Laying the Corner Stone.

On Saturday at 2 o'clock p. m. the corner stone of the new hall of Goodrich lodge, No. 144, I.O. O. F., will be laid with the imposing ceremonies of the order. The affair will be under the auspices of the Grand lodge of the state, and the officers of that body will be present.

Rev. Charles W. Savidge will deliver the address and the arrangements are complete for a most excellent programme. At one o'clock the procession will form at Odd Fellows hall, corner Fourteenth and Dodge streets, and under the will form at Odd Fellows hall, corner Fourteenth and Dodge streets, and under the marshalship of E. L. Armstrong and J. P. West will proceed to the site of the new editice, on Saunders and Hamilton streets, where the services will take place. The committee in charge invites all members of the order to participate in the exercises.

Goodrich lodge is one of the youngest lodges in the state, and took its name in honor of John Goodrich, a former grand master of Nebraska, and one who did much for the order in its earlier days in the west. When completed the hall will be one of which the city as well as the order may be proud. In size it will be 66x86 and a manner. The entire byilding will be heated by steam and when completed will have cost $50,000, nearly $30,000 of which is now in the lodge treasury. The interior furnishings of the lodge room will cost $5,000. The floor will be covered by a Bruscols carnet woven with covered by a Bruscels carpet woven with the emblems of the order. To both the lodge room and public hall there will be convenient outer and ante rooms fitted up in a comfortable style, and throughout the entire editice will be arranged for the comfort and convenience of all who may have occasion to visit it.

The ground floor will be divided into three store rooms each 22x80; the second floor will be fitted up as a public hall 62x 64, and the third floor will be the room of the lodge, in size 60x42, with sixteen foot ceiling and fitted up in an elegant manner.

THE COURTS.

What Was Done Before the Judges To-Day.

Lee Estelle has commenced an action against Herbert T. Noble for $1,000 fees, as attorney. This is one-tifth of a settlenent made with the Fremont, Elkhorn & Missouri Valley railroad for damages. The defendant, Noble, was injured on the road.

The First Congregational church of Omaha made application to the district court for permission to mortgage its property, to wit: lots 5 and 6 in block 54. It is alleged that the congregation is engaged in the erection of a church build-ing and desire $30,000 to be applied for such purposes. The application was granted by Judge Hopewell PROSPECTING ABANDONED. Workmen are engaged in withdrawing Workmen are engaged in withdrawing the tubing from the prospecting shaft in the pump house at the stock yards. The drill had reached a depth of 800 feet without finding anything in the way of coal or gas and it was considered useless to go any deeper. When the shaft was begun it was intended to utilize it in the end as an artesian well to increase the water supply but since the increase the water supply but since the purchase of the South Omaha water-works by the Omaha company, it will not be required for that purpose. As soon as the waterworks company can lay their mains, to the stand pipe at South Omaha the tube wells, five in number, put down during the first year at a cost of several thousand dollars, will also be abandoned. The two large boilers used in supplying power to operate the pumps, together with the pump house, will be removed.

evening's BEE was an order from the chief of police in relation to special policemen and I think it is not only an injustice but a misrepresentation of the majority of the special policemen of this city. I do not wish to criticise the motive that compelled Chief Seavey to issue this order, but I think it is a wrong thing for our chief to make police judges out of the men composing the regular force. For six years I have been a special policeman in the employ of F. W. Gray and George A. Hoagland. My first and only duty has been the care of the property intrusted to my keeping by my employers, but while doing my duty by them I have never forgotten my sworn duty to this city and county. A man who is ad-dicted to drink or who visits saloons for any other purpose excepting the per-formance of his duty, is not fit to perform the duties of a policeman, in fact is not fit for any position of trust whatever, but I think it is an injustice and a wrong done to majority of the special policemen of this city to make this charge against them, as the majority of them are men of families, and honest, sober and temperate in their habits. I was waited on personally by Chief Seavey and Captain Cormick, and requested by them to send in all tramps found on the premises over which I have charge, and they promised to send the patrol wagon to me at any time that I should call for it, which prom-ise they have faithfully kent up to date time that I should call for it, which prom-ise they have faithfully kept up to date. While having the greatest of respect and confidence in our chief and his assis-tants, I will say that 1 will from this day forward until this order is revoked make no arrests, except 1 find any person interfering with the property intrusted to my charge, and I will in no case turn my prisoner over to any other policeman until I place him in the hands of the jailor myself, and if 1 get into any trouble for a violation of orders my em-ployers will see me through with it. WILLIAM MULHALL.

