PLAN OF FIVE ROOM COTTAGE

The accompanying cut shows the elevation and ground floor plans of cottages now being built in

Albright's Choice,

South Omaha, for the benefit of persons of limited means who desire to secure COMFORTABLE HOMES ON REASONABLE TERMS, within easy access of the city. The very favorable hourly train service between Albright Station and the city, for eighteen hours daily, makes this the most desirable location for suburban residences near Omaha. A number of these cottages are now completed and ready for sale on such EASY TERMS that no one can afford to be without a home. Should the plan shown here not be suitable in size or arrangement, we have others to show, and will make every reasonable effort to suit purchasers.

THE OMAHA CARRIAGE AND SLEIGH CO, have located their extensive manufactory on Albright's Choice, and will give employment to 150 men. The proprietors of a large flouring mill, with capacity from 50 to 200 barrels per day have selected the Choice as their location. The building is now under roof, and the mill will be completed and in operation within the next sixty days.

A large two story hotel has just been completed, and is now running. Fifty neat and substantial cottages have been built on the Choice and the indications are that 50 more will be completed within the next 60 days. But this is not all. The vast industrial enterprises being so rapidly located in South Omaha will soon cover all of the city proper. Even now lots for residence purposes are beyond the reach of the wage-worker and Albright's Choice is the only available building site within easy reach of the business centers. Go and look it over before deciding where to invest.

SAD NEWS FOR THE PYTHIANS.

President Cleveland is Not a Member of the Order.

AN UNFORTUNATE MISTAKE.

A Letter From R. B. Davenport, K. of K. and S. of Eagle Lodge No. 69, Buffalo, N. Y.—Colonel Lamont's Message.

Some time ago it was announced that President Cleveland was a member of the order of Knights of Pythias. This announcement was hailed with delight by the many enthusiastic young knights in this city, and that was considered a happy streak of luck which made the visit of the president to Omaha simultaneous with the convention of the grand lodge in this city.

The preparations, already extensive, for the encampment of the uniformed rank and attendant exercises of the grand lodge were made more thorough and imposing in order that the gallant knights of Nebraska might appear to good advantage before their distinguished and illustrious brother. In all things liberal, the members of the order announced that they were not disposed to be the least bit selfish in the distribution of the honors of the occasion, and generously yielded to those not members of the order the perfect right to join in the reception to "Brother" Cleveland and pay to his excellency all the honors due from a loyal constituency. The citizens' committee fully appreciated the ties that bind members of secret organizations, and graciously conceded the conspicuous part in the arrangements to the order of which Mr. Cleveland was supposed to be an honored member. As is well known the arrangements for the reception have been carried out most harmoniously and everything is complete for a proper greeting to the chief magistrate.

Desiring of according to "Knights" Cleveland a fitting welcome, for one occupying his position in the lodge as well as the land, the Knights have been stimulated to renewed efforts at excellence; the tardy members who had for some time absented themselves from drill and lodge meeting suddenly developed a wonderful and renewed interest in the welfare of the order; the "bright and older" members received frequent and kindly visits from the "rusty" ones for the purpose of furnishing the latter a knowledge of the secret work; visions of fraternal and individual recognition with the presidential brother have lighted up the lives of many a young and enthusiastic Pythian, and the anticipation with which the entire membership of this young and progressive order has awaited the coming of October 12, has been unfeignedly to note, sources the personal feelings of Mr. Cleveland is perhaps well as an unfortunate mistake should be corrected, it would certainly be gratifying to the members of the order to be met by demonstrations which would be as novel to him as the resignation of a democratic office-holder.

It will be a surprise to the Pythians of this city and the regret of the many friends of the order to learn that beyond being the chief magistrate of the nation, Grover Cleveland is but a thoughtful civilian, and never at any time a member of the order of Knights of Pythias.

Just how the report of the president's knighthood became current is not known; it, however, seems to have emanated from a source the authority of which no one thought to question.

Relying upon the correctness of this report the knights have made their preparations accordingly, and it will be a severe disappointment to them to learn of the error. The BEE has been to some trouble to learn the truth of the matter, and among others has received the following letter:

FROM BUFFALO. In answer to your request of September 30, would say that Mr. Cleveland never joined the K. of P. in Buffalo. Some of his former friends are members of Eagle No. 69. Persons who were former members of Acme (not in existence now) say that he never was a member of that lodge. I have made enquiries and examined records of the four other lodges, and his name does not appear. Yours respectfully, R. B. DAVENPORT, K. of K. and S. of Eagle Lodge No. 69, K. of P., Buffalo, N. Y.

