OLD FIRM IN NEW QUARTERS

W. R. Bennett & Co., to Occupy a Four Story Building.

BIG STORE ON CAPITAL AVENUE.

An Extensive Grocery, Provisions and General House Furnishing Establishment.

There are so many new business blocks being built in Omaha the present year that to mention all of them in an extended review would leave space in the newspapers for nothing else. But the Samuel R. Brown building on Capitol avenue, between Fifteenth and Sixteenth streets, which is now very nearly completed, calls for special attention, more particularly on account of the great popularity of the firm that is to occupy it.

days the light and airy rooms above, so suitable for clubs or private purpose, will all be rented, and at such a figure that Bennett & Co. will really be paid something to occupy the building, rent free, while now they pay a good rental for a space entirely too small.

There is surely not a man, woman or child in this city, and not many dealers throughout the state with whom they do a large jobbing business, but knows of W. R. Bennett & Co., and of their wonderful faculty of selling to the retail trade at even less than wholesale prices. Their grocery and tea trade is simply enormous and will be greatly enhanced during the next few weeks, while disposing of their wares at lower prices than ever rather than be at an additional expense of moving it to their new quarters, which they hope to occupy by October 15.

Wreck on the Union Pacific.

The overland Union Pacific train due here at 7:50 a. m. yesterday will not arrive until 5 o'clock. While running at a high rate of speed near Plum Creek it struck some cattle on the track, derailing the engine and several cars. The cattle were killed, but otherwise no casualty resulted from the wreck. The engine, however, was disabled and another one had to be secured from Grand Island to draw the train, which reached that place at noon and proceeded on its way to Omaha.

Omaha Rifle Club.

The following is the score made at the weekly shoot of the Omaha Rifle club at Bellevue range:

Table with names and scores: Clarkston 57, Kinneen 50, Worley 49, Bingham 49, Harvey 45.

Don't forget the auction sale of Highland addition to Kearney, September 9, Friday afternoon.

Crooks in Town.

William Riley, Jimmy Quincey, Joseph Green and Windy Dick Preston, three card monte sharks, and all round crooks, were run in yesterday and will be locked up until after the fair is over.

THAT CHINESE SPECULATION.

Everything Seems to Be Favorable For the Syndicate.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7.—[Special Telegram to the BEE.]—At the Chinese location there was a conference last night between the Mitkiewicz-Larker syndicate, the Chinese minister and the mandarins who accompanied Mitkiewicz to this country. This conference lasted until a very late hour and the result was that a cablegram was sent to China to-day in which the names of the gentlemen who have subscribed for the stock of the syndicate were given. It seems that the amount of money to be subscribed has been over-rated. It is $25,000,000 instead of $50,000,000. Of this sum $12,000,000 have been subscribed by the Chinese. The secretary of the legation said to-day that the Chinese government would take $5,000,000 of the stock and that the other $7,000,000 would have to be subscribed by merchants in the Chinese empire.

Army Orders.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7.—[Special Telegram to the BEE.]—Second Lieutenant Harris L. Rober, of the Nineteenth infantry, has had his leave extended to four months. Paymaster J. R. Cardnoy has been ordered to special duty in the bureau of provisions and clothing.

Patents to Western Inventors.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7.—[Special Telegram to the BEE.]—The following patents have been granted to western inventors: Joseph Ashenfelter, Liberty, Neb., combined cultivator and pulverizer; John Baker, Muscatine, Ia., apparatus for heating and canning food; Louis G. Bostido, assignor to Bostido Package and Cash, Carrier company, Atlantic, Ia., cash and package carrier; Grant D. Carmer, Osceola, Ia., combined seeder and harrow; William O. Kason, Cedar Rapids, Ia., door hanger; Daniel L. Monroe and S. N. Stokes, Bloomfield, Ia., fountain aerator and injector; Noah D. Noble, Carroll, Ia., rein-gauge; Horatio M. Walker and E. E. Coyle, Ames, Neb., slinking machine; Benjamin E. Wells, Byron, Neb., railway gate.

A Congressman's Son Whips an Umpire.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7.—[Special Telegram to the BEE.]—Mr. Roger O. Mills, of Texas, a democrat of the strongest sort, has a son named Charles, and Charles is an employee of the doorkeeper of the house, of which Mr. Mills is a member. Mr. Charles Mills has been spending sometime in resting from his wearisome labors at Canon Springs, and being an enthusiastic admirer of the great national game, organized an amateur baseball nine, which, whenever opportunity offered, dispersed themselves on the diamond field with regulation bat and ball. The negro waiters at Canon Springs also had a base ball nine, and a few days since the nine of Mr. Mills met the colored nine in a regular set game, with an attaché of the Mexican league here as umpire, and the colored batters and fielders got away with their white brothers. Mills objected to the decisions of the umpire and hot words ensued. These led to blows, and the umpire, instead of being the captain of the white club, challenged him to light a duel. Mills accepted the challenge, and as by the code he had the choice of weapons, he selected the good old Anglo-Saxon kind, lists. The result was a prize fight under the regulations of the London prize ring. The Mexican was badly punished, and the result is that he will be very reluctant to umpire another base ball game.

