THE AMERICAN BEEF POOL.

A Strong Organization Formed in Denver Yesterday to Cut Down Cattle Commissions-Phil Armour in the Deal.

A Significant Move.

DENVER, Colo., Sept. 10.-|Special Tele-gram to the BEE.]-A number of representative cattle men from almost every section and range in the country assembled at the Windsor hotel to-day for the purpose of considering the advisability of organizing a mu-tual association of beef producers and to consider certain negotiations that have been pending with Armour & Co., of Chicago, to handle the dressed beef product of rangemen and feeders. On motion A. S. Mercer of Wyoming, was chosen chairman and L. L. Brooks, of Secorro, New Mexico, secretary. Mr. Mercer stated the object of the meeting and read a written report of his negotiations with Armour & Co., of Chicago, which were made at the request of the Colorado Cattle Growers' association. substantially as follows: "Armour has signed a contract to kill your cattle, give you all there is in them less a reasonable loss and commission, and aid you in extending your market facilities, so that if possible pro-ducers may realize better profits." After discussing and adopting the report, Mr. Brooks presented the following preamble and resolutions:

Whereas, There is a universal feeling among cattle growers that the margin between prices received by the producers for cattle and the prices paid for beef by consumers is too great, and,

Whereas, It is further believed that by the union of producers in an alliance with prominent dressed beef operators, this margin may be cut down, by regulating offerings on the market in such a way as is possible by thorough organization, therefore be it

Resolved, That incorporation papers be taken out under the laws of the state of taken out under the laws of the state of Colorado, establishing an association of beef producers for mutual beneüt in handling and disposing of beef cattle after shipment from the point of production. That the name of this mutual association shall be the "American Beef Pool." That it shall issue no capital stock, declare no dividends, and seek for no profit as an organization. That its object shall be only to accomplish, through an or-ganized offort and united action, an increase of the net value upon the beef product. That its officers shall be wholly governed by a board of directors through a management to consist of a president, vice president, secre-tary and superintendent of departments, to be elected or appointed by the board of directors according to the by-laws of the asso-ciation. That any person to be elegible for membership must be a producer and shipper of beef. That there shall be no membership fees or annual dues. That the only charge to the membership for the support of the or-ganization shall be 50 cents per head upon all beef cattle shipped to or through it. All salaries, rents and expenses, of whatever nature, incurred by the management, includ-ing any and all commission charges that it may become necessary to pay live stock com-mission inms for disposing of feeders or other cattle unit for dressed beef must be paid from the charge of 50 cents per head and should any surplus accumulate after paying express and commissions it shall be returned, at stated intervals, to the shippers in such maner as may be prescribed by the by-laws. WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.-[Special Tele-grain to the BEE.]-Count Eugene Stanislaus Kosta de Mitkiewicz, as he calls himself, continues to excite a great deal of comment in Washington. This comment is by no means favorable to the man who has secured what may be a valuable concession for American capitalists. A gentleman who was an officer in the union army took accasion to discuss the matter to-day, and if what he says is true he is certainly not the proper man to represent a wealthy syndicate of capitalists in China or anywhere else. This gentleman says that Mitklewicz really entered the army of the United States as an alternative to a term in prison in New York. He was assigned to either the One Hundred and Sixty-fourth or One Hundred and Seventy-sixth regiment of New York infantry. The name of his captian was Davidson. Somehow he gained the confidence of his captain and borrowed a watch and a considerable sum of money from him. He secured also a leave of absence for twenty-four hours and failed to return. He neglected to send the watch or the money back. It is a mistake to say that he never joined the regiment to which he was assigned. He did join and, furthermore, he received about $:00 bounty. "Now," continued this gentleman, "I have taken some pains to trace Mitkewicz since he left some pains to trace Mitkewicz since he left the army of the United States so unceremon-lously. I find that shortly affer his depart-ure a man of the same name turned up in Montreal, where he became involved in a scrape in which there was some money and a woman. When Montreal got too hot for him he went to Halifax. There he represented himself as a brother-in-law of Lord Hamilton and on the strength of that relationship he raised money on drafts to a considerable amount. Next he turns up in Glasgow, Scot-land. The drafts on Lord Hamilton were not paid, he was affested and yas confronted by Hamilton, who denounced him as a swindler. The Glasgow police communi-eated with the authorities of Warsaw, Poland, in relation to the man who called himself Count Mitkewicz. They found that there was no count of that name and this in-dividual who claimed the title was the son of a poor Pole, a Jew, I think, Upon the re-ceipt of this information the prisoner was tried and convicted and sentenced to a term of four years in prison. He served this term and at the expiration went to Louraine, Belgium, where he again became involved. This time a banker named Martin was the victum. Later he fied and it is said came to the United States, Now this may not be the same man who is posing as the benefactor of this country, but in view of the fact that it is so easy to ascertain his true character, it would seem to be the duty of the the army of the United States so unceremon the fact that it is so easy to ascertain his true character, it would seem to be the duty of the syndicate who are to invite American capi-talists to embark in the Chinese enterprise to ascertain thoroughly who they are mixed up with. Of course it may be true that Mitkewicz, the American financier, is Mitkewicz, the Glasgow convict, and at the same time a man Glasgow convict, and at the same time a man trying to redeem his past. But if the credit of America is to be maintained, it would be well to establish the enterprise with the aid of others who have been subjected to less criticism. Mr. Barker might raise his bid for Mitkewicz' interest and thereby add to the credit of the enterprize." The McGlynn Muddle. The Republicans Hold a Monster Meeting at Caldwell. GOVERNOR FORAKER'S SPEECH

