NO NUNCIO FOR AMERICA.

Reported Negotiations for a Papal Ambassador at Washington Contradicted.

WHAT CATHOLIC LEADERS SAY

Cardinal Gibbons Says the Holy See Does Not Entertain Such an Intention-The Cause of the Rumor.

McGlynn's Statement Denied. BALTIMORE, Md., June 2s.—|Special Telegram to the BEE.]—Of all the utterances made by Dr. McGlynn in his statement to the press at Buffalo last Friday, none attracted more general attention than that about the establishment of a papal nuncio at Washington. Dr. McGlynn professed to say "on the highest authority" that the Roman church government was desirous of having a minister from the pope accredited to and received at Washington; that such minister would be an archbishop, one of the "Italian ring," as he put it, "whose presence would be a fruitful source of corruption and enslavement for the Catholic church in this For the purpose of ascertaining positively whether any such proposition was under consideration at Rome, your correspondent obtained an audience with Cardinal Gibbons yesterday.

Though greatly averse to saying anything for publication, he at last authorized this statement to be made on his authority—the highest in the Roman Catholic church in the United States:

"First, the holy see has up to this moment expressed no intention of sending a nuncio to this country, and, second, the holy sea does not even entertain such an Intention."

The explicit and absolute character of this

The exp licit and absolute character of this denial shows that either Dr. McGlynn has been grossly misinformed or else has misapprehended certain incidents that occurred been grossly misinformed or eise has misapprehended certain incidents that occurred a considerable time ago at the white house, but which is not generally known. This matter was explained to your correspondent in Washington this morning by a well-known Catholic gentleman, who is thoroughly informed about it, as he is about nearly everything else connected with the Catholic church in this country. It is this:

A Catholic prelate, who is very far from being considered a representative man or the church, cailed on President Claveland and broached the question of having a papal ambassador at Washington. He did this entirely on his own responsibility and, as nearly as can be ascertained, without even the knowledge, direction or sanction of any other person than himself, and certainly without that of the leaders of the church here or abroad. In reply to his remarks the president informed him that if any such proposition as that was to be made it must be submitted by recognized heads of the church here—either Cardinal Gibbons, the archbishop of New York, or some one fully qualified to speak authoritatively and in a representative capacity on the subject.

fully qualified to speak authoritatively and in a representative capacity on the subject. This ended the discussion at the time and it has never been renewed nor is it at all likely it will be.

My informant added: "When the states of the church were recognized as a political body, with the pope as temporal ruler, the United States did have a minister at Rome. But this diplomatic relation was discontinued when the Italian government established its seat of authority in the Eternal City. Ever since then this government has declined to recognize the temporal authority of the pope. No formal attempt has ever been made to have these diplomatic relations resumed, nor is it in the least probable that such an effort will be made. There is every reason to think that the appointment of a nuncio would not be acceptable to the civil authorities of the made. There is every reason to think that the appointment of a nuncio would not be acceptable to the civil authorities of the United States, nor is it desired by the episcopate of the country. You have perhaps seen it stated that Bishop Dwenger of Fort Wayne, is in favor of such diplomatic establishment. This is not true. He and one or two other bishops, I believe, did once suggest that for the convenience of the church here it would be desirable to have some one to act simply as a medium of communication between the propaganda and bishop and clergy here on matters of controversy. But even this was not approved by his colleagues. In fact he stood practically alone among the seventy or more archbishops and bishops of the country in his advocation of the measure. The American hierarchy is arainst any change in the present plan of government, particularly the establishment of a nuncio at Washigton. Cardinal Gibbons is opposed to it strongly, and so are all the other leading prelates of the country, including Archbishop Corrigan, of New York, who expressed his opposition to it when in Rome more than a dozen years ago. Since then I do not think the matter has been seriously considered. By those enjoying the confidence of the cardinal I have heard it stated that the subject was not even alluded to during his recent sojourn in Rome."

The Desert Land Law.

WASHINGTON, June 28.-The commis sioner of the general land office, with the approval of the secretary of the interior, issued to registers and receivers of the United States land offices an amendatory circular governing proceedings to obtain title to public lands under the desert land law, in which it says lands bordering upon streams, lakes or other natural bodies of water, or through or upon which there is any river, stream, arrayo, lake, pond, body of water or hying spring, are not subject to entry under the desert land law until the clearest proof of their desert character is furnished. Lands containing sufficient moisture to produce a natural growth of timber are not to be classed as desert lands. Surveys of desert land claims cannot be made in advance of the regular progress of public surveys. Before final proof shall be submitted by any person claiming to enter lands under the desert land act such person will be required to file notice of intention to make such proof which shall be published in the same manner as required in the homestead and pre-emption cases. governing proceedings to obtain title to act such person will be required to life not of intention to make such proof which si be published in the same manner as requi in the homestead and pre-emption cases.

