

A VERY COSTLY MEMORIAL.

The $100,000 Monument Which is En Route to California.

THE KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS.

Something About the Fire Department of Omaha—What Was Done in the Various Courts Yesterday—City News.

A Costly Monument.

Alexander McDonald, of Mason, N. H. is at the Paxton. He is en route for Oakland, Cal., with a $100,000 monument for Dr. H. D. Cogswell, of San Francisco. Men of all ages have been imbued with a strong desire to have something which shall be associated with their names when they depart this life, their feelings and wishes having found expression in a variety of ways. Perhaps no person in any age has followed out his individual views in this respect with more pertinacity than Dr. Cogswell, who has achieved notoriety in several states by the bestowal of drinking fountains designed by himself. This penchant has not only been an expensive one to him, but has called forth anathemas from the communities he has selected as recipients of his gifts. This erratic gentleman has designed and is about setting up this monument to himself which far exceeds in cost and bulk any private memorial ever built, at least in modern times. The structure when completed will consist of about 500 tons of granite, and will cost $75,000. A considerable portion of the work was done at Cambridge, the larger parts being fashioned at the granite quarries of Alexander McDonald, the gentleman above alluded to.

This vast mass of granite is to be set up in the lot of Dr. Cogswell in Mountain View cemetery at Oakland, Cal. And was yet to be seen last evening occupying in sections no less than thirty-one cars, which are at the Union Pacific repair shops, getting pined for air brakes, as the Central Pacific will not take the cars over their line without air brakes. The monument, when erected, is to be seventy feet high, and will be placed in the center of the circle. The granite plinth contains twenty-three square feet, and is in four pieces. The first base stone is twelve feet, four inches square and two feet thick; the second, ten feet four inches square and one foot, six inches thick, and the third, nine feet, three inches square and one foot, eight inches thick. The fourth stone forms a base for the die and columns. It is eight feet square and one foot, nine inches high. The die is five feet square and six inches high. Upon each of the four corners are polished columns, one foot, six inches in diameter, with elaborately carved capitals, surmounted with a large cap, nine feet, six inches square and two feet thick. The top of the monument is a stone is a moulded base, five feet square and one foot, nine inches high, upon which the obelisk will rest.

Mr. McDonald has just put up three monuments at Salem, Mass., for Mr. George P. Bemis, of Omaha. One of these was for his grandfather, the Rev. George Pickering, who was in the last year of his life the oldest effective Methodist preacher in the world, and after whom Mr. Bemis was named. The Cogswell monument, in weight about 320 tons, is the largest shipment ever made across the continent, and it will not arrive at San Francisco until the last of this month. Eleven more carloads are to be forwarded about the middle of August. All this immense freight will have to be carried three miles to the cemetery at San Francisco. Mr. McDonald will personally attend to the erection of the monument.

The Knights of Pythias.

For some time past an effort has been in progress among the Knights of Pythias in this city to organize eight divisions, or a full regiment of the uniform rank. For several months there has been four divisions in active operation here, and the ambition of the order was to organize four more divisions, thereby forming a full regiment of eight divisions composed exclusively of resident knights. The efforts of the knights have been crowned with success. Recently the charters of the four new divisions reached the city and are now in the hands of John Howell, Jr., of the new divisions will be installed this and next week. The glory of this success is that it makes Omaha the only city in the world having a regiment composed exclusively of its own divisions. The divisions in this city are as follows:

- Myrtle division, commander, Sir Thomas Burrell; herald, Sir Henry Fuller. Douglas division, commander, Sir Julius Freitschke; lieutenant commander, Sir Charles Anderson; herald, Sir Charles Helwig. Lily division, commander, Sir John E. Smith; lieutenant commander, Sir J. C. Long; herald, Sir Frederick Koer. Omaha division, commander, Sir George H. Crager; lieutenant commander, Sir H. J. Wells; herald, Sir John Hayward. The divisions to be installed this week and next are Black Eagle, commander-elect, E. G. Gray; lieutenant commander, Harry Merriam. Falcon division, commander-elect, Charles P. Needham; lieutenant commander, John E. McMinis; herald, Alfred A. Seldon. Launceston division, commander-elect, Sir John H. Gibson; lieutenant commander, Sir J. W. Consbury. Mt. Shasta, commander-elect, H. C. Cole.

