Central City's Solld Growth. CENTRAL CITY, Neb., Sept. 1 .- [Correspondence of the BEE.] -- Central City is having quite a building boom this season and it is nearly all on a substantial order. Berryman, Patterson & Co. are putting up a two-story brick, 41x80, to be used for their galvanized cornice works a new branch they are adding to their growing trade. This makes a solid block of brick on Broad street. Dr. O. L. Barton and E. B. Aldrich are building each fine two-story brick buildings, 22x80, and side by side on Broad street. These are all of latest style and fitted out with gas and all modern improvements. The Metcalf Milling company is preparing to start a cracker factory here and compete for the Nebraska and western cracker trade. Our increased railway facilities make Central City a splendid

Mr. P. H. Rice, of Chicago, and Captain Erwin, of Payette, Idaho, expect to feed about 3,000 head of cattle here this season and have half of them here now. They are both men of wealth and will be of great benefit to the city and country around. There are prospects for the feeding of about 7,000 head of cattle and 15,000 head of sheep here this coming winter. This will make good demand for hay and grain, but we have plenty of both and to spare.

point for jobbing trade.

The late rains have helped corn to a considerable extent and we will proba-bly have three-quarters of a crop. There is a large increase in acreage. Corn is being contracted in the field for future delivery at 25 cents per bushel. Very little grain is coming into market and farmers seem to be holding back for better prices.

Central City has a postoffice which, for beauty, location and room, will compare with the finest. Colonel Logue has moved the postoffice into the new brick of James Stevens, where he has fixed up as neat and trim as a new ship. The Farmers' State bank have moved into their new and beautiful brick building and now have as fine a bank as you will find west nave as fine a bank as you will find west of Omaha. The city council has condemned the old wooden row known as the Flat-iron block and the buildings will be moved at once, leaving an open court at the junction of Broad street and Stitzer avenue and very much improving the looks of the city.

Central City is agitating waterworks and electric lights, with a good prospect of securing both. These improvements are what are greatly needed and our wide-awake, energette business men see the advantage they will be to us and are taking hold with a will. The board of has done a vast amount of good here in working up new enterprises and pushing improvements, and is meeting with strong co-operation from the city courci, backed by our popular and enterprising mayor, William Patterson.

The Methodist college is in a flourish-ing condition, and the faculty expect to start the fall term with over 100 students. Some parties came to town last week and started a saloon, and about the first evidence was the stream of men going in and out. The marshal keeper, and a compromise was effected by releasing the prisoner upon his promise to close up and leave town, which he did, and the joy of the saloon wishers was of short duration.

Stockham Notes. STOCKHAM, Neb., Sept. 1.—[Correspondence of the BEE.]—This place has been a postoffice and country store for many years. Now it is on the way to become a town, and one of the best on the line. It is on the point where the Northwestern crosses the West Blue. A siding has been graded and the bridge and track men are expected in a short time. The town site was surveyed a few weeks ago, and already about a dozen houses are under construction. With the advent of the tract increased, activity may be expected. It has a large scope of excellent country tributary to it. Crops, especially corn, are good. Flax is suffering on account of wet weather. To those who saved it in season this has been one of the most profitable crops of the year. The yield has been good, and prices have ranged from 75c to 85c. A great many, however, left the flax on the field, expecting to haul directly to the machine. In the meantime a rainy season has set in, which seriously interferes son has set in, which seriously interferes with this arrangement. It has begun to grow on the fields, and considerable loss must result. ust result.

During a thunder shower recently barn and some stock, belonging to Mr. Nichols were struck by lightning and de-stroyed, as also stock for various other parties.