Anxious Clerks. WASHINGTON, June 28 .- | Special Telegram to the BEE. |-The clerks of the second and third classes the quartermaster general's office have received notifications from the have received notifications from the civil service commissioners of the results of their examinations for promotion. The first class clerks are still in a state of intense anxiety and adopting every expedient to ascertain the results. The records of these examinations are submitted by the department examining board to the civil service commission, and the secretary will from time to time call upon the commission to designate elerks for promotion. Clerks who have to be dropped owing to the decreased appropriations, will be those who have made the poorest records at the examinations.

Chicago's Startling Rumor. CHICAGO, June 28 .-- The Daily News this evening says that a startling rumor has been widely circulated in the city to-day to the effect that the supreme court has decided to give the condemned anarchists a new trial, overruling Judge Gary's decision. The rumor cannot, however, be traced to a re-Sponsible source.

State's Attorney Grinnell knew nothing about it. Judge Magruder, a member of the supreme court, declined to confirm or deay the rumor. His manner seemed to indicate that the report lacked foundation.

His Physician Says He Cannot Live Ten Days. NEW YORK, June 28 .- In an extra this evening, the Mail and Express says it is believed that Jake Sharp is dying. Thereason he did not testify in his own behalf this afternoon, as was confidently expected by every one right along, was because his physician expressed the opinion that the strain of a rigid cross-examination, etc., would result in his death. A reporter subsequently learned that the physician is of the opinion that Sharp cannot live more than a week or ten days at least. Undue excitement would kill him at once, owing to heart trouble. The paper asserts that a scheme is under consideration now to take the case out of the hands of the jury by bringing Judge Barrett's certificate from the physician to the effect that Sharp would in all probability drop dead in the court room when the jury brought the verdict in, no matter what it was. It is thought this would induce the judge to stop the case where it is. cian expressed the opinion that the strain of

Adopted By the Knights. PHILADELPHIA, June 28.—Returns from several thousands of local assemblies of Knights of Labor to-day, show that the new constitution and national trade assemblies has been adopted by a three-fourths vote. An analysis of the vote shows that half those assemblies opposing the adoption of the new constitution objected to the clause forbidding any member or assembly to sell or give away malt or solitious liquors at any meeting or entertainment of the order under pain of six months suspension from the order. The article upon co-operation was adopted unanimously. It provides for the creation and disbursement of a fund to ald co-operative enterprises. The new constitution gives the general executive board power to settle all strikes and disputes regardless of origin. Each district, state, national or unattached local assembly shall be entitled to one delegate for each 3,000 members or majority fraction thereof. The term of office has been fixed at two years, compensation to be fixed by the general assembly at the time of the election. The national trade assemblies' clause provides that such assemblies may be formed upon a favorable vote by two-thirds of the local assemblies of that trade making application. An analysis of the vote shows that half those

PROSPECTS FOR A GRAND TIME

Prisoner-State News.

The Crete Assembly. CRETE, Neb., June 28 .- | Special to the BEE. |- Everything is now in readiness for the opening of the assembly to-morrow. The weather is all that could be asked, and the grounds are in first class shape. The grounds present very near the same appearance that they did last year, only they are more beautiful. The tents are better arranged in the shady nooks and places where shade can be had, and placed in a much more convenient way than they were last year. Mr. Waterman has spared neither pains nor exertions to get them in the most desirable places, and just where people wanted them. He has been putting them up for the past ten days, and had them taken up and put down some two or three times, in order that all may be accommodated and suited. There are now some 350 tents up on the grounds, a good many large family tents, which are quite conspicuous. The Congregational, lawyers' and editors' headquarters present a spiendid appearance. The dozen or more cottages which have been put up are very fine and attractive, and show the people what can be done in the future. Every arrangement that is possible has been made, so that the people can be accommodated. People are already commencing to arrive on the grounds and by to-morrow afternoon there will be thousands upon the grounds. The Shubert quartette will give their first concert on Wednesday evening. Everyone should manage to attend, if possible, as this is one of the finest musical companies in the country. They are spoken of very highly by the press wherever they have appeared. The dining hall, under the management of J. D. F. Read, who has for a steward Mr. Bertram, who for twospears had charge of the dining department at Chautanqua, N. Y., will undoubtedly give the very best satisfaction. Dr. Dunning will arrive to-morrow with the rest of the workers. The prospects are now that there will be twice as many people on the grounds than and show the people what can be done in the rive to-morrow with the rest of the workers. The prospects are now that there will be twice as many people on the grounds than there were last year. The new electric light is already up and will be in working shape to-night. It will be quite an attraction for the reason that there will be sixteen are lights of 2,000 candle power. They will be placed at convenient points, commening at the road as you turn to go toward the assembly grounds, down to the bridge and so on to the grounds, so that every part of the grounds will be lighted by the different lights. The Twenty-first infantry band, consisting of twenty-two pieces, will be on the grounds July 1 and stay until the 6th or 7th. It is one of the finest bands in the west, and will be quite an attraction, as two concerts will be given each day, and a good deal more on the Fourth. General Morrow will accompany them, and will speak on the Fourth. General Cowin, of Omaha, will be present and deliver an oration. From the number of letters that are pouring in it looks as if lawyers' day will be one of the chief attractions. Every one seems to be impressed with the idea that Hon. J. M. Woolworth will be at his best, for certainly the occasion and crowd will be of sufficient importance to inspire anyone.