There are enough divisions outside of the city of Omaha in the state to organize another regiment of nine divisions. If these divisions are organized into regiments, a brigade can be organized in this state. This would place Nebraska in the front rank of the order, there being but few states in the union possessing that honor. In all probability both regiments will be organized by August 1. If so they will parade during the session of the grand lodge here in October. Sir James R. Carnahan, of Indiana, the major general of the uniform rank in the United States, will be in the city, and in command of the regiments in the parade during the session of the grand lodge already referred to.

OMAHA'S FIRE DEPARTMENT.

A Feature of Our Municipal Government to be Proud of.

The Omaha fire department is a credit to the city of Omaha, if the members can't get their pay, and under the very efficient training and management of Chief Galligan is rapidly attaining a reputation that our citizens may well feel proud of. A reliable fire department is a most invaluable component part of all metropolitan machinery, and one of the first solicitations of heavy investors in a city is in regard to the condition of its fire department. If the answer is satisfactory it produces a sense of security attainable from no other source. Even the police force occasions no such anxiety, and, in fact, is not entitled to the same consideration as the fire department. The services of the two departments are entirely dissimilar, and while both are of incalculable benefit to a community, in the long run that of the fire department is much the more important. The fire department of the city of Omaha to-day consists of but forty-nine members, but notwithstanding its comparatively small numerical strength it is abundantly large for all emergencies, for what this department lacks in numbers, it more than makes up in activity, energy, thoroughness, method, system and skill. Galligan is undoubtedly a great man in his position, and has accomplished wonders in attaining the high degree of perfection that is exhibited in every move of our very complete fire department. In his work the chief, too, is materially and ably assisted by his subordinates, First Assistant Charles Salter, Second Assistant J. J. Burns, and captain, No. 1, George Williams, No. 2, Theodore Grobe, No. 3, William Webb, No. 4, Joseph Vanderford, No. 5, George Colter, and No. 6, Frank Graves, turntable truck, No. 1, Thomas Kuno, lieutenant, Henry Loges, truck No. 2, John Simpson, 500 superintendent of the police and fire alarm, John Morse. This is the force in toto, forty-nine members, including officers, drivers, pipemen and ladder-men, and the entire expense of the same comes up, net amount, just $41,540. This, of course, is irrespective of the maintenance of machinery, engine houses, et cetera, and there is not another city in the country of equal population and importance, that can show so commensurate expenses for the same purposes. The salaries of the officers and men of the Omaha fire department are graded as follows: The chief, $2,000 a year, first assistant, $1,500, second assistant, $1,200, privates, $80 and superintendent of the alarm $300.

Besides the extreme satisfactory condition of the force, Chief Galligan reports that the engine houses, engines, hose trucks, and the entire mechanical portion of the department is in first-class shape, and are in readiness for any contingency, no matter of what magnitude or how unexpected it may be sprung upon them. The double tank, fifty-gallon chemical engine will arrive next Tuesday, and other additions will be made off and on to the equipment of the department.

THE COURTS.

What Was Done Before the Judges Yesterday.

UNITED STATES. William E. Lemon was arrested and brought in from Reynolds early Wednesday morning by Deputy United States Marshal R. Q. Steward, charged with having forged an order on Miss Lucy E. Reynolds, whose brother he claimed to be, for a postoffice order amounting to $10. He was arraigned before Judge Dundy this morning, and pleading not guilty was bound over to the November term in the sum of $1,000, in default of which he went to jail.

Deputy Steward also brought down under arrest at the same time the sheriff of Jefferson county, Ira T. Beldon, on a charge of having obstructed a United States marshal in the execution of a process. It appears that the above mentioned William E. Lemon had a preliminary hearing before a justice of the peace at Reynolds on a charge of forgery, and had been bound over in the sum of $500 to the district court, or any other court having jurisdiction, but being unable to secure a bondsman was sent to the Jefferson county jail where Deputy Steward found him. On demand the sheriff refused to surrender the prisoner, and the deputy's only alternative was to arrest the sheriff himself, which did, greatly to the latter's indignation and astonishment. He was also arraigned this morning and bound over to the second Tuesday of the November term in the sum of $300, his personal recognizance being accepted. He was also held in a like sum to appear as a witness in the case against Lemon.

