

THE FIREMEN.

Close of the State Tournament at Kearney. Kearney, Neb., July 22.—[Special Telegram to the Bee.]—Cool, refreshing weather fell yesterday afternoon, placing the ground in fine shape and making the air cool. The day could not have been finer. There were not entries enough for the $500 free-for-all race, hence it was postponed. For some unknown reason the Thurston's of Omaha did not enter the board of control...

BOYCOTTED THE OFFICERS.

Taylor County, Kentucky, People Refuse to Be Levied On. LOUISVILLE, Ky., July 22.—United States Marshal Gross and his large force of deputies, who left Tuesday to levy on property of residents of Taylor county for refusal to pay taxes on railroad bonds, have been boycotted by the hotels at Campbellville and were compelled to camp out. He is a main line man, and has a large force of deputies. All the stores are closed and most of the personal property has been removed and live stock taken out of the county. Levies were made upon several houses in lieu of anything better. Suit has been brought against the marshal by the county jailer for $1,000 for unlawfully camping in the county jail. The people seem determined not to pay the taxes and a general boycott of the United States posse seems imminent, as neighboring counties are being levied on for the same of anything levied on in Taylor county.

THE COMPANY MUST PAY.

Report of the Referee in the Cutting Case. NEW YORK, July 22.—The report of the referee in the celebrated Cutting case was made to-day, and as a consequence judgments in a large amount have been filed in the county clerk's office. The referee finds that between the death of Francis B. Cutting, the father of General William Cutting, on June 29, 1878, and January 13, 1887, his son, as executor, held and converted to his own use $1,403,575. Of this $104,107 was his own by specific bequest, or as income of the property, and the balance of $1,299,468 was the company should pay over to Lydia S. Cutting, as executrix of Hayward Cutting, and to William Cutting for the benefit of Brockley Cutting, her child. There is great excitement in the city. It is thought that General Cutting cannot meet the demands which will be made upon him in the settlement of the estate. In the terms of the will of Francis B. Cutting there was nothing to be allowed his sons for acting as executor, and the referees after consulting a number of counsels showing mismanagement, comes to this conclusion.

CHARGED WITH CLAIM JUMPING

A Couple of Miners Get a Pressing Invitation to Leave. BUTTE, Mont., July 22.—A Phillipsburg special to the Miner says that at an early hour this morning a large body of masked men visited L. L. Carrie, superintendent of the San Francisco Consolidated, and North Granite mines, and his associates, Louis Lamar and Samuel Tolman, and served notice on them to leave the country at once on their own lives. Tolman was put about their necks and all three went out. The allegations are that the miners had been claiming the property of the mines. This afternoon Lamar and Tolman returned to camp and swore out warrants for the arrest of several of their visitors whom they regarded as claim jumpers. There is great excitement and more trouble looked for.

Boodle Evidence Begins.

CHICAGO, July 22.—The hearing of evidence in the boodle case began to-day. The first witness was an indicted ex-commissioner, Charles F. Lynn, who turned state's evidence. He told how the defendant commissioners held a secret meeting and decided that the chairman of the various committees should no longer lay themselves open by accepting and dividing money paid by firms for contracts. Lynn said that he was one of the witnesses that Warden McFarlane was selected as the regular collector. The money was secured by the committee and divided among the members. Lynn received $1,000 apiece for each man for large contracts and a regular percentage for small ones.

Texas Fever in Kansas.

St. Louis, July 22.—A special from Topeka, Kan., says: Since Texas fever was reported at Greenleaf, Kan., two weeks ago, the contagion has spread with remarkable rapidity, until now reports from Washington and Montgomery counties show a most unhealthy condition of cattle. One farmer has already lost 90 per cent of his stock. The legislature has appropriated any money necessary for the protection of the cattle interests and the state is practically helpless to wage battle against the fever. The railroads, however, will call for the expense of the shipment of any more diseased cattle.

Troops Called For.