He Delivers a Masterly Address in Answer to the Assertions of Powell, the Democratio

Nominee.

A Big Meeting. CALDWELL, O., Sept 10 .- The opening of the campaign by the republicans to-day brought a great throng of people. Governor Foraker delivered a long address, which was to a considerable extent an answer to the speech of his competitor, Powell. He refuted the statements of the latter regarding the handling of state finances and referred in caustic terms to the election frauds during the previous administration and to the elec tion of Senator Payne as showing the tendency of that administration to methed that were hurtful to the state. Dethis administration some of the perpeof these frauds had been punished and tion laws passed which would render t.

repetition well nigh impossible. Turning to national politics and referring to Powell's suggestion that the republican state executive committee had been organized with the purpose of wrecking Senator Sherman's presidential train, he said Mr. Powell might dismiss all such fear, and added "John Sherman has no such train wreckers to avoid as Allen G Thurman can give an account of." He devoted considerable space to President Cleveland, but denied having made any personal attack upon him. He dealt with the president's public acts. President Cleveland by adhering to the despicable policy of rehereing only "offensive partisans" under the claim of civil service reform, brought upon that worthy cause, as he has done, an odium that has set it back for years to come in public appreciation, to the detriment of the whole country. There was still greater disappointment in therevial by President Cleveland, of the animosities of the war, which had almost died out. He cited the application of the epithets "tramps," "paupers," "pension grabbers," and the like by politicians and political newspapers, and charged that Cleveland was responsible for this because his policy had been to make it appear that after all there was nothing very serioasly wrong about secession and rebellion. This course was mischievous, especially towards the south. The people of the south want the truth and that is what the people of the north want-entire peace and fraternity for the whole land on the basis of complete recognition and acceptance of all fruits and results of the war, hence they cannot consent to recognize any act that indicates a changed estimate of the ideas upon which the confederacy was based, hor can they listen to harsh criticism of our soldiers or a proposition to surrender in the way it was proposed to do with the rebel battle flags. Speaking of the tariff, he made the assertion that while there are many protectionists in the democratic party, yet the party as such has been and is now essentially a free trade party. Referring to Powell's statement that the democratic party had never unde a land grant to a railroad he said that between 1850 and 1861, during democratic administrations, forty-three congressional grants to railroads were made, aggregating $2,000,000 acres or about moving only "offensive partisans" under the claim of civil service reform, brought three congressional grants to railroads were made, aggregating 32,000,000 acres or about three-fifths of the lands that ever have been granted to the railroads. He argued at leugth in favor of protection.

The Thistle's Keel.

The Thistle's Keel. NEW YORK, Sept. 10.—The World to-mor-row will give to the public the construction of the keel of the Scotch yacht Thistie, about which the owners and designers have been so mysterious as to arouse the interest of all the yachtmen. The measurements were ob-tained in a singuiarly bold and daring man-ner. A reporter and artist for the World, accompanied by a diver, went out Thursday night in a small sloop to where the yacht lay anchored, and despite the vigilant watch on the deck of the latter the diver succeeded in making three descents and ob-taining fully the cut of the keel. The result proves that the general plan of the Thistle below water is much more like an American sloop than an English cutter. She has a great deal more blige and is more cut faway forward than the latter. On the other hand, she is barer at starboards than the American type, and of course has much more depth. type, and of course has much more depth.

