About 11:30 o'clock yesterday morning the awning at H. P. Niles' store No. 402 Broadway caught fire and burned up.
 This same awning caught fire Saturday night but was extinguished without any damage.
 J. E. Thompson's house was broken into last winter. Sunday night another attempt was made to burglarize it. Mr.
 Thompson thinks he has a sure clue to the parties, and that they are the same who came to his house last winter. Now that he is on the right track he promises some interesting development before long.

The Bluffs to the Front.

The double scull crew sent east by the Council Bluffs Amateur Rowing Association have won their first victory at Moline, Ill., against two of the best scullers in this country.

The crew consists of E. R. Sadler and O. Livingston, and the club expects to see them in the van many times during the season.

They go from Moline to attend regattas at Pulman, Ill. and Rapids, Mich., and Spirit Lake, Ia.

Death of Mabel Foster.

Little Mabel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sol H. Foster, died yesterday morning at 4 o'clock. She was aged eight years, and was an unusually bright and interesting child. She had been seriously ill for two months past, and was in a critical condition for several days before death came to relieve her from the intense sufferings attending her illness. The family and friends were greatly dreading for her the noisy celebration of yesterday, her condition being such that it did not seem possible for her weakened brain and shattered nerves to endure the suffering which would be intensified by the racket and bustle of the Fourth. This suffering was spared her.
 With the noisy opening of the day she passed quietly into a restful, peaceful home, the anniversary of freedom of the country being the beginning of an eternal freedom for her from all suffering and trouble. The family on whom the heavy shadow of sorrow has fallen, has the tenderest sympathy of large circles of friends.

Thirty-Five Dropped.

R. R. Collins, of Glenwood, was the first to report his pockets picked. It seems Collins became hungry and bought a banana. In trying to eat it he fished a thirty-five dollar roll and slipped it back into his vest pocket. A few minutes afterward the entire roll was gone and he had not moved a foot from where he stood when he purchased the banana.

The Decorations.

The decorations about the city yesterday were not as elaborate as they might have been, but they went far toward making a good showing. Many of the business houses were decorated with bunting, flags, etc., as were a number of residences. In the evening many of the residences were nicely illuminated.
 Among those who had the finest decorations were the Council Bluffs carhouse, Moore & Kiplinger, and Rudie & Yenawine, the latter's building being unquestionably the best.

At the Pacific house you will save from 50c to $1 per day. Try it and be convinced.

The Races.
 There never was a more successful opening day for any meeting than yesterday. The crowd was large, both amphitheaters being filled. The starter of the races was C. M. Smith, of Earl-ville, one of the best in the land. He has a voice like a trumpet, and a face as good natured as a sunbeam, so that his announcements were enjoyable and their clearness added much, for it is too often the case that the crowd is unable to hear what decisions are given. Mr. Smith is also very prompt and square in his actions. The judges were Joseph Gar-neau, Jr., of Omaha, and C. Haldene, of this city.

The first race was the 2:45 trot. The starters as placed were: Folly, by J. H.
 McShane, of Omaha; Lady Adella, by J.
 W. Voglesong, of Elyria, O.; Uncle Josh, by J. D. Martin, of Minneapolis; Atlas, Barney Losen, Kansas City; William S., of Minneapolis; Neta Pine, by Anderson & McIntosh, Marietta, Ga.; Josie G., by P. H. Davis, of Milwakee.

An easy start was had and a hot race for this class followed. On the first turn there was such a bunching that Lady Adella crowded into Atlas' wheel, but the collision was not serious, and the complaint made was dropped. Neta Pine won the heat in 2:34. Lady Adella second, Josie G. third, the others coming in the order named: Uncle Josh, William S. and Atlas. Folly was distanced.

The second heat was not so hot as the first, but the bunching was broken after the first turn, and the horses strung out with no change in relative positions until turning into the home stretch.
 They came down in three, the first three lapping each other, and the places being hotly contested. Lady Adella won the heat in 2:34. Uncle Josh second, Neta third, Josie G. second, Uncle Josh third, Neta Pine fourth, Atlas fifth, William S. sixth.

The third heat was a hot one, the race being really for second place between the two grays, Josie G. and Uncle Josh. The latter was a little too speedy for Josie, however, although the mare kept her nose close to his a considerable distance.
 The winner of the heat, Lady Adella, kept steadily moving and easily took the heat in 2:34. Uncle Josh second, Neta Pine third, Josie G. fourth, Atlas fifth, William S. sixth.

