Articles of incorporation were yesterday filed for the organization of the Weir-Shugart company, which succeeds the well known house of Shugart, Waite & Weis. The capital stock of the new company is $60,000, and it is composed of D. F. Phelps, of Monmouth, Ill.; E. L. Shugart, C. B. Waite, F. Weir, F. R.

Messrs. Odell & Bryant have pur-chased the hardware stock of W. A. Wood, at 504 Main street. They are both experienced hardware men, the former having been for a long time in the Smmons Hardware company, of St. Louis. Besides this experience they will bring into their business an energy which will not only make their investment here a successful one, but prove a desirable addition to the business circles of our city. .

Yesterday afternoon a well known business man was noticed to be acting strangely as he walked along Broadway. He had in his hand some money, and as he passed Main street he threw down upon the sidewalk a $20 gold piece. He walked right on, and Captain Anderson, of the merchants police picked up the coin, and hastened after him. He thought the man must be drunk, but he found that he was not in that condition, but seemed to be out of his head. The man soon rallied, and came to a realization, and then made the strange statement that he occasionally had such a queer feeling, that he did not know for a few moments what he was doing. He has been in rather poor health, but had only had a few such attacks as this, and then only at wide intervals, they lasting but a few minutes.

Punched the Preacher.

The matrimonial affairs of the Logan preacher, Rev. Mr. Gillingham, have been quite thoroughly aired by the divorce proceedings which were had in court, and which were fully reported at the time. As the wife was a Council Bluffs young lady there has been considerable interest felt in the case among her friends here, who have naturally sympathized with her, and have rejoiced that the case was decided in her favor. Yesterday the affair crept into a little more notoriety. The preacher is said to have been writing rather insulting letters to the lady and this so stirred the indignation of one of her relatives that when the preacher came to town the relative could not keep his hands off from him. The clerical hat was knocked off his head, and the brief round resulted in his being suddenly worsted, though not seriously injured. The avenging relative promptly went before a magistrate and pleaded guilty to assault, paid his fine, and the matter dropped. The parson will doubtless be in no haste to interview his relatives-in-law here again.

The Clock Exhibition.

As a work of meritorious art, the great Time Indicator, opened yesterday at 330 Brondway, is worth many times the price of admission. To see such a novel construction, so perfect and regu-lar in its workings that men of large experience in mechanical work stand amazed and wonder will fill a niche in one's mind with a thought that must last forever. Crowds of people called to see the wonder yesterday, and were shown the inside works, consisting of wires, cogs. images, and, in fact, a book full of wonders. The proprietor said the doors will be open from 2 to 4 in the afternoon to accommodate ladies and chil-

Scenes at the College.

Through the courtesy of Chief Engineer Templeton, of the fire department, a BEE reporter was yesterday treated to a ride to the deaf and dumb institute, where some of the firemen were at work pumping out the reservoir. Seated behind one of Mase Wise's flyers the intervening three miles were soon traversed, and the neatly kept grounds of the institution were at hand. The first place visited was the artificial pond, which had just been pumped out by the "Bluff City" steamer. This pond is supplied with water from the artesian well and furnishes ice for the institution. Workmen were getting ready to remove the sediment, and thus insure the purity of next winter's supply. The bottom of the pond was fairly alive with a wiggling lot of lonesome catfish, from six to eighteen inches in length. The quantity of minnows taken out was almost incredible. A large barrel was filled to overflowing with them, and men were trying to keep them alive by pouring fresh water upon them. In a pile near were about two bushels more, and the ground all around there was covered with them. A large number of the smaller ones had been taken up by suction of the engine and thrown out through the hose, Generosity is one of the marked attributes of the people of that vicinity and the visitors were urged to help themselves, and to carry away more than the traditional twelve baskets full.

After looking over the outside arrangements, the visitors were guided to the main building. Here were shown, on the ground floor, the kitchen, store room, rooms of domestics, bath rooms, and all appertaining to the housekeeping arrangements. The second floor contains the offices, parlors, class rooms, reading rooms, evening study rooms, etc. On the third floor are the younger pupils' sleeping rooms, and on the fourth floor, the older ones. The hospital is pleasantly situated and has but few occupants. All contagious diseases are treated in a remote part of the building treated in a remote part of the building, and nothing is left undone to promote the sanitary condition of the institu-

Everywhere the most scrupulous cleanliness prevails, and the pupils wear happy and contented expressions. The school building is situated just back of the main building, and here the pupils are graded as in the public schools. In the school the boys and girls mingle together in common, but in the main building each have their respective wing, the girls in the east, and the boys in the west.