A CLINCHER. Upon the receipt of this letter the BEE sent to Colonel D. S. Lamont, the president's private secretary, a telegram in substance as follows: "Is President Cleveland a Knight of Pythias? Was he ever a member of the order?" The following laconic dispatch, which sets all doubt at rest, is the reply received: MADISON, Wis., Oct. 7. To the Omaha BEE: No. DAN'S S. LAMONT.

This disappointment will of course not affect the Pythian display on the 12th. The reception by its members will be as hearty as if he were a brother knight, and the splendid appearance of the gallant order will nevertheless be to the distinguished visitor one of the most pleasing features of the occasion.

THE PRESIDENT'S DAY.

Preparations Being Made for a Grand and Imposing Celebration.

General Wheaton, chief marshal of the Cleveland reception parade, was at the board of trade rooms yesterday afternoon, and received reports from organizations that will participate. As far as known, the only bodies which will take part in the exercises are the Second regiment of United States Infantry, from the fort, the First and Second regiments K. of P. a division of the same from Red Oak la., the Omaha Turnverein, the Platts-Deutscher Verein and the Indian band from the national school at Genoa, in this state. Other societies desirous of taking part in the reception are requested to notify General Wheaton as soon as possible. The general said that it was not the intention to have a procession in which the president would take part, but rather to form lines on either side of the streets between which the presidential party could be driven. After the message of the latter, however, if it were decided upon favorably by the other societies, they could parade with the Second Infantry and the Knights of Pythias who propose to follow a certain line of march.

There not being as yet a sufficient number of reports to warrant an issue of a detailed order, the following plan was drafted for the location of troops, societies and clubs: Regiments will be formed on Tenth street, right resting on Jackson street; uniformed Knights of Pythias on left, connecting with regulars, extending the line to the left along Tenth street to Harney street, east on Harney street to Ninth, north on Ninth to Farnam, west on Farnam to Sixteenth, and north on Sixteenth to Cumine and west on Cumine street. Civic associations, clubs, societies, etc., will be assigned to positions in the line whenever they report. They will be formed on Douglas and Harney streets, between Fifteenth and Eleventh streets; on Dodge, between Fifteenth and Sixteenth; on Eleventh, between Harney and Douglas; and on Fifteenth, between Harney and Dodge streets, along the route to be taken by the president. All to be in position by 6 o'clock a. m., on Wednesday the 12th of October.

Yesterday a gentleman in conversation with a BEE reporter said it would be utterly impossible to march the line beyond the route laid out within one hour. He showed that the line before it reached Cumine street was nearly forty blocks long, or more than three miles, while the line beyond that point was once and a half as long. It would be impracticable to rush the presidential party over such a line in such a time.

It is believed that this arrangement will give all the children time to see the president and his party, and the occasion gives an excellent opportunity for valuable instruction which should be improved. The line of march will be given in the papers. Respectfully, H. M. JAMES.

THE SATURDAY HALF-HOLIDAY.

NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—Between three and four thousand brass workers of this city and Brooklyn will today be out of employment. The manufacturers have decided to force the issue and see if the Saturday half-holiday matter cannot be settled. The men want a full day's pay for a half day's work, which their employers refuse to grant.

BIG TRING FOR THE BRIDGE.

President Cleveland Will Inaugurate it on the 12th. An extra force is at work on the wagon portion of the Union Pacific bridge, so as to have the entire structure completed when President Cleveland arrives here on the 12th inst.

It is stated on good authority that he has been invited to the opening and has accepted. The programme is to have him and Mrs. Cleveland leave their train at the Transfer and take a carriage and they will be the first party that were ever transferred across the Missouri river on a wagon bridge at this point. A long procession of carriages will follow, containing prominent Omaha citizens and invited guests, the bridge will be gaily decorated, the passage of trains will be stopped and there will be a grand time generally.

AMUSEMENTS.

A Review of the Last and a Prospect of the Coming Week.

