

A TEN-INNING GAME OF BALL

Lincoln Downs Omaha after a Prolonged and Brilliant Struggle.

YESTERDAY'S GREAT EXHIBITION

Base Ball, Racing and Other Sports Elsewhere—Topeka Beats Kansas City—Speeding at Brighton Beach and Utica.

Yesterday's Game.

There was a great game at the ball park yesterday afternoon, and the only drawback to it was that the Omahas were defeated. The contest was between the Lincoln and the local team, and it was a beautiful game to look at, and it is seldom a crowd gets a chance for so much genuine enthusiasm.

In the first Omaha went out in one, two, three order, but the visitors managed to get into the game by a sacrifice bunt. The Omaha went out in one, two, three order, but the visitors managed to get into the game by a sacrifice bunt.

In the second the local team took the lead by one, and the uproar for a few minutes has been heard in the city. The Omaha went out in one, two, three order, but the visitors managed to get into the game by a sacrifice bunt.

In the third the Omahas were whiteswanned, and in the fourth they hit safe, score second and in the fifth they were whiteswanned. The Omaha went out in one, two, three order, but the visitors managed to get into the game by a sacrifice bunt.

In the fifth and sixth our boys went out in one, two, three order, but in the seventh they were whiteswanned. The Omaha went out in one, two, three order, but the visitors managed to get into the game by a sacrifice bunt.

In the eighth, ninth and tenth they went out as fast as they would face the fresh hit. The Omaha went out in one, two, three order, but the visitors managed to get into the game by a sacrifice bunt.

In the fifth they added two more tallies to their score on Herr's base on balls. The Omaha went out in one, two, three order, but the visitors managed to get into the game by a sacrifice bunt.

In the sixth they added two more tallies to their score on Herr's base on balls. The Omaha went out in one, two, three order, but the visitors managed to get into the game by a sacrifice bunt.

In the seventh they added two more tallies to their score on Herr's base on balls. The Omaha went out in one, two, three order, but the visitors managed to get into the game by a sacrifice bunt.

In the eighth they added two more tallies to their score on Herr's base on balls. The Omaha went out in one, two, three order, but the visitors managed to get into the game by a sacrifice bunt.

In the ninth they added two more tallies to their score on Herr's base on balls. The Omaha went out in one, two, three order, but the visitors managed to get into the game by a sacrifice bunt.

In the tenth they added two more tallies to their score on Herr's base on balls. The Omaha went out in one, two, three order, but the visitors managed to get into the game by a sacrifice bunt.

In the eleventh they added two more tallies to their score on Herr's base on balls. The Omaha went out in one, two, three order, but the visitors managed to get into the game by a sacrifice bunt.

In the twelfth they added two more tallies to their score on Herr's base on balls. The Omaha went out in one, two, three order, but the visitors managed to get into the game by a sacrifice bunt.

In the thirteenth they added two more tallies to their score on Herr's base on balls. The Omaha went out in one, two, three order, but the visitors managed to get into the game by a sacrifice bunt.

In the fourteenth they added two more tallies to their score on Herr's base on balls. The Omaha went out in one, two, three order, but the visitors managed to get into the game by a sacrifice bunt.

In the fifteenth they added two more tallies to their score on Herr's base on balls. The Omaha went out in one, two, three order, but the visitors managed to get into the game by a sacrifice bunt.

In the sixteenth they added two more tallies to their score on Herr's base on balls. The Omaha went out in one, two, three order, but the visitors managed to get into the game by a sacrifice bunt.

In the seventeenth they added two more tallies to their score on Herr's base on balls. The Omaha went out in one, two, three order, but the visitors managed to get into the game by a sacrifice bunt.

In the eighteenth they added two more tallies to their score on Herr's base on balls. The Omaha went out in one, two, three order, but the visitors managed to get into the game by a sacrifice bunt.

PARISIAN BELLES ON PARADE

Gorgeous Dresses at the Belleville Races—Nat Goodwin.

