CHARITIES AND CORRECTIONS.

The Delegates Arriving-The Conference's Object Stated by Its Officers.

Hon. H. H. Giles, president of the National Conference of Charities and Corrections, Miss Ella A. Giles, his daughter, Prof. O. A. Wright, secretary of the Wisconsin state board of charities, and other delegates to the conference, are in the city. President Giles is a fine, dignified looking gentleman of about three score years, whose appearance indicates benevolence and firmness. For a number of terms he served as state senator inWisconsin, and used his influence to advance the good work in which he is en-gaged. As a worker for the cause of charities and corrections he has labored hard for seventeen years. To a BEE re-hard for seventeen years. To a BEE re-porter he stated: "Fifteen years ago, in Chicago, this work was commenced. There were but fourteen present, one being a lady, and it was difficult to place the matter in effective working order, but a probable of the state of resolution was finally drawn up denounc-ing the county jails of Illinois, Wisconsin and Michigan as nurseries of crime. Four of the original promoters of the system will be present at this conference.

"Great progress has been made in the work and the condition of those incarwork and the condition of those incar-cerated for crime has been much im-proved, while the methods of dispensing charities have been altogether re-modelled, the idea now being promi-nently recognized that the needy classes should be encouraged to help themselves rather than solicit aid. To this end pro-vision for work has been made where the vision for work has been made where the applicants are able to labor. Foreign applicants are able to labor. Foreign emigration is a prominent subject in the public mind, especially in the east, and must be dealt with. Shipping insane for-eign paupers to the United States is especially deserving of our considera-tion. This matter was presented at St. Paul last year. One other question to be discussed is the "Advancement of the African and Indian races. Those com-African and Indian races. Those comprising the conference are members and officers of the various state board of charities and corrections as well rs interested in the best methods to treat the criminal and pauper classes. As to the criminal classes we believe the first consideration should be the reformation or punishment of the criminal. We have views as to the insane not generally accepted, but which will be when understood thorougly. The hopelessly insane should be placed in state institutions. There will be many subjects discussed and papers read."

To-morrow evening the conference will be held in exposition hall. Governor Thayer, Mayor Broatch, President Max Meyer, of the board of trade, John M. Thurston, J. M. Woolworth and ex-Governor Alvin Saunders will deliver addresses of welcome. Responses will be made by President Giles, Frank B. Sanborn, of Massachusetts and Fred H. Wines, of Springfield, Ill. The conference promises to be largely attended and productive of much practical good in improving upon the many advanced schemes already devised to promote the objects involved. The ma-jority of the delegates will arrive to-day, as it is understood that all the eastern delegates collected at Chicago and will

SOUTH OMAHA NOTES.

The city conncil meets to-night. Frank Desmore has returned from a trip to Chicago. Mrs. Ella Sloane will depart Saturday to join her husband at Colfax Springs, Iowa.

A very enjoyable dance was given Tuesday night at the residence of Mr. Riley, wait, even if it should happen that the west going train is behind time. One morning No. 21 was not into Cheyenne at 6:10, and, under orders of his conductor, the engineer of No. 24 pulled out. About three miles east of Cheyenne the two trains met, but, fortunately, were stopped before they ran into each other. The en-gineer and conductor of 24 were discharged. T. L. Bowman, of Le Mars, right of way agent of the Chicago & Northwest-ern road, is at the Paxton.

P. P. Shelby, so long and favorably connected with the Union Pacific and one of Omaha's favorite citizens, left for Sait Lake last evening.

One of the stations on the new branch of the B. & M. west of Schuyler has been named Cushing, after Mr. R. C. Cushing, of the railroad contracting firm of Cushing & Mallory, of this city.

On Monday next the Chicago & Northwestern road will commence to lay iron upon its graded line between Wahoo and Schuyler a distance of thirty miles. The road is already bridged and the work will be pushed rapidly to completion, by the contractors, Cushing & Mallory.

A Mysterious Trunk.

The trunk of a vender of a patent medicine called the "Chinese Secret" was the cause of a sensation at the B.& M. depot Tuesday evening. The trunk emitted a most peculiar smell. Charley Hamelius, the baggageman, was satisfied that it contained a dead body, and with the horrid visions of a Maxwelt-Preller tragedy dancing through his brain he called Ticket Agent Oleson and other depot dignitaries who, after each in turn taking a whiff at the trunk, gravely con-firmed Hamelius' suspicions; the city physician, Dr. Ralph, and other gentlemen of medical repute were summoned and they, too, pronounced the odor as one familiar to them in the dissecting room. The chief of police was summoned and word sent to the coroner to come and take charge of the dead body. The chief accompanied by two or three officers appeared and orders were given to watch for the coming of the owners. A few minutes later the innocent owner came rushing into the baggage room to see about his check, when he was sternly confronted by the chief, who apprised him of the discovery of the dead man, and ordered him to open the trunk. Despite the explanations of the medicine man, he was finally forced to comply. The ghastiy news had spread and a large crowd had gathand spread and a large crowd had gath-ered. With bated breath they watched the turning of the key in the trunk and the raising of the lid. Nothing could be seen but a large board fitting into the top which completely hid the contents. Amid the deathlike silence the chief stepped forward and lifted the board, when there was disclosed not the way when there was disclosed, not the man-gled trunk and limbs of a dead man, but atrunk full of neatly labeled packages.

The Cold Spell.

