Machine oil, needles, embroidery silks, publications. Domestic agency, 105 Main. The county board took a drive into the country yesterday to settle some road matters. Meetings at North Baptist church are still in progress. There are in use a large quantity of books purchased by Mr. Mills himself.

The Union Veteran legion of this city, Encampment No. 8, will give a quadrille party, Monday, September 19, for the benefit of the relief fund.

Work on the new German Catholic church is progressing well. The walls are being enclosed and the building looms up in fine proportions. The remains of the late Mary Scholt will arrive this evening and the funeral will occur from the family residence on Main street to-morrow morning at 10 o'clock. Further papers in regard to contempt cases against saloons were filed yester-day. The cases are expected to be called up as soon as the criminal cases are tried.

An attempt of pickpockets to work the crowd at the dummy depot yesterday was quickly stopped, but the fellows made good their escape without securing any plunder.

The sewerage of the city jail is again causing trouble. The pipes are stopped up, and the committee has about decided to put in new ones, and abandoa the old ones entirely.

Dick Ricketts has been put on as a special policeman, to serve for a few days during the fair, the regular force being kept busy, there being many strangers in the city.

Permit to wed has been given to the following, all residents of this county: C. F. Smith and Inez Case; William Kissee and Alta Hend; Bartei Weschey and Sophia Mangelsen; Samuel L. Martin and Libbie B. Hose, Rehearsal of "The Musketeers" this evening at the Bloomer school. All are carnestly requested to be in their places promptly at 8 o'clock. Soloists, who wish to rehearse their parts please be on hand at half past seven.

Miss S. D. Rehse has another showing of her skill in handling the brush, it being a placque, which is now displayed in the window of the Council Bluffs carpet company's store. It is a female head, in white and black, a study, enti-tled "Supplication" tled "Supplication."

The city council meets to-morrow even-Inc city connent meets to morrow even-ing to consider the paving bids. It is claimed that the bids are too high, being above what the city got cedar blocks for two years ago, and that therefore the bids should be rejected. The contractors insist that the freights are higher, that the blocks cost them more and that they cannot bid as how as two years ago cannot bid as low as two years ago.

Remember the Methodist Episcopal social this evening. A short but choice literary and musical programme will be rendered by such artists as Mrs. Hads-worth, Mrs. Ward, and other musicians of the city. Miss Hinele, of Decatur, Ill., a fine elocutionist, will favor us with a recitation. Programme will commence at eight. At its conclusion the audience will adjourn to the parlors for the social. Admission ten cents. Refreshments extra,

The County Board Asked to Make the Levy, the Enterprise Being Assured.

THE CONDITIONS TO BE MET. Strock Bros', New Factery-Feeling

of the Preachers Toward Rev. Mc-Creary - The Mullis - Edinger Wedding-Queer Speculators.

The Bridge Tax to Be Levied. The bridge company is moving for the tax voted by the city in the aid of that enterprise. At the last session of the legislature a law was passed empowering cities to vote such a tax; and at a special election the proposition was carried by an overwhelming majority, an almost unanimous vote, so enthusiastic were the citizens. The tax as voted was for six mills each year, for 1887 and 1888. This law provides that in such cases the city clerk shall certify the result of the election to the county auditor, together with the rate of the tax, the years, and the conditions. The county board shall then levy the tax. This certificate of the city clerk has been made out, together with the other documents, giving a history of the tax, and this has been filed in the county recorder's office. The county board is now to levy the tax as agreed to. By the provisions of the law referred to, this tax, when collected, cannot be paid out of the county treasury except upon the order of the treasurer of the company, under direction of the presi-dent and a majority of the directors of the company or upon the order of the city council. Before any of this money can be paid out, however, the city counci, or a ma-jority of that body, must certify to the county treasurer that the conditions un-der which the tax was voted have been complied with.

