a very pleasant and interesting performance. The three plays which are on the programme will undoubtedly be received with great enthusiasm. There will be a dance after the performance.

After a very successful season the People's theater will be closed on Monday. During the vacation the house will be repaired and refitted for an early opening next season. Manager Walton's stock company will return to the city by presenting "Divorce" this and Sunday evenings.

Omaha continues to maintain its reputation as a first-class circus town. It has always been noted for the excellence of the good shows which have appeared here, and it is doing so now in the grand Howe circus, which is nightly turning away crowds of people at the corner of Eighteenth and Sherman streets.

Yesterday morning Deputy Sheriff Hauck returned from Grand Island with Johnson, or Harry J. Day, who is wanted here for forgery in signing away property upon which he had no claim. The preliminary trial was held yesterday afternoon. Davis was sent up for thirty days.

business has been a surprise to us, particularly the enormous sales during the past four weeks. We are determined to keep it up. New goods are constantly arriving by express, and every day we have new bargains to offer. This time it's in the furnishing department. Our fancy Percalé Shirts at 35c are equal to any 75c shirts offered by other houses. Better ones in proportion. The white laundried shirts which we are selling for 70c to 90c cannot be had elsewhere for less than double the money. In unlaundried white shirts we have one at 30c. We do not keep it for a special sale, but sell it every day for that price, and it is as good a shirt as others are offering at special sales for 40c or 50c. In Underwear our sales have been marvelous and we can not get them in fast enough. Our 15c gauze Shirt is the talk of the city--another supply has come. We have also just opened an extra fine short sleeve clouded gauze Shirt, a novelty in color, at 35c. The shirt is cheap at 60c. Our 25c a dozen four in hand Scarfs are the hit of the season. No old stock, but new, fresh and beautiful patterns; the manufacturer cannot make them fast enough for us. Other dealers sell them at 10c apiece. A novelty in this line is a straw scarf a beautiful thing, 20c. You can see it in our corner window.

All goods marked in plain figures and at one price.