The different churches comprising the association were well represented. Three new churches, organized during the year, were received into the association. The increase of membership of the churches reported shows a large growth in most of the churches. The officers elected for the year are: Moderator, M. G. Macleod, Omaha; secretary, Rev. T. L. Crandall, Tekamah; treasurer, J. H. Stewart, Blair. The reports of the various committees were discussed and adopted. The committee on resolutions submitted the following, which called forth an animated discussion, but was finally unanimously

It Results in the Arrest of a San Fran cisco Murderer.

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., Sept. 10.-[Special Tele-gram to the BEr.]-Dr. Wilkins is the name of a man who until yesterday had been working with the ashphalt gang on Frederick avenue. Nothing unusual was noticed about him. He was one of the common laborers and did not look at all like a man with a history. In the same gang with him there was working for a week or ten days a young fellow giving his name as Walter Young. Yesterday Wilkins quit work and going to his boarding house packed his valise of clothing and started to leave the city. He was coming out of the front door of his boarding house when he was met by Young and a stranger. The stranger, who was one of Pinkerton's men put Wil-kins under arrest and left town with him last night. He is wanted in San Francisco, Col. on a charge of morder. The young Cal., on a charge of murder. The young man who shadowed him to this city and identified him among the asphalters working identified him among the asphalters working with him and boarding at the same house with him for two week, was also a detective. Wilkins, it is alleged, murdered a man named Howard who was traveiling for a large jewelry house in California, a year ago and robbed his dead body of over $5,000 in money and jewelry. A reward of $1,200 has been offered for the capture of the murderer. So quietly was the detective's work done that the St. Joe police did not learn of the arrest until to-day. arrest until to-day.

"It is not improbable that I shall collect a few of the best reported specimens of the gutter gazettes of this country and have the same framed for the editication and benefit of a thousand or more American tour-ists, who are kind enough to honor my country-house in England every year with a visit. These treasures of journalism will serve to remind Americans of one of the most admirable and respectable institu-tions of their country, while they will also suggest to them the reflection that the Amer-ican eagle, in his flights of mendacity, finds, indeed, such facts to multiply with such rap-idity of vice and guilt that he has torn off both his wings in guilts, and yet is in arrears of human flips regarding strangers, while he calmly ignores the vices that lie at his own door. (Signed) MARLUOBOUGH. of a thousand or more American tourportant features in financial circles generally of much interest to the business public. The recent disturbances in commercial circles, more particularly in manufacturing districts, caused by the suspension of several firms, has had a tendency to create conservativeness among bankers, and they are a little more inclined to scrutinize paper closely and insist on somewhat wider margins, and where collaterals are not presented on an additional well-known autograph or two, business characteristics indicating a sound, safe and reliable policy. The demand for money has not been pressing and the inquiry is largely from miscellancous sources. Speculative operators in stocks, grain provisions and collateral lines have partially curtailed this demand owing to the general depression in speculative trade in all parts of the country, but those making application have invariably succeeded in obtaining all the assistance asked for. More money is being forwarded to the interior-mostly to the west and northwest-though chiefly in small quantities and rather widely scattered. Lumber dealers are only moderate borrowers and their wants are readily taken care of. Merchants in the wholesale trade have been a little more urgent in their requests, regarding goods at present prices very reasonable, consequently they have been enlarging their stocks materially and discounting their bills. Rates of interest are well maintained at 560 6 per cent for call and 55608 per cent for time loans. Only gilt edge paper and undoubted security was accepted at inside figures. Eastern financial centers show con-siderable stringency in that onacter and the indoubled securicy was accepted at inside figures. Eastern innancial centers show con-siderable stringency in that quarter and the failures in the iron, lumber, jewelry and paper trades in that section have added somewhat to the closeness of the market. Money in New York is quoted at 5 a 7 per cent. Advices from foreign markets indi-cate little change in that quarter, though the flow of currency to America has reduced bank balances to some extent. The demand for money, however, is not pressing in that quarter, and interest rates show little change. New York exchange was in good supply throughout the week and the market ruled dull, as the demand was limited. Sales between banks were made at 50 @ 70 cents discount per $1,000, and the market closed dull at 50 cents. Foreign exchange was de-cidedly dull and dragging throughout the week. Offerings were largely in excess of the demand and considerable gold was or-dered from European markets. Shippers' the demand and considerable gold was or-dered from European markets. Shippers' sixty day documentary bills on London changed hands at $4.773/04.78%, and closed steady at $4.78/(04.78%). The New York stock market exhibited considerable activity during the past week, attended with more than usual unsettled feeling and irregularity in prices. Early in the week there was a little more inclination to purchase the lead-ing stocks and prices ruled higher, assisted somewhat in the upward movement by the covering of shorts. At the outside figures reached, however, there was more desire to realize and the market weak-ened, accompanied with a moderate decline ened, accompanied with a moderate decline in prices, and ruled rather unsettled to the close. One prominent Catholic here said to-night: "If the impression gains ground that Dr. McGlynn was not fairly treated before he was shut out of the church it will certainly have an ill effect upon the church in this country. It cannot e denied that the fear of excommunication has caused many Catholics to conduct them selves so as to avoid the possibility of pun-ishment. If the best people think, that excommunication car be pronounced without good and sufficient reasons the result will be that they will lose their fear of the power of the rulers of the church. Consequently it seems that if there is the faintest suspicion that McGlynn was tried and convicted with-out a fair hearing the authorities in Bound out a fair hearing, the authorities in Rom out a fair hearing, the authorities in Rome will be compelled to take some notice of the charges. There is one peculiar feature of this case upon which very little has been said. It is that while McGlynn was really excommunicated for meddling in a local political meeting some of the digni-taries of the church have been to the white the president to recognize an ambassador from the valuean, yet they have not been molested or criticized for their actions, and it is considered by some Catholics that this is the height of politics."