If the money remains in the county treasurer for one year after it is paid in, it will be forfeited and will be canceled, the taxpayers who have paid receiving their money back.

their money back. The conditions on which the tax was granted are set forth as follows: The levy for this purpose shall be 6 mills for two years. It shall be levied and be-come due, collectable and payable one-half thereof, or 6 mills levy in the year 1887, and the remaining half thereof, or 6 mills levy in the year 1888 provided 6 mills levy in the year 1888, provided said highway bridge is fully completed and in use and in operation by said date. The company shall be restricted to the following charges:

One person 5 cents; one horse, buggy and driver, 10 cents; two horses, buggy and driver, 15 cents; two horses, wagon and driver, 15 cents: two horses, wagon and driver, 20 cents. It is distinctly set forth as one of the conditions that "before said tax, or any part thereof, shall become due, collect-able or payable, said highway bridge shall be fully completed and in use and operation, and after the completion of said highway bridge the rates of toll as said highway bridge the rates of toll as found hereinbefore shall become obligatory and binding upon said company, its successors and assigns." The citizens are quite as ready to pay the tax as they were to vote it, but they of course want to have the conditions fully complied with before they part with their money. There seems to be nothing in the conditions which restricts the in the conditions which restricts the company to building a strictly wagon bridge, and so far as appears the com-pany can build a combined railway and wagon bridge and yet ćollect the aid voted by the city. It is believed that the bridge will be built as a wagon bridge, too, and when it is in operation in accordance with the general understanding of this community, there will be no trouble in the company getting the money as voted. There will be a close watch, however, to see that the tax is not given ing, stairs, scroll sawing, turning, frames, store finishing, inside furnishing for houses, shelving, counters, planing and ripping. Messrs. Stroch are also manufacturers of a patent folding bed. One distinguishable feature of the es-tablishment is the fact that it has the only flooring machine in this part of the country. The firm is about to build a paintshop and drying kiln, both of which structures will soon be completed. The enterprise cannot but prove a successul one, under the personal manage-ment of men so long experienced in the business, and of such firmly established reputation. The lack of such a factory in this locality has frequently in the past caused vexations delays, because orders have had to be placed at a distance. Now, with the factory within easy reach of a large extent of country, with complete machinery, the public can have its wants supplied more promptly and more satisfactorily. The tirm starts off under good auspices, having a large number of orders to fill. It deserves a success commensurate with the want it is designed to fill, and with the intelligence and experience of the gentlemen who compose it. Messrs. Stroch Bros, are heartily commended to the business community of Iowa and

Nebraska. The Rev. Dr. E. D. McCreary. The following resolutions regarding the Rev. Dr. McCreary, were passed by a unanimous vote at the minister's meeting held Monday afternoon at the Baptist church: tist church: Whereas, Our beloved brother and co-la-borer, the Rev. Dr. E. D. McCreary of the Methodist Episcopal church of this city, is soon to remove to another field of labor, his pastorate about to expire by limitation, therefore, Relsolved, That we, as pastors of the fol-lowing named churches do, at this our reg-ular monthly meeting, express our sincere regret that he is so soon to leave us. That we have found in Dr. McCreary a truly cour-teous, wise and conscientions brother; that we have found in Dr. McCreary a truly cour-teous, wise and conscientious brother; that by word and example he has been helpful to us; that in the community as well as in his own church he has done a noble work in the line of religious and moral reform; that he is an able and eloquent preacher of the gos-pel; that he possesses moral courage in an unusual degree and is a man of piety and learning, and his Christian deportment has been in every way consistent with his office and profession.

Police Pickings. Judge Aylesworth had a lonesome day in court yesterday, and took an early adjournment so as to go across the river with the crowd of sight-seers. J. H. Wait was arrested as an ordinary drunk, and managed to rake up $6.40 in cash for security for his appearance. He did not appear, and the balance was charged up to profit and loss.

A fellow giving his name as Richardson was booked on the horrible charge of be-ing sick. He is still being cared for at headquarters, until able to resume his aimless journey through life. Voight, a tailor, was arrested for being drunk, but allowed to go on his promise to appear in the morning. He sent word to the judge that he had to limsh a suit of clothes for a man who wanted to go to the fair, and was too busy to come to court. THE MOST ASTONISHING, safest and promptest remedy for all affections of the throat and lungs is Dr. J. H. Me-

MERRILY MATED. MULLIS-EDINGER.