The suit of Alphonso H. Hays, receiver of the Middletown National bank vs. the West Point manufacturing company, on three promissory notes of $1,617.71, or $1,853.13 was tried yesterday morning in the United States district court. A petition was filed yesterday afternoon by Jesse Lowe against Byron Reed and Mary B. Reed, claiming $138 damages in respect of breach of contract. Plaintiff is the proprietor of a portion of land situate in Lowe's First addition, which was conveyed by the defendants to one Sophia Lowe in 1882, with covenant against incumbrances. It is now claimed that at the date of the transfer taxes on the land were unpaid to the amount of $132, and hence the present action.

POLICE COURT.

John Daily and Ben Devine, who enticed some unsophisticated youth into an alley the day Barrett's show was here and borrowed his watch and lose change, were bound over to the district court in the sum of $300 each on a charge of robbery. Charles W. Townsend and J. P. Palmer, who were arrested for indulging in a mill down near Higin's restaurant a week since, and in which Palmer consented to perforate Townsend with a toy pistol, were before Judge Berka this morning. Townsend drawing a small prize in the shape of $5 and costs, while Palmer got a slice of the capital, $30 and costs. P. Holland got full, fell down and busted his head wide open, and in a very deplorable condition lay in a cell all night. Yesterday morning, with his face all covered with congealed blood and his head banded up with one of his shirt sleeves, he told the scribe, a sorry picture, indeed. He was given fifteen days over the hill, but when the pain was about to depart the court's heart softened, and he ordered Holland released, and giving him an order for some medicine, told him to go, and hereafter eschew the flowing schnooner.

John Smith was indicted $500 on warrants for assault and battery, while Jack Turner, a tramp and general nuisance, received a similar dose. Of course both went up. John Smith, evidently laboring under some sort of a mental aberration, but who was run in as a drunk, was given ten days over the hill. The court was of the opinion that at least temporary restraint was necessary in the interests of his own welfare.

PoZZoni.

No name is better and more pleasantly and widely known than that of Mr. J. A. Pozzoni. For years he has made himself famous by the elegant perfumes and complexion powder that bears his name, the latter having found its way to the belles of Paris, Germany and London. Everybody admires beauty in perfume. Nothing will do more to produce or enhance it than to use Mr. Pozzoni's preparations.

Railroad Accident.

A serious accident occurred yesterday morning on the Union Pacific track between Eleventh and Twelfth streets, whereby Angus McCurd, an employee of the road, may yet lose his life. McCurd had charge of a gang of four men, who were engaged in coaling the engines. While those of them was employed in switching a coal car yesterday morning the brake failed to act, and, in order to stop the runaway, McCurd mounted a second car which lay on the same track with the intention of turning on the brake. He had just reached the top of the ladder when the first car, which was loaded with coal, came along with considerable force and struck the one on which McCurd was standing. He unfortunately lost his hold, and fell backwards on to the track, where the full extent of the loaded car passed over his right leg between the knee and ankle. McCurd was picked up in an unconscious condition and taken to St. Joseph's hospital, where Dr. Galbraith, the Union Pacific surgeon, was soon in attendance, and found it necessary to amputate the leg just below the knee. The doctor reports that McCurd is in a very critical condition.

STATISTICS AND LABOR.

One of the First Acts of the Commissioner, John Jenkins.

John Jenkins, the newly appointed deputy commissioner of the labor bureau will leave in a few days for Madison, Wis., to look into and study the law of labor and statistics of that state. Mr. Jenkins has a letter of introduction from Governor Thayer to Governor Rusk, and he will remain in Madison for a week or ten days. Governor Thayer's letter is as follows:

Hon. J. M. Rusk, Governor of Wisconsin, Madison—Dear Sir: The Nebraska legislature, at its last session, has wisely established a bureau of labor and statistics, and I believe copied mostly the Wisconsin statute on this subject. Hon. John H. Jenkins has been appointed deputy commissioner of said bureau. He visits your capital with the view of consulting those in charge of your labor bureau, and I would be a favor if you will afford him such facilities as are in your power to enable him to secure the object of his visit as fully as possible. JOHN M. THAYER, Governor.

Summer Contracts Awarded To-day.

The board of public works yesterday morning awarded the contract for the extension of the north branch of the north main sewer to Thompson & Delaney. The bid of the successful contractor was for eight foot brick sewer, $12.70 per lineal foot, and $3.53 for three foot brick sewer. The new sewer extension will commence at Clark and Twentieth streets; north on Twentieth to Grace, west on Grace to Twenty-second, north on Twenty-second to Burdette, and then west to Twenty-fourth street. There were seven bidders for the contract, and the figures were very close. The contract for the extension of the south branch of the sewer was not awarded because of an oversight in the bids of Ryan & Walsh and Hugh Murphy. The contract was filed for action Saturday night.

