MINOR MENTION.

Reiter, tailor. Fall goods cheap.

The Western Iowa college opened its evening department last night.

Ladies, see combined writing desk and sewing machine. Domestic office, 105 Main street.

Edmonson & Hart are having their office on Main street refloored and fixed up generally.

It is stated that the Union Pacific wagon bridge will be open to travel in another fortnight.

A marriage license was issued yesterday to James Leonard and Mary E Thomas, both of this city.

The dirt tramway for grading the streets will soon be in active operation, the rails being already on the ground.

For the past day or two every other man on the street has been a collector. Fortunate indeed was the man who could go a block without having three or four little reminders shoved under his nose.

The fixtures of the St. Louis house saloon were sold yesterday to satisfy the claims of Mr. Neumayer, who held a mortgage on the same. Adolph Doerflinger, the proprietor, is at present in Dakota.

The eleventh annual Sunday school convention of this county is to be held in the Presbyterian church, of Walnut, commencing to-morrow. It is desired that every school in the county should have a representative present.

Judge Aylesworth has commenced a suit against the city to force the payment of warrants received by him for his salary, and which amounts to $1,600, with interest. Marshall Guanella has commenced a like suit, his claim being $1,064.

The committee in charge of the meeting Tuesday evening, Oct. 4, at the Presbyterian church, anticipate a surprise to the audience in addition to the interest that all have in the furtherance of the proposed chautauqua assembly. Come and bring your friends and all do your part and success is assured.

Judge Deemer presided yesterday in the district court, which now holds its sessions in the superior court room in order to accommodate the United States court, which meets in the Masonic temple. There were some small civil cases heard yesterday. The trial of criminal cases will begin next Monday.

The hearing in the case of John T. Stewart against the telephone company to make his injunction secured four years ago permanent, was had last evening before Judge Deemer, who took it under advisement. There were a number of the telephone officials from Omaha present, and the points in controversy were hotly argued by able attorneys.

At this term of the district court two frail women, Anna Wood and Martha Stonestreet, were tried for being inmates of the notorious nouse run by the colored "Texas," who with his wife were sentenced to the penitentiary as the keepers. These two women were also found guilty, but their sentence had not been pronounced. A motion was filed in arrest of judgment, and the point raised was that they should not have been jointly indicted, their offenses being separate and entirely distinct. It seemed that this point was so well taken that rather than contest it an arrangement was made by which the two women were released from jail on their own recognizance. This practically set them free, and they will doubtless improve the opportunity to put distance between themselves and the city.

Personal Paragraphs.

Mrs. Judge James left for Chicago yesterday.

Dr. Cook leaves for Sioux City this morning.

M. F. Rohrer left for Avalon, Mo., yesterday afternoon, to join his family, who are there visiting.

J. S. Blanchard, Pat Lacy and Mrs. Lewis Hammer were among the number who left for St. Louis yesterday.

Mrs. J. C. Mitchell and son Harry left last night, over the Milwaukee, for a week's visit with her brother at Marion, Iowa.

Mrs. J. Chase, of Weeping Water, Neb., arrived in this city Sunday morning for a few days' visit with her parents, Squire and Mrs. Barnett, on South First street.

D. Holst, of the Kiel hotel, went to Omaha yesterday for the first time in two years. Superintendent Carter, of the county court house, served as guide. The opening of the new board of trade building was the drawing attraction.

Uncle Billy Garner, as he is familiarly known, was in the city yesterday. He is one of the pioneers of this county and his many friends are glad to know that in his six years wrestle with the rheumatism he appears to be now gaining the victory. He has been an intense sufferer.

T. H. Knotts, a Council Bluffs boy, has returned from the mines in Mexico in which his father, Rev. Joseph Knotts, is so largely interested, and has settled down in Des Moines where he has purchased a controlling interest in the Iowa Printing company which succeeds Mills & Co. He spent Sunday in this city with his old friends.