Copyright, 1887, by James Gordon Bennett, Jr. The Parisian belles on parade at the Belleville races were a sight to behold. They were dressed in the latest fashion, and their dresses were of the most gorgeous description.

One of the most beautiful pictures of the race course was in France, Marchioness de Gallifret wore a cream mousseline de Maine with part vest turned back, trimmed with dark blue; straw hat with fallie bows and fluttering cock's feathers.

Baroness Alphonso de Rothschild was simply attired in black and white striped cambric and boat shaped Letonia hat with bows of cream tulle.

The Duchess de Grammont wore black lace and a black hat with feathers. Countess Puysegue wore a waltz dress of toulard, the pattern being roses on a cream ground, a black hat trimmed with fancy straw and pale green roses.

Baroness de Souville wore a cream tulle dress with dark blue, short coat, and cream hat with black cream feathers. Mme. Kattibonno and a white velvet and white crepe hat with a fancy straw hat.

Baroness Finet was dressed entirely in black. Mme. Bischoffheim looked very charming in her costume in the Louis XV. style of a light colored muslin, a trianin hat covered with multi-colored flowers.

Mme. Hiest wore a mauve embroidered dress with large black hat with feather, veiled with mauve tulle. Mme. Desgenettes, a cream hat to match a black and cream crepe dress.

Baroness Pierard wore a handsome cream and dark blue coat and a black hat with feathers. Mme. Dyris was dressed in black and white crepe dress with a black and white crepe hat.

Mme. Hiest wore a mauve embroidered dress with large black hat with feather, veiled with mauve tulle. Mme. Desgenettes, a cream hat to match a black and cream crepe dress.

Baroness Pierard wore a handsome cream and dark blue coat and a black hat with feathers. Mme. Dyris was dressed in black and white crepe dress with a black and white crepe hat.

Mme. Hiest wore a mauve embroidered dress with large black hat with feather, veiled with mauve tulle. Mme. Desgenettes, a cream hat to match a black and cream crepe dress.

Baroness Pierard wore a handsome cream and dark blue coat and a black hat with feathers. Mme. Dyris was dressed in black and white crepe dress with a black and white crepe hat.

Mme. Hiest wore a mauve embroidered dress with large black hat with feather, veiled with mauve tulle. Mme. Desgenettes, a cream hat to match a black and cream crepe dress.

Baroness Pierard wore a handsome cream and dark blue coat and a black hat with feathers. Mme. Dyris was dressed in black and white crepe dress with a black and white crepe hat.

Mme. Hiest wore a mauve embroidered dress with large black hat with feather, veiled with mauve tulle. Mme. Desgenettes, a cream hat to match a black and cream crepe dress.

Baroness Pierard wore a handsome cream and dark blue coat and a black hat with feathers. Mme. Dyris was dressed in black and white crepe dress with a black and white crepe hat.

Mme. Hiest wore a mauve embroidered dress with large black hat with feather, veiled with mauve tulle. Mme. Desgenettes, a cream hat to match a black and cream crepe dress.

Baroness Pierard wore a handsome cream and dark blue coat and a black hat with feathers. Mme. Dyris was dressed in black and white crepe dress with a black and white crepe hat.

Mme. Hiest wore a mauve embroidered dress with large black hat with feather, veiled with mauve tulle. Mme. Desgenettes, a cream hat to match a black and cream crepe dress.

Baroness Pierard wore a handsome cream and dark blue coat and a black hat with feathers. Mme. Dyris was dressed in black and white crepe dress with a black and white crepe hat.

Mme. Hiest wore a mauve embroidered dress with large black hat with feather, veiled with mauve tulle. Mme. Desgenettes, a cream hat to match a black and cream crepe dress.

Baroness Pierard wore a handsome cream and dark blue coat and a black hat with feathers. Mme. Dyris was dressed in black and white crepe dress with a black and white crepe hat.

Mme. Hiest wore a mauve embroidered dress with large black hat with feather, veiled with mauve tulle. Mme. Desgenettes, a cream hat to match a black and cream crepe dress.

