A delightful time was spent by to keep open on election day on the grounds that there was no proclamation issued by the mayor under the law, but the "self-styled chief of police" has seen fit to send a police-man to a part of the saloon men and ordered them to close from 6 a. m. to 5 p. m.

An ordinance changing the grade on Web-ster street, from Twenty-first to Twenty-third streets, was laid over under the rules. The council then adjourned so as to enable portion of the members to attend the re-chancellor replies as follows: "While I do not claim that the then supreme chancellor, Samuel Read, established a precedent, yet it is a fact that the following appears on the journal of the supreme lodge in 1570, and was approved among other acts: 'On April 17, 1869, at the urgent request of the grand chancellor of Pennsylvania, permission was granted for the initiation of Gehiza Carpenter, a chief of the Six Nations in Can-ada; the very high recommendation circen MRS. FRANK COLPETZER will give a musicale November 24 at her home, for the ben-efit of the choir fund of the First Congrega-tional church. Mesdames Squires and Esta-brook, and Messrs. The su-preme lodge has since declared Indians inelligible, but I know of no legislation or con-stitutional provision that would be construed to bar this applicant. In this case I would have to deal with a scientific, microscopic in-vestigation of the blood corpuscles, and as I Mrs. Levi Carter has returned from a visit vestigation of the obod corpuscies, and as I believe it is my duty to administer the law in its spirit and intention, and rot as an anato-mist, I would rule that the applicant, Mr. John M. Hodges, on your showing, is el.gible within the meaning of the constitution. I do not think that it was ever designed that a chart or family tree should accompany every application. If it is your will, let Mr. Hodges enter, and possibly when he reaches the height of Pythian honors and rises to the dignity of a knight, complete regeneration may ensue, the "sixteenth" be eliminated and the past forgotten in the light of the present.

Miss T. C. Kennedy left for the cast Thurs-day to enter St. Marguerite's Seminary at Waterbury, Conn. AT THE recent session of the supreme council of the American Legion of Honor prizes were offered to all councils making the largest gains, the councils being divided into four classes, with four prizes to each class, as follows; Class A, councils with less than fifty members; class B, with fifty and less than 100; class C, with 100 and less than 900. Mrs. John L. Tuttle and Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Rankin, all of Vermont, are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. John M. Tnurston. Miss Appie Reno, of Wichita, Kas., spent a than 100; class C, with 100 and less than 200; class D, with 200 and over. The classes are based on the returns of June 30, 1887. The few days in the city the past week the guest Mrs. Colonel Brownson left Friday for Knoxville, Ill., where her daughter, Miss Daisy, is attending school at St. Mary's. prices to each class are $100, $75, $50 and $25, prices to each class are covered, the two and the respectively. The membership of the order June 30, 1887, numbered 61,694, divided as follows: Mates, 54,505; females, 6,992; honorary, 167. Several very material changes wore made in the law of the order by the supreme coun-cil at its late session. These will be promulrated when they go into effect. The order in New York makes a good

Mr. White has been president of the Press association of Tennessee during the last year, and has just been appointed on the staff of Governor Taylor, of that state. He has also been appointed as the chairman of the committee by the governor to represent the state in the Cincinnati centennial commission. He is the editor and proprietor of the Lebanon (Tenn.) Herald.

The particulars of a very remarkable case THE PARTICULARS of a very remarkable case in the circles of secret societies comes from San Francisco. It appears that a member of Garfield lodge, No. 72, K. of P., one John Kernaghan, was found guilty by the law of the land of murder in the first degree and sentenced to be hanged. That the prisoner was guilty appeared from his own confession. An examination by medical men proved him to be perfectly same and the governor reto be perfectly sane, and the governor re-fused to commute the death sentence. Before his execution, September 23, Kernaghan, who appears to have been a man of more than or-dinary intelligence, had a consultation with the officers of Garfield lodge, and although the officers of Garnerd longe, and actioning his crime had, of course, legally severed his membership, the lodge consented to take charge of his remains and give them decent burial. And not only this, but it further con-sented to receive in trust for the purpose of sale his instantaneous railroad air-brake patent, so that if anything should be realized from the inven-tion his debts should be paid and his widow and niece receive the respective sums stipulated in the papers, which were legally drawn up. Other persons are to be paid certain ums, at the dead man's request, and the en sums, at the treat min's reduces, and the data tire amount provided for is about $24,000. That such a sum should be realized is highly improbable, but the Knights of Garfield lodge, remembering the injunction to exer-cise charity toward offenders and to care for

BUSINESS IN BEEF.

Near about 2,000 head of cattle come into the Stock Yards daily, and they are pretty much all slaughtered. This is hard on the cattle but it makes a great business for Omaha. When all the great packing houses complete their buildings, now in course of erection, and are ready to receive and slaughter, the business will be something wonderful. And while this is all going on, and while other industries are springing up all over Omaha, do not lose sight of the splendid opportunities for investments of every kind and character. A better opportunity never presented itself. Values are now on a legitimate basis and purchasers can hardly make a mistake in anything they buy. Consult our property list, just issued. From this you will get a fair idea of valuations. Always yours to command,
