Vandervoort's Blackguardism Displayed at a Ward Meeting.

GERMAN SCHOOL FAIR

. The Move to Secure the National Republican Convention-St. Paul Officials in Town-A Homesteader Robbed.

A Barking Cur. Wednesday evening Paul Vandervoort addressed about fifty tramps and boodlums. mostly from the Third ward. This champion blackguard and wind-bag went out of his way to abuse several reputable citizens, especially Judge Lake, because that gentleman presided over the recent citizens meeting. The assault on Judge Lake was simply outrageous. Vandervoort assailed the non-partisan judicial candidates in an equally villainous manner. Estelle, Ballou and Hancock, the straight republican candidates, were present, and applauded these malicious attacks. Vandervoort applauded the late Dick Curry for having murderously assaulted the editor of the Ber. He said that Curry should have been fined 825 instead of baying been sent to the fined $25, instead of having been sent to the penitentiary. Mr. Estelle he lauded to the skies as an honest man and a brilliant lawyer. Such a tirade as that delivered by Paul Vanderbum will make no votes for his em-ployers, Ballou, Estelle and Hancock. They should muzzle that barking cur.

NATIONAL REPUBLICANS. Another Step Taken to Secure it for Omaha.

At a meeting of the board of trade and representative citizens, to take step to secure the holding of the next national republican convention in this city, the following gentlemen were present: Messrs. Bechel, Wheeler, Meyer, Wakefeld, Lowery, Hascall, Taylor, Manville, Bailey, Test, Lindsey and Rosewater, and Church Howe, of Auburn, Neb. Max Meyer acted as chairman, and Major Wheeler officiated as secretary. Mr. Howe, who is a member of the national republican committee, said that notwithstanding Cincinnati, Minneapolis and other cities were making an effort to secure the convention, he thought Omaha's chances of success were favorable. He suggested that a committee of representative citizens be selected to place the matter before the executive committee on the Sth of next month in Washington, and that a guaranty should be raised to defray the necessary expenses.

General Test read a letter addressed to the national republican dressed to the battonal republican remnittee, setting forth a number of facts pertaining to Omaha and urging reasons why this city should be selected as the place for the holding of the next republican national convention. The document was a lengthty one, and this and other reasons was objected to by several gentlemen present. It was possessed of merit, however, and Messrs. Rosewater, Lindsey and Taylor were appointed a committee to revise and report it in amended form at the next meeting. The co-operation of Church Howe was requested in the move which is to be made upon the national committee. The committee adjourned to meet this evening at the board rooms, at 7:30 o'clock and every member of the local and council committees is expected to be

Railroad News.

The magnificent private car "Wisconsin," of General Manager Miller, of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul road, together with the palace business car of the company, ar rived at the Union Pacific depot yesterday morning. The party on board consisted of Roswell Miller, general manager; Frank S. Bond, vice president; J. T. Clark, general superintendent: P. Giddes, P. D. Armour, and A. Van Santford, directors. The party breakfasted at the Paxton, and afterward, in company with William A. Paxton and John company with William A. Paxton and John A. McShane, visited several points of interest in the city, afterward going to South Omaha, where a thorough inspection of the stock yards and the new packing house in course of construction Mr. Van Santford stated to a BEE reporter that the visit was without any significance other than the officials were merely "looking around." "South Omaha," he said, "will furnish their road with considerable business and they desired to ascertain the best method of reaching it." Mr. Armour professed to be very much pleased with the arrangements and said he wished operations began on Monday next and not later than Tuesday. "I beday next and not later than Tuesday. "I be-lieve," said he, "that Omaha has a great future before her and I am pleased to see the packing interest increasing here." With these remarks he stepped on board the special, which left a few mements later for Sioux City.

Mr. Bond, the vice president of the road, is looked upon as the probable successor of Alexander Mitchell, who died some time ago. A. Montmorenci, for many years one of the most genial and accommodating attaches of the office of Mr. Holdrege, general man-ager of the B. & M., has been promoted from the position of chief clerk to that of general agent of the road at Cheyenne, the change to take place November 15.

FLOATING DOWN THE RIVER.

The Return Home of Squatters in the Niobrara Country.

