

FIGHTING FOR BUDGE. A Prohibition Massachusetts Town Has a Lively Time.

BOSTON, June 20.—Special telegram to the Bee.—The effort to stop the sale of liquor in the town of Amesbury to enforce the liquor law has caused intense excitement, bordering on riot, liquor has been brought in from the neighboring city of Newburyport, and the efforts of the police have mainly been directed toward suspected exporting. Frank Currier, well known teamster, drove rapidly into town on Friday evening and Officer Goodwin, suspecting that he had a supply of liquor in his wagon, ordered him to stop. Currier paid no attention to his command, when the officer drew his revolver and fired into the air, he says, thinking to frighten him to stop. Currier did not stop, however, and a big crowd gathered. Threats, generally threats of violence, were made, but the officer escaped unharmful. On Saturday the affair took a new turn, Currier claiming to have been shot by the officer. He went to his coat as evidence of his narrow escape at the hands of the officer. He went to the police station and was arrested by Officer Goodman for assault with a dangerous weapon, and in the afternoon the officer was arrested by Sheriff Ayers and taken to Newburyport. He was almost immediately bailed out. Saturday afternoon the police made several arrests, while Currier and others were taken to the station. They were wanted on one of the side streets immediately, and went to the locality only to learn that a trick had been played on them. They were rushing off to check an imaginary trouble liquor had been spirited away. The officers became excited, and the crowd became more so when another suspected wagon drove in. Officer Goodwin leaped in behind it. It is said that the liquor was suddenly materialized in the wagon and loosed in the hands of waiting friends by the driver. A crowd then gathered about the wagon, and boots, yells, and calls were directed toward the officers. Three in number, made an effort to clear a way through the crowd and then they were taken to the station. A prominent citizen questioned Officer Goodwin's right to act while under bonds for an alleged crime, and a discussion ensued, which resulted in the arrest of the citizen referred to. While Officer Goodwin was on his way to the station with his prisoner, he was again by a crowd, led by several well-known manufacturers and the prisoner rescued. Then, after several minutes' delay, officers, into the station, the crowd insisted upon a speech from the rescued man. He assented, and pointing a box on the main street, proceeded to deliver an inflammatory speech, which set the crowd wild and turned them into a mob. They were then for any minor offense, and the crowd and down the streets shouting and yelling, and uttering all sorts of offensive epithets at the expense of the leading spirits in the temperance cause. It is said that they smashed in several windows at the house of a well-known citizen, and that the mob was very disgraceful acts. By this time it was midnight. The mob continuing about the square and the police being unable to restore order, Judge Cate was called from his bed to read the riot act, which had the effect of dispersing the mob.

Investigating the Union Pacific.

Two of the members of the Pacific investigating committee, appointed at the last session of congress, to examine the cost, maintenance and relation to the government of the Pacific railroads, arrived in this city yesterday morning. They came from Chicago over the Chicago & Northwestern road. They are ex-Governor Robert E. Pattison of Pennsylvania and Hon. D. T. Littler, of Illinois. The former is chairman of the commission. He is a tall swarthy gentleman with rather a severe aspect and prominent features. Mr. Littler is a pleasant looking, middle-aged gentleman with silvery hair. They met Messrs. T. L. Kimball and A. J. Poppleton, in the office of the general manager at 2 o'clock. A desultory conversation took place in the course of which they informed both these gentlemen what information they desired under the act of congress appointing them.

The points in brief were pools, rebates, constructive mileage, commercial, stone, coal, and freight and passenger rates on the main line and branch roads. Mr. Littler further informed Mr. Kimball that the inquiry was not a general one concerning the considerations upon which he bases the deductions which enable him to make up the report which he forwards to the committee at Washington. It was stated that information would be sought concerning passes, the number of them issued, why, and to whom granted, and the method of granting them. Mr. Kimball was asked to approve of vouchers, and replied that in his department it was customary for him to do so. This department combined the freight and passenger business. They then turned to the number of departments and were told that the principal ones were the departments of law, construction and engineering and land.

Mr. Poppleton was asked if he approved of all the legal vouchers of the road, and replied that he approved of all of the vouchers of that kind west of the Missouri and out of Kansas. In regard to the number of vouchers, the commissioners were informed that Mr. Cummings was land commissioner of the road and assistant general manager. Mr. Kimball was also requested to give the number of vouchers for the year 1886 and the completion of the Union Pacific road, also the cost of the same since that time, also, whether since the last year, the road had been granted any land to competing lines of either the Union Pacific or Central Pacific road and to what extent the grant had impaired the earnings of the latter road.

Mr. Kimball said that he was not prepared to answer these questions immediately, and was promised all the time he might require. It was agreed that he should be able to answer some of them today at 10 o'clock. Mr. Poppleton said he was able now to answer all questions relating to the legal department.