Eighteen teachers are required in the various departments, under the charge of .Prof. Wyckoff. In the art rooms are several paintings and pencil-ings, in various stages of completion. Much talent is shown by some of the artists in shading and coloring. In the center of the main building are shown some works of art, executed by the pupils, evidencing sufficient talent on the part of the artists to win fame and for-tune for the youthful possessors if given opportunity for further culture and ex-

There are at present in the institution about 250 pupils, the boys being considerably in the majority. It is an interesting spectacle to see them at the dinner hour, as they enter the dining room. All are orderly and neatly dressed, and can communicate with each other as readily and intelligently as their more fortunate brothers and sisters who are not denied the power of speech. The little ones enjoy the same games as speaking children, and are as capable of advancement and fine educations as any others, By means of the sign language the mutes communicate with each other with extraordinary rapidity, but its use is discountenanced, as it is impossible to teach orthography and grammar except by the use of the manual alphabet. The management is under the superntendence of Hon. Henry W. Rothert, who has been in charge since the first of September. This gentleman is striving to make the institution as homelike as possible, and is meeting with the greatest success. There is no feature of an asylum about the grounds, but simply an educational institution, where the mutes of this state can obtain the best instruction from the best teachers, advantages that could not be obtained for them were they scattered at their various homes all over the state.

After accepting the hospitable invitation of the superintendent to dine with him, the lordly chief of the fire laddies and the humble news gatherer were still further shown about the grounds until a return to the city was imperative. But it seemed that the day's fun hadn't commenced. Just as they were approach ing the buggy, the horse turned a curi-ous look upon them, and apparently becoming satisfied from the distended appearance of the engineer's vest, that something was wrong, broke from his fastenings with a terrific jump, and, after distributing the buggy over a couple of acres of lawn, rapidly disap-peared in the direction of home. It will never be known when the unfortunate travelers would have appeared again in the Bluffs, had not a good Samaritan in the form of Denny Gleason happened along with his buggy and brought them in. The horse was found tied to a tree on Main street, but the harness had vanished into thin air, or a vacant lot. A council of war was held and it was decided to charge the smash to the good things of the superintendent's table, but it wouldn't work, so the C. F. D. will give up his proposed trip to Nebraska City, and the BEE man will hereafter gather honey on his own

Common Council.

The common council met yesterday afternoon for the purpose of considering matters demanding immediate attention. The grading of Broadway from | Third, 729 to the First precinct of the Twelfth street to the river was let. Mr. | Fourth, and 362 to the Second precinct Callahan was awarded the contract from of the Fourth. The total number regis-cents per lineal foot. H. E. Owen had submitted two bonds in separate envel-opes, but no bid. Two uffidavits were introduced showing that the bid was prepared and supposed to be in one envelope, but, through mistake, it was thrown into the waste basket, where it was afterward found. This bid was upon that portion from Twenty-first street to the river at 25 cents are lived lead. to the river, at 35 cents per lineal foot. Mr. Owen was awarded this contract.

Some time ago the water company submitted propositions for the relocat-ing of sixteen hydrants in the eastern and northern part of the city and laying pipe upon the streets. These were accepted and the contract made.

The council resolved itself into committee of the whole to relocate the electric towers where their present location is not the best possible to be had. They were conveyed to the points in question, but, other matters arising which must be considered in the same relation, no definite result was reached.

A meeting of the Law and Order league of this county will be held at the opera house in Avoca this evening. The meeting will be in the nature of a rally, and will be addressed by Dr. Phelps, of the Presbyterian church, and Rev. W. H. M. Rees. of the Methodist church of Council Bluffs.

A Heavy Legal Battle.

The case of Deere, Wells & Co. against Sagley has been attracting much attention in the district court of Mills county, the trial of the case having occupied about a week at Glenwood. Bagley was engaged in business at Tabor, and also at Holdrege, Neb. He was widely known and had an extensive business, but financial troubles came, and Deere, Wells & Co.. to secure their claim of about $8,000, attached the goods. As an offset Bagley claims $23,000 damages on account of the needless destruction of his credit by the issuing of the attach-ment. There was a dazzling array of legal luminaries in the trial of the case, and the jury had the privilege of listen-ing to six speeches. The plaintiff was represented by Charles M. Harl, Colonel Sapp of this city, McCabe of Shenan-doah, and Williams & Genung of Glenwood. The defense was cared for by Major Anderson, John Y. Stone and Mr. Lothrop, of Sioux City. The case was given to the jury on Tuesday eve-

Low Salaries Wanted.

To the Voters and Taxpayers of Pottawattamie County, Iowa: While the two old political parties' candidates are making their annual tour of observation and hand-shaking among the dear people in the name of retrenchment and reform, we, the union labor party candidates, if elected, will petition the next legislature to have all salaries reduced to an amount not exceeding $1,200 net—aside from clerk hire. Believing the officials are the representatives of the people, we as their servants demand a scaling down of county salaries to conform with the scaling down of labor's productions.

The school census is corroborated in showing that Council Bluffs has gained 4,000 or 5,000 people during the past year. The new registry law requires that each voter shall appear personally for registration, and the number was undoubtedly smaller on that account than it would otherwise have been. Considering the stringency of the law the showing is very good.

At the Junction.

Detroit Free Press; The four of us was put off at Wayne Junction the other day to wait for the train on the Flint & Pere Marquette road—two women and two men. None of us were ac-quainted, and we had an hour and a half to wait at a railroad crossing. There was a dreary-looking waiting-room, 12x 12, and there was a platform 60 feet long by 8 broad. The scenery consisted

One water tank. Ten freight cars. Two fields.