HOG CHOLERA. Can it be Prevented by Inoculation?-A Test Should be Made.

To the Editor of the Omaha BEE: In the report of the live stock sanitary commission and the state veterinarian to the governor of Nebraska, December 1, 1886, it was stated that until the benefits to be derived from inoculation had been thoroughly tested, it would be absolutely necessary to resort to the stamping out process, quarantine regulations, disinlections, etc.

About that time Dr. Frank Billings was conducting a series of extensive inoculation experiments at the State university. The objects of the experiments were to find, or rather prepare a vaccine that would prove beneficial in checking the ravages of hog cholers. The live stock sanitary commission was hopeful that Dr. Billings would in time give us a practical remedy that could be applied in the field for the benefit of the swinebreeders of Nebraska and sincerely appreciated the effort of the university authorities to find a remedy that would tend to render less severe the annual losses sustained from hog cholera.

According to statements published from time to time in the Nebraska State Journal by Dr. Billings, our hopes have been more than realized, for he says in Journal of January 20, 1887, "Under the auspices of the state univer-sity, I had been successful in demonstrating that this disease can be absolutely prevented by means of artificial inocuation, and we are prepared to make any test that may be desired with the small number of hogs at our command. * * * As it is, we have sufficiently de-monstrated the fact that vaccine prevention is practicable and possible, as we have done it in a large number of hogs-for the tests have been far more severe than could possibly occur to hogs in any infection in a natural condition."

January 22, 1887, in the same paper, he makes the following statement: "All we now need, is the means to make one grand test experiment, which 1 propose to do as soon as the funds you have so kindly asked for, are at our disposal." "I shall then request a commutee of the board of agriculture to watch the ex-periment and shall inoculate one hun-dred pigs in different amounts and then place an equal number of diseased hogs among them and some fifty healthy ones, and am contident that I shall be able to previously name the hogs that will with stand infection on such exposure. On February 9, 1887, he states in the Journal: "Hog cholera is preventable both by a vaccine and by veterinary po-lice regulations." "With regard to vaccine, that work will also be completed the present sum-mer if the state supplies the means, etc." Now, if Dr. Billings had achieved the success that he claims, he is entitled, not only to the gratitude of the people of the west, but of the whole country.

At present, nothing remains to be done, excepting to make the experiments suggested by Dr. Billings, under the super vision of a committee appointed by the state board of agriculture. This commit-tee, it might be mentioned, should consist of experts only. The board of regents made a very gen-erous appropriation for the doctor's use in the month of April, setting aside $5,000 for experimental purposes in addition to $2,225 for apparatuses and labratory equipments. The weather is favorable at present, and will probable continue so for a few months, and as Dr. Billings has had ample time and means at his disposal to prepare for the test experiment suggested by himself last winter, we know of no reason why the experiment should not be made at once. Dr. Salmon, chief of the United States bureau of Animal Industry, of Washing-ton, D. C., has kindly consented to send out a government expert to witness the nt and our

MENS' UNDERWEAR

The time for neavy underclothing is at hand and we are prepared supply the whole city with these garments. We are large buyers which means low prices. We buy these goods direct from mills and commission houses-pay no jobbers profits and we guarantee to save you from 25 to 50 per cent, and on the finer grades even more. Our assortment comprises over 50 different qualities, among the leading styles of which we recommend an excellent all wool scarlet shirt and drawers at 50c, and a splendid camel's hair regular made at 55c apiece. Elther one is sold by other houses for double the money. We also carry a large line of California flannel underwear, and particularly mention one we sell at one dollar as being a better shirt than you buy elsewhere for $1.50.

Our line of cassimere shirts, winter hosiery, gloves and other furnishings is equally large and prices throughout very low.

Our hat department is a great success. We venture to say that we are selling more hat than any exclusive hat house. And why shouldn't we?. It will not surprise you whe you compare our prices with those of others. An elegant fur derby of the latest block for $1. Just one-half what others charge for same quality.

For rainy days we call attention to our large stock of rubber clothing and umbrellas, al of which we sell at less than wholesale prices.