PITTSBURGH, July 22.—Specials from the coke regions report that a large number of strikers resumed work to-day but new complications have arisen which may prevent the settlement of the strike. At many works the strikers would not go to work unless the company would concede that the men were responsible for several days, owing to a cataract in his eye. He was employed by the Adams Manufacturing company as a canvasser. The weapon used was a common affair, the bullet going through from the right ear to the left. Lick had a family in Sanborn, Ia., and left two cards on which he had written to his wife that as he was nearly blind he considered his useful days over and did not care to stay longer. An inquest resulted in a verdict of death by the verdict that death resulted from suicidal intent. The wife was notified and the body is at Drexel & Maul's awaiting her arrival.

The Cudahys and Packing.

Michael Cudahy, partner of Armour, the packer, is here to attend to some of the details of the recent purchase by their firm of the Lipton packing house. He is accompanied by his brother, Edward A., who is manager for the firm in Chicago. The latter is the youngest of the Cudahy brothers, and is about to branch out on his own responsibility in the packing business. He is canvassing the advantages of Omaha, and has not determined as yet whether he will locate here or in Sioux City.

The Boss Corn Stalk.

A stalk of corn fourteen feet and eight inches high, being nine feet to the first ear, has been left at this office as an exhibition of what Nebraska soil can do. This stalk was from the farm of R. H. and H. L. Pickard, in Douglas precinct, Douglas county. They have nine acres in corn, and this tract of nine acres has been planted with corn for the past year. For the last four or five years the average has been 108 bushels per acre. The average will be larger this year.

Compromised.

The change of grade of California street, which has called forth much comment and which occasioned a special meeting of the council, has been settled. The property owners have agreed to waive damages on a cut of one foot and accordingly the work of grading and paving will be commenced at once.

St. Peter's Church.

To-morrow morning at 10 o'clock St. Peter's Catholic church will be used for the first time. The new edifice is on the corner of Virginia avenue and Leavenworth streets.

HAULED HOME IN THE PATROL.

An Incident of the Wee Smn' Hours of a June Morning. Councilmen Bechel, Lee and Boyd and Editor Rothacker Out On a Lark—News Picked Up About the City.

Having a High Time. The police commissioners held a lengthy session yesterday afternoon in the board rooms. The object was to consider complaints which had been made against policemen. Chief of Police Seavey reported that Officers Crawford and O'Brien had converted the patrol wagon to private use. In the communication, the chief stated that the two men were chief officers. Crawford was conductor of the patrol wagon and O'Brien was driver. Both were heard. It seems that about six weeks ago, before the electrical system went into effect, the patrol wagon was summoned to the corner of Twelfth and Douglas by telephone. On arriving a hilarious party emerged from the saloon on that corner. The party consisted of Councilmen Bechel, Lee and Boyd, and Rothacker of the Republican. They had been "taking in the town," as the officers put it. They had been "making a night of it." It was 4 o'clock in the morning and they wanted to go home. They piled into the patrol wagon. Rothacker was taken to his residence on Dodge street, Bechel was taken to his home on Farnam street near Twenty-seventh, and Boyd and Lee were dropped in the vicinity of Hanscom park. The patrol wagon was gone an hour from the central station. Officer Crawford's examination developed these facts and the details were fully drawn out. Several officers were brought up on charges of conspiracy and all the cases were continued until next Monday. Officer Norman, suspended June 23 for absence from duty without leave, was reinstated with pay from July 10.

Remedy For Red Noses.

New York Mail and Express. The latest novelty silver and ivory powder box of repute work, lined with gold and destined to be carried in the pocket during the warm summer months by the women whose noses are apt to become shiny and red, is a tin of ivory powder which increases in depth in proportion to the gradual rise of the mercury. The box, of course, contains a miniature powder puff of the kind that one sees in every woman's dressing case. The ivory mirror is inserted in the lid so that malame or mademoiselle may gaze upon her features as she applies her chalk or bismuth, and know just how much to put on and how to take off. There are some conservative women who consider the use of face powder highly objectionable. But, on the other hand, there is no doubt that this adjunct to the toilet is a very useful one. It is especially after the hot, weather sets in. Nothing, or few things are uglier to look upon than a shiny, red, perspiring face, particularly when that face belongs to a pretty woman. A tin of ivory powder boxes ought to prove very welcome. The price is somewhat exorbitant it is true—$15 for the plainest pattern. But they are also manufactured in ivory and silver, and are really works of art. Mail and Express writer happened to be riding down town the other day in the Sixth avenue elevated train. Opposite a set of stairs, a young man was leaning over the railing, and was looking at a woman who was leaning over the railing. The man was looking at the woman's nose, and the woman was looking at the man's nose. The man was looking at the woman's nose, and the woman was looking at the man's nose. The man was looking at the woman's nose, and the woman was looking at the man's nose.