Downing the Denvers. The Omahas and Denvers played the third game of their final series yesterday after noon in the presence of a small but highly enthusiastic audience. The small attendance and a cold, disagreeable rain that fell throughout the six innings that were played, had a tendency to make both teams reckless and indifferent, and as a consequence the struggle fairly scintillated with errors Both pitchers, Barston and Silch, were hit hard and often, and the fielders were kep busy chasing the leather about the enclosure The Omahas score d one in the first, two in the third, four in the fifth and one in the sixth inning, while the Denvers tallied one in the first, four in the second and one in the third. The rain began to fall with re-doubled vigor while the Denvers were at the bat in their half of the sixth, and darkness coming on at the same time, the unpir called the game. The same teams play this afternoon, and as the clubs are a tie on th series, a fine game may be looked for. The score:

prominent wheelmen. Creighton. were visitors at the Wheel club rooms during fair week. Messrs. Patterson, Parmele and Pollock, of the Plattsmouth cyclists, visited the fair Thursday afternoon in company with the local club.

Jack Prince will leave soon for Spring field and the east to train for the fall circuit. He expects to return with many a "bloomin" prize.

Messrs. Scribner, Lytle, Clark and Mit tauer went out to inspect Camp Logan Sun-day last, and reported to the club on their return that it was satisfactory.

It is noted that the only conveyances run on the battledeld Friday atternoon that did not require constant attention were those of the Omaha Wheel club members.

Mr. Larry Overman, secretary of the Over-man Wheel company, of Chicopee, Mass., and an old friend of the Omaha cyclists, is in town, the guest of the Omaha Wheel club. The club photo, taken in August, is pronounced by all who see it as one of the best cycling groups ever photographed. It may be seen on exhibition in the art rooms of the city.

Sunday, September 18, the Omaha club will visit Plattsmouth, at the invitation of the Plattsmouth cyclists. The Platte river will be crossed on the B. & M. railway bridge as usual.

Mr. George W. Howard; an active membe of the local wheel club, left last week to go into a wholesale business in St. Paul. The boys will mourn his loss, as will also the wheat fields between here and Blair.

Local consul Moulton, in an interview with a reporter last night, said that the trip to Blair to-day would be his last road trip He intends to give up road riding and go into training for the track. The 3:10 record

A meeting of the Nebraska division of the Leagne of American Wheelmen is soon to be called for the purpose of electing a secre-tary-treasurer for the state, that office having been vacant for some time. Don't all speak at once, boys.

The regular monthly meeting of the Who club, called for Tuesday evening of the wheel bring out a quorum, and they adjorned to meet Tuesday evening next. A number of names will be proposed for membership and a full attendance is desired.