Among yesterday's arrivals at the Ogden house were: H. W. Perrigo and E. C. Tulley, Kansas City; J. S. Wood, Burlington; L. A. Garner, Des Moines, and J. A. Hulbert, Fontanelle. At the Bechtele: Charles Larson, Malvern, and John P. Organ, Neola. At the Pacific house: O. Himebaugh, Des Moines; M. J. Collins, Pittsburg; C. F. Throok, Chicago; W. L. Baughn and W. J. Davis, Harlan.

The monthly report of the city clerk's office shows the receipts to have been $904.30. Of this amount the marshal's fees were $103; licenses, $426.50; city criminal cases, $313.25. The burial and building permits were a tie—$10.50 received for each.

COUNCIL BLUFFS CONCERNS,

An Attorney Indicted For Sending Indecent Letters To His Divorced Wife.

TROUBLE WITH TAX TITLES.

Money Raised For a Widow's Relief Said To Have Been Pocketed By the Solicitors—City Officers' Reports.

Uncle Sam and Justice.

In the federal court the case of Poole against the Union Pacific railway company will have to be tried again, the jury having failed to agree. It is understood that the vote stood six to six. This was a case in which the plaintiff sought to recover damages for the death of her brother, who was killed while coupling cars in the yards in this city.

In an attachment suit of Bell vs. Laners, which was being argued yesterday, one of the points involved was whether a note signed on Sunday was binding or not. Judge McDill and Major Lyman were the contesting attorneys. Judge Love instructed the jury that under the Nebraska law, the note being given in that state, the fact of it being given on Sunday did not invalidate it.

The case of Slyter vs. the American Express company is now on trial. He seeks damages on account of an accident on one of the wagons, whereby he had a leg broken.

The grand jury returned several indictments. One was against Roger Sittimo, the Italian arrested some time ago for passing counterfeit dollars. He was arraigned and pleaded not guilty.

An indictment was returned against C. H. Converse, an attorney at Oakland, Ia. Converse was recently divorced from his wife, and she claims that since then he has been doing all in his power to break down her reputation, and annoy her in various ways. It is said that he wrote several anonymous and obscene letters, and sent them through the mails. Several witnesses claim that the handwriting is that of Converse, although a disguise is attempted. The accused denies this, and has given bond for his appearance in the sum of $500 to answer the charge.

An indictment has been found against A. S. Crawford, a postal clerk, who was arrested some months ago for stealing registered packages from the pouch at the transfer.

A. J. Pattee, of Harlan, was indicted for violating the revenue law. M. Enfield had a like charge found against him.

Judge Shiras has gone to Sioux City, leaving Judge Love to preside alone here.

A Cold World.

The accident at the clay bank the other day, by which a laborer named Martin lost his life, seems to have been used by some designing fellows as an excuse for playing upon the sympathies of the public. It is said that two men went about collecting money of kind hearted citizens under the pretense that it was to be used in relieving the need of the family and paying the expense of burial. Mrs. Martin was handed $3 and informed that the bill at the undertaker's had been paid out of the amount thus raised. Yesterday she discovered that such was not the case, but that the undertakers had been informed that she had left the city and would send him the amount of his bill from some place in the east. From all she could learn she was well satisfied that about $100 had been raised for her benefit and that it had been gobbled up, she getting no benefit from it. If any such dastardly trick has been played upon the charitably inclined the fellows who got the money should be hunted up and severely dealt with.

A Question of Tax Titles.

Judge Aylesworth had an important and interesting question before him yesterday, which involved directly only the title to one lot in the city, but indirectly involves a great many tax titles. The case was one in which the plaintiff seeks to have the tax title set aside. The ground of the claim is that there was a fatal defect in the manner of effecting the sale. Under the law, as construed by the plaintiff, the delinquent taxes should be carried on the treasurer's books in a separate column, with the amounts opposite each lot, whereas, in fact, they are kept in a separate book entirely. If the manner of keeping the delinquent tax list is contrary to the requirements of the law, as claimed, and this is sufficient to break the tax titles based thereon, there will be a general commotion, as there are many such titles afloat. There seems to be a good deal to the question as presented and the judge will this morning deliver his opinion.

