Attracting Attention.

The wonderful growth of Omaha is attracting attention all over the country, and strangers are beginning to pour in from all directions. When they see the magnificent structures in course of erection and the hundred of dwellings being built in all parts of the city, the miles of new street railways, the immense amount of paving going forward, they wonder how it is possible for any one to think that Omaha's real estate boom is at an end. Now is the time to make purchases. Sixty days from now, when hundreds of thousands of dollars of eastern capital has been invested in Omaha property, there will be considerable of an advance in every direction. We are prepared to show intending purchasers great bargains. Our advice and assistance is at the service of all whether they purchase through us or not. Call and see us. C. E. MAYNE.

Not the Slightest Clue. Perry Selden, an old Omaha resident, son of the late O. B. Selden, arrived here yesterday. He has been for some time a teacher at the Yankton agency. Immediately on the news being received of his father's death he went to Manville, Wyo. Since then he has remained there investigating the cause of his father's murder. He said on reaching the city yesterday that there was not the slightest clue.

The character of Mr. Cotton is a guarantee of the kind of business he will conduct. Being a thorough business man and posted in the coal business, he can and will guarantee to his customers the best article to be had at the most reasonable price consistent with first-class goods. Call at his office, 813 North 16th street.

Wanted, More and Larger Cars. There is a great deal of dissatisfaction entertained by residents along South Thirteenth street over the lack of accommodation furnished them by the City Horse railway company in going to town and returning home. The cars used are the smallest in the service and are always full, so much so that frequently walking is resorted to in order to reach either place. Mr. Balch, of the Barker house, says it is often impossible for his guests to ride to town, while on Sunday people who wish to take an airing become so packed in the cars that they are unable either walk there or suffer being packed into little boxes like sardines.

A Canteen at Fort Omaha. There was a meeting of the officers of the several companies at Fort Omaha a few nights ago at which it was resolved to establish a post "canteen," such as is now in vogue in Fort Russell and several other places. Three of the captains were appointed to make the necessary arrangements for the opening of the place. The canteen will be located in the building formerly used as a tinshop, near the guard house, which is now undergoing the necessary repairs. When in readiness the "canteen" will dispose of beer, light wines and cigars, and enable the soldiers to enjoy a game of billiards and pool at low figures. The profits of the "canteen" will be applied to furnishing the messes of the companies with luxuries which now seldom find their way there.

Omaha's Hival. If South Omaha was a little further away from Omaha she would be our rival, but as it is it forms a part of our great city and all the improvements and buildings in South Omaha add to our own prosperity and enhance the value of every piece of property in Omaha. Our citizens cannot realize the immense amount of work going on in South Omaha; go down there and see packing houses, storage warehouses, stores, dwelling, etc., being built on every hand—over 1,000 men and 200 teams are employed grading streets. It will pay any one that has not visited the "packing center" of the west lately to go there and take a look—try it—and when you see what a city South Omaha is to-day, imagine if you can, what it will be two years hence. Then get a plat showing the unsold lots with prices, and compare with the prices of lots in any city of one-half the population and prospects, and see how cheap they are. We are sole agents for the South Omaha Land company and have bargains ready in houses, storage warehouses, stores, dwelling, etc., arriving at N. I. D. Solomon's stock farm, says it is often impossible for his guests to ride to town, while on Sunday people who wish to take an airing become so packed in the cars that they are unable either walk there or suffer being packed into little boxes like sardines.

The County Attorney Reports for the January and May Sittings. OMAHA, Neb., August 27, 1887.—County Commissioners Douglas county—Gentlemen: Herewith I submit to you my report of all criminal cases disposed of during the January and May terms of the district court.

The report does not include many cases tried in the police and justices' courts, which have been almost innumerable, requiring the daily attendance of either myself or my assistant.

I have, as will be seen from the itemized list accompanying this, tried thirty-seven (37) cases of which twenty-nine (29) have been found guilty. Of this number thirteen (13) have been sent to the penitentiary, eight (8) have received jail sentences and eight children sent to the reform school. Also eight (8) have been acquitted and I have nolleed thirteen cases.

Two persons, John Loomis and Herman Mittman, charged with crimes, have fled and their bail has been forfeited. John Loomis' bail has been paid to the clerk of the court, amounting to $900, and I shall begin suit against the bondsmen of Mittman before the next term of the court.

The crimes for which the parties were informed against are as follows: Shooting with intent to kill..... 11 Robbery..... 3 Disorderly persons (at least)..... 2 Assault and battery..... 2 Homicide..... 3 Destruction of property..... 1 Adultery..... 1 Arson..... 1 Receiving bribe..... 1

The judges who have tried the criminal cases, the sheriff and clerk have been of great assistance to me in the performance of my duties by aiding me in obtaining speedy trials and sentences, thereby greatly lessening the expense to the county. Yours most respectfully,

E. W. SIMKRAL, County Attorney.

A Stranger's Opinion. Dr. H. E. Palmer from Litchfield, Conn., has been in the city several weeks, and has decided to locate here. He thinks Omaha is the best city of its size in the United States. He says he has heard a great deal about Omaha and expected to see a lively city, but he was amazed to find such an immense amount of building, and other improvements going forward when all the eastern cities have been comparatively quiet the past season. He thinks Omaha will have a population of 500,000 in ten years.