The rain the first of the week was the heaviest remembered for a long time, the water in the Blue being higher than it has been for two years. The fresh embankments along the Northwestern grade were washed out considerably in various places. Mr. Cameron, an old sottler, lost a valuable mare on Monday. Mr. Fralish has his grain office under way. Mr. Joseph Stockham, after whom the town was named, is preparing to he town was named, is preparing to

Gage County Republican Convention. BEATRICE, Neb., Sept. 4 .- [Correspondence of the BEE. |-The republican county convention, held Saturday, resulted in the nomination of the following ticket: Cierk, George E. Emery; register of deeds, J. E. Hays; clerk of district court, F. H. Holt; sheriff, E. F. Davis; treasurer, E. J. Roderick; coroner, Dr. F. M. Somers; superintendent of schools, Miss Maria Upson; surveyor, Joseph

The delegates to the judicial convention were instructed for "Ginral" L. W. Colby, he of somewhat unsavory reputation, both political and otherwise, for district judge. His competitor was Hon

N. K. Riggs.
Colby won the victory, but how? To say by trickery and the basest lying is drawing it mildly. The nefarious methods of Church Howe and "Ginral" Colby ods of Church Howe and "Ginral" Colby at the primaries and convention of last year, and the terrible but merited rebuke at the polls are yet fresh in the minds of all. These acts, however, are almost universally regarded as saintly, compared with the chicanery by which the people were robbed of a choice of nominees.

The above ticket, with the exception of one or two minor offices, was put up by Colby and especially in his interests. The primaries were run by him and his hirelings wherever possible. In other cases by some of the nominees and other candidates, afterward sold out, who though good men in many respects, allowed their intense itching for office to get the better of their manhood and independence so far as to induce them to listen to the fair and seductive promises of the oily and smooth-tongued Coloy, fear. For with all his faults, Colby is energetic and scruples not at any means to revenge himself upon those who hesitate to obey his mandates or work for his aggrandizement. Space is too limited to enter into detail, but for one illustration: In Beatrice the primary ticket for dele-gates was put up in secret by a few can-didates for office who allowed Colby to name the men, he having made so many ine promises. The result was the one printed ticket and that alone, and many are the earnest republicans who left the polls in disgust without voting a ticket on which the Colby earmarks showed so plainly. Since that time men hired to dispense boodle have spared no time or money working among delegates throughout the county who were suspected of having 'an itching palm' for gold or an abnormal desire for officia position. Every energy was bent to the one object, so much so that on the day of he convention delegates who were never before known to have so much money, are said to have displayed twenty dollar gold piece with the remark that they cared nothing about the result but had families

At the convention a secret ballot of the entire convention was taken, notwithstanding the fact that a vigorous protest was entered by the fair and honest members who desired a call and announcement of the vote by precincts. The result is that probably one-third of the delegates will go home and work with a will against some men on the ticket who will against some men on the ticket, who secured their nomination by unholy alli-ances and corrupt methods of bargain and sale. I have talked with fully a score who will do this.

The convention adjourned about dark Saturdap night, but until long after mid-night were an indignant people on the streets discussing the best methods of administering a stinging rebuke to the ring method of making nominations.

The democrats, union labor party and prohibitionists have yet to hold their conventions ond it is possible that they and the dissatisfied republicans will so unite as to make a tolerably clean sweep this

In regard to Colby, should he be nominated for district judge our present judge, Hon. J. H. Broady, will undoubt-edly be the democratic nominee and re-ceive the support of the better class of republicans, as he did four years ago. It will be remembered, at the time Colby, then the republican nominee, lost every county in the district and his own county by more than 1,000, and where the democratic vote is light indeed. Last year when the regular re-publican nominee for state senator, with all the wealth and influence of Senator Paddock and the First National bank at his back, he won by a small plurality, though he lacked nearly 900 of having a majority. And in this race his opponents were weaklings politically, while some of Van Wyck's most trusted friends were guilty of treachery the most damnable and supported this same Colby. He can never be elected judge in this district. The indignation of the people is inten-sified by the fact that Church Howe has been here twice within the past ten days, and a prominent republican is authority that he was working hard for Colby and stated that should Griggs be nominated that he would see he got no yotes in Ne-maha county. Not that our voters deify Griggs, but they will repudiate Church Howe's put up of conventions as they did here last year when he tried it.

