SOME BRILLIANT EVENTS

Promised for the coming social season in Omaha. THE BELLE-LOWE NUPTIALS. Events of the past week—Some Pleasant Gatherings—News and Gossip of a Social Nature. Society in Omaha. Another week has rolled around and still society circles maintain their unruffled calm, but, as before intimated, under the surface are all the indications of an early and vigorous resuscitation. The days are growing shorter, and the monotony of the eciaade is heard the night through, proclaiming in unmistakable language that the summer time is over, and the hoary winter, with his snow and icy breath is about to be ushered in. Then begins the brilliant round of indoor festivities, then opens up the season of weddings, and balls, and parties, the season of flirtation, of love-making and conquest. The daily telegraph tells of the emptying of the seaside hotels, and every incoming steamer brings home its delegation of tourists from abroad. Soon all will be home again, and then society events will follow thick and fast. The only event of prominence during the past week was the brilliant nuptials of Mr. William Bell, of London, England, and Miss Sallie H. Lowe, the beautiful daughter of General W. W. Lowe, of this city. This was an occasion of extraordinary splendor, and a fit inauguration of the gay season that is shortly to follow. A little bird has whispered to the Bee that this recherché wedding is to have its counterpart within the next thirty days, that another of the fairest of the fair is to be led to the altar by one of the city's most eligible catches and exemplary young business men. But this little feathered friend has enjoined secrecy, and the Bee dare not violate its wishes. Still further intelligence on the subject will be shortly forthcoming. For the time intervening the belles and beaux can be employed in guessing at who the happy couple are.

mond "necklace and earrings added their charm to the beauty of the lovely bride. The bridesmaids, all attired in white tulle with diamonds and tiarlet roses, were the Misses Irene P. Lowe, Kittie Lowe, and Addie Babcock. The groom was attended by Mr. John N. Merrill, of Boston; Harry F. Gow, of Duluth, Canada, and Jesse Lowe, of Omaha. Messrs. Frank P. Pollard and Paul Volkmann were the ushers. A reception was given after the ceremony in the dining hall, followed during the afternoon by a delightful social and musical treat. Among the many costly gifts were a diamond necklace from the bride's parents and a diamond crest from the groom. The bride is too well known in Omaha to need introduction. Her many estimable traits of character have endeared her to many friends who will heartily congratulate her husband and wish for both a future of prosperity and happiness. The groom is the son of a prominent manufacturer of Canada. Friday evening Mr. and Mrs. Bell left for Chicago, after remaining there a few days they will go to Guelph, Can., and visit the parents of the groom. They will then leave for San Francisco, remaining one day on their journey, and from the Pacific coast they will go to Australia, where they will remain during the winter months. Then they will go to London, Eng., which is to be their future home, and to which the wedding of many friends will follow them. THURSDAY MORNING Mrs. Modjeska left for Colorado Springs, where she will meet her company and commence rehearsals for the coming season. She will remain there two weeks, and then open at Denver. Her repertoire will consist of Shakespearean characters, "Camille" and "Marie Stuart." It was intended to have in her repertoire this season "The Chouans," but owing to the large amount of scenery required in its production, and the effect of the interstate commerce law on freight, the project has been abandoned. TUESDAY EVENING Mr. Frank Green of the Herald business department was married to Miss Nellie Corcoran, the Rev. C. W. Savige, pastor of the Seward street M. E. church, performing the ceremony, and the effect of the interstate commerce law on freight, the project has been abandoned.