Five telegraph poles.
One pile of lumber.
As the train left us I saw the two women closely surveying each other from hat to shoes. Each seemed to regard the other with suspicion and dis-They entered the waiting-room and sat down, getting as far from each other as possible. The one dressed in brown seemed to be saying to herself, "Good lands! but what taste that woman has! Who ever saw any one mix such colors together before? If she is going to the lunatic asylum she should have an attendant along. Such persons are dangerous."

And the one dressed in blue seemed to be saying to herself: "Have I got to wait here for an hour and a half in the company of that thing? Such a hat! Such a cloak! What big feet! She must be some one going out to work in a creamery, and I doubt if she knows what country she is in."

My friend, the man, was a fat, mildeyed specimen of the human race. We stood for a moment and looked at each other. I might have said to myself:
"Well, if I haven't just run across a bank sneak and a highway robber then I don't know a grindstone when I see it Wonder when he got out of prison? Seems to have an innocent look, but that is all put on. No doubt he got off the train thinking to rob me of my $4 and return ticket to Detroit, but I've spotted his little game and will be prepared for And he might have mused:

"Oh-ho! So here is Billy the Kid—the chap who is supposed to have had a hand in abducting Charley Ross! Probably out on another child-stealing expedition, but I'm on to his game and will spoil it. My! But hasen't he got a hardened look! That fellow would tear an innocent babe from a dying mother's arms and dash its brains out against the family churn without one ray of pity."

But neither of us thought any such thing. Even before the women got scated we threw our grips down together and he said: "Old boy, do you smoke?"

"Yes, thanks."

"Well, here's something I recom-mend. Which way are you going." "To Toledo." "Good. I'm going there myself. Live in Detroit?" Yes. Do you?" "Yes, your phiz looks familiar to me."

"And I know I have often seen you.

Let's walk up and down."

And while those women sat 12 feet apart, each one with her veil down and her body huddled up in an exclusive sort of way, we walked arm in arm up and down and joked and told stories and said we were glad we met each other. Forty minutes had passed away when one of the women became restive. It struck her that the train had come and departed while she was in a reverie. It was awful thing to do. She might be addressing a murderess for all she knew, and she was quite certain that the other woman had at least run away from two husbands, but she finally got up courage enough to ask:

"Have you the time?" The other gave a start of surprise. Did she hear aright. It might be that she was being addressed by the cook of the scow Mary Ann, but after talking five minutes to think it all over, she re-

"No. Have you?"

And then both shrank away from each other again, and turned up their noses under their veils, and were sorry that they let down on their dignity Meanwhile the stranger called me "old boy," and borrowed some fine cut and poked me in the ribs; and I called him 'old fellow," and slapped him on the back, and borrowed every match he had. When the train came along we got into the same car and the same seat The women came out to give each other a look of disdain and enter separate coaches, and as each one found a seat

she no doubt said to herself: "Well, just catch me in such a scrape again if you can. I never passed such an hour and a half in my whole life. The railroad company ought to be sued for letting steerage passengers into the first class ladies' waiting room."

Curiosities in Clocks.

New York Mail and Express: "The thing in clocks is the imitation of machinery of different kinds," said a salesman in a John street importing house 'We have just received some very odd designs in this line from Paris. Here is a clock that would make a fine present for a railroad man," and he exhibited a beautiful white bronze model of a steam boiler. It had a steam guage, safety valve and speed regulator, and a thermometer took the place of the water guage. On the furnace door was the dial of the clock and above it was a barometer. The whole apparatus was about ten inches high and was mounted on a plush platform. The clock was running and the pendant balls of the speed regulator were whirling around merrily and doing the work of the pen-

"Now, here is something that would please anybody," said the clerk, and he showed a handsome windmill in bronze and gold, with a clock face set into the side of the tower. The arms of the wind-mill were moving in such a natural way that one could easily imagin that He felt the breeze that propelled them. Another design was a well, built of tiles held in place by a gilt frame, and an openwork well-house overhead, in which bucket was hanging suspended by a chain. The bucket served as a pendu lum and swung in a circle most mysteri-ously; for it did not seem to have any connection with the works of the clock, which were concealed in the well.

"Here is something unique," said the clerk, calling the reporter's attention to an elaborate affair. "This is a perfect miniature boiler set in a brick foundation. There are all of the valves gauges, steam pipes and connections complete. The end of the boiler serves as the dial of the clock, and here at one side is a steam hammer moving up and Twelfth to Twenty-fifth streets at 35 | tered is 8,349 against 2,902 last year. | down with great regularity, and striking a bar of brass that is held by a workman. That is designed as a present for a manufacturer. It costs $65. Here is a freak of the designer that is very neat. It represents an old fashioned vertical saw at work. A workman stands at the bench pushing a board against the saw. On the front of the bench is the dial of the clobk. The great beauty of these designs is the perfection to which the smallest details are carried. We can not turn out such work in this countrs; it would be too expensive as it is all handwork, and at the wages we pay our artisans, these clocks would cost a small fortune."