Wednesday evening after dusk a strange craft was tied up to the bank near the Union Pacific bridge. It was a raft of logs, one part of which was covered by a storm-stained army tent. Rough boards were stretched across the logs, and on these lay an indescribable variety of poor furniture, bedding and household utensils. The occupants were two men with their wives and two children. The name of one of these was Jule Tillson, though that of the other would not be disclosed. All the humans aboard were shabbily dressed, looked as if they had been accustomed to looked as if they had been accustomed to hard times and one of the women seemed dejected to an extraordinary degree. Notwithstanding the roughness of their attire and appearance, they seemed to be in the enjoyment of good health. The cause of the dejection however, was the loss of a little one of the woman in question. The child was about six years of age, and prone to somnambulism. When the party reached a point nambulism. When the party reached a point about twenty miles above Sioux City, they tied up for the night. The weather became cold, and it is thought roused the little one to a semi-consciousness, and caused her to leave her birth and wander around the floor of the raft, until she fell overboard. She was not missed until morning, when an unavailing search was made for her. Since that time the mother has been cast down in spirit and the husband fears that she will never regain her former disposition. The party left yesterday at daybreak. They are on their way to Arkansas. They had squatted on claims in Northern Nebraska with a num-ber of other people and weeks were detected. ber of other people and were crowded out when the land was taken by legitimate settlers. They had no money to buy the land and were compelled to resert to primitive methods to get back home. They claim that a large part of the Niobrara country is yet too sandy to enable recountry. They claim that a large part of the Niobrara country is yet too sandy to enable people to live upon it and that certain of the residents have put in as many as three crops and not drawn out one-third of a decent crop. As a consequence, there is a number of people who propose to return to old homes, especially as they have not the means to wait until the improvement of the soil brings with it the wealth of crops it has brought to other sections of the state.

The Murdered Bowman.

The Bee's special yesterday from Douglas, Wyoming, told of the murder of J. H. Bowman, the foreman of the work of sinking an oil weil near that place, for the Oil Mountain Petroleum company of this city. Bowman was pretty well known here, where he stopped for some weeks before going to Douglas to undertake his work. He was forty-five years old and leaves a wife and two children at Mason, Chenango county, Pen. The remains will be buried at Douglas.

TRAIN'S FAREWELL. He Leaves Omaha to Plead With Governor Oglesby.

Meeting George Francis Train in the Pax ton hotel rotunda yesterday the editor of the BEE inquired what step he proposed to take next.

"I am going to leave for Springfield, Illi nois, this afternoon," replied Mr. Train, and I propose to make a personal appeal to my old friend, Governor Oglesby, in behalf "And then what do you propose to do?"

"If the anarchists are hanged," said he, "I intend to expatriate myself and go to Canada. I will not live in a country that denies to man the right of free speech and free thought."

thought. "That's all nonsense, Mr. Train," said the editor of the Ber. "You have done everything in your power in behalf of your friends. You are fighting against great odds, and if you fail it is not your fault. You have always said that fate checkmates destiny. We have been friends for nearly twenty-five years, and you know that while some caustic re-marks have appeared in the Brg, there was no malice in them or any intention to reflect upon you. You have always shown yourself a loyal man, and especially so during the civil war. You have always spoken boldly and freely on behalf of civil liberty and free speech all the world over, and no man has done more for Omaha than you have. What is the sense of going to Canada? You better accept the advice of your friend, Cockrill, and return to Madison Square, and if you have any leisure we want you to communicate your observations to the Bee, and give Omaha the benefit of your far-seeing suggestions. I don't think Canada is a reputable asylum for an honest American citizen. It will do for absconding bank officials, public officers and benefits. officers and boodlers. The Americans in Canada are mostly fugitives from justice. They are a bad lot."

Mr. Train replied in his usual lightning-ex-press style: "Psychos affirmatize Psychos! Am afraid Omaha has over-Psychoed me! Portmanteau packed, and I am off for Chi-cago, calling on old friend Governor Oglesby cago, calling on old friend Governor Oglesby at Springfield. Stopping day with another old friend, Potter Palmer, at Chicago. Then Pullman's vestibule train for Madison Square to see Pulitzer and Cockerill. Then I don't know what. I must first see my daughter who controls my Psycho-destiny. Yes, will wire-gram Ber interesting events. Any one can type Yesterday and To-day. But Psycho alone can foreshadow To-morrow. This daily talk with Omaha may amuse me and Omaha's friendship checkmate 'exme and Omaha's friendship checkmate 'expatriation.' I love my country! Have tried to keep back tears at going away, but nature will talk out aloud its occult-ether of electric life. For Omaha's kindness, and courtesies of Ber, Republican, Herald, World, News, council, board of trade, citizens, accept Psycho acknowledgements of old friend, who no matter what takes place) will never go back on Omaha!" The following "Called-Back" peem from Colonel John A. Cockerill, managing editor of the New York World, may have an important influence on Citizen Train's future plans. It is a Madison Square gem: CALLED BACK.

The Fair Now in Progress to Encourage it in Omaha.