The local amusement world of the past week has been comparatively uneventful. John Dillon held the boards at the Boyd on Monday night. He played to a packed house, the largest he ever appeared before in Omaha. Financially, the entertainment was a success, and though John created much laughter, it was evident that it was aroused only by efforts which age has compelled to supplant the spontaneity of his achievements of earlier years.

At the same place "Keep it Dark" rolled away, after three performances in the cloud of mingled financial success and dramatic failure. At the Grand, Zerega, who ever he may be, with his troubadours, played to a one-night appreciative audience. Zerega played the mandolin with much skill. He was the star of the company, though the mediocrity of the others was not so pronounced as to destroy the entertainment of the audience.

BOY'S OPERA HOUSE. The well-known Hanlon brothers will produce their farcical absurdity "Le Voyage en Suisse" at this house, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday evening of this week. It is their first appearance here since their return to America, having just closed a very successful tour of four years of the eastern continent. "Le Voyage en Suisse" is a laudible creation, replete with pretty songs, witty sayings, comical situations and novel stage effects.

At the Grand opera house Monday evening, October 10, Marshall's Japanese Tourists and American Specialty Company open for a five-nights' engagement. This is a refined vaudeville combination. There are said to be fourteen "lads," men, women and boys, who engage in feats of tumbling, balancing, posturing, juggling and top-spinning. There is besides a bill of American specialties, including Billy Carter, Miss Estelle Wellington, Frank Lester, Maude Beverly, new songs, Smith & Carl, and the "California Four" in their burlesque, entitled "Ginger."

GERMAN THEATRE.

The Baurels & Puls company make their second appearance to-night at Boyd's, in the cleverly constructed and entertaining comedy entitled "Ultimo." This is a translation into the German of the celebrated piece, "Die Bonanza," which several seasons ago made such a great hit at Daly's, in New York. The piece introduces all the old as well as many new favorites, who made their first appearance at this place last Sunday night.

MIDLAND ELECTRIC COMPANY.

Harney Street Gains a Popular Firm. This popular firm have removed from 1304 Douglas street and can now be found at 1213 Harney street. Their new quarters have been fitted up expressly for the accommodation of their business and the convenience of their employees. Their office is supplied with facilities for exhibiting to their customers the actual workings of the different apparatus supplied by them. They are now better prepared than ever to supply churches, opera houses, banks, hotels and private houses with fire and burglar alarms, annunciators, etc. They also fit public and private buildings with electric gas lighting apparatus. This company have the exclusive right for the western states for the only perfect system of district telegraph known as the McCulloch System. They wish to call the special attention of hotel keepers to their new system of fire alarm and room call, which enables the clerk to call all of the guests of a hotel at a moment's warning in case of fire, or to arouse any individual for an early train without disturbing others. Their business extends as far west as Portland, Oregon. Among the many contracts for electric work of different kinds secured by them the following may be mentioned as showing the people who patronize them: The new Pacific Hotel at Norfolk, Neb. The Newton House at Central City. The Touzalin House at Wynmore, Neb. Hotel Esmond and Barker Hotel of this city. The private palatial residence of J. J. Imhoff, of Lincoln, Neb., which in point of electrical fittings surpasses any home in this city. In Omaha they have fitted up something over twenty fine residences in Kountze place, among the many private residences, Dr. Peabody, T. F. Rogers, C. S. Montgomery, W. G. Albright, D. V. Sholes, Morris Meyer, Louis Bradford, Ellis L. Bierbower, J. H. Millard. They are prepared to do all kinds of shop work and repairing. Those contemplating electric apparatus of any kind in their houses can not do better than to call on or correspond with the Midland Electric Co., 1213 Harney street. One of their specialties not mentioned above is the fitting up of speaking tubes, having over 1000 would aggregate some seven or eight thousand feet within the past year in Omaha.

F. V. Atwater & Co. The enterprising hardware firm at 1093-5 Howard street have, as usual, the very best to be had in the market. Their Howe ventilating heaters are the most economical, the handsomest and afford more heat for the fuel consumed than any other stove and at the same time keep the air of the room pure. The ladies go wild over their Jewett's Persian ranges, and after trying them say they are "just splendid." If you want a heater, a range or any other article from a hardware store go to this store, for in price, quality and style they take first place.
