A MAN WITHOUT A JAW. Wounded With a Poisoned Spear in an African Jungle—Skillful Surgery.

New York Herald: A man without a jaw is Michael Castelar, who was recently admitted as a patient to Roosevelt Hospital.

He is a Spaniard, about fifty years old, and has spent much of his time at sea. Three years ago the bark on which he was acting as mate was wrecked on the coast of Africa in a hurricane.

There was a fearful wound in the wild growing vegetation, birds, nests and small game, and much danger from the wild beasts and ferocious natives.

An English surgeon was visited, and to save disfigurement from the imperfect healing he reopened the wound and sewed it up in the regular way.

From the symptoms and the gradual decline in the patient's health, the conclusion was reached by Dr. Spencer that the patient had a cancerous tumor involving both jaws.

One Woman's Success. Colonel Higginson in Harper's Bazaar tells of a New England young married woman who has made a decided success of the manufacture of special blankets.

The popular blood purifier, Hood's Sarsaparilla, is having a tremendous sale this season. Nearly everybody takes it.

Earthquake Shock in a Deep Mine. Virginia, Nev., Enterprise: Yesterday morning at ten or twelve minutes to 3 o'clock this city was visited by an earthquake shock.

Only a Tramp, but He Had $150,000. New York World: In overhauling some old papers in the office of the board of county commissioners at the court house in Wheeling, W. Va., a few days ago, documents having a face value of about $150,000 were unearthed.

Use of Money at Elections. From the Louisville Courier-Journal: In an election a certain number of Kentucky since the war the successful candidate spent money lavishly, and is generally credited with having bought his nomination.

Louis Napoleon's Letter. Paris Letter: A curious autograph letter from Louis Napoleon to his uncle, Joseph Bonaparte, was sold at the Hotel Dromot last week.

Didn't Ask Her Right. Mr. Burdette insists that he overheard a woman lecturing her husband as follows on board a train: "Now I'll tell you why I would not go into the restaurant and order a cup of coffee with you while we were waiting for the train."

Popularity of the Rose. Vick's Magazine: The sale of roses in this country amounts to fully 1,000,000 plants a year at the present time.

REMEMBER That the presence of any disease, however slight, is a general sign of debility, and that no one can possibly be healthy who does not draw a plentiful supply of blood from the lungs.