Baroness Pierard wore a handsome cream and dark blue coat and a black hat with feathers. Mme. Dyris was dressed in black and white crepe dress with a black and white crepe hat.

Mme. Hiest wore a mauve embroidered dress with large black hat with feather, veiled with mauve tulle. Mme. Desgenettes, a cream hat to match a black and cream crepe dress.

Baroness Pierard wore a handsome cream and dark blue coat and a black hat with feathers. Mme. Dyris was dressed in black and white crepe dress with a black and white crepe hat.

Mme. Hiest wore a mauve embroidered dress with large black hat with feather, veiled with mauve tulle. Mme. Desgenettes, a cream hat to match a black and cream crepe dress.

Baroness Pierard wore a handsome cream and dark blue coat and a black hat with feathers. Mme. Dyris was dressed in black and white crepe dress with a black and white crepe hat.

Mme. Hiest wore a mauve embroidered dress with large black hat with feather, veiled with mauve tulle. Mme. Desgenettes, a cream hat to match a black and cream crepe dress.

Baroness Pierard wore a handsome cream and dark blue coat and a black hat with feathers. Mme. Dyris was dressed in black and white crepe dress with a black and white crepe hat.

THE NEW WATERWORKS

Description of the Commodious Building to be Erected at Florence.

The new waterworks building at Florence is to be a beauty. The dimensions of the main building will be 93x73, with a pavilion on the south front twenty-four feet wide, and extending out from the building thirteen feet.

The plan of the main building is rectangular, with the long side facing the south. There are to be three entrances, the main one for visitors on the south side through the pavilion, the other two on the east and west sides.

The general style of the structure will be of white stone, and of the same modern design throughout. The greater portion of the stone-work will be rock faced, with elaborate trimmings and rich and voluptuous carvings.

The front of the main building proper shows two stories of windows of the first with circular heads, and the second square, and with stone transoms passing through both tiers of windows.

The front of the pavilion passes up above the main portion of the building and is three stories in height besides the balustrade and rich and sumptuous dormers, above that. The main entrance through the pavilion is a large arch, which will be richly ornamented, with imposing turrets on the corners, which will run up above the main cornice.

The main entrance will be a hippod roof, while those on the east and west sides, which are also to be ornamented, and thirteen feet in width, in order to receive the mammoth pumps and other ponderous machinery.

The roof will be a hippod roof, extending above the main balustrade to the height of thirty feet. These hips will have copper moulding, while the principal crest will also be of copper.

The main building are octagonal turrets, corbelled out from the upper portion of the first story and terminating above the main balustrade. Above the east and west entrance will be a large arch, the face of which are on the main line of the building.

The entrance wood work will be of hard wood finish in natural colors, richly covered and very ornamental. The roof will be a hippod roof, extending above the main balustrade to the height of thirty feet.

These hips will have copper moulding, while the principal crest will also be of copper. The main building are octagonal turrets, corbelled out from the upper portion of the first story and terminating above the main balustrade.

Above the east and west entrance will be a large arch, the face of which are on the main line of the building. The entrance wood work will be of hard wood finish in natural colors, richly covered and very ornamental.

The roof will be a hippod roof, extending above the main balustrade to the height of thirty feet. These hips will have copper moulding, while the principal crest will also be of copper.

The main building are octagonal turrets, corbelled out from the upper portion of the first story and terminating above the main balustrade. Above the east and west entrance will be a large arch, the face of which are on the main line of the building.

The entrance wood work will be of hard wood finish in natural colors, richly covered and very ornamental. The roof will be a hippod roof, extending above the main balustrade to the height of thirty feet.

These hips will have copper moulding, while the principal crest will also be of copper. The main building are octagonal turrets, corbelled out from the upper portion of the first story and terminating above the main balustrade.

Above the east and west entrance will be a large arch, the face of which are on the main line of the building. The entrance wood work will be of hard wood finish in natural colors, richly covered and very ornamental.

The roof will be a hippod roof, extending above the main balustrade to the height of thirty feet. These hips will have copper moulding, while the principal crest will also be of copper.