The "club coon" was present in all

The "club coon" was present in all his glory Wednesday evening at the parade, his only regret being that he did not bring his wheel to ride in the procession. However, when refreshments were served at the club rooms he did his full share of the-work. In describing the illuminated parade of Wednesday evening, the tandem ridden by Messrs. Wheeler and Rieem, though not spoken of heretofore, deserves as much mention as any of the others. It was hand-somely decorated with Japanese ornaments and brilliantly lighted.

The band in the parade Wednesday even Ing has received many is score on account of the numerous breaks made during the parade. This may be easily accounted for by the fact. That the horses attached to the band wagon were forced into a trot almost all the time. rendering the reading of music well nigh impossible. The Council Binffs Ramblers, the Platts-mouth Cyclists, and the Omaha Wheel club leave this morning for a run to Blair. About forty wheelmen will be in line, and the run will be ridden for the fun there is in it, and no racing will be done. A number of the riders will return by wheel, the rest return-ing by rail. Mittauer is going; hasn't been there since June, yon know; and Jim Moulton has resurrected his Rudge, and will be there also. be there also.

THE HADDOCK CASE.

Important Testimony by Congress man Murphy and H. L. Leavitt.

SIOUX CITY, Ia., Sept. 10.-Nine witness were examined in behalf of the state in the Munchrath case to-day, The two most important witnesses were United States Disrict Attorney T. P. Murphy and H. L Leavitt. The latter testified that Munchrath was one of the most active members among the saloonkeepers who planned to assault and beat Haddock because of his conduct in the liquor prosecution, He testified further that Munchrath was watching for the return of Dr. Haddock to the livery stable, and that he himself and Munchrath stood within arms length of each other, while John Arensdorf walked out from the crowd lying in wait for Dr. Haddock, and shot him. Hon. T. P. Murphy testified that he wa riding home in a hack a few minutes befor the murder, and when within ons-hal block from where the murder occurred back was halled by Munchrath, who said Murphy: "This is not the hack I am lookin, for." Several other witnesses testified tha Munchrath was with the crowd who are al leged to have been present at the murder, and that just five minutes before the murder he was at Junk's saloou, from which the growd lett immediately on notice that Dr. Haddock's buggy had returned to the livery stable.

A County Treasurer Sulcides.

DECORAH, Ia., Sept. 10.- [Special Tele ram to the BEE. |-C. E. Meader, treasurer of Winneshiek county, was found dead in a grove near town at 3 o'clock this afternoon. The body was resting in a reclining position with a revolver in his right hand and one chamber empty. A bullet hole in the right temple showed the reason. He has been missing for thirty-six hours, but no anxiety was felt till this morning. Letters were found in his pocket to the board of super-visors, which have not yet been made public. His deputy asserts that his accounts are en-trely correct and his family relations were tirely correct and his family relations were the most loving,

A Deranged Man's Death.

FONDA, Ia., Sept. 10.- Special Telegram o the BEE.]-George Bartholomew, formerly a yonng man of this place, was killed by freight train a mile east of here his morning. His head was injured some time ago and his mind has been slightly deranged on religious toples. He had several times lately wandered off with a bible and hymn book tied with a wisp of hay and outran the fleetest men who pursued him. He did so yesterday and was brought back, then started in the night again and ran in front of an appoaching train and was killed before he could be caught.

McGarigle's Friends Indicted.

CHICAGO, Sept. 9,-Nine indictments were returned by the grand jury to-day against four persons alleged to have been abettors in McGarigle's escape. Dr. Leonard St. John, of the college of physicians and surgeons; Levi Dell, janitor of the same college; Captain John Irving, commander of the schooner Edward Blake, and Captain John Freer, commander of the schooner George A Marsh. There were two indictments brough arainst each for conspiracy to effect the escape of a prisoner, and for assisting the escape of a prisoner after conviction. The ninth charges St. John with perjury, and doubtless refers to his testimony before the July grand jury, when he is represented as danying any connection with the assessed denying any connection with the escape. Assistant State's Attorney Longenecker says a very strong circumstantial case has been made against the men.

A Battle With Train Robbers.

AUSTIN, Tex., Sept. 10. -Great excitement prevails here over a report from Mauchaca, a small village fifteen miles southwest of this city, that officers had overhauled and attacked a band of train robbers supposed to be the a band of train robbers supposed to be the same gang that perpetrated the McNeil and Flatonia train robberles several months ago. The local officers at Mauchaca attempted this afternoon to arrest the robbers, when the latter opened fire, wounding one of the officers. Two outlaws thus far have been fatally wounded. The fighting still con-tinues. Help has been asked for from this place and Sheriff Kyle and posse have just left for the scene of the conflict. Later information from Mauchaca, the scene of the tight this morning, is to the effect that one desperado was killed and two wounded. The band comprises several sup-wounded. The band comprises several sup-posed train robbers, who are completely sur-rounded. It is thought they will all be killed or captured within the next twenty-four hours.

