The Ida Clark Concert company Wednesday and Thursday evenings, October 26 and 27.
The work of repairing the Crystal mill is concluded and operations will be resumed to-day.

The first democratic speech of the fall campaign will be delivered at the opera house this evening by Major T. J. Anderson.

There was a very enjoyable dancing party at St. Joseph's academy Thursday evening. About twenty-five couple were present.

The Carpenter's union is to meet Thursday evening of next week to decide on some important matters. It is desired that every member should plan to be there, and promptly.

Work commenced yesterday on six of the cottages to be built by C. J. Colby on Eighth avenue, west of the transfer.
Mr. Colby is planning on building twenty houses in that vicinity this fall.

Charles Henry, who was injured at the Crystal mill explosion, is improving rapidly and is now out of danger. He will escape, with a somewhat disfigured face, which is far better than was expected.

A meeting of the Woman's Christian association is called for this afternoon at 3 o'clock at the Cottage hospital. The intention is to reorganize the industrial school, and all interested are urged to be present.

Miss Lizzie Figley was surprised Thursday evening by about twenty couples of her young friends gathering at her home on Madison street. Misses Kittie Davis and Mattie Bradley planned the happy time.

There were several deeds placed on record yesterday, showing that the Union Pacific is still buying lots on Tenth avenue, evidently for the purpose of establishing their promised depot and tracks.

Dalby's military band has labored under many difficulties, but is certainly a great credit to this city. It merits heartily support. In securing for next week the Ida Clark Concert company it has ventured much, but the public will doubtless appreciate it and crowd the opera house both evenings.

The new dynamo has arrived at the electric light station, and the other new machinery is all on the road and expected daily. The dynamo has a capacity for thirty-five lights, and as soon as the new masts are erected the whole city will be abundantly lighted.

A collision between a Main street car and a lumber wagon resulted disastrously for the wagon tongue yesterday afternoon at the corner of Main street and Fifth avenue. There have been several of these collisions the past week, but no damage was reported from any of others.

The Young Men's Democratic club has a membership of 280. They have appointed a committee to receive Major Anderson at the Northwestern depot this evening and escort him to the residence of Hon. W. H. M. Pusey. He will be escorted to the opera house by George H. Jackson, W. H. Ware and Pat Lucy.

The plans for the new patrol house show a very pretty building. The front will be of pressed brick with stone trimmings. The steam fire engine will be stationed there, and there will be stalls for an extra pair of horses. The building will also contain a large store room, toilet room and a bed room for the driver. It will be a very desirable addition to the city's buildings.

The walls of the new fire house on upper Broadway are nearly completed.
The front of red and white granite and fancy pressed brick is one of the handsomest in the city. The new truck is finished and will be shipped as soon as the house is ready. If everything continues favorable the building will be occupied in about another month.

The next criminal case to be tried in the district court is that in which Harry Witmer is the defendant. He is charged with stealing horses in Mills county.
The case was brought here on a change of venue. It is understood that the burden of the defense will be to prove that he was in Omaha at the time the horses were stolen, and that he could not, therefore, have been the fellow who took the steeds.

John E. Horton died yesterday morning at 5 o'clock at his home, corner Washington avenue and Frank street, of consumption, aged twenty-five years.
The funeral will take place to-day from his late residence at 2 o'clock. The remains will be interred at Fairview.

Deceased was son to have been married to Miss Alice Forrest, of Dunlap, Ia., as the day had been three times postponed on account of his ill-health. She attended him during his illness and ministered to the comfort of his last hours.

The "sawing" sociable at the residence of Mrs. Olinger on First avenue, Thursday evening, was a decided success. There was an attendance of about 200. The prize, an elegantly decorated saw and sawbuck, was won by Mr. Pool, as the best sawyer.

The profits of the evening were about $25. After a season of dancing and social recreation the company dispersed at 11:30 o'clock, well pleased with the evening's entertainment.

John Wilson and Pat Murphy were each fined $8.10 yesterday morning for fishing too freely. Mike Hurley was charged with vagrancy. He produced over $300 from an inside pocket, and explained that he arrived late in the night and didn't want to disturb anyone, so he climbed into a Wabash freight car, where he was found a few minutes later by Officer Tammien and locked up.
The clause reading "without visible means of support" would hardly apply in his case and he was discharged.

