CHICAGO PRODUCE MARKET.

CRICAGO, Oct. 25 .- [Special Telegram to the BEE.]-The upward impulse in the wheat market to-day came from across the Atlantic, but there was no lack of domestic or local circumstances to increase the strength borrowed in the first place from foreign sources. Cables were strong and thereupon December wheat opened at 73%c and May at 79%c, an advance over yesterday's closing price of 1/4c for December and %c for May. There appeared to be plenty of buying orders and they came from all parts of the country. Exporters were buying and a sale for export of three boat loads at %c over yesterday's closing prices was reported. Outside mar-kets were strong and higher, New York advices being that the cold weather in the northwest was a strengthening factor in that market and it was doubtless felt here. A feature of strength purely local was the buying by two of the former bears, who have always a large following among local traders, and whose operations are usually on a scale to merit attention. The belief that they are large holders of wheat is a strengthening influence. The second cable quoted an advance of ¼d in spot wheat, with all futures higher, October and November being 3/d higher. The receipts in the north-west continue large, Minneapolis reporting 236,000 bushels to-day and Duluth 105,000 bushels, and seaboard clearances have again bushels, and seaboard clearances have again shrunk to insignificant proportions, aggrega-ting but 49,000 bushels to-day. But these facts did not appear to have any weakening effect. The market continued firm all morn-ing, with a good volume of business, and closed within %c of the highest point touched —December at 73%c and May at 79\4@79\6c —an advance of \4c over the last prices of yesterday.

The corn market was easy during the early part of the session, but became stronger later and closed 1/6/1/2c higher than yesterday. There was a fair amount of business done, trading in a speculative way being chiefly in May delivery, which opened at 45c, sold down to 443/6443/6, back to 453/4 and closed at 1 0'clock at 453/6 bid.

Outs in the speculative market ruled quiet but firm all through the regular session, there being no fluctuations in values worth mentioning.

In provisions a stronger feeling was de releiped. Lighter receipts of hogs yesterday and to-day than anticipated, coupled with the improvement in corn and wheat, rather changed the sentiment of trade. The limits previously made on buying orders in hand were advanced and with increased demand or critical security and from the limits of the control of the limits and the limits of the limits on outside account and from local traders, higher prices followed. The extreme outside figures, however, were not maintained, though as compared with last night's closings the quotations current at 1 o'clock showed an appreciation of 1234c on January pork, 5@734c on different deliveries of lard and 5@75/c on different deliveries of lard and 75/g on January short ribs. October short ribs, which are still controlled by a leading house, sold early at $7.20, or at an advance of 75/g, but later dropped off 10c and closed at $7.00, which was 25/gc lower than yester-day's final prices. For January—the favorite future—pork sold at $12.175/g@12.325/g, lard $8.275/g@6.325/g and short ribs at $6.15/g6.25. Pork for the same month closed at $12.25, lard $6.275/g bid and short ribs at $6.20. Lard sold for October at $6.35 and closed for November and December at $6.25 and for November and December at $6.25 and for May at $6.60. Cash lard sold freely at $6.37%@6.47%.

AFTERNOON SESSION—Wheat firm. Corn firm; May sold at 45½ @45½c, closing at 45½ @45½c. Oats dull but steady; October 25½c, November and December 25½c, May 29½c. Pork for January delivery sold and closed at $12,97½c, an advance of 2½c, other deliveries. $12.27), an advance of 2%c; other deliveries neglected. Lard was steady and quiet. Short ribs for Octobes delivery were quoted at $7.00 and January at $7.22\square

CHICAGO LIVE STOCK.

CHICAGO, Oct. 25 .- [Special Telegram to the BEE.]-CATTLE-Trade was rather slow and the general market rather weak as compared with Monday. Natives were scarce. Barely half the fresh cattle on sale were natives and half a dozen or so loads would cover the prime natives on sale, yet with this limited supply there seemed to be about all the buyers wanted. The medium natives on sale were below the standard. Taken altogether, the native beeves on sale made a poor show ing. Lately certain New York buyers that formerly would not look at anything below 1,500 lbs and of prime quality have been filling their orders out of second or third rate ing their orders out of second or third rate stock that will cost say from $3.50 to $3.85. This is a new departure for that class of buyers. Texans and rangers continue to arrive in large numbers and prices remain as low as at any time, Cows, bulls and native butchers' stock, also canning stock of all descriptions is selling about the same as last week. The stocker and feeder trade opens dull for the week. Shipping steers, 1,350 to 1,500 lbs, $4.00@4.80; 1200 to 1350 lbs, $3.40@4.50; 950 to 1200 lbs, $2.80@3.50. Stockers and feeders, $1.75@3.10; cows, bulls and mixed, $1.30@4.50; 94.85. 2.265. Texas steers, $2.15@3.00; cows, $1.75@ 2.25. Western rangers steady; natives and half breeds, $2.45@3.70; cows, $2.00@265. Wintered Texans, $2.50@3.10. Hoos—Trade was brisk and values rather on the up-turn than otherwise. As compared with lear week weekly pared with last week receipts show an unex-pected falling off, which in turn has had the effect of firming up prices. A few lots of fancy butcher weights sold at $4.55@4.65; mixed and packing sorts, $4.45@4.55; common, $4.25@4.35. Light sosts, including Yorkers, $4.45@4.58. A few singeing pigs made $4.60@4.65.