A Deadly Drunk.

BOONVILLE, Neb., June 28 .- | Special to the EE. |-Quite a commotion prevalled on our streets this morning over a tragical affair that happened last night. James Allen, who has been addicted to the use of liquor for some time past, was on a "high lonesome." and after getting so full that even the proprietor of the saloon could no longer endure him, asked the city marshal, John Daughhim, asked the city marshai, John Daugh-erty, to take him away. Allen was placed in the cooler about 10 o'clock p. m., but the marshal thought he would be easy with him, so he left the jail door unlocked, giving him a chance to escape. He staid in jail till about 1 o'clock a. m. Tuesday, then got out, started for David Plasters' south of the city, where he intended inquiring for work.

about 10 clock a. m. Intestary, then got out, started for David Plasters' south of the city, where he intended inquiring for work. It seems that about the same time the marshal happened to come up along behind him on his way home. Allen, thinking that the marshal was after him again, began to threaten, and did finally turn upon him and, with a large knife, stabbed Daugherty in the top of the head, breaking about two inches of the blade off in the skull. Doctors were summoned and the blade extracted after a portion of the skull had been removed. It is a serious and prebably fatal wound, although the patient rests easy at present. Allen is lodged safely in jall awaiting results. The saloon here is one of the lowest character, being run at all times, Sundays not excepted. The law abiding citizens of our community should put some restraint on this and see that it keeps within the bounds of law at least.

THE MARSHFIELD FIRE.

The Loss Three and a Half Millions-Help Needed. MILWAUKEE, June 28.-It is now estimated that the loss resulting from the destruction of the city of Marshfield will not be less than $3,000,000, and may be nearly $3,500,000. The heaviest losses are: The Upham Manufacturing company, whose loss is approximated at $80,000; Sangea, Rockwell & Co., of Milwaukee, $450,000, representing the whole season's cut of lumber; Fremont Hotel company $28,000; Mayor A. S. Upham, general store and stock, $50,000. There are about 1,000 losers, the amount varying from $500 to $10,000. Twelve solid blocks of stores were destroyed. But one house remains unscathed. Half of the population is still there, but is suffering for want of clothing. Supplies were sent from nelchboring towns that answered the purpose temporarily, but Mayor Upham telegraphs that more provisions must be sent at once or the people will suffer. The remaining inhabitants are again camping in the woods tonight. Owing to the poor facilities for communicating by wire the details are coming in but slowly. VOORHEES IN VICTORIA.

The Hoos'er Statesman Expresses Himself On National Affairs. VICTORIA, B. C., June 28.—[Special Telegram to the BEE.]—U. S. Senator Voorhees, of Indiana, arrived here on Saturday and went to Alaska or the Olympia last night. In an interview he said it was a mistaken idea that the American government would close Behring sea to foreign vessels. In fact, he did not see how it could legally accomplish it. While the trouble was engendered by a commercial company, and President Cleveland was aware of this fact, a commission would be appointed to inquire into the fisheries question. Senator Voor-hees thought the question would form an issue in the next presidential cam-paign, and Blaine's action in the paign, and Blaine's action in the eastern fisheries dispute might cost him the nomination. Without doubt Blaine would be the presidential candidate at the next election. Voorhees thought Cleveland, if nominated, would secure the election. The only thing that could lose the election for Cleveland was the formation of a third party, and Voorhees was alarmed at the strength of Henry George in New York and also of Dr. McGlynn, who controlled the Catholic vote. But there was a probability at the last moment, he thought, of throwing all this strength to the democratic party.