The ladies who arranged for the Mikado wedding in connection with the Japanese fair at the Congregational church parlor Thursday evening, were sadly disappointed by the non-arrival of the wedding garments. These costumes were mysteriously delayed on the road, and although money was spent freely in a telegraphic search, no trace of them could be found. There was a large gathering of people anxious to witness the novel ceremony, but they were obliged to content themselves with the rest of the entertainment, which was really not so difficult after all. Refreshments were served by ladies in costume, a bazaar presented opportunities to make purchases of unique articles, and there was a general social good time.

FOUR TIMES FOUND GUILTY.

The Jury Held Jones Responsible For Killing Roberts.

Jones Found Guilty.

The jury in the Jonathan Jones case was out all of Thursday night and all of yesterday. In the afternoon they informed the judge that the chief point on which there was a disagreement was in regard to the testimony of Mr. Parish. They desired to have the shorthand report of this evidence read over to refresh the memories of some of the jurors. The jury was accordingly called into the box again and the court reporter read from his notes what Mr. Parish had sworn to. Parish was a justice, and shortly before the killing of Roberts, Jones came to him to see about getting out a writ of replevin to get back some of the property which had been taken from the place, when his family was broken up and his wife left him. Parish was at Jones' house the night before the homicide. There were others there with him. Jones talked over his troubles, but Parish thought that his wife was more worried against Perry Reed than Roberts. He did not think at the time about Jones being insane. He did not think either way on that question, but in view of what occurred afterwards, and thinking over the circumstances that night in the light of these later circumstances, he was rather of the opinion that he was insane that night. He had grave doubts about his being sane then.

After the jury had listened to the reading of this testimony they retired again to their room to further deliberate as to what should be their verdict.

Shortly before 6 o'clock the jury reached an agreement. The verdict was that of guilty of manslaughter, but that the defendant was insane.

The jury is said to have voted seven to five in favor of acquittal when they first went out. The arguments and balloting caused some changes evidently.

This is the fourth time that Jones has been found guilty. The first time he was sentenced to fourteen years, but after serving a short time he secured a new trial, and on this second trial was found guilty and sentenced to seven years. On the third trial, before Judge Johnson, the judge granted a new trial.

This fourth trial has resulted in another verdict of guilty.

Colonel Scott, now of Omaha, has been conducting the defense throughout all these battles. For nearly ten years he has stood between this man and the penitentiary, and has battled with be-grit and brains, as few men have ever battled. He had a strong prosecution to meet in this trial, as on the others, for with Colonel Daily and Mr. Mynter on the part of the state, and with the air filled with a feeling prejudicial to Jones, it was no easy contest. Colonel Scott is not made of that kind of stuff which weakens in a tussle, and he seems to be as confident of a final victory even on hearing this fourth verdict, as when he went first into the court room to defend Jones.

The Mission of the Club.

The members of the Council Bluffs club are to hold an important business meeting on Monday evening. The preliminary organization of the club has proved very satisfactory and successful.
The elegant rooms are being used daily, and to the delight of the members and visitors. There are numerous details which now need decision and action, in order to have the work as well as the entertainment of the club move along on its full mission. The success of the club thus far surpassed the expectations of its most sanguine starters. Every evening there can be found there more business men than in any other one resort in the city. While there is the social element to hold the members together, and make the rooms headquarters for those citizens who are interested in the welfare and growth of the city, the club amuse. These business and professional gentlemen, capitalists and dealers, thus gather socially, not merely to while away an idle half hour, or merely to get needed rest and recreation. They are considering as well movements which will result in the building up of the city, the securing of various helpful enterprises, the proper entertainment of visitors from elsewhere, the judicious advertising of the city's advantages. In order to have the social features of the club's work move along smoothly and successfully, it is necessary to arrange some details which are yet undecided upon, but which will come up for consideration Monday night. The business features are even more important than the social, and made a great factor in the building up of the city. There needs be an arrangement of committees for this, a division of labor, and to provide for this there should be a full attendance of members at this special meeting. The club is on a sound financial basis, has elegant apartments, can easily entertain and successfully work for the interests of the city.

Ladies of Council Bluffs are cordially invited to call and see Bliss' display of pattern bonnets and hats, Saturday at 1514 Douglas street.