The Prosperous Logan Valley BANGROFF, Neb., Sept. 3,-[Correspondence of the BEE.]-One may look the state over and will not find a more prosperous part than the Logan valley. The BEE's correspondent has been along the Logan from Lyons to Wayne within the past few weeks and never witnessed such evidence of growth, prosperity and rapid development as there are along this fertile valley. The crops this year will surpass all former years in both vield and acreage. " Those portions of the Omaha and Winnebago reservations that were opened to settlement a year or so ago are now laid out into fine farms. The towns along this valley are all pros pering finely. Bancroft, surrounded by as rich and productive soil as there is in the state, has every facility to make and sustain a good town. The shippers here have the choice of Omaha and Sioux City markets, which eventually will receive all the produce from this part of the state.

Pender, the next town north of here, is fourthing little will age but the that a flourishing little village built upon that part of the Winnebago reservation opened to settlement where a few years ago there were only gophers, wolves and jack-rabbits.

Emerson, Wakefield and Wayne are all active towns and surrounded by as rich farming and grazing country as there is in the state. So far, this part of the state has never been materially injured by the drought.

There is great need of a competing railroad from this section to the leading markets, in order to give shippers cheaper transportation and better prices.

Stromsburg's Boom.
STROMSBURG, Neb., Sept. 1.—[Correspondence of the BEE.]—The long looked for boom has at last commenced to assume proportions. A stock company has been organized to take the double brick block on the south side of the square from the top of the joists above the store rooms and complete the upper story, making an opera hall 50x80 feet, with gallery. The work has commenced and the store rooms will be ready for occupancy by November 1. The brick block on the east side of the square is nearing completion, the workmen being at work enclosing the building.

The call for an election to vote $12,000 in bonds to put in a system of water works has been made and all are enthusiastic over the future prospects of Harrison County, Iowa. MISSOURI VALLEY, Sept. 3 .- [Correspondence of the BEE.]-Harrison county has had an abundance of rain for the past ten days and pastures are again looking fresh and green and the ground is now in excellent condition for fall plowing. Notwithstanding our long continued dry spell our bottom lands indicate an average yield of forty-five bushels of corn to the acre and wheat is threshing out from eighteen to thirtyfour bushes per acre. Potatoes will be a light crop and sell now for 60 cents per bushel. Grapes and plums are fine and plenty. The former sells at 21 and 3 cents per pound, while the latter "goes begging" at $1 per bushel. Melons of all kinds are a drug on the market.

The Harris Grove farmers club hold their annual harvest meeting to-day seven miles southeast of here. This is an association formed of our best farmers, who meet once a month for the discussion of subjects of interest to the agriculturist. To-day is "picnic" day, rounding towns have gone to join the throng. Hon. D. M. Harris, of this city, has been selected to make the annual District court is now in session at Lo-

Pivorce suits seem to be largely in Secretary Hasbrook and other members of the Harrison county Fair association are zealously at work preparing for the twenty-ninth annual fair which begins October 3. Burt County News.

OAKLAND, Neb., Sept. 4 .- [Correspondence of the BEE.]-There appears to be a little wrangle in the Methodist Episcopal church at Tekamah. The official members of the church at a recent business meeting voted not to receive a minister for the coming year, as the church has become financially weak owing to so many members moving away. It is claimed Presiding Elder Phelps says, he does not care to be dictated to, and will send a minister to Tekamah. One of the members publicly declares if a man is sent against the wishes of the people he will receive poor support, and said member further says he will not be dictated to by a presiding

The managers of the Burt county fair are sparing neither time nor expense to make the fair which is to be held here September 21, 23 and 23 far superior o any that has ever been held in this part of the state. There can be no possible doubt of the result of their untiring etforts. The Lyons band will keep the air full of melifluous melody. Hon. John M. Thurston, of Omaha, will address the people the second day.

Signs of substantial progress are seen on every hand in Oakland. Henry Neumann has commenced the erection of a large brick store, which will be an ornament to the town.