Mysterious Cattle Disease,

CHICAGO, Sept. 10.-Blue Island, Ill., 1 creatly excited over a fatal disease which has been spreading among the cattle in that vicipity for the past few days. Several deaths have occurred and the symptons manifested are claimed to be similar to those of Texas fever. People who have investigated the matter claim that the disease was carried from the stock yards. Not long ago a man was engaged in hauling manure from the Union stock yards. This manure was dis-tributed around on land in Blue Island and it is thought the germs of the disease were transferred to the cattle nicking grass where transferred to the cattle picking grass where the manure was soread. A thorough exami nation of the afflicted cattle is to be made.

inclined to trade to some extent. Foreign operators were moderate purchasers on the upward turn in prices, but slackened their operations considerably during the latter part of the week. American securities were inmer in foreign markets early in the week, but closed easier again. Sales on the New York exchange for the week aggregated 1,556.000 shares. In speculative circles only a moderate business was transacted during the past week, lighter than during the week previous, and below the average of the season of the year. Local operators are not inclined to do much busi-ness and orders from outside parties were ness and orders from outside parties werd imited and mainly for special articles. The limited and mainly for special articles. The shipping demand was quite brisk, especially in corn, oats, lard and meats and holders were enabled to sell quite large quantities at satisfactory figures. Advices from for-eign markets were rather unfavorable to holders, as the crops in that quarter are re-ported good and the requirements from ex-porting countries are comparatively light. The balance of trade, however, is rather in favor of this country and gold is being im-port of the country and gold is being imported rather freely. Home markets have shown some activity, with arrivals of grain and live stock moderately free. Operators are very cautious in their movements and pursue a very conservative course, not trading in large lines on either side of the market. In the distributing districts merchants are dis-posed to enlarge their stocks to some extent at present prices, while heavy shippers are moving large quantities of grain to the sea-board markets to take advantage of the lake board markets to take advantage of the lake route at this season of the year. Stocks of grain are gradually increasing, while the supplies of provisions are being reduced quite rapidly. Packing operations in the west are progressing favorably, but the re-turns show a smaller number of hogs packed than reported last season to date. than reported last season to date.

MADE AN ASSIGNMENT.

An Event Which Has Created a Sent sation in St. Joseph.

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., Sept. 10.-[Special Telegram to the BEE.]-Business circles were agog vesterday over the report, by R. G. Dun & Co., that the firm of J. W. Dimmett & Co., wholesale dealers in teas and cigars, had made an assignment. The doors of the house had been closed for two days and a great deal of speculation was indulged in as to the probable cause. It was learned to-day that John B. Handley, of McKinney, Handley & Walker, had bought out the firm, assuming its liabilities, which are heavy. Virtually it was a failure caused by the fact that for some months the members of the form have been side and unable to attend to firm have been sick and unable to attend to the business. Mr. Handley is undecided as to whether he will sell the stock or open up anew.

The Lutheran General Council.

GREENVILLE, Pa., Sept. 10 .- In the Lutheran general council this morning the report of the committee for revising church services and form of marriage oeremony was adopted and form of marriage ceremony was adopted with an amendment. The subject of infant and adult bartism was disposed of in the atternoon. The church book committee re-ported that they had prepared a form of mar-riage as already acted on, and regretted they could not present the edition, which they had been authorized to present for temporary use. They reported that the text of common service had been completed for all three Eng-lish bodies and a corresponding text for Ger-man synods. All the bodies have agreed to man synods. All the bodies have agreed to unite in preparing a revised edition of the Augsberg confession and Luther's small catechism torgeneral use in all branches of the Lutheran church in America.

Southern Pacific Track Swept Away,

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 10.--Advices from Tucson, Ariz., are to the effect that a tremendous flood has swept away fully twenty miles of track of the Southern Pacific railway between Tucson and Benson. Full details of the disaster are not yet known, but officials of the Southern Pacific declare that it has caused an entire cessation of traffic over the southern route for at least two weeks. The disaster is the most serious of the kind in he history of the road.