Last evening there was a rather quiet but elegant wedding at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Roff, No. 812 Eighth avenue, the bride being Miss Kate Edinger, a sister of Mrs. Roff, and the happy man being Mr. Robert Mullis, a well known merchant of this city. The invitations were limited to the relatives and a few intimate friends. The coremony was performed by Rev. G, W. Crofts, pastor of the Congregational church. The arrangements in all their details, as well as in the general effect, were planned with excellent taste and carried out with charming hospitality and good cheer. The floral decorations were bcuntiful, the rooms being given the appearance of fairy bowers. An orchestra furnished low, sweet music during the evening. The refreshments were temptingly served and the favored participants of the joyful event had a delightful evening. The newly wedded ones were the recipients of numerous expressions of the good will of their many friends, and the congratulations and well wishes are by no means confined to the limited number who witnessed the coremony, Mrs. Mullis, as she is now to be known, is a young lady of many charms, promi-nent among which is her power of song, her voice being both sweet and cultured. The fortunate man who has won her needs no introduction to Council Bluffs circles, he being one of the active, suc-reseful business men of this thriving city, known editor, "the south has increased her manufactures $213,000,000. By this 1 mean that in 1880 she had to do without or buy from the north and west. This The need for more and better com does not include the gain in her agricul-tural product. It simply means ores, minerals, marbles and manufactured goods. This statement is amasing. Its details are even more so. She now has munication between Omaha and Council Bluffs is daily growing more apparent. It has been especially so during this fair time. Omaha has been crowded with about forty iron furnaces in blast, making 750,000 tons of iron a year. She is now visitors, and many have sought hotel accommodations on this side of the river. actually building thirty-one new furnaces coming over at night and returning in with a capacity of more than 1,000,000 tons a year, so that her iron output will the morning. The rush has been such that in some of the hotels here cots and more than double when the furnaces now more than double when the furnaces how being built go into blast. In 1880 she produced 450,000 tons of iron; in 1886, 750,000 tons. In 1889 she will produce 1,800,000 tons. The furnaces now being built will add $20,000,000 a year to her income dug from her iron beds and made into new." other additional conveniences have had to be called into requisition. The trains have been heavily loaded, but the greatest lack is for chances for teams and vehicles to cross the river. For weeks the ferry train has been unable into pay." to properly care for the business.

In six years following the cotton exposition she built 173 new cotton mills, putting 1,000,000 spindles in motion. The Almost any night there can be seen at the depot a string of horses and wagons, waiting there all night so as to be able to get over on the first ferry train in the cottonseed oil mills grew in the past six years from forty-six to 146, and ten new mills are now being built at a cost of $1,500,000. One-third of the crop of cotton seed now runs through the mill, get over on the first ferry train in the morning. It is only by thus getting into line the night before that any one desir-ing to take advantage of the early mar-ket in Omaha can be sure of getting over. Men with grapes and garden products sleep under their wagons and wait for the train. Yesterday morning there was a string of wagons four blocks ielding $8,000,000 worth of crude oils In fertilizer factories the same increase is noticed. Georgia bought 160,000 tons of fertilizer seven years ago, every ton of which was bought in the north. Last year there was a string of wagons, four blocks long, waiting from 6 o'clock until 9 o'-125,000 tons were manufacturid in Georgia, and this capacity will be doubled in another year. Atlanta supplies a half dozen southern states with trunks and valises. She sails agricultural impliclock in the morning, before there was any apparent lessening of numbers. That there is need of a wagon bridge, and that, too, right away, is evident. The rush for the ferry train has caused ments into Mexico, paper bags into Cali-fornia, and razors over a dozen states. A a class of speculators to appear. Men with wagons get a place in the line, and hold it until some anxious gardner or year ago we sent north for as simple a thing as coffins. Now a coffin factory in Atlanta keeps a hundred men at work. fruit man comes along who is willing to pay them something for their chance. The prices have been running from $1 to $2 dollars. There was a consultation among the officials of the city yesterday to see if some way could not be devised for stopping this sort of speculation, but there seemed none which would stand There are not less than a dozen furniture factories scattered about the city reaching up to fine grades of furniture. Six years ago there was hardly a broom factory in the south. Now there are a dozen broom factories in Atlanta. All these smaller articles manufactured, in which there seemed none which would stand labor is the main cost, in which raw product is made valuable and in which small capital is needed, the south, form-erly relying entirely on the north, now For Sale Cheap-Lots near the bridge to parties who will build at once.