Every one making a cash purchase of 25 cents at T. D. King & Co's. cigar store gets a chance in the annual prize drawing. Twenty elegant prizes.

Vexatious Delays of Transit.

There is considerable complaint about the delays caused to the dummy trains which leaves Omaha about 6 o'clock each evening. The delays have been so frequent and so vexatious as to be working serious damage to the interests of this city. The trouble seems to be caused largely by the length of time required in the transfer of baggage at that particular hour. The local effect is to discourage the attempt to live on this side of the river and do business in Omaha. There are many, and the numbers have been increasing, who prefer to live in Council Bluffs, even though their business is in Omaha. They generally return to this city on the 6 o'clock evening train. For a hungry man, tired from a day's toil, to have to wait a half hour or more, will soon drive him into the conviction that he had better reside in the same city where his business may be, or else bring his business to where his residence is.

The other evening the dummy train was delayed nearly an hour. The delay nearly caused an accident. The dummy was waiting at the transfer, and the ferry train was at the Broadway depot about ready to start out. By some mix-up the trains both had orders to start along. The conductor of the dummy train recognized that there must be something wrong, and by telegraphing found that the ferry train had similar orders. He held the dummy until the matter could be rectified, for had the orders been carried out the trains would have met between the transfer and the Broadway depot. Such a matter might have resulted in no harm, but the chances are rather against the attempt to pass on the one track at the same time.

Grand Excursion and Auction Sale.

On Thursday, October 27, 1887, the greatest excursion that has ever been run out of any city in the west will go from Council Bluffs and Omaha to Herndon, Ia., the site of the great natural gas field of the west. Arrangements are perfected to run a special train to leave Council Bluffs at 10 o'clock a.m. and returning to leave Herdon after dark, in order that all may have an opportunity to see the natural gas in operation to light the little city.

Herdon is the wonder to all that have seen it, and the only place where the possibilities of the town may be seen.
One month since it had less than fifty (50) inhabitants; to-day its population numbers over five hundred (500). One month since there was not a brick in the town; to-day a number of brick blocks are in course of construction, and a number of manufactories are already located there.
A fine hotel is being built three (3) stories high, mansard style, and buildings for residence purposes are innumerable.

This is the opportunity of a life time for the citizens of the twin cities of Council Bluffs and Omaha to take a day out and make a small investment that is liable to bring them great returns. The excursion will take an auctioneer with them, and the owners of the town side propose to sell lots at auction, for just what they will bring on easy payments.
Thousands of dollars have already been made on investments at Herdon, and thousands more will be made within the next sixty (60) days. Let everybody recollect the date, and prepare to take a ride over Iowa's beautiful prairie at a nominal expense.

"The Drums Did Beat!"
"And the music it did play" on Wednesday evening. What a night it was to be sure—music everywhere, and crowds of people gathered to listen to its beautiful strains. What was it all about? I will tell you.

Some time ago one of our most prominent merchants conceived the idea that the wants of the public could be served best by keeping a general stock of goods—of the best quality—and at prices the people could afford to buy.

Carrying out this idea he bought an extensive stock of new goods from first hands and at close figures. This stock comprises dry goods, carpets, cloaks and shawls, hats and caps, notions, fancy goods, gents' and boys' clothing, ladies' and gents' furnishing goods, boots and shoes, candles, glassware, crockery, woodware, china, tinware and toys.

Who is this man? Why, Goldberg, and this store is at No. 18 Main street.
It is called "The Fair," and it will grow in favor until everywhere it will be a household word.

The Clark Concert.

Dalby's military band has secured for Wednesday and Thursday evenings of next week the Ida Clark concert company. The Chicago press has been very enthusiastic in its praise. Miss Clark is only sixteen years old, but has already won the reputation of being the finest lady cornetist in the country. She is a phenomenal artist. Miss Mamie Frainey is a wonderful vocalist. Little Daisy Dixon is a charming elocutionist.
Miss Lulu Crank is the pianist soloist.

A varied, entertaining and meritorious programme is promised.

Hood's Sarsaparilla is a purely vegetable preparation, being free from injurious ingredients. It is peculiar in its curative power.

Mo., Monday, October 24, which embraces the following stations: Morse,