Blaine's Opinion of Kings. Boston, June 28.- | Special Telegram to the BEE. j-The Globe this morning publishes a letter from its correspondent, who accompanied Blaine and party across the ocean on the steamship Ems. Among other things he writes: "One day the conversation drifted off to the German ancestry of England's ruling house, and Blaine thought the family had lost in vigor since George L. A German professor who was present took up the discussion and the whole history of England and Germany for the past two hundred years was gone over. The names of obscure princess was recalled and their deeds and misdeeds lived again around that dinner table. Blaine was evidently 'well up' in his tory. The professor did not have to correct him more than three or four times for an hour and a half. Blaine 'took exceptions' in one case. 'My idea.' said Blaine, 'is that kings and queens and all such rulers are tolerated through ignorance or loyalty of the people. To acknowledge such a king as among men is a kind of slavery. It is wrong. I think it must go. Still, if we must have kings for a few hundred years more, the people more than ever demand that they shall ple more than ever demand that they shall be kingly. Encland is badly off in this respect. There is more of a kinz to Gladstone than in all the royal family. I am to judge people by their deeds."

Allison as a Candidate. CHICAGO, June 28 .- [Special Telegram to the BEE 1-United States Senator W. B. Allison, of Iowa, has been in the city for several days, and the report is that he is looking after his fences in Illinois, with a view of the presidential nomination. While the senator was at home to every politician who called, he was invariably engaged when a reporter desired an audience, and evaded an interview with the ease and courtesy which distinguishes the astute politician. Congressman D. B. Henderson of Iowa, however, who accompanied the senator, was more easy of access, and did the talking for both. Henderson said there was no doubt about Senator Allison being a candidate for about Senator Allison being a candidate for the presidential nomination, and that he would be unanimously supported by the state of Iowa. He believed Allison was a strong man before the people and he thought his chances as good as any man thus far mentioned on the republican side of the house. He did not want to pose as a prophet, but he would not be at all surprised if the senator was selected as the standard bearer in 1888.

Tommy Miller, of this city, is in receipt of a letter this afternoon from Tommy Warren, the featherweight champion, now of Minneapolis, in response to the articles of agreement forwarded by Miller on Friday last. Warren, as usual, cracks his old chestnut about going against a man without the requisite reputation to make the fight a paying investment. He adds, however, that if Miller can secure backing for a fight for any part of $500, from $300 up, he will come to Omaha and fight him at 113 pounds, excursion money to be split at 75 and 25 per cent, or the winner take all; or he will allow Miller $100 for expenses to go to Minneapolis and fight him (Warren) for $1,000, or $50 for expenses and fight him for $500, men to weigh day of fight. This strikes the gentlemen interested in Miller as very fair and they will use every endeavor to bring the men together. Herb Rothery, Miller's backer, aireally guarantees a purse of $500 or more if Warren will come here, the winner to take a ratio of two-thirds of whatever money is raised.

Notwithstanding this city boasts of as money is raised.

Notwithstanding this city boasts of as many gentlemen interested in the gun and trap as any city in the country, those who follow the field are singularly scarce. There is bardly any interest manifested in the laws providing for the protection and propagation of fish and game. In the last convention of sportsmen, this vital question was not broached in discussion, Tommy Miller goes into training to-day out at the lake, under the charge of McHenry Johnson. He is to be put in shape to stand against any and all comers in his class. The Omaha rowing association are receiving plans and specifications for their proposed new club and boat houses at Lake Manawa, Council Bluffs.

With a little careful management, and more attentive coaching, the Omahas are yet liable to cut a figure in the pennant chase. Ashinger's challenge to Knapp for a cycle tilt yet remains unaccepted, neither can Prince and Whittaker hitch.

H. A. Penrose is receiving many letters of inquiry relative to the proposed bench show to be held here in October. Lincoln chicken fanciers are anxious to get up a fly with of the Fourth.

There is a strong likelihood of the Leavenworth club's franchise being transferred to Wichita. If the Omahas beat the Denvers to-day, they can have the earth.

Gould Buys Manhattan. New York, June 28 .- Jay Gould to-day purchased a block of 50,000 shares of Manhattan stock from Cyrus W. Field. The price was 125.