with a cornet solo. The band will give a grand selection from Lucia di Lammermoor." Adolph Glose will give a piano solo, "Valse de Juliet," and Miss Bertha will make her first appearance as the vocalist in the "Stabat Mater," which will be played by the band. One of Liszt's Hungarian rhapsodies and "General Boulanger's" en revenant de la Baye," by Wiegand, will next be essayed by the celebrated band. W. Griffin and W. Lacroix will play a cornet and trombone duet. Miss Pierce will sing "The Nightingale," by Delibes, during the evening, and the concert will conclude with a grand fantasia, including melodies from England, Scotland and Ireland. The affair will be a decidedly pleasant one, and in perfect harmony with the other undertakings of the season. A PLEASANT surprise was accorded Mr. J. P. Shipman at his home Twenty-fifth and Patrick avenue on Friday evening. A merry company of well-wishers, including a possession of his residence and held high carnival until an early hour Saturday morning. The occasion was in commemoration of Mr. Shipman's birthday. Elegant refreshments were served and a very pleasant evening enjoyed. Among those present were Miss Sadie Kelley and Mr. Williams, Miss Martin and Mr. McMullen, Miss Birdie Matney and Mr. Louis Lattfeld, Miss Nellie Lanagan and Mr. Arnold, Mrs. Nite, Mr. Burkholder, Mr. Bert Nite. WHILE Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Kelley were out for a ride Thursday evening their pleasant home at 6234 South Eighteenth street was invaded by a party of young friends, who had come to help them celebrate the first anniversary of their wedding day. The guests were as follows: Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Harte, Messrs. H. G. Harte, O. A. Bohne, L. Lindley, L. Eyestone, A. M. Heintzel, J. Deverly, J. Calahan, B. W. Smith, E. Sherman, W. C. Kerr, and the Misses D. K. Keiuit, O. Sampson, M. Bright, M. Kendrick, E. Altstadt, J. Beverly, L. L. and D. Kelley. A most enjoyable time was spent, and the guests were the recipients of many well wishes. QUITE A party of Omahans, who have been spending the summer at the principal places of resort on the Atlantic coast, have returned. The party is composed of Mr. and Mrs. H. K. Burkot, Mr. Joseph M. Haskell and Miss Annie E. Haskell. The party report a most pleasant time.

George Miner, Allen Marsh, Donald Ponda, Jay Boyd, Wood Allen, Ralph Richardson, Will Cowin, Walter M. Met, Samuel Burns, Fred Schmidt, Willie Raddin, Paul Burley,

furnished some excellent music and the time was spent most pleasantly. CARDS are out for the marriage of Miss Emma Alstadt, daughter of William Alstadt of this city, to Mr. F. H. Hascall, cashier in the Pullman ticket office at Ogden, Utah. The ceremony will be performed on Wednesday, September 14, and the reception will take place at the residence of the bride's parents, No. 829 South Sixteenth street, from 4 to 7 p. m. A VERY pleasant evening was spent Wednesday by the members of the Hillside congregational church at the residence of Mr. C. H. Rich, publisher of the South Omaha Stockman. A VERY interesting feature of the Franko concert was the duo for piano and violin played by Master Charles and Daisy and Higgins, both pupils of Mr. Franko. Master Charles handled his instrument very gracefully and skillfully for one of his age and his younger sister seconded him on the piano with all the dignity of an accomplished concert player. Both are very promising little musicians. TUESDAY EVENING a pleasant party was given on Senator Anderson's beautiful grounds, an event which was participated in by a number of the young folks, under the auspices of the "As You Like It Tennis Club." The affair was termed a "barn party" and in every way it was heartily enjoyed by all who participated. touches on a pair of very fine drawings of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Armstrong. Mr. Floris Reusis, an artist from St. Louis, is located in the city. A crayon drawing of Mrs. W. DeForest Saxo has just left his easel and is a beautiful and life-like piece of work. Mrs. Munnigh is crowded with scholars and orders in her cozy studio in the Faxon building. Some of her pupils are making remarkable progress. A beautiful little painting of oranges, and a flower study, of flowers arranged in an old and beautiful vase, both painted from nature, are very fine. A number of neat and elegantly finished crayon portraits have just left her easel. NICHOLS' CHECK. A Substantial $1,000 Check Belonging to a Spook. A certified check for $1,000, belonging to the mysterious Mr. Nichol, is in the archives of the board of public works waiting for its owner to prove identity and claim property. It will be remembered that some weeks ago bids for the city hall superstructure were opened. A deposit of $1,000 as a guarantee of good faith was required to accompany each bid. Among the bidders were the Brennan Bros. and Nichol. In the kindness of their hearts the Brennan brothers gave their check certified as security to accompany the bids. A strange coincidence in the bids of both were mistakes in addition of $32,000 and $40,000 respectively. A little trick was apparent in the manner in which the bids were made. It has been decided to readvertise the bids and Nichol's appearance is anxiously awaited to see how he will handle the situation. The gentleman of straw acted throughout, that he will be gladly welcomed when he turns up. Personal. Miss Ida Pundt has returned from Kansas City. Mrs. M. J. Quiggle has returned from Illinois. Miss Laura Crouch is in Louisville, Kentucky. Dean and Mrs. Gardner have returned from the mountains. Mr. and Mrs. M. G. McCoon left for Los Angeles Wednesday. Messrs. Green and Marion Crouse have returned from the seaside. Mrs. C. A. Parrotte and Mrs. C. Wells have returned from Colorado Springs. Mrs. Munnigh, Omaha's genial artist, has returned from a pleasant trip to Colorado. Mrs. J. C. McAlvin has returned from a pleasant visit to her old home in Seymour, Ind. Mrs. General Crook left Wednesday for the east. She will spend several weeks at her old home in Virginia. Miss Olive Oakley and Miss Nellie Baum of Lincoln, are visiting Miss Lulu Ballantine, No. 1618 Webster street. Mrs. Zeigler of Chicago and Mrs. Murphy of Terre Haute, Ind., are visiting Mrs. W. Martin on Twenty-second street. Hon. A. H. Baker, of Grand Island, one of the pioneer citizens of Omaha, was in the city on his way to St. Louis to place his son in college in that city. Robert Harris and family left last evening for Los Angeles, Cal., where it is thought the genial climate of America's Italy will improve Mrs. Harris' declining health. Art Notes. Miss Mellona Butterfield has opened a studio in the board of commerce. She is a new addition to the art circles of Omaha. Conrad Heyd is now in Milwaukee. Among the portraits he has on hand is a life-size, full length, of the late Alexander Mitchell. Albert Rothery is busily engaged with portraits. He has lately finished a beautiful and life-like drawing of Mr. O. S. Pettis, and is putting the finishing