Street Bonfires.

There has been such a free use of the paved streets for various purposes not allowable in any well regulated city that the council recently passed an ordinance making certain acts misdemeanors. One of these is the building of bonfires. The first complaint under this ordinance was filed yesterday. Some of the employes of the Boston Tea company had been burning some rubbish right on the block paving of Pearl street. The proprietors of that store, Messrs. Richmond Bros., were consequently called into court. They pleaded ignorance, and in view of its being the first case Judge Aylesworth allowed it to be dismissed on their paying the costs. The lightest fine is $5.

The City Council.

Only four members were present last evening, Aldermen Lacy and Wells being in St. Louis. The evening was spent mostly in allowing bills. Mayor Groneweg presented a lengthy communication urging the council to take some action to secure a more just assessment for sewers. This was referred to the finance committee, city engineer and city attorney, together with the special assessment resolution for the Fifth avenue sewer, and the protest against the assessment, signed by thirty-three citizens. It seems that if there is any legal way of relieving the property owners for the undue burden the council will adopt it.

One thousand head of one, two and three-year-old steers for sale. Will give credit to reliable parties. Enquire of A. J. Greenamayer, 623 Mynster st., tele-211.

Another Labor Organization.

The Council Bluffs Local league of the Universal Library league will hold a meeting this evening at the Grand Army hall at 8 o'clock, at which important business, including installation of officers, will be transacted. The U. L. L. is a new organization in this city, which combines an excellent system of mutual life insurance, an organized agitation for pure literature and opposition to all trashy or dangerous writings. Here the work is confined to the K. of L., who are, many of them, members, and are very much interested. The plan of work is to provide for thorough courses of reading by the members, who are divided into classes for that purpose, and to furnish books, stationery, and supplies to members at the lowest wholesale prices, on the co-operative plan. All Knights of Labor are invited to avail themselves of this help to special study, and of the benefit of life insurance. The attendance of all members is earnestly desired.

By the Order of the President.

The Work of the Police.

The police report for the past month shows 161 arrests, classified as follows:

Peddling without license	2
Indecent exposure	2

Obtaining money under false pretenses	1

The patrol wagon was required for eighty-six cases, and there was one false call rung in during the month.

Harrison County's Fair.

MISSOURI VALLEY, Oct. 3.—The twenty-ninth annual meeting of the Harrison County Agricultural association opened this morning with the most prosperous prospects of a successful exhibition, unexampled in the history of previous fairs in this county. Stock is being placed on exhibition of a much finer quality than in the past.

Some of the finest specimens of Hereford, Polled Angus, Ayrshire, Holstein, Devon and Jersey are presented to the admiring gaze of the public, besides many other herds of beauty and profit of less celebrity.

The races will attract much attention, as the fleetest stud of horses ever congregated in Harrison county are on the ground, ready to sustain if not surpass their former records. With passable weather this insures very many interesting races during the fair.

Floral hall, which was erected this year at great expense to the association, assisted by liberal contributions from the citizens, is a substantial work of beauty and symmetry. It is 100 feet long by 30 feet in width, and modeled after the Centennial main building, having seventy windows above through which the sunbeams are thrown upon the artistic decorations, making more beautiful the handiwork of the ladies, which shows their delicate taste and the commendable interest they have taken in the enterprise.

Heretofore our city has been invaded by professional fakirs to fleece the verdent youth, but happily, the present city authorities have decided to sit down upon this most despicable method of robbery and the law in such cases of violation, it is assured, will be fully enforced.