The fair for the benefit of the German-American school opened Wednesday in Germania hall under most gratifying circumstances. There was a large attendance of adults, though it was known mainly as the children's night, and many of the little ones vith their parents were present, and enjoyed the beauty of the decorations and the display of toys and other fancy articles. On either side of the hall tables or booths have been arranged and decorated in a beautiful manner. They are hung with a profusion of fancy articles made by the members of the German Ladies' School association, which comprises many of the leading German married ladies, as also a number of the prettiest and most talented young ladies of the city. Besides, there is a rich display of useful and ornamental articles, denated by merchants of this city. The booth at which are exhibited the fancy work of the ladies has never been excelled either in variety or beauty by any similar table at any of the preceding fairs for this purpose. It has a beautiful crazy quilt, a part of which was worked by each member of the association, each lady endeavoring to excel—another—by originality of design, and excellence of workmanship. design, and excellence of workmanship. Then there is a beautiful muchoir case, in gold and blue, handsomely designed and made by Mrs. Louis Heimrod; a pretty tidy, fashioned by Minnie Heindorff; a handker-chief case finely ornamented by Bertha Steinhauser; a tidy of Japanese design, by Miss Richards; a crimson lap-robe, excellently embroidered, by all the members; a child's crazy quilt; a tinsel tidy by Miss. lently embroidered, by all the members; a child's crazy quilt; a tinsel tidy by Mrs. Ernest Peycke; a tidy in blue and white, by Miss Lena Krug; a pin-cushion by Miss Richards; another tidy by Mrs. C. Wiedemann; a perfumery satchel by Mrs. Frank; a slumber roll by Mrs. Schaefter; a large pin-cushion by Mrs. Schaefter; a large pin-cushion by Mrs. Schmetz, together with a variety of other equally handsome and serviceable articles, which may not be enumerated. At the booths toys are displayed, fishing may be indulged in, letters procured, cigars bought, and household articles obtained, while below refreshments of all kinds may be secured at reasonable prices. Steinhauser's orchestra with a dozen musicians furnish the music, the leader displaying his well-known music, the leader displaying his well-known ability and artistic appreciation, giving a programme which divides the attention of the audience with the fancy articles. This feature will be maintained every night, and will enable dancing after 10 o'clock. A beau-tiful gold-headed cane will be voted to the most popular brewer in the city. Last night the scales were in position, and Misses Steinhauser and Beindorff calculated the visitors' avoirdupois. This evening the Swiss Mennerchor will sing, as will also Miss Steinhauser. According to a petition filed yesterday afternoon Mrs. Jannette A Colbarn wants a divorce from her husband, Walter A. Colbarn. Sho states that they were married in Wisconsin on November 7th, 1881, and since then has in no way contributed toward her support. Sho also wishes the custody of her one child.

A goodly number of vags and drunks occupied the attention of Judge Berka yesterday morning. Tom Regan, A. E. Abraham, J. Wal merning. Tom Regan, A. F. Abraham, J. Wallander, A. Cloresus, Jim Johnson, Einer Seward, O. Thompson and Jim Klenak were of the latter class, but being for the most part "herny-handed sons of toil," were discharged. William McGovern, drunk, was flued $5 and costs, the inevitable result of appearing two days in succession before his honer. Emerson Lewis, for infringing upon the statute law by fighting, had his case continued. Dentist Wilson, for disturbing the paties, was muleted in $5 and costs, and John peace, was muleted in $5 and costs, and John Lewis, charged with assault, was fined $15 and costs. The balance belonged to the genus vag, who were discharged, with the excep-tion of A. O. Williams, Tom Maguire, A.

KEEP AWAY FROM THERE.

A Timely Warning to Mechanics and Laboring Men. Union No. 56, Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners, at Los Angeles, Cal., have issued a circular of warning to the mechanic and laboring man, which should be heeded by those classes. The union sets forth in their circular that the published boom of milk and honey on the Pacific coast is fictitious, and is the work of irresponsible leeches whose living depends on an over-crowded market of laborers, and "unfor-tunately the poor dupe, who sacrifices his little earthly possessions to enable him to reach the shores of the Pacic coast in quest of steady work and high wages, looks in vain for fulfillment of these golden promises. It is positively asserted that the greater number live from hand to mouth. Rents are enormously high; a cottage of four rooms rents from $25 to $50 a month. Coal is $16 a ton, butter 40 cents, eggs 40 cents, and other things in proportion. The average of wages is about 50 cents per day more than eastern wages, but the cost of living more than coun-terbalances. Out of door labor can be pur-sued for about ten months in the year; but the man who attempts it is sure to break down. Tropical climates will not permit an unceasing round of hard manual labor. There is a gradual and stealthy undermining process which the victim heeds generally too ate to repair the evil.