The contract for filling lots in Himebaugh & Smith's addition, which have been declared a nuisance by the council, was awarded to G. W. McKinney, the price being 25 cents a yard. The contract for putting Twenty-ninth avenue to temporary grade was awarded to Stubb & Hammel at 21 cents a cubic yard.

Much Ado About Nothing.

An alarm of fire was rung yesterday morning at half-past eleven from box 32 at the Union Pacific shops. Captain Fischer with the Durant company was the first on the scene, and found but little difficulty in extinguishing the blaze, which was confined to a pile of wood lying at the north end of the shops. It was the general opinion that the fire originated through spontaneous combustion. The other companies had also turned out, but with the exception of No. 2, which laid a stream on the fire, their services were not required. The damage done was nominal. The alarm was rung by John Reed, a clerk in the Union Pacific shops, and whilst in the act of breaking the glass on the alarm box his wrist came in contact with a pane of glass, and one of the arteries was severed.

Not Money Enough.

The city of South Omaha, in the matter of tax levy, has, after waiting a long time for the county assessors to complete their work, struck a snag. The municipal authorities have estimated the necessary expenses for the year at $20,000; divided as follows: General fund, $10,000; fire and police, $5,000; general improvement, $2,000, and sidewalks $3,000. The county assessors, if the mayor and council adopt them as a basis, will only yield $10,000 for the year. The authorities are in a quandary, and do not know now what to do. A number of citizens will be called on at an early day.

Albrecht Bound Over.

Herman Albrecht, the youthful embezzler, who was arrested at the instigation of S. P. Morse, had a hearing yesterday morning before Judge Berka, and pleading guilty, was bound over to the district court in the sum of $500. The county attorney had a long talk with this promising youngster after the disposal of his case yesterday morning, but his official perspicacity and categorical ingenuity were not sufficient to extract the necessary information to what has already been published in the BEE from this very consummate young rascal.

Club Incorporation.

Articles of incorporation of the "Apollo Literary and Social club" were filed in the clerk's office yesterday afternoon. The capital of the society is $500, and its object is stated to be the literary and social advancement of its members. The incorporators are: Messrs. H. B. Kennedy, E. D. Bibbins, Fred Jacobs, J. N. Turritt, H. Huff, L. J. Hendershott and C. B. Hook.

Buried in an Excavation.

Yesterday morning Clarence Ahlman, a man about forty-two years of age, was buried by the caving in of the banks of the excavation of the new building on Eleventh street between Jackson and Jones. He was working for William Collier and there was no bracing to protect the men. Ahlman was cared for by Martin Grace and is not yet out of danger.

Personal Paragraphs.

T. D. Suydam and C. F. Milburn, of the Omaha Tribune, are in the city prospecting. E. H. Odell and wife, of Council Bluffs, George Boson Jr., and E. C. Carns, of Seward, were among the guests at the Paxton.

A. D. Jentson, the new Omaha catcher arrived from St. Louis yesterday morning. He is a great big good-natured six footer, twenty-two years of age, and looks as if he ought to be a number one back stop. He has been playing ball since 1880, and has three years past in professional company.

FOR PARENTS. The axe has fallen among our Boys' and Childrens' Clothing and is making havoc with the prices of some of them. Those who visited us during the past season must have noticed that since the enlargement of our store, we carried in this line a much larger stock than formerly. Naturally, of such a big assortment, we have more left, especially of the better grades, and we are determined to close them all out before the opening of our new juvenile department, which next season will be on the second floor of our building. A large line of Boys' and Childrens' suits of all sizes—some very fine goods and elegantly made—also a lot of knee pants and long pants are marked down to one-half their value.

EXTRA. A manufacturer who heard that we are doing a large business, and thought that we could dispose of most any quantity of goods, sent us last week a big lot of striped summer coats—Mens' and Boys'—with instructions to sell them for his account. We did not want to accept them, as the lot is too large and the season late, and told him so, but he wired us to dispose of them at any price we pleased, so we have decided to mark them 15c APIECE. It is almost giving them away, but it is not our loss. They are new patterns and all sizes. All goods marked in plain figures and at strictly one price at Nebraska Clothing Company, Cor. Douglas and 14th sts., Omaha. During July and August, our store closes at 6:30 p. m., except Saturday.