The main building are octagonal turrets, corbelled out from the upper portion of the first story and terminating above the main balustrade. Above the east and west entrance will be a large arch, the face of which are on the main line of the building.

The entrance wood work will be of hard wood finish in natural colors, richly covered and very ornamental. The roof will be a hippod roof, extending above the main balustrade to the height of thirty feet.

These hips will have copper moulding, while the principal crest will also be of copper. The main building are octagonal turrets, corbelled out from the upper portion of the first story and terminating above the main balustrade.

Above the east and west entrance will be a large arch, the face of which are on the main line of the building. The entrance wood work will be of hard wood finish in natural colors, richly covered and very ornamental.

The roof will be a hippod roof, extending above the main balustrade to the height of thirty feet. These hips will have copper moulding, while the principal crest will also be of copper.

The main building are octagonal turrets, corbelled out from the upper portion of the first story and terminating above the main balustrade. Above the east and west entrance will be a large arch, the face of which are on the main line of the building.

The entrance wood work will be of hard wood finish in natural colors, richly covered and very ornamental. The roof will be a hippod roof, extending above the main balustrade to the height of thirty feet.

These hips will have copper moulding, while the principal crest will also be of copper. The main building are octagonal turrets, corbelled out from the upper portion of the first story and terminating above the main balustrade.

Above the east and west entrance will be a large arch, the face of which are on the main line of the building. The entrance wood work will be of hard wood finish in natural colors, richly covered and very ornamental.

The roof will be a hippod roof, extending above the main balustrade to the height of thirty feet. These hips will have copper moulding, while the principal crest will also be of copper.

The main building are octagonal turrets, corbelled out from the upper portion of the first story and terminating above the main balustrade. Above the east and west entrance will be a large arch, the face of which are on the main line of the building.

The entrance wood work will be of hard wood finish in natural colors, richly covered and very ornamental. The roof will be a hippod roof, extending above the main balustrade to the height of thirty feet.

These hips will have copper moulding, while the principal crest will also be of copper. The main building are octagonal turrets, corbelled out from the upper portion of the first story and terminating above the main balustrade.

SOUTH OMAHA NEWS

F. W. Foster has returned from a business trip to Iowa.

David Anderson returned from Columbus yesterday, and reports that Platte county has the largest and best crop of corn ever raised; and that Dodge, Colfax, Merrick, Madison and Nance counties will all have a good average crop.

Henry Finney bought a lot on Twenty-first street near J yesterday for $500. Peter Cookrell, the real estate man, has recovered from his illness.

Armour & Co. have a large force of men at work excavating for the foundations of their new packing house. The new school house on the west side is completed.

The artesian well at the pump house is now being drilled to a depth of seventy-eight feet with a bored yesterday through soft sandstone.

Mr. Gould, of the firm of Gould & Rochford, of Omaha, was in the city looking after some buildings he is having put up.

Monroe Randall, a lawyer of Ord, Neb., is visiting Mr. Graham. The preparations for the M. E. church social are nearly completed.

Eight new cottages are in course of erection on the west side. A canvas covered whirl-around is being erected near the city hall.

Mr. Naugant, the Union Pacific agent, has returned from an extended trip to his boyhood's home in Michigan. He retained his sombrero throughout the trip.

J. J. Grubb, an old veteran, is in the city following a medical arrangement representing professions, industries and manufacturers, the entire works and figures of which were made by his young son.

Albright station is becoming quite a village, having added to its buildings in the last thirty days a carriage factory, a hotel, three stores and about fifty residences.

Judge Reuther had before him yesterday four persons charged with the charge of obtaining relief from payment of a fine by giving a fraudulent note.

George Burrows was arrested on the charge of obtaining relief from payment of a fine by giving a fraudulent note. Mike Colleen was fined $1 and costs for being drunk, by Judge Reuther.

Leonidas Barnes and Miss Serena Clark, of this city. The ceremony was performed in the presence of a number of friends.

