CETTING UNDER HEADWAY.

To-day Everything Will Be Running Smoothly at the State Fair.

SOMETHING ABOUT THE SHOW.

Dr. Dogge's Stuffed Animals and Manakins-"Queen Broom Corn"-Custer County's Magnificent Display-Notes and Personals.

[FROM THE BEE'S LINCOLN BUREAU.] Although the weather for two days had been detrimental to the fair entries, all the clerks were kept busy during Sunday and until after midnight getting ready, and even yesterday morning the jam at the secretary's office was immense. The day opened up bright and clear, with hundreds still applying for space. Before to-night everything will be in smooth running order, so that those attending Tuesday will see the greatest fair in the United States under full headway.

Those in trouble about entering should apply to Willian R. Bowen, superintendent, or Robert E. Treusch, head gatekeeper. Those who desire return cars for their goods or stock or anything regarding freight or drayage should apply to O. M. Druse, superintendent of transportation, who can be found at the entrance gate. Any who are in trouble about matters on the ground should apply to chief of police, J. H. Hamilton, or John Afferbach, assistant.

On Saturday night a little difference sprung up between the managers and J. C. Bonnell, superintendent of Art hall, and Mr. Bonnell immediately resigned and Major Hastings was given his old place much to the satisfaction of exhibitors. He having just returned from a visit to the east is in good conditon and ready to wait upon a demanding publicat any time dur-ing the twenty-four hours in the day, and says that everybody will be made happy by giving them plenty of room even if he has to double up some other exhibitor.

Among the many fine exhibits in Art, Hall perhaps the most attractive from its peculiar collection is that of Dr. Dogge, consisting of stuffed birds and animals, skeletons of human beings and manakins consisting of several hundred kinds. In addition he shows some elegant varieties addition he shows some elegant varieties of imported smokers' goods consisting of the finest variety of pipes ever shown in this state. This collection alone would require a whole day's study.

The Frazier Bros., have added a line to Nebraska's motto "Corn is King," by saying "Broom Corn is Queen" and make a magnificent display of their goods. Other exhibits of special merit are here displayed which will be mentioned before the week closes. the week closes.
In Agricultural hall the exhibit far surpasses that of any previous year either in quality or quantity. Among the twenty-six counties exhibiting products none deserve more attention than Custer county, which is in charge of J. L. H. Knights, secretary of the county agricultural society. At the present writing they have by odds the largest single exhibit in the hall; in grain they show seventeen varieties of wheat, twelve varieties of oats, three varieties of rye, two varieties of barley, upward of twenty varieties of corn, besides flour, cornmeal and graham made from Mills in their county. In grasses they have Hungarian millet, six varieties of tame grasses and eighteen kinds of native grasses: vegetables in endless variety of immense size and choice kinds, some grown on sod. Their show of onions, beets, potatoes, cabbage and melons eclipses all previous county exhibits. They also show some very fine brick made in Broken Bow, the county seat. This county bears the reputation of being one of the finest counties in the state as well as one of the largest. It ing homes in this fair state, to examine this exhibit and learn of the benefits in this grand county.

THE POULTRY EXHIBIT. The poultry building is nicely arranged for their purpose and is well tilled. There are over forty varieties of fowls making more than 700 individual birds. There are 230 entries. This shows an increase are 230 entries. This shows an increase of 50 per cent in numbers over last year and the difference in quality is beyond all comparison. Several chickens are on exhibition costing over $100 dollars. Among the prominent exhibitors in this line are J. H. Nancy & Co., of Crete, who show a nice lot of pets; S. S. Barton, of Bine Hill, and P. J. Osterman, of Wisner; although this is Mr. Osterman's first visit to the State fair, he is in no wise in the rear of the procession, having taken the rear of the procession, having taken great pains in breeding and shows some line fowls in Orange Buff Cochins, Standfine fowls in Orange Buff Cochins, Standard Light and White Brahmas, White Cochins and Flymouth Rocks; he is very much interested in the work and takes pains to present the prominent points.

STOPPED BY THE SHERIFF.

Last year Stewart, Chute & Co., a lumber firm then doing business in Lincoln, built a building in which to exhibit, and as the building was not being used by their assigns this year the board gave Miss A. Farnsworth and Mrs. Van Alstyne the privilege of using it as an annex to the Art halls. A miserable wretch named Young, claiming to represent the named Young, claiming to represent the lumber company of Chicago, wanted to receive an extortionate rent for and because the board or ladies refused to pay he proceeded to tear down the building, but was soon taken in by Sheriff Hamilton, when he made threats that his company would burn every building on the grounds. The ladies now have the building filled with over one hundred handsome oil paintings and charcoal drawings.

THE HORSE EXHIBIT.

The horse exhibit is beyond all anticipation, and indeed the secretary was forced to telegraph some parties who were coming not to do so, as the entire possible space was occupied.

Where Quicksilver Comes From, Jewelry News: Most of the quicksilver mined comes from Spain and California. It has been extensively mined in the last named place. The mine of this metal at New Almaden, Cal., having been worked previous to the gold excitement. All the workable deposits of Cinnabar thus far known to exist are situated in the coast ranges, and they are chiefly limited to the metamorphic cretaceous group of rocks, in which they are associated with serpentine, imperfect jaspar, hornstone and chalcedony. By far the most im-portant mines are those at New Almaden, a few miles west of San Jose. These produced, in their palmy days, during the years 1853 to 1857 and 1861 to 1869 from 2,500,000 to 3,500,000 pounds of quicksilver per annum. In 1870 the production had fallen off to 1,000,000 pounds. The total production of the New Almaden mines between 1850 and 1870 was a little over 40,000,000 pounds. The New Idra mine is in Monterey county, about ninety miles south of New Almaden. This has been, for some years, a quick silver pro-ducing locality of considerable importance. Cinnabar also occurs in considerable quantity at numerous places north of the Bay of San Francisco, in Napa and Lake counties. The most important mine in this region is the Redington, near Knoxville, in Lake county. The export of this metal from California was. in former years, very large, reaching in 1868 the amount of 44.506 flasks, or 5,350 flasks, although the production for that year was estimated at 28,600 flasks, of which 12,000 were the product of the New Almaden mine, 7,600 of the New Idra and of the remainder about one-half was from Redington and the rest from