FINANCIAL.

NEW YORK, Oct. 25 .- [Special Telegram to the BEE.]-STOCKS-The stock market opened quiet and easy, with declines of 36 to 36 per cent, with traders selling fairly. The weakness was of short duration. The majority of the professionals were bullish for a turn and a strong undercurrent became apparent, the White, Pearsoll, Work and Wormse party being credited with giving the market substantial support, and a sharp rally of 1/61% per cent resulted. St. Paul was up of per cent on reports of an increase of $29,130 in its earnings for the third week in October. Stocks in the loan crowd were firm, Atchison commanding % per cent, Chicago, Burlington & Quincy, however, loaning flat. This helped to sustain the market for a time, but as the day advanced and the market showed increased duliness the bears attacked the general list and moderate recessions were the result. The bear leaders talked very loudly about the advantages to be secured by selling stocks. Jay Gould, speaking to a friend about his leaving at the end of the week for Europe, said: "I am a bull on the stock market and my holdings have not been dimin ished. On the contrary, I have been a persistent buyer of stocks. I doubt whether the general situation could be any better than it is at present, but the reason that Wall street is not discounting future prosperity after the manner of old time is that the people who are now operating presumably on the bear side of the market are more contented to picture a gloomy and desolate future than they are to take notice of real facts and the ones which most ultimately govern. For my own part I cannot see what there is in store to alarm people. The abuse of over-construction of railroads is being corrected and business in all parts of the country is good, in fact up to the best standard. Eventually these things must tell and when the speculative fever changes it is liable to run as rampantly bullish as it is now unaccountably boarish " Cotton oil "stiffs" were stronger and advanced 14 per cent on the report that five directors of the Standard Oil will be elected into the Cotton Oil directors and that one of their number will be president. The failure of Perkins, Dupce & Co., bankers of Boston, had only a momentary effect upon the stock market. During the last hour the feeling became decidedly strong and prices were all marked up. Cotton Oil headed the list and sold to 30. The last sales were nearly at outside figures and showed advances from % to 2% per cent. Cotton Oils have the bes of it. St. Paul was up 13, Northwestern 1%, Western Union 34. Missouri Pacific 114. Louis ville & Nashville 1%. Lackawanna 114 and Reading % per cent. Taking the day as a whole, it was a fairly good one for the bulls, but the feeling at the close was nervous. The total sales were 230,370 shares, against 252,185 shares yesterday. GOVERNMENTS-Government bonds were dull but firm.

OMAHA LIVE STOCK. Tuesday, Oct. 25.

Cattle. The receipts of cattle show a decided falling off, there being 66 cars in to-day as against 169 yesterday. The bulk of the receipts were range cattle. There was a very fair demand for good corn-fed native steers, but there were very few in the yards. The market on good cattle continues about steady. The market on feeders to day was very dull and weak. There were liberal offering, but there were very few buyers.

There was a noticeable increase in the receipts of hogs, there being forty-four loads as against twenty-two yesterday. The market opened fairly active and at about steady prices. Later in the morning the market grew stronger and closed 5c higher. One load reached $4.40. Everything was sold. The top hogs to day that sold at 35@40c were better than anything that was in vesterday. better than anything that was in yesterday. At the same time there were some loads that were poorer than anything yesterday.

Sheep.
There were six loads of fresh receipts in to-day but nothing doing on the market. Official Receipts.

Sold Again. Chicago Times: A nicely dressed man, wearing a Prince Albert coat and tall hat, stepped into Colonel Jack Graff's wet-goods store yesterday, and, after carefully viewing the surround-ings, asked for the colonel. "Dat's me," answered the colonel, stepping up to the stranger. "Vat kin

I do fur you?" "You can probably see from my general appearance that I am no bar-room loafer. Neither am I a prohibitionist. I'm as fond of a drink as anybody, but I've always got to take my liquor on the quiet, I worked the Sunday school superintendent racket until I secured a good position. If my employer found out that I took a drink occasionally off would go my head quicker'n a mule can kick. Now, then, if I take a drink in your house here can I trust you?" "Drusd me? Old Shake Graff? Vell. should snecker. You don't subbose olt Shake Graff vas so pig a fool dat he gif his gusdomers avay? "Then I can trust you?" asked-the stranger gleefully, laying his hand on the colonel's arm.

"Vell, I shouldn't shase a shippy," responded the colonel. "And if I take a drink here you'll say nothing about it."

"You bed your sweed life I don'd vas say nodings.

"Then give me some of the best liquor you've got in the house," said the stranger, and the colonel set out a decanter of twenty year old Bourbon. The stranger took about four fingers, tossed it off with a relish, wiped his lips with the Turkish towel hanging in front of the counter, and, turning to the colonel, he gracefully bowed his thanks for the delightful drink. Then he bid the co.onel "Good day," and started to leave. "Say, mine frient, you vas bout for-godden somedings," said the colonel. "I guess not," said the stranger, looking about the saloon. "You forgot to bay for der drink," put in the colonel. "Why you said most emphatically be-fore I took that drink that if I took it you would say nothing about it. Good "Solt agin, by sheminy," muttered the colonel as the stranger disappeared. 'I vas been like Shon Vhallen. Der oulder I ged der meaner I ged sold