Isabel Courtney, a boarder at the city hall, fell from a third-story window and suffered a contusion of the shoulder and hip, besides a sprained wrist.

He says he was very warm on reaching his room and sat down in the open window to get out of bed, but fell asleep and knew nothing until he found himself lying on the sidewalk, where he was found by a policeman.

Dr. Arrahatt attended him. He was taken to Joseph's hotel. He had thirty-five dollars, of age, single, and came here from Chicago.

THE PATTERSON-DICKSON CASE. Over Real Estate Valued at Something Like $100,000.

Some days since Frank P. Dickson brought suit against the estate of R. C. Patterson for an account in a real estate deal in this city, amounting to $8,000, a report of which appeared in the Bix, Patterson no longer got his answer filed than he skipped down to Kansas City, and sued Dickson for an accounting in twenty-six acres of land valued at $80,000, one-half of which Patterson claims and alleges that he had sold to Dickson.

He alleges that Dickson had his implicit confidence, and that he allowed him to draw on him for what money was necessary to pay half cash on all their deals, and that he had allowed him to draw on him for what money was necessary to pay half cash on all their deals, and that he had allowed him to draw on him for what money was necessary to pay half cash on all their deals.

He alleges that Dickson had his implicit confidence, and that he allowed him to draw on him for what money was necessary to pay half cash on all their deals, and that he had allowed him to draw on him for what money was necessary to pay half cash on all their deals.

He alleges that Dickson had his implicit confidence, and that he allowed him to draw on him for what money was necessary to pay half cash on all their deals, and that he had allowed him to draw on him for what money was necessary to pay half cash on all their deals.

He alleges that Dickson had his implicit confidence, and that he allowed him to draw on him for what money was necessary to pay half cash on all their deals, and that he had allowed him to draw on him for what money was necessary to pay half cash on all their deals.

He alleges that Dickson had his implicit confidence, and that he allowed him to draw on him for what money was necessary to pay half cash on all their deals, and that he had allowed him to draw on him for what money was necessary to pay half cash on all their deals.

He alleges that Dickson had his implicit confidence, and that he allowed him to draw on him for what money was necessary to pay half cash on all their deals, and that he had allowed him to draw on him for what money was necessary to pay half cash on all their deals.

He alleges that Dickson had his implicit confidence, and that he allowed him to draw on him for what money was necessary to pay half cash on all their deals, and that he had allowed him to draw on him for what money was necessary to pay half cash on all their deals.

He alleges that Dickson had his implicit confidence, and that he allowed him to draw on him for what money was necessary to pay half cash on all their deals, and that he had allowed him to draw on him for what money was necessary to pay half cash on all their deals.

He alleges that Dickson had his implicit confidence, and that he allowed him to draw on him for what money was necessary to pay half cash on all their deals, and that he had allowed him to draw on him for what money was necessary to pay half cash on all their deals.

He alleges that Dickson had his implicit confidence, and that he allowed him to draw on him for what money was necessary to pay half cash on all their deals, and that he had allowed him to draw on him for what money was necessary to pay half cash on all their deals.

He alleges that Dickson had his implicit confidence, and that he allowed him to draw on him for what money was necessary to pay half cash on all their deals, and that he had allowed him to draw on him for what money was necessary to pay half cash on all their deals.

He alleges that Dickson had his implicit confidence, and that he allowed him to draw on him for what money was necessary to pay half cash on all their deals, and that he had allowed him to draw on him for what money was necessary to pay half cash on all their deals.

REGARDING THE UTE.

Gen. Crook Refers His Telegram to General Merritt.

The telegram mentioned in the Bee's telegraph columns of yesterday, as having been sent to Gen. Crook, closes with a suggestion that some assistance should be sent to Fort Duchesne, in the mountains of Colorado. The scene of the outbreak, however, is not located in Gen. Crook's department, although the nearest military post, that of Fort Duchesne, in Utah, is under his command.

While the general has his forces at that point, as also at a number of others, in readiness to move at a very short notice, yet he does feel justified with the information in taking the initiative, especially as he has no knowledge as to the whereabouts of the Indians, and his information as to the damage they have done is indistinct and unsatisfactory.

