THE GRAND ARMY REUNION.

Mammoth Preparation for the Visit of the Old Soldiers to Omaha.

NONE KNOWS WHO KILLED HER.

The Second Inquest Upon Georgiana Clark—A Stabbing Affray in the South End—Other Local Matters.

The Great Reunion.

The reunion committee of the Grand Army of the Republic, comprising Chairman Sam B. Jones, Quarter Master T. S. Clark, Secretary C. F. Burmester, General H. C. Russell, of Chicago, Comrades Hurley, of Omaha, and Richards, of Fremont, and Clement Chase, secretary of the board of trade committee, met at the Millard hotel last night to prepare for the grand reunion which opens in this city September 5.

The committee first arranged the plat of the camps which is to be a canvas city of 50,000 souls. The camp will be a third of a mile in length from Cut-off lake to Florence lake and a quarter of a mile wide, from the Sixteen street bluff to the river. At the south end will be the depots to be built by the Union Pacific and Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis & Omaha roads for the occasion, and adjoining these will be the grounds set apart for the United States regulars, comprising the Eight, Twenty-second and Second Infantry and the light artillery from Fort Leavenworth.

The camp is to be arranged in streets by states as represented by the old soldiers in attendance, between which, running north and south, will be a wide avenue set with tents for both purposes. In the center of the camp the great dining tent will stand.

On the extreme west, under the bluffs, there will be erected the tents of the commander of the camp, the quarter-master, adjutant general, reunion committees of the G. A. R. and board of trade, Women's Relief corps, the medical director and the case press.

On the north, over-looking the extensive level ground, to be a grand stand 500 feet long, erected by the lessees of camp privileges. The camp is to be divided into three divisions, with a commander for each. Nearly all the Grand Army of the Republic have identified their intention to be present, and many in western Iowa. A few Lincoln post of Council Bluffs goes into camp 100 strong. The commander-in-chief, General Taylor, and his staff will also be present throughout the week. The governor has a permission Secretary Burmester to bring up from Lincoln, if he will come for them personally, the old battle flag of the First Nebraska. The battle flag of the Second Iowa will be brought to the headquarters of the Iowa division.

Any number of bands will be subject to the orders of Commander Russell, to bring up to Omaha for the musical organizations comprising the State band association, without expense to themselves. The uniform band of the state reform school is also coming in from Keosauqua.

The programme for the week was arranged at last night's meeting as nearly as could be at this time. It is proposed that after moving into camp on Monday morning the Grand Army of the Republic veterans will start in procession on Wednesday forenoon, moving south on Sherman avenue and Sixteenth street to Douglas street, and then turning up Park street through the triumphal arch at the chamber of commerce where the procession will probably disband, not undertaking to march back in order to the hotel. Building the headquarters of the army headquarters will undertake to see that barrels filled with ice water are placed along the route and in addition it is earnestly requested the citizens will have water conveyed to the marching troops. At Minneapolis and Portland leading ladies of the city dealt lemonade to the troops as they passed, which sets a good example for the city. This will be a grand stand, which will be occupied by the governor, Generals Fairchild and Russell and other distinguished visitors, will be on Jefferson square.

On evening will be devoted to the camp-fire, in which to music, both vocal and instrumental, with a grand chorus, and on Thursday night occurs the great naval display on Cut-off lake, being a military review in a public harbor. Building the Victory-buff, block the city will be managed by L. W. Hastings, of Aurora, Neb., commodore of the fleet. The United States troops take part in this, as well as in the grand review.

The Real Estate Exchange.

Its Meeting Yesterday, and Manager Woodlief Not an Embezzler.

The members of the Omaha Real Estate exchange met in special session yesterday to consider the charges preferred by a morning paper against Manager Woodlief, who was present. Major Clark said that the letters he had received from Minneapolis and St. Paul regarding Mr. Woodlief were just as good as any man would expect to see as an endorsement when going among strangers. The exchange also had adopted resolutions of confidence in Mr. Woodlief, but afterward Mr. Selby said it would not be just to so ignore the matter without further investigation. The suggestion prevailed, and accordingly Messrs. Clark, Selby, Harris and Higgins were appointed as such a committee, to report at the regular monthly meeting to be held on next Monday at 9 o'clock.

Mr. Woodlief says that he will sue the publishers of the alleged defamatory article for libel.