The fourth heat caused a change about.
 In the start of Atlas cast a shoe, but it seemed to make little with him. William S. won the heat and Neta Pine second.
 The race was a pretty one between these two Josie G. came in third, while Lady Adella, to the surprise of many, was fourth, after running two heats.
 Atlas was fifth and Uncle Josh sixth.
 Time—2:35.

There was no little excitement caused by the fifth heat. It was ten seconds slower than the opening one of the race, the time being 2:39. To the surprise of all it was won by Neta Pine, Lady Adella second, Josie G. third, Uncle Josh fourth, and William S. fifth. Atlas was drawn. The feeling that Lady Adella was not driven to win was so strong that the judges called a new driver to take the reins.

The sixth heat was slow and tame.
 The time was 2:40, and the heat was won by William S., Neta Pine second and Lady Adella third.

In the start of the deciding heat. It was tame. William S. won easily, jogging in. The only race was between Lady Adella and Neta Pine for second.
 They came under the wire nose and nose. It was 2:30 o'clock when the race was completed. The time of the last heat was 2:44.

William S. was given the first money, Neta Pine and Lady Adella divided second, and third money, Josie G. was given fourth. The judges announced that pools and bets would not be paid until further notice.

THE 2:30 TROTTING.
 The second race of the day was the 2:30 trot. The starters were placed as named:
 "Rose Standish," R. E. Lee, Topeka, Kan., taking the pole; Glenwood Chase, of Kansas; Sioux City; White Stockings," Bob Stewart, Kansas City;
 "Bob M," Murphy Bros., Iowa City.

White Stocking won, Elmwood Chief second, Bob M third, and Rose Standish distanced. Time—2:30, 2:37, 2:38.

The judges in announcing first money for White Stocking, and second for Elmwood Chief, and third to Bob M., stated that they believed there was some maneuvring, and they would investigate further before deciding as to bets and pools. In the meantime no bets or pools on the race should be paid, but held, until a decision was rendered. As the pools and bets were in the main on each heat as a separate race, this announcement caused no little questioning, but the judges decided that each heat had been decided and announced, and bets or pools sold on heats, instead of on the race, were already settled by the decisions of heats.

THE 2:35 RACING. was the third event of the day. The starters named as they drew their places, were: Nellie B. R. E. Curry, Salina, Kan.; Mambrins Prince, A. Heckenberg, West Liberty, Iowa; Belle maneuvring, George W. Farrier, Minneapolis; Express, Silas Walters, Hiawatha, Kan.; Monkey Rolle, J. U. Farrow, Paris, Ill.; Little Ida, J. W. Voglesong, Elyria, O.; Bar Barone, Abe Hevner, East Chicago, Wis. Little Ida won two straight heats in 2:23 and 2:24. The race was not finished on account of darkness.

The judges made the announcement that after due deliberation they concluded that there was something "queer" about the 2:43 trot and 2:38 trot, and that all pools and bets should be declared off. They were strongly of the belief that a job had been put up, and that Adella was pulled. They proposed to investigate, and to punish those who were found to be concerned in the scheme. Mr. Smith said to err was human, but they preferred to err, if err they must, on the side of justice.

As one of the side attractions of the day the day fire works were not among the least. They were novel to most of the sight-seers, and were watched with interest. They were sent up from a mortar with much force, being carried to a great height, exploding and producing various figures.
 One, for instance, was a colossal addressed Liberty. Others were forms of animals.

THE MILITARY.
 The competitive drill of the three companies of the Fifth regiment, Iowa state guards, was an interesting feature of the afternoon at the driving park. The regimental band not only made music, but performed some very pretty maneuvers.
 The Shenandoah company took first prize of $100, the Council Bluffs second, $50, and the Glenwood company third, $25. The judges were: Joseph Garneau, Boone, Cyrus Reed and C. W. Thompson.

TO-DAY'S RACES.
 The 2:25 pacing race will be finished to-day. The 2:30 trotting and 2:35 racing, with a chariot race, complete today's programme.

The Patriotic Parade.
 The Fourth was celebrated in Council Bluffs with more enthusiasm than on any such anniversary for years past. At an early hour the day opened with all the noise that powder and drums could make, and soon after an early breakfast hour the streets assumed the liveliness of a metropolis. The arriving trains brought hundreds into the city, and teams came rolling in from all directions, until the streets were full of people.

