PREPARING FOR FALL WORK.

General Manager Holdrege Asks a Rehearing in the Indianola Case-Getting Ready For the State -Militia Encampment.

[FROM THE BEE'S LINCOLN BUREAU.] The time is rapidly approaching when the students will again congregate for the work of the school year at the State university. The date for the commencement of work, the beginning of the first term, is fixed for Thursday, the 15th of September, and the students are expected to reach the city and be ready promptly on the date fixed. During the year last past there were enrolled a total of 381 students and the reports to the officials of the school indicate that the aggregate attendance the coming year will exceed that of the year last past. It should be remembered in the enrollment of the past year there were ninety-six students enrolled in the department of fine arts, and that they came almost exclusively from Lincoln, and in contemplating the enrollment could scarcely be designated as students in the sense that the state contemplates attendants at the institution. The College of Medicine that was connected with the university the past year has been practically abandoned, and the nineteen enrolled in that department will not probably appear on the records again. At the last session of the legislature $15,000 was appro-priated for improvements on the main building and the work is now practically finished. The expenditures have been made in putting new interior foundation walls under the building in place of the old sand stone ones that were put in when the building was first crected. The work was expensive and laborious but to all appearances has been done in a satisfactory manner. The building has been papered and decorated throughout, the halls ceiled and much painting done, all of which tends greatly to the appear-ance of the rooms and removes much of the cheerless aspect that has been noticethe cheeriess aspect that has been notice-able heretofore. Sewerage has been put in the building, the basement laid with concrete and a few additional rooms created for special purposes. The reci-tation rooms have been in a large degree supplied with new and improved seats and the building entire presents an imand the building entire presents an im-proved appearance to the view. In regard to the new buildings little progress has been made and the contracts are not yet awarded. It is possible, however, that the work of putting in the founda-tions may be completed the pesent year.

BOARD OF TRANSPORTATION NOTES. At the board of transportation rooms a letter was received from General Manager Holdrege yesterday asking for a re-hearing in the Indianola case, that was decided in favor of the citizens of the place a few days since. The board will hear what Superintendent Calvert has to say to-day and if the grounds are suf-ficient the case may be re-opened, al-though it is not probable that it will be though it is not probable that it will be. Yesterday was the date set for the hearing of the case brought by the Lincoln Freight bureau against the Union Pacific railway. The absence of the attorney for the Freight bureau from the city caused the postponement of the case, the stipulation of continuance on the part of both sides being tiled yesterday afternoon.

One of the rules of the commission re-quires the railroads to file the record of quires the railroads to the the record of accidents on their individual lines with the board. A short time ago the record of accidents occurring on the B. & M. was published, but owing to the neglect of the Union Pacific, there is no record of accident on that road on file. Mr. Kalish came out here and said he would opened it up again yesterday, but failed, probably not being able to get a clerk. The amount stolen could not be ascertained.

BIG TRANSFER OF PROPERTY. The Sale of the "Falconer" Block

Consummated. It will be remembered that bids were opened some time ago for the purchase of the property on the southwest corner of Fifteenth and Douglas, known as the Falconer block. The highest bidder was Lew Hill, who offered $87,150 for the property, and planked down $5,000 to secure the sale. The ground on which the Falconer property stands was owned by the heirs of Dr. Milan Hunt and Elizabeth Hunt, the board had not acted legally in the his wife, who were well known and pioneer citizens of Omaha. These heirs consist of Mrs. W. A. Richards, now of Buffalo, Wyoming territory, Charles and George Hunt, of Oakland, Cal., and Edith Helen Webb, a minor grand-child of the first place, because there was a transfer of license, which required a new appli-cation, a rew petition and new bonds men. Moreover, there was undue haste, no time being given for protests, etc. The mayor also claims that, although he parties first named, now residing in this city. On the 21st of September, 1877, N. is apparently on the license board, he should not be ignored as far as his pres-B. Falconer leased the ground for ten years, at an annual rental of $500. He erected the fine buildence is concerned at its meetings, when it is well known he is in the city. He says he was not notified when the case of O'Malley was first considered. When he met with the board to nay ing in which he is now doing business, with the privilege of buying the ground at the expiration of the lease, or the owners of the ground buying the build-ing. It is said the owners of the property and all matters connected with the trans fer of the license were properly arranged Mayor Broatch said he had no objection would at that time have sold this prop-erty for $5,000, and think they had a barto signing the transfer and did so willingly. In fact he thought Mr. O'Malley ingain. Mr. Falconer finally concluded to sell his block, and the Hunt heirs pur tended no wrong and as far as he was concerned he had no feeling whatever chased it the other day and sold the entire property to Mr. Hill as aforesaid, about against the applicant. What he wanted understood was that the license board eighteen thousand dollars being netted and all other city boards and officers to each heir. Yesterday the deeds were made out. Mr. Hill paid $82,150, the should do their business formally and legally. He did not thick City Clerk Southard and Mr. Bechel had done so in this instance and in fact had not done so made out. Mr. Hill paid $82,150, the balance of the purchase money, and the deeds were transferred. Mr. Arthur C. Wakeley acted for the Hunts and Mr. A. C. Troup as attorney and guardian, appeared for Miss Webb. It is said that Hon. John A. McShane is interested in the purchase. It is also un-derstood that Mr. Falconer will continue to occurs the building at a rental for in other instances. In one case where the law requires the city clerk to send to the mayor all ordinances passed within forty-eight hours after passage Mr. Southard had not complied with the law. In fact an ordinance was re-ceived yesterday which had been passed to occupy the building at a rental for years in connection with the store he is building on the forty-four feet front he on Tuesday of last week. Clerk Southard being asked about the alleged interview with him published in the Herald yesterday, said he never recollected using any of the expressions owns next south of the present Falconer block. This is an important transfer and shows what attributed to him. He may have said the mayor was a little excited. The solicitors for funds to aid in decorthe mayor and could not find him and as ating the buildings and streets of the city Mr. O'Malley claimed it was Saturday during the G. A. Most of these new places are on the Central City line northvest, the new stations on the line being Archer, Palmer, Cushing, Brayton, Beifast and Greeley Center. A coal tariff sheet on the B. & M. to points west of Omaha, that took effect August 15, has been filed with the com-mission. This makes the rate from Omaha on hard and soft coal 6 cents per 100, the rate from Chicago and common points to the river being a fraction over 16 cents. If Lincoln had a pro rata mileage rate on coal from Chicago it would make the rate to this point about 17 cents instead of 22 cents under the added local rate. The State Journal will announce, however, to the Lincoln pubhe that the road, in taking 5 cents per 100 out of the pockets of Lincoln consumers, has done all that the city could ask it to do and acceded to all requests for reductions.

Summer F. Atkin.

Sumner F. Atkins, more familiarly known as "Sam" died at his room No. 1311 Davenport street yesterday of typhoid fever after an illness of two weeks. The deceased was one of the oldest mechanics connected with the Union Pacific shops, having entered the company's employ about sixteen years ago. For some time he has been foreman of the wheel department and was very popular with his associates both within and without the railway employ. He was forty-two years of age, was a bachelor and leaves a mother and married sister in Dixon, 111., as his only bereaved relatives. The deceased had been parti-cularly unfortunate in railroad accidents. Some years ago he lost a leg while rail-roading in Illinois and since coming here he suffered a loss of a hand. He was a prominent member of Omaha lodge No. 2 1. O. O. F. and of the A. O. U. W. of this city.