Rev. White, pastor of the Lutheran church, will leave Oakland with the assurance of duty well done, and many an earnest prayer for God's blessing upon him and family will follow him. Rev. BROKEN BOW, Neb., Sept. 2.-[Cor-respondence of the BEE.]-Broken Bow is the leading town of the northwest and county seat of one of the largest and most fertile counties in the state. It is comparatively a new town, but has enterprise and substantial improvements not to be found in much older towns. Crops are unusually good in this section of the country and the prospect for fall trade is very flattering. As a trading point Broken Bow is excellent, having a large territory for both wholesale and retail trade, and is a good location for any kind of business or factories. The Union block on the east side of the square, 75x90 feet, two stories and a basement, is a beautiful addition to the Farmer Co-operation a Success. OAKLAND, Neb., Sept. 1 .- [Correspondence of the BEE. |-The Farmers' union of this place, on a capital of $269, since July 7 has shipped 19,000 bushels of corn. The net profit to the union on this amount is $285.40. The manager says the prices paid here have been from 2 to 3 cents per bushel more than in adjoining towns. Corn is being brought to this market from near these towns all the time. The manager of the union says if he had the capital the combination have. the figures would be astonishing. As yet the union has no place to speak of to store grain or they could handle much more, but the figures for the past month are opening the farmers' eyes more than ever to a realization that the union is a success. The manager is daily receiving letters of inquiry from persons who read the BEE in Iowa, Kansas and different parts of this state, wishing information how to start such a union

Dundy County's Prosperity. BENKLEMAN, Neb., Sept.—[Correpondence of the BEE.]—Itis only two years since Dundy county was given the reins of government. Then farming was thought to be a doubtful experiment. Now we have hundreds of successful farmers, and in this year of drouth, we have good crops of all kinds. We have corn that would be a credit to old eastern counties. Potatoes, melons, pumpins, melons, squashes, etc., are simply immense. This county is mostly valley and undulating tableiands, with a few streaks of sand hills, for such they are called, but the best grass we have grows on these hills. The soil is mostly a sandy loam. There is good government land in the western portion of this county. Good water is found at from 30 to 100 feet. Those desiring cheap homes would do well to look over Dundy county.

THE FALL OF A SHELL Tolstol's Description of a Dying Man's Thoughts.

Count Leo Tolstol in "Sebastopol" thus describes the fall of a shell:—"To earth!" shouted a voice. Mikhailoff and Praskoukine obeyed. The latter, with shut eyes, heard the shell fall somewhere on the hard earth very near him. A second which appears to him an hour, passed, and the shell did not burst. Praskoukine was frightened, then he asked himself what cause he had for fear. Perhaps it had fallen farther away and he wrongly imagined that he heard the fuse hissing near him. Opening his eyes he was satis-fied to see Mikhailoff stretched motion-less at his feet, but at the same time he perceived, a yard off, the lighted fuse of the shell spinning around like a top. A glacial terror, which stifled every thought, glacial terror, which stifled every thought, every sentiment, took posession of his soul. He hid his face in his hands. Another second passed, during which a whole world of thoughts, of hopes, of sensations and of souvenirs passed through his mind. "Whom will it kill? Me or Mikhailoff, or indeed both of us together? If it is I, where will it hit me? If in the head it will be all over; if on the foot they will cut it off. Then I must insist that they give me chloroform and I may get well. Perhaps Mikhailoff alone will be killed, and later I will tell how we were close together and how I was covered with his blood. No, no; it is nearer me: it will be I!" Then he remembered the twelve roubles he owed Mikhailoff and another debt left at Petersburg, which ought to have been paid long ago. A Bohemian air that he sang the evening before came to his mind. He also saw in his imagination the lady he was in love with in her lilac trimmed bonnet; the man who had insulted him five years before, and whom he had never taken before, and whom he had never taken before, and whom he had never taken vengeance on. But in the midst of these and many other souvenirs the present feeling—the expectation of death—did not leave him. "Perhaps it isn't going to explode!" he thought, and was on the point of opening his eyes with desperate boldness. But at this instant a red fire struck his eyeballs through the closed lids, something hit him in the middle of the chest with a terrible crash. He ran the chest with a terrible crash. He ran forward at random, entangled his feet in his sword, stumbled, and fell on his side. "God be 'praised," I am only bruised." This was his first thought, and he wanted to feel of his breast, but his hands seemed as if they were tied. A vice gripped his head, soldiers ran before his eyes, and he mechanically counted them: "One, two, three soldiers, and besides, an officer who is losing his cloak!" A new light flashed; he wondered what had fired. Was it a mortar or a cannon? Doubtless a canon. Another shot, more soldiers—five, six, seven. They passed in front of him, and suddenly he became terribly afraid of being crushed by them. He wanted to cry out, to say that he was bruised but his lips were dry, his tongue was glued to the roof of his mouth. He had a burning thirst. He felt that his breast the sand the was damp, and the sensation of this mois ture made him think of water. He would have liked to drink that which drenche him. "I must have knocked the skin of in falling," he said to himself, more and more frightened at the idea of being crushed by the soldiers who were running in crowds before him. He tried again to cry out, "Take me!" but instead of that he uttered a groan so terrible that he was frightened at it himself. Then red sparks danced before his eyes-it seemed as if the soldiers were pilling stones on him The sparks danced more rapidly, the stone oiled on him stifled him more and more. He stretched himself out; he ceased to see, to hear, to think, to feel. He had been killed instantly by a piece of shell striking him full in the breast.