The chief features of the forenoon were the parade of the Knights of Labor and military, with the exercises in Bayless park. The parade was a fine one. The Fifth regiment band came first, twenty pieces, giving excellent marches. Three companies of the Fifth regiment Iowa State guards came next.
 They were company A, of this city, company C, of Glenwood, and company E, of Shenandoah. They presented a fine appearance, marching well, and having a very soldierly bearing. The Grand Army came next, the old soldiers being out in large numbers. The German-American band followed, giving some of its sweetest music. The Knights of Labor, the typographical union, and other organizations came marching along and then came the officers of the day and the city officials in carriages. In the first carriage was Mayor Groneweg, Colonel Sapp, president of the day; Hon. Jesse Harper, of Illinois, the orator of the day, and City Auditor Knecht. In the next carriage were D. E. Gleason, of the Knights of Labor, Miss Nellie Hatcher, who was the reader of the day, and her father, Captain Hatcher. Other carriages contained the aldermen, city clerk and other officials.

The patrol wagon filled with policemen, presented a showing of the strong arm of the city. Chief Templeton of the fire department, followed in a pony rig so small that had it not been for the dignified bearing of the worthy official, one would be strongly reminded of the clown's conveyance in the circus parade.
 The hose carts, hook and ladder and other apparatus of the department, were also in the parade. The fire department was in uniform, but the apparatus and none of the decorations which from time immemorial have formed an essential in Fourth of July parades. The parade also lacked the ragamuffin display which characterized the old fashioned shows of this kind. The procession was finished off with citizens in carriages. The marshals of the day were Vic Keller, M. F.
 Rohrer, Captain O'Neill, E. J. Abbott, J.
 P. Snow and Ed. McShane.

The exercises in Bayless park proved to be very much more interesting than is usual on such occasions. The Fifth regiment band occupied the music stand in the center of the field, and gave some excellent numbers. One of the best was "Recollections of the War." This is a potpourri, which brings a great deal of descriptive music, representing the scene of the war, and many familiar airs were interwoven, of the songs which were so often sung by the boys in blue.

The platform erected for the speakers was draped in the national colors and adorned with flags. Col. Sapp presided with usual grace and good judgment.
 Miss Hatcher read clearly the declaration of independence. It was a rather formidable declaration for a graceful and winning young lady to make appear very warlike, or bold, but she read it as well as any feminine voice could utter such strong sentiments.

The orator of the day, Colonel Jesse Harper, proved a happy surprise. He got out of the old ruts, so common to the speakers of the eagle on these occasions, and gave a sharp, brightly, popular address, to which the large and attentive audience listened with much interest.
 He was very much to be commended for the tenacity of his address was a warning of the nation against the centralization of wealth. He pointed out the danger of the earth as individuals, having their birthdays, their growth of years, their development, their death. He urged the importance of avoiding those practices which have caused death to other nations, and following the history from Egypt down he showed that as the wealth was allowed to get into the hands of the few, so decay began in national life, and ruin followed. He pointed out the danger of the whole land was owned by three per cent of the people, while the rest were without homes of their own. Persia, Greece, Rome, declined after a few centuries into the same error. When in the life of every one of these nations, there came a period when a small per cent of the people owned all the land, the nation went down. He then gave the figures in regard to this country, showing that for the first sixty-five years of its history, five-eighths of the people were land owners, and how during the past twenty years there has been a rapid drift towards centralization of wealth, the per cent of home owners decreasing at a frightful rate. This led him to the labor and capital question, and he presented some startling facts and figures concerning this.

His address throughout, despite the seriousness and solemnity of the warning words he uttered, was brightened by flashes of wit, bright beams of humor and telling points. Ladies, even, who seemed hardly able physically to endure such a strain, stood for over an hour, eagerly listening to the gifted speaker, and seemingly unconscious of the passing time. His quaint way of presenting a thought, and his informal yet earnest expressions and his peculiar mannerisms added much to the enjoyability of the address. For once the rule of having a gaudily decked oration of Fourth of July bombast has had an exception.
 While there was much patriotic enthusiasm in the oration, still there was much more than this, and much indeed which those who heard can carry with them long after the noise of the powder is forgotten.