The general accordingly forwarded a copy of the telegram by wire to General Merritt, commander of the department of the Missouri, who has charge of the Utah territory. The last accounts General Merritt had not been heard from.

General Crook said last evening in conversation with a representative of the Bee that he entertained a very strong opinion of the alleged Ute outbreak in Colorado. The general said that the advice he obtained indicated that Colorado had about fifteen Indians with him, and that he was not sure if they were or any outbreak of formidable numbers among them was improbable.

Peculiar. In the combination proportion, and preparation of its ingredients, Hood's Sarsaparilla accomplishes cures where other preparations entirely fail. Peculiar in its good name at home, which is a mark of strength and purity, and the phenomenal sales it has attained, Hood's Sarsaparilla is the most successful medicine for purifying the blood, giving strength, and creating an appetite.

General Crook said last evening in conversation with a representative of the Bee that he entertained a very strong opinion of the alleged Ute outbreak in Colorado. The general said that the advice he obtained indicated that Colorado had about fifteen Indians with him, and that he was not sure if they were or any outbreak of formidable numbers among them was improbable.

General Crook said last evening in conversation with a representative of the Bee that he entertained a very strong opinion of the alleged Ute outbreak in Colorado. The general said that the advice he obtained indicated that Colorado had about fifteen Indians with him, and that he was not sure if they were or any outbreak of formidable numbers among them was improbable.

General Crook said last evening in conversation with a representative of the Bee that he entertained a very strong opinion of the alleged Ute outbreak in Colorado. The general said that the advice he obtained indicated that Colorado had about fifteen Indians with him, and that he was not sure if they were or any outbreak of formidable numbers among them was improbable.

General Crook said last evening in conversation with a representative of the Bee that he entertained a very strong opinion of the alleged Ute outbreak in Colorado. The general said that the advice he obtained indicated that Colorado had about fifteen Indians with him, and that he was not sure if they were or any outbreak of formidable numbers among them was improbable.

General Crook said last evening in conversation with a representative of the Bee that he entertained a very strong opinion of the alleged Ute outbreak in Colorado. The general said that the advice he obtained indicated that Colorado had about fifteen Indians with him, and that he was not sure if they were or any outbreak of formidable numbers among them was improbable.

General Crook said last evening in conversation with a representative of the Bee that he entertained a very strong opinion of the alleged Ute outbreak in Colorado. The general said that the advice he obtained indicated that Colorado had about fifteen Indians with him, and that he was not sure if they were or any outbreak of formidable numbers among them was improbable.

General Crook said last evening in conversation with a representative of the Bee that he entertained a very strong opinion of the alleged Ute outbreak in Colorado. The general said that the advice he obtained indicated that Colorado had about fifteen Indians with him, and that he was not sure if they were or any outbreak of formidable numbers among them was improbable.

General Crook said last evening in conversation with a representative of the Bee that he entertained a very strong opinion of the alleged Ute outbreak in Colorado. The general said that the advice he obtained indicated that Colorado had about fifteen Indians with him, and that he was not sure if they were or any outbreak of formidable numbers among them was improbable.

General Crook said last evening in conversation with a representative of the Bee that he entertained a very strong opinion of the alleged Ute outbreak in Colorado. The general said that the advice he obtained indicated that Colorado had about fifteen Indians with him, and that he was not sure if they were or any outbreak of formidable numbers among them was improbable.

General Crook said last evening in conversation with a representative of the Bee that he entertained a very strong opinion of the alleged Ute outbreak in Colorado. The general said that the advice he obtained indicated that Colorado had about fifteen Indians with him, and that he was not sure if they were or any outbreak of formidable numbers among them was improbable.

General Crook said last evening in conversation with a representative of the Bee that he entertained a very strong opinion of the alleged Ute outbreak in Colorado. The general said that the advice he obtained indicated that Colorado had about fifteen Indians with him, and that he was not sure if they were or any outbreak of formidable numbers among them was improbable.