About 11 o'clock yesterday the cold weather had reached its lowest point, and the temperature began to rise. According to the signal service officers this was not a cold wave, but what they term a cold spell. A cold wave only comes when the thermometer has already reached 45 degrees and suddenly descends 15 degrees more in a short period of time. Yesterday morning the min-imum was 48 degrees at 6 clock. Tuesday morning at the same hour it was 50 degrees. It appeared colder because it was cloudy. The pres-ent cold spell started in north western Manitoba, thence into northwestern Montana where the Omaha office first discovered it. It then descended southeasterly covered a belt descended southeasterly, covered a belt of country extending from Minnesota to Wyoming. Yesterday morning it first reached St. Louis, and at 6 a. m. yesterday the temperature began raising in Mon-tana. At 60'clock yesterday morning the thermometer reached thirty-eight degrees Moorhead, at Minn., and there were light frosts. The indication for to-day in Brownell Hall. It seems that in August, 1886, Mrs. Daniel Van Etten purchased a bill of goods from one Abra-hams, a Farnam street furniture dealer, for $159. Notes were given for payment with a chattel for security. A sec-ond bill of goods was purchased with like bonds. Then Mrs. Yan Etten procured other articles, paying in the meantime certain installments. A few meantime certain installments. A few days ago her husband claimed that the first mortgage was paid in full and that the money had not been applied to the proper credit. He wanted the mortgage cancelled and brought suit against Abra-hams before Justice Crawford of the Seventh ward. A change of venue was taken to Justice Read of the Third ward. The case came on for trial before the lat-The case came on for trial before the lat-ter official and after the plaintiff's case and part of the defendant's case had been heard, Mr. Van Etten had the case dismissed without prejudice. Immediately afterwards he commenced suit on be-half of his wife for the same cause, of action before Judge Crawford. Abra hams, the defendant, became angry and replevined the goods. John Chesterlield King, the constable, served the papers. He was met by Michael Donahoe, a deputized constable from Judge Crawford's court, who had order of arrest for Abra-hams, et al. Then ensued a constabulary war in which King came out victorious. The goods were taken and the Abraham

The goods were taken and the Abraham party was taken before Judge Read. Then came Van Etten and demanded they be taken before Judge Crawford. This Judge Reed refused to do and the prisoners were discharged. Subse-quently Mr. Van Etten commenced a re-playin wit on his own babalf for the furplevin suit on his own behalf for the furniture, but it is doubtful it he will find the property. Altogether this is the labyrinthine legal case ever known in these parts.

The State Grange.

The State Grange, through its president, has applied for and been accorded a prominent place on the fair grounds for a headquarters tent. The place will be a handy and welcome center for the members of the body while in attendance at the fair. The Fair association has issued complimentary season tickets to all the clergymen residing in the city, and hopes that the tickets will be put to daily use. The freedom of the grounds has also been extended to the coming veteran volunteer fireman of New York city, who will spend three days here during fair week. The invitation has been accepted in behalf of the visitors by the Omaha association of veteran volunteer fireman but no day has been chosen for the visit There will be no public demonstration in connection with the affair.

NEARLY DONE.

The carpenters and painters who have for some weeks past had possession of our upper floors, are about finished, and we are happy to _ state we shall in the near future, open all our floors for business. The elegant passenger elevator we are now putting in will make access to the upper floors easy. The tremendous increase in our business since we opened, has induced us to make preparations for the coming season on a gigantic scale. We are now having manufactured, and will soon have on exhibition, the handsomest and richest lines of Fall and Winter goods, and when everything is ready, we shall show a stock of mens' and boys' clothing second to none in the country.

In addition to our clothing and furnishing goods, we shall, in a few days, open a complete line of hats. This department will occupy the rear of the second floor, and will contain a larger stock than any hat house in the city. As the goods will be all new, we shall only show the latest styles, and we shall sell them with the same low margin of profit as we do all our other goods.

RAILROAD MATTERS.

COMMISSIONER FAITHORN. J. N. Faithorn, chairman of the West-ern Freight bureau; C. M. Wicker, traffic manager of the Chicago & Northwestern road, and George L. Garman, of the Western Railroad Weighing association arrived in town yesterday, and im-mediately sought President Potter and Mr. Munroe, of the Union Pacific, and several of the officials of the B. & M., and with them drove to the stock yards. They have come to consider one of the agreements recently made with shippers of live stock from this point. One of the results of the meeting will be the shipping of stock by weight instead of by the carload as heretofore, an agreement which it is claimed gave the shipper an advantage over which the roads have been uneasy, especially since the increasing of the length of the cars to twentysix and thirty-four feet.

A circular was issued yesterday by Presi dent Potter, giving Mr. Munroe, general freight agent, jurisdiction over all the lines of the Union Pacific.

HOW THE RUMOR AROSE.

Mr. Dickinson, general superintendent of the Union Pacific, by way of explana-tion of the possible origin of the rumor of a feeling existing between himself and the conductors of the road, says that it may be ascribed to the fact that a conductor and engineer were discharged not long since for a reckless disobedience of orders. They each took $1 and handed $1 back to him and then skipped. Two of the men are known to be hard cases, having just completed a sentence of ninety days each in the county juil. One of the others, who is unknown, was captured about 10 o'clock.

Disputed Title to Furniture.

The Co-operative Land and Lot company claims that there is a mistake in the statement in a morning paper in reference to furniture purchased by them from a woman on Davenport street. Hill & Young, not Dewey & Stone, had a claim on the furniture and the company succeeded in securing the property after some slight trouble, occasioned by the woman's failure to inform them of the lien on the goods.