THE LIQUOR CASES.

They Were Up in a Coffee Case Yesterday. Judge Berka was occupied nearly the entire afternoon yesterday in hearing the cases of John King and C. S. Higgins, charged with selling liquor after midnight. King was fined $100 and gave notice of an appeal to the district court. The evidence in the Higgins case showed that the two men who had purchased liquor after 12 o'clock had ordered it with a supper in the rooms above the saloon. Higgins has permission from Mayor Broderick to sell liquor to patrons of his restaurant, and as it is not shown that the saloon was open, the case was dismissed. There was a meeting last night of liquor men in the saloon in the rear of the government building. The meeting was a secret one. The object was to consider what proceedings to take in certain contingencies which are likely to arise under the existing state of affairs. The meeting was held in the presence of a number of saloon men in attendance.

LOUISE ARMAINDO.

The Champion Female Bicyclist Now in the City. Louise Armaindo, the champion female bicyclist of the world, is at the Millard hotel. A reporter for the Bee called on her last night evening, anxious to see the little Frenchwoman who had covered 1,073 miles in a six day race. Miss Armaindo is a pleasant little woman of about 5 feet 2 inches in height and weighs 145 pounds. She wore a light costume and at her throat was the championship medal won in Chicago some time ago. She has dark hair, dark eyes, and speaks with a charming little French accent. She is in the city on a brief visit and will return to Chippewa Falls, Wis., early next week.

Another Complaint.

Yesterday another complaint for forgery was filed against Benjamin B. Pinkham, Floyd & Co.'s employe whose arrest was chronicled yesterday morning. Thomas S. Ward charges Pinkham with forging a $100 deposit check. The details are the same as those published.

LOUISE ARMAINDO.

The Champion Female Bicyclist Now in the City. Louise Armaindo, the champion female bicyclist of the world, is at the Millard hotel. A reporter for the Bee called on her last night evening, anxious to see the little Frenchwoman who had covered 1,073 miles in a six day race. Miss Armaindo is a pleasant little woman of about 5 feet 2 inches in height and weighs 145 pounds. She wore a light costume and at her throat was the championship medal won in Chicago some time ago. She has dark hair, dark eyes, and speaks with a charming little French accent. She is in the city on a brief visit and will return to Chippewa Falls, Wis., early next week.

Another Complaint.

Yesterday another complaint for forgery was filed against Benjamin B. Pinkham, Floyd & Co.'s employe whose arrest was chronicled yesterday morning. Thomas S. Ward charges Pinkham with forging a $100 deposit check. The details are the same as those published.

THE LIQUOR CASES.

They Were Up in a Coffee Case Yesterday. Judge Berka was occupied nearly the entire afternoon yesterday in hearing the cases of John King and C. S. Higgins, charged with selling liquor after midnight. King was fined $100 and gave notice of an appeal to the district court. The evidence in the Higgins case showed that the two men who had purchased liquor after 12 o'clock had ordered it with a supper in the rooms above the saloon. Higgins has permission from Mayor Broderick to sell liquor to patrons of his restaurant, and as it is not shown that the saloon was open, the case was dismissed. There was a meeting last night of liquor men in the saloon in the rear of the government building. The meeting was a secret one. The object was to consider what proceedings to take in certain contingencies which are likely to arise under the existing state of affairs. The meeting was held in the presence of a number of saloon men in attendance.