General Crook said last evening in conversation with a representative of the Bee that he entertained a very strong opinion of the alleged Ute outbreak in Colorado. The general said that the advice he obtained indicated that Colorado had about fifteen Indians with him, and that he was not sure if they were or any outbreak of formidable numbers among them was improbable.

General Crook said last evening in conversation with a representative of the Bee that he entertained a very strong opinion of the alleged Ute outbreak in Colorado. The general said that the advice he obtained indicated that Colorado had about fifteen Indians with him, and that he was not sure if they were or any outbreak of formidable numbers among them was improbable.

General Crook said last evening in conversation with a representative of the Bee that he entertained a very strong opinion of the alleged Ute outbreak in Colorado. The general said that the advice he obtained indicated that Colorado had about fifteen Indians with him, and that he was not sure if they were or any outbreak of formidable numbers among them was improbable.

General Crook said last evening in conversation with a representative of the Bee that he entertained a very strong opinion of the alleged Ute outbreak in Colorado. The general said that the advice he obtained indicated that Colorado had about fifteen Indians with him, and that he was not sure if they were or any outbreak of formidable numbers among them was improbable.

General Crook said last evening in conversation with a representative of the Bee that he entertained a very strong opinion of the alleged Ute outbreak in Colorado. The general said that the advice he obtained indicated that Colorado had about fifteen Indians with him, and that he was not sure if they were or any outbreak of formidable numbers among them was improbable.

General Crook said last evening in conversation with a representative of the Bee that he entertained a very strong opinion of the alleged Ute outbreak in Colorado. The general said that the advice he obtained indicated that Colorado had about fifteen Indians with him, and that he was not sure if they were or any outbreak of formidable numbers among them was improbable.

General Crook said last evening in conversation with a representative of the Bee that he entertained a very strong opinion of the alleged Ute outbreak in Colorado. The general said that the advice he obtained indicated that Colorado had about fifteen Indians with him, and that he was not sure if they were or any outbreak of formidable numbers among them was improbable.

General Crook said last evening in conversation with a representative of the Bee that he entertained a very strong opinion of the alleged Ute outbreak in Colorado. The general said that the advice he obtained indicated that Colorado had about fifteen Indians with him, and that he was not sure if they were or any outbreak of formidable numbers among them was improbable.

General Crook said last evening in conversation with a representative of the Bee that he entertained a very strong opinion of the alleged Ute outbreak in Colorado. The general said that the advice he obtained indicated that Colorado had about fifteen Indians with him, and that he was not sure if they were or any outbreak of formidable numbers among them was improbable.

General Crook said last evening in conversation with a representative of the Bee that he entertained a very strong opinion of the alleged Ute outbreak in Colorado. The general said that the advice he obtained indicated that Colorado had about fifteen Indians with him, and that he was not sure if they were or any outbreak of formidable numbers among them was improbable.

General Crook said last evening in conversation with a representative of the Bee that he entertained a very strong opinion of the alleged Ute outbreak in Colorado. The general said that the advice he obtained indicated that Colorado had about fifteen Indians with him, and that he was not sure if they were or any outbreak of formidable numbers among them was improbable.

General Crook said last evening in conversation with a representative of the Bee that he entertained a very strong opinion of the alleged Ute outbreak in Colorado. The general said that the advice he obtained indicated that Colorado had about fifteen Indians with him, and that he was not sure if they were or any outbreak of formidable numbers among them was improbable.

General Crook said last evening in conversation with a representative of the Bee that he entertained a very strong opinion of the alleged Ute outbreak in Colorado. The general said that the advice he obtained indicated that Colorado had about fifteen Indians with him, and that he was not sure if they were or any outbreak of formidable numbers among them was improbable.

General Crook said last evening in conversation with a representative of the Bee that he entertained a very strong opinion of the alleged Ute outbreak in Colorado. The general said that the advice he obtained indicated that Colorado had about fifteen Indians with him, and that he was not sure if they were or any outbreak of formidable numbers among them was improbable.

RAILWAY NEWS