The Tribune to-morrow will publish a long interview with Jay Gould, in which the millionaire admits that he to-day purchased 50,000 shares of Manhattan Elevated stock as an investment for himself individually, because he thought it a good bargain. He said there was no change in the telegraphic situation. He pronounced the general outlook encouraging. The same paper has an interview with Cyrus W. Field, who declined to give the price the stock sold at. He is still a heavy stockholder in Manhattan, and has every confidence in it. The business outlook of the country is good and there should be an improvement in stocks. purchased a block of 50,000 shares of Man-

IOWA MANUFACTURERS MEET

A Large and Representative Gathering in Session at Dubuque.

THE INTER-STATE LAW ASSAILED

Curious Abandonment of a Six Months-Old Infant on a Train-A Horse and Cattle Plague Breaks Out.

Manufacturers and Jobbers. DUBUQUE, Ia., June 28.—(Special Telesgram to the BEE.)—The lowa Manufacture ers' and Jobbers' association met here to-day with a large representation from Des Moines Cedar Rapids, Marshalltown, Davenport Sloux City, Burnington and other leading wholesale points. The session will continue to-morrow and vigorous action is expected on calling the meeting to order, Mr. Louis Harbach, a leading manufacturer and jobber of Des Moines, delivered a very vigorous address, attacking the inter-state commerce law, which has been permitted to make so much trouble for lowa jobbers. In conclusion he sald: "We are now living in an age when the tendency is for every one to try and regulate the business of his neighbor, instead of his own, by sumptuary laws, labor unions and strikes, and, last of all, by the inter-state law. These all have their damaging effect upon commerce and manufacturing. Congress was besieged for years to pass a bill to regulate transportation and the smartest man in the employ of the railroads had ample time to frame a bill that to-day, with the increase of rates, change of classification and advance of commercial mileage, has embled the railroad companies to increase their revenue from 20 to 25 per cent and reduce the profit of the western jobber to a mere nothing. The farmer's product also has to largely contribute toward this foolish piece of national legislation. Instead of heading this bill the inter-state commerce law it should have been named the inter-state railroad monopoly protective law. How quick the railroads took advantage of every technicals ity the law gave them in their favor, and and regulate the business of his neighbor, the law gave them in their favor, and their creed to-day is to charge all that the people will stand. If a national is necessary at all to regulate com merce, law it prohibit pooling and establish a commission to see that the law is carried out. Let the supply and demand regulate the traffic, just as it does merchandis."

Abandoned On the Train.

MASON CITY, Ia., June 28 .- [Special Telegram to the BEE. ]-A singular case of child abandonment was developed here to-day. On Wednesday Mrs. R. M. Corbett, a lady fifty-seven years of age, took the Central Iowa train at Marshalltown for this city. When she reached Geneva, a woman about twenty years of age, poorly dressed and carrying an infant, came to where she was sitting and asked her if she would not hold sitting and asked her if she would not hold the child a few minutes. The motherly old lady consented, suspecting nothing until she reached Hampton, when the mother of the child not appearing, she left the train and took the child with her. All efforts to find the true mother have failed, though the police and sheriff are searching for her. The baby is a bright, blue-eyed boy, about six months old, well formed, but with no directions accompanying his sudden debut upon the world.

Another Mexican Outrage. St. Louss, June 25.—A special from Wichita, Kan., says: A. B. Bird, with his wife and daughter, Lotta, has arrived in the city and relates a terrible story of wrong and suffering endured while confined in prison at Del Norte in Old Mexico. Last winter Bird was manager of an opera company touring in that country, and while playing in Del Norte the entire company were arrested upon a flimsy pretext and thrown into the same prison in which Editor Cutting was confined. They were denied a hearing of trial and were not even allowed to see or converse with Americans, though several tried to see them. While they were confined four members of the commany died of smalls pox, while the others suffered privations and stekness. Lately the company was released having lost all their wardrobe and musical instruments. Steps have been taken to see cure redress by placing the matter in the hands of the proper authorities. suffering endured while confined in prison hands of the proper authorities.

Civil Service Examinations. NEW YORK, June 28 .- The special comnittee appointed last week to suggest medifications in the civil service rules finished lig work in New York to-day. It was decided not to recommend any change in the form of not to recommend any change in the form of application for candidates, but to recommend that hereafter all examination papers be marked up in Washington; that the marking be done by lifteen members from the different offices throughout the country. The object in view in having all the examination papers marked by this central board is to do away with all opportunity for suspicion of unfairness, such as obtains in certain localities under the present local beard system, and which tends to neutralize the objects sought for under the civil service law.