Beware of Scrofula

Scrofula is probably more general than any other disease. It is insidious in character, and manifests itself in running sores, pustular eruptions, bolls, swellings, enlarged joints, abscesses, sore eyes, etc. Hood's Sarsaparilla expels all trace of scrofula from the blood, leaving it pure, enriched, and healthy. "I was severely afflicted with scrofula, and over a year had two running sores on my neck. Took five bottles Hood's Sarsaparilla, and am cured." C. E. LOVEJOY, Lowell, Mass. C. A. Arnold, Arnold, Me., had scrofulous sores for seven years, spring and fall. Hood's Barsaparilla cured him.

Salt Rheum

Is one of the most disagreeable diseases caused by impure blood. It is readily cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla, the great blood purifier. William Spies, Elyria, O., suffered greatly from erysipelas and salt rheum, caused by handling tobacco. At times his hands would crack open and bleed. He tried various preparations without aid; finally took Hood's Sarsaparilla, and now says: "I am entirely well." My son had salt rheum on his hands and on the calves of his legs. He took Hood's Sarsaparilla and is entirely cured." J. B. Stanton, Mt. Vernon, Ohio,

The Only Reliable Medical Institute making a specialty of PRIVATE DISEASES OF THE URINARY AND SEXUAL ORGANS.

Caused by Overwork, or Worry, the Indiscretions of Youth, or excesses of riper years, or whatever may tend to lower the tone of life's vital forces, causing nervous and physical debility or exnaustion, seminal weakness or incontinence (spermatorribea), and premature decay, followed by the long train of symptoms which the sufferer knows but too well, are cured by our new restorative treatment, renewing vitality and vigor, and restoring vital, physical and mental power.

The treatment of this class of diseases has until very recently been neglected by scientific educated physicians, and has been in the hands of Patent Medicine venders and ignorant men claiming to have one medicine that was a specific and would cure every case.

Many are still imposed upon by offers to guarantee cures or give large sums of money if a failure is made. All intelligent persons know that these are simply traps to catch the unwary. Though these devices have been repeatedly exposed by newspapers, victims are still to be found. We know that thousands suffering from the effects of these vices have been disappointed so often that they are discouraged and have almost given up hope of ever being cured. To all such we desire to say that so long as they continue to experiment with specific remedies or appliances represented to cure such diseases, they are likely to meet with nothing but disappointment. No two cases are exactly alike and do one remedy has over been or ever can be propared to meet the requirements of all. We have made a careful study of these diseases in all their various forms and complications, and with the aid of almost unlimited experience in adapting treatment to individual cases, we are enabled to cure after others have utterly failed.

We were among the first to make a speciality and study of this class of diseases, and to treat them upon scientific principles. We also treat Strictures, Gleet and Varicolele. All contagious and blood diseases, from whatever cause produced, successfully treated. We can remove syphilitile po