The city seems to be inspired with life and enthusiasm with the present prospects of another successful exhibit of industry and art. Seemingly there is a pleasant rivalry among the officers of the association, each vieing with the other to completely fill his station. E. F. James, superintendent of grounds, has given much of his time and attention in the discharge of his important duties and is entitled to the praise of the public-spirited people of this county.

It should also be stated that A. B. Hosbrook, secretary of the association, who has held that office for a number of years, has shown much ability, manifested a great deal of interest, and spent much time to the sacrifice of his personal convenience in performing his arduous labors, and is considered an invaluable factor in perfecting the arrangements of this meeting, and his services are highly and justly so appreciated.

DOBBS.

The Elite of the Valley.

MISSOURI VALLEY, Oct. 3.—The most recherche social event that has ever transpired here was the reception given last Saturday evening at the palatial home of Captain J. D. Ainsworth, the genial and whole-souled engineer-in-chief of the Sioux City & Pacific and Freemont, Elkhorn & Missouri Valley road.

The very estimable and warm-hearted Mrs. Ainsworth assisted by Mrs. Buchanon, wife of General P. A. Buchanon, entertained quite a large number of the elite from 8 to 11. Mrs. Ainsworth wore an elegant white satin, while Mrs. Buchanon's dress was a beautiful heliotrope silk made en-traine.

The gentlemen were all in full evening dress and the ladies in full toilette. Noticable among the guests' toilettes were those of Mrs. Dr. McGavren, Mrs. W. M. Corlish, and Miss Harris of Lonesville, Wis. There were so many handsome costumes, however, that they cannot all be done justice in a short report as this must necessarily be. Suffice it to say that Saturday evening, October 1, 1887, will always be a date in the history of our city to serve as a land-mark, an oasis as it were in the lethargic, desert-like social stupor into which we have allowed ourselves to fall, to a certain degree.

Ask H. J. Palmer for some of those chestnuts which you can eat in the dark.

Before His Honor.

The police court grist was ground yesterday morning in short order by Judge Aylesworth. Six drunks were the only cases on the docket, and all pleaded guilty. John Dennison, Pat Cummings, Michael Sullivan and Harry Watson were each fined $8.10; C. Munger, $4.60, and Frank Cooper $7.60. With the exception of Munger, all were "broke," and will board it out at the city's expense. Hattie Nolen, W. P. Larsen and Harry Wink each deposited $7.60 yesterday for imbibing too freely, and were released.

A STATUE OF WASHINGTON.

Description of the Bronze Figure Which Congress Has Ordered.

William Rudolf O'Donovan's bronze statue of Washington, on which he has been to work for nearly a year, is finished, and is now on exhibition to a few privileged persons at the foundry of M. F. Power, in East Twenty-fifth street. Next week it will be sent to Newburg, on the Hudson. There it will be placed in the rotunda of a square primitive looking graystone tower.

The bronze tablet, with its figures of peace in relief, which is to be fastened to the outer walls of the tower, bears this explanatory inscription: "This monument was erected under the authority of the congress of the United States and of the state of New York, in commemoration of the disbandment, under proclamation of the constitutional congress of October 18, 1783, of the armies, by whose patriotic and military virtue our national independence and sovereignty was established."

Mr. O'Donovan's statue stands six feet and two inches high. The head is small, the neck strong, the shoulders narrow, the hips broad and the hands and feet large. The head is modelled from the life cast by Houdon, the French sculptor, who was engaged by Franklin to make the life statue of Washington now standing in the state capitol of Virginia. Mr. O'Donovan has represented Washington in the act of sheathing his sword. The expression of the face is pleasant, the figure stands erect, with the shoulders thrown well back. The whole effect is that of a man of spirit and of force. The dress is the regular continental uniform the coat opened, showing the waistcoat, the breeches buttoned at the knee and met by top boots, heavily spurred.

The statue weighs about 1,000 pounds. Its cost is $10,000. The monument, including the tower, will cost $35,000. There will be no dedicatory ceremony, the appropriation for the monument having already been exhausted.
