TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION: Daily (Monday excepted) including Sunday... For One Year... $10.00

THE DAILY BEE. Sworn Statement of Circulation. State of Nebraska, ss. I, Geo. B. Tschuck, secretary of The Bee Publishing Company...

Notary Public. Geo. B. Tschuck, being first duly sworn, deposes and says that he is secretary of The Bee Publishing Company...

Notary Public. The killing of Craig Tolliver, the notorious outlaw, calls for as much comment as the queen's jubilee.

John M. Thurston wires to the Pacific railroad commission that fishing was never so good up in Minnesota as it is since he skipped out of Omaha the other day.

Church Howe has already commenced laying pipe to go to the next state senate. The trouble with the Nemaha mountebank is that the nomination does not assure an election.

The traducers of Governor Thayer continue in their indecent cause, and Governor Thayer continues to possess the respect and confidence of the reputable people of Nebraska.

Frank Walters has gone to cool off in Denmark and John M. Thurston is in cool Minnesota while George Crawford has suddenly discovered he is badly wanted over in Iowa.

General Van Wyck's letter to Secretary Lamar, which appeared among our Washington dispatches Saturday, was incorrectly reported in many important particulars.

Declining Booms. There are recent indications that the booms in certain localities where for a year or more past they have been abnormally developed, are experiencing a decline, and it is beginning to be apprehended that a reaction may supervene...

The effect of this situation is of course felt generally, even in those localities where, properly speaking, there has been no boom, but simply a legitimate real estate activity and advance of values due to a natural and permanent growth...

It having been reported that the Dominion authorities had issued an order prohibiting the employment at Windsor, Canada, of American workmen residing in Detroit, a retaliatory move was at once made by the collector of customs at Niagara Falls and Suspension Bridge...

The Bee has never upheld the Union Pacific or any other railroad in unjust discrimination. Under the interstate commerce act the Union Pacific has a right to charge as much for haul from San Francisco to Fremont as it does to Omaha.

On the first of July the new postal convention between the United States and Mexico will go into effect. It has been remarked of this treaty that it illustrates in a striking manner two things. One of them is the great power which congress conferred upon the executive branch of the government...

Frank Walters has gone to cool off in Denmark and John M. Thurston is in cool Minnesota while George Crawford has suddenly discovered he is badly wanted over in Iowa. Can't Charlie Green come forward and tell the commission about the expenses of the legislative all rooms.

General Van Wyck's letter to Secretary Lamar, which appeared among our Washington dispatches Saturday, was incorrectly reported in many important particulars. General Van Wyck makes the charge that the Denver & St. Joseph railroad asked and received 13,000 acres on the pretense that they would build a road between Hastings and Kearney in this state, instead of 12,000,000 acres, as it appeared.

In this connection, and bearing on this point, and as a supplement to the letter I addressed you a few days ago asking that you compel the St. Joseph & Denver, and disgorge about 300,000 acres it has taken in defiance of the supreme court, I desire to add that the said B. & M. have actually received patents for nearly 40,000 acres in excess of this illegal taking on the north side of their track and in excess of every acre giving them the full complement they claim, and this fact also appears in the records of your office, so that to-day, on the showing in the land department, this company has patents for about 300,000 acres which they should be compelled to restore to the government.

with Plattsmouth and Nebraska City on the paving question. A portion of Columbus' bridge over the Platte has eloped with the June rise. David City expects to keep the municipality in a tight place, and the city council is a full-fledged board of trade has spread its protecting wings over Broken Bow.

The people of Nebraska will not fail to appreciate the watchful concern that ex-Senator Van Wyck maintains respecting their interests, in common with those of the people of the entire country, in connection with the illegally obtained lands of the land-grant railroads. The fact that General Van Wyck is no longer a servant of the people does not lessen his zeal in his behalf, and it is but justice to him to say that he is really showing more regard for their interests than any one of those who are their chosen representatives.

The plans for the editors' sanctum in the Crete assembly grounds have been hung on the hook of the builders. The streets will be artistically doped with strings of delinquent subscriptions, with nickel plates for the blind.

The Fall City journal is sozing the natives in canal logic. For the trilling sum of $1000 the city council has voted to build a wall of thirty feet can be secured, and factories will crowd upon the banks and the hum of industry and smiling prosperity for all in the water of the expenditure.

A married couple in Adams objected to the style and fit of a coat of tar and were tendered by a peculiar mystifier near Junonia. The loss of an only child some time ago so preyed upon the mind of his wife that she became insane and suicided last week.

The smeltery committee at Deadwood have raised $500, and report $5,000 more in sight if needed. A convulsion of Iowa bankers has been called to meet at Des Moines to-day. The call is signed by about thirty bankers at Des Moines and other places.

Nebraska Jottings. Holdrege is reaching out for the Santa Fe road. The electric light wires and poles are going up in Crete. The sale of college lots in York last week netted $18,000.