Working on the Tariff.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7.—[Special Telegram to the BEE.]—Congressman Randall, like Speaker Carlisle, deems that he is here for the purpose of attending any tariff conference. It is learned on the best authority that the president and Speaker Carlisle have formulated the outlines of a tariff bill which is now being inspected by Secretary Fairchild. The main features of the proposed administration bill are the abolition of the tax on tobacco and fruit brandy, and a large addition to the free list. There is also a considerable reduction proposed in tariff duties. Mr. Randall, it is known, will be asked some very pointed questions by the president in relation to his course next winter. His power is known and dreaded. He practically commands the election of the speaker. Although he cannot have himself elected without republican votes, he can defeat with the balance of power that he controls any measure put forward by the tariff reformers. His declarations to the president and Mr. Carlisle this week will therefore have great significance. The internal revenue features of the new bill have been inserted as a condition to Randall, but coming from the victor of Pennsylvania, he will be in no yielding mood.

THE HADDOCK CASE.

Preparations Being Made to Pack the Jury Again.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Sept. 7.—[Special Telegram to the BEE.]—The trial of Fred Munchrath, who is jointly indicted with John A. Haddock and seven others charged with the murder of Rev. George C. Haddock, began this morning in the district court. It will be remembered that Amsdorf was tried at the last January term, the jury disagreeing. There was comparatively little public interest shown in the court room this morning, the room not being more than half filled, whereas at the trial of Amsdorf it was packed from day to day. Judge Wakefield, instead of Judge Lewis, presided over the trial. The long array of counsel on both sides remains unchanged from the former trial.

Ohio's Democratic Nominee Lets Loose at the Republican Candidate.

HAMILTON, O., Sept. 7.—The opening meeting of the state campaign of the democratic party was held here this evening. It was very large and enthusiastic. The first speech was made by Hon. Thomas E. Powell, candidate for governor. He devoted nearly one-third of his time to Foraker and his administration. Speaking of what was demanded of a governor of Ohio, the third state in the union, he said that Foraker's attack upon President Cleveland in his speech of acceptance was unworthy of one aspiring to such a high office and for it he had received condemnation at the hands of private citizens and from the public press throughout the country. He claimed also that Governor Foraker had publicly insulted 400,000 democratic voters of Ohio by referring to them in his speech as the "rebel brigade," and as "contemners" and "dirty democrats." Speaking of the matter of the rebel flag he said the governor, by his conduct at the soldiers' reunions, and especially at Wheeling, had disgusted the best men in his own party and they had called a halt on him. He said the people wanted a governor who would give less attention to the war that ended twenty years ago and more to the peaceful problems of the present and future. He also gave facts upon which he based his claim that Cleveland's administration had done more for the soldiers and their dependent families than any republican administration. He closed his speech with a tribute to President Cleveland and his work.

Investigating a Bad Official.

MEXICAPOLIS, Minn., Sept. 7.—The examination of ex-Warden Reed, of the Stillwater penitentiary, on charges preferred by his successor, Warden Nyrodoek, was begun yesterday by the state board of charities and corrections. Reed is charged with appropriating supplies, taking money from the prisoners and with criminal intimacy with female prisoners. One matterless testified to the truth of the latter charge, and several others offered circumstantial testimony. The examination will occupy several days.

Powderly Answer Critics.

DETROIT, Sept. 7.—John Devlin, United States consul at Windsor, a prominent Knight of Labor, recently wrote General Master Workman Powderly, calling his attention to the criticisms which had been so freely made upon his policy as the official

Too Much Whisky.

CRETE, Neb., Sept. 7.—[Special Telegram to the BEE.]—A railroad man, while under the influence of too much whisky, sat down on the track west of Denton this morning, and was hit by the Denver branch freight and terribly mangled up. There is very little prospect of his recovery. He is unconscious, and no one seems to know his name. No claim is attached to the railroad company. It is simply too much whisky.

Chicago Switchmen in Trouble.

CHICAGO, Sept. 7.—A meeting of switchmen was held this morning at Parkersburg. Union men were present from twenty-four railroads. A committee consisting of men from each road was appointed to wait upon the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy railway this afternoon to demand the two crew discharged Monday be reinstated, also to demand of the Lake Shore that it employ none but union switchmen at the stock yards. Several non-union men have been employed there since the strike and the action of the men to-day virtually resurrects the old trouble. It was unanimously decided that if both requests were not granted, a strike would be declared at 7 o'clock this evening. If this is done every road in the city will be involved.

Natural Gas Celebration.

TOLEDO, O., Sept. 7.—To-night was devoted to a natural gas jubilee in honor of the arrival of the fuel in Toledo from Hancock and Wood county fields by pipe lines. Ex-President Hayes was the orator of the occasion.

Rated by the Directors.

NEW YORK, Sept. 7.—Pierpont Morgan said to-day that the recent contract of the Baltimore & Ohio road with the syndicate had been ratified by the board of directors.