FATAL FALLS.

Three Workmen Drop From Scaffold-

ings-One of Them Dies. About 4:30 yesterday afternoon A. J. Ravanaugh, a young man working on the new chapel of Creighton college, fell a distance of forty feet and sustained fatal injuries. His fall was due to the loosening of a newly-laid building stone to which he was clinging and endeavoring to reach a ladder below him. He fell on his left side, breaking his left arm and ankle, tearing open an evelid and receiving a long cut on the chin that reached to the bone He has also received internal injuries. Th patrol wagon was called and he was taken in patrol wagon was called and he was taken in a crazed condition to St. Joseph's hospital, where he was cared for by Dr. Ralph and the sisters of charity, but at 7 o'clock he died. Ravanaugh had been boarding at 1816 Farnam street, and his home is at Quincy, Ill. He was nine teen years of age.

Another serious accident of a similar na-ture happened at the Seward Street M. E. church about the same time. Two carpen ters, whose names could not be ascertained fell from the scaffolding on which they were standing to the ground, a distance of twenty five feet. Both men were seriously injured One of them sustained two or three broker ribs and received internal injuries that may prove fatal. The injuries of the other are not of such a dangerous character.

THE PACIFIC MUTUAL.

Its Line is About Completed to Sioux City.

George M. Myers, the young and popular manager of the Pacific Mutual Telegraph company arrived in town yesterday, looking af ter the opening of the new extension of that line to Sioux City. This work has been in progress for some time back, and will be completed by Saturday next. The distance from here by the wire will be one hundred miles. Mr. Myers is one of the operators of the Union Pacific of about eight years ago, and though many of his associates of those years have even in Tarious ways be still finde a have gone in arious ways, he still finds a number who are always pleased to meet him in his new position.

THE CITY HALL.

The Contractor Stops Work and Dis-charges His Entire Force.

Yesterday Contractor Brennan stopped work on the city hall building, and discharged his entire force. He will not resume operations until next spring. The reasons for this course is that, as he says, the city engineer has refused to give him estimates, and he has been obstructed in his work in every possible way. Furthermore he has received only a little over $20,000, while he should have had over $40,000. He is therefore unable to carry the work any further until he receives more money.

Sam Stephenson's Trial. The charge of criminal assault preferred by Miss Lulu Espey against Sam Stephenson came up for hearing yesterday afternoon be fore Judge Berka, when Miss Espeyand the defendant were in attendance. The prosecuting witness is rather a preposessing looking young lady about twenty-two years of age. She was attired in a black dress, and appeared pale, and anything but recovered from the tough handling she re-ceived from Stephenson. On the case being called, W. J. Stephenson, the defendant's brother, applied for a postpone-ment on the sround that Stephenson's attorney, Ed Crowell, was unable to attend through illness. Mr. Simeral, for the prosethrough illness. Mr. Simeral, for the prose-cution, objected to a postponement, whereupon the defendant waived examination. He was consequently bound over in the sum of $2,000 to appear at the next district court. To a Bee reporter Stephenson said: "I am confident I will get out of it all right. I have a number of witnesses who will put a different aspect on the case when it is heard. So far it is all newspaper talk." On the conclusion of the hearing W. J. Stephenson, above named, was arrested at the instance of D. J. Seiden on the charge of stealing a horse belonging to complainant's brother, E. J. Selden, the lawyer.

The North Omaha Sewer. "What about the North Omaha sewer. Have you re-commenced work upon it?" asked a BEE reporter of Contractor Thomp-

It is understood that a writ will be asked for to-morrow compelling the commissioners to construct at least two approaches.

The city council held a meeting Wednesday evening. I. M. Glasgow was appointed to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Mr. Strothman. Mayor Savage was authorized to notify the governor that a special census, recently taken, showed the population of South Omaha to be 5,313, and that under the aw the city is entitled to rank as a city of the second-class, having a population of over 5,000. The governor will be requested to issue the necessary papers as soon as possible. An ordinance establishing the salaries of the city officials was passed. The following are the salaries paid: Mayor 2000 page 2001; clock $300. paid: Mayor, $200 per year; clerk, $300; members of council, $50; attorney, $350; marshal, $65 per month; policemen $55. The petition to open N street from Twenty-seventh to the boulevard was presented and referred to a special committee. The city at-torney was instructed to visit Lincoln on Friday next and appear before the supreme court in behalf of the city in the case where the location of the city boundaries is concerned. After allowing bills to the amount of $1,659.20, the council adjourned.