GOOD OR BAD PAY. The Commission Houses Organizing a Protective Association. For some time past a movement has been on foot among the commission merchants of this city to organize themselves in a body to protect their business from losses arising from the failures of wholesale grocery firms and others with whom they carry on their business on a "thin" and "credit" basis. A meeting was called for last evening and pursuant to the call the representatives of eighteen firms met at 4 o'clock at Wiedeman & Co.'s store on Twelfth street. Among the firms represented were: Branch & Co.; Froeman & Co.; Kirschbaum & Sons; Holla & Kiersch; Riddell & Hiddell; C. W. Bell & Co.; Whitely & Co.; C. C. Crouse; J. C. Brown; and Williams, Schroder & Co.; Iocco Bros.; C. Ross; D. Hurley; Wiedeman & Co. and Furvia. David Williams was selected as chairman, and O. J. McCambidge secretary. A motion was made that all commission men handling grocery produce, including butter, eggs, cranberries, vegetables, fruit, etc., should request from all their patrons, excepting no one, a settlement every Monday or as soon after as possible, and that all bills upon a note not regarded as good pay be refused goods. Further discussions were indulged in, and on motion the chairman appointed a committee of Branch, Peveck & Riddell as a committee to draft rules to be presented at the next meeting. The meeting then adjourned until the first of October, when the organization is satisfactorily effected the new rules will go into effect October 1. AMUSEMENTS. CLOSE OF THE FAIRBOUR MATCH. In two nights and a matinee, closing last evening, Messrs. Evans & Hoy have again given Omaha the pleasure of witnessing a "Parlor Match." Yesterday's notice concerning Hoy & Hardy with the play was an error which is being corrected by a retraction with regrets for its occurrence. Messrs. Evans & Hoy, Miss Minnie and the rest of their people are always welcome in Omaha. MISTRESS AT BOYD'S. McIntyre & Heath's minstrels, an organization well known to our readers, are at Boyd's opera house to-morrow night. McIntyre & Heath's name is almost a household word from north to south, east to west. A reputation they have gained by their splendid performances, their truth to the public and their gentlemanly deportment. The people feel a personal interest in them and when their company is announced to appear here, the public needs no further guarantee of a good show. Their engagement is for three nights. FRANK MAYO. Mayo is best known, perhaps, by his charming impersonation of Davy Crockett, a creation that brought him both fame and fortune, but he determined to present something to the public more worthy of his abilities as an actor, and finally, in conjunction with a collaboration of his own, he has produced "The Royal Guard," a play that will be given at Boyd's opera house on Thursday, and Saturday nights. "The Royal Guard," another of Mr. Mayo's successful plays, will be given on Friday evening and at the Saturday matinee. Public Works. At its session yesterday afternoon the board of public works appointed Morris Sullivan to the position of sewer inspector. The board passed the following estimates: Paving, $10,222; curbing, $10,980.15; grading, $11,780.25 and sewer, $12,497. The amount assessed for paving includes $14,000 allowed the Barber Asphalt company for the new pavement recently put down on Davenport street. Marriage Licenses. Judge McCulloch yesterday issued the following marriage licenses: John Samuelson, Stromberg, Neb., 36; Kate Olson, Omaha, 33; Frank Heitler, Omaha, 33; Louis J. B. Fielder, Omaha, 33.
