 The city council meets to-morrow evening.
 St. Bernard hospital now has six patients.
 Four were discharged last week.
 Alvin Potter and Annie S. Holladay were yesterday granted a marriage license.
 The C. P. society will give a New Year's quadrille party at the Masonic temple.
 The Manhattan was closed yesterday owing to the death of Mrs. F. P. Yenawine.
 The funeral of Mrs. Yenawine will be held at the residence of her son, at 1 o'clock.
 The first party of the second series given by the Royal Arcanum will take place Tuesday evening.
 The third party of the Pall Mall club will be given at the Royal Arcanum parlors next Thursday evening.

Remember the entertainment of the Women's exchange at Mrs. Rohrer's, 259 Vine street. All are invited.
 The apparatus used in connection with the heating of the new post office building has been received, and is being put in position.
 John Kramiger was yesterday arrested and taken before Justice Schurz for trespassing on the farm of Ben Hogz and cutting down trees. The case was continued until Saturday.

The Union Pacific company has laid ties on Tenth avenue as far as the Main street curbing. It is reported that they will cross this street for the purpose of connecting with the Wabash tracks.
 The new vinegar factory is about ready to commence operations. Little has been said about this worthy enterprise, but it has been pushing right along, the proprietors asking aid of none. The factory will prove a success without doubt, as it is in an experienced hands.

Frederick Jorgensen has become the possessor of lots 4 and 5, in block 70, Kiddle's subdivision. The first was purchased from H. D. Whipple of Rock Island, Ills., and the latter of J. N. Dodge, of Arlington, Mass.
 Three hundred and fifty dollars was the price paid for each.

There seems to be little stirring about the rumored attack upon the city's title to the mount park. That there is something mysterious at the bottom of the moves made recently is evident, and the park commissioners are put on their guard. The park is too precious a thing to be allowed to be wrested from the city without a struggle, and whoever makes the attempt will find it no easy task to even force the city into a compromise.

 tive and cure for diphtheria can be

Death of Mrs. Yenawine.
 Yesterday morning at 1:30 o'clock death entered the home of Frank Yenawine and bore away his beloved wife. It was a sad climax of two lives full of hope and anticipation of future happiness. This end came unexpected, for during the past two weeks the friends and loved ones have surrounded the couch of the sufferer prepared to receive the last good-bye and promise of the meeting beyond. Nine years ago the deceased became the wife of Mr. Yenawine. She was the daughter of Mrs. C. M. Drew, of Winona, Minn., and there the ceremony was performed. Shortly after this they moved to Council Bluffs, and for two years they have occupied the home which to-day bears the symbol of death, No. 717 Fifth avenue. Mrs.
 Yenawine rapidly won her way into the affections of those who met her, and it is no unworthy encomium to say that this affection was desired and was reciprocated measure for measure. To-day many a man with tears as they look for the last time upon the face of her they loved.

The mother and father of the deceased have arrived in the city to attend the funeral, which occurs this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, at the Episcopal church, of which body the deceased was a member.
 The surviving members of the family are Mrs. Drew, the mother; William Drew, of Duluth; O. G. Drew, of Omaha, who were present at the death; Mrs. W. Yenawine, of Kansas City, and W. M. Yenawine, of St.
 Joe, Mo., brothers of the afflicted husband, who arrived last evening; besides her husband and a son seven years of age. The sympathy of the community goes out to these surviving ones in this hour of their sore afflic-tion. Mrs. Yenawine was twenty-nine years of age.

More Coal.
 The Council Bluffs lumber company have put in new scales and will hereafter handle both hard and soft coal.
 Will have the celebrated Colorado coal.

Drowned in a Well.
 A particularly sad drowning accident took place in the western part of the city yesterday. Mrs. P. Sorenson, wife of a painter living at 1730 Avenue B., went to the well at about 9:30 o'clock to draw a pail of water.
 The curb was about four feet high, and she evidently stepped upon a block covered with ice, and reaching over too far lost her balance and fell into the well head first. The well is about twenty feet deep and has about five feet of water. It is well up in brick and is about three feet in diameter.
 The unfortunate woman was unable to turn so as to get her head above water, and was discovered about 12 o'clock by the son of her daughter. The coroner's jury returned a verdict of accidental death. The deceased leaves a husband and five children. She was of Danish extraction, and was an industrious, hard-working woman. Much sympathy is expressed for the bereaved family.

A Broken Scoop.
 Missouri river water had a bad effect on William Crawford, Tom Myers and M.
 W. Brown, and they were yesterday assessed $5.10 each by Judge Aylesworth. Brown put up his watch for his fine, and was released.
 The other two will tarry in the city jail for a few days. William Aylesworth promised to quit drinking and was released upon paying costs.

The case of H. D. Knight was called and the defendant immediately discharged without even being asked to plead. The prosecuting attorney informed the court that he had no case whatever. The column and a half sensational article in regard to the case that appeared in one of the morning papers and repeated in one of the evening papers, was altogether uncalculated for and unjust.
 It was a brilliant "scoop."

The Coroner's Last Inquest Foretold
 —A Woman's Fatal Fall—Bogus Checks—Eager For Judge Loo-bourrow's Place.

The Coroner's Wife.
 Coroner Paul was in hot haste yesterday, bent on going to attend the inquest of a woman, whose case had been reported to him.
 He stopped long enough to tell the Bir man: "You know when I held that inquest on the fellow who was killed down here by the railway, I said to my wife, 'I guess this is the last inquest I shall hold,' for you know my term of office is soon up. She says, 'No, you will hold one more, a woman with dark hair.' Sure enough, I just got word now that a woman had tumbled into a well and drowned.
 I am anxious to see the color of her hair, and see if my wife was right. How do you suppose I can tell this way, what is going to happen?"
 When the coroner returned from holding the inquest he was satisfied. "Yes, the woman's got black hair. It beats me. My wife often tells me about such things. You remember when they found those bones up on the hill? The telephone me to come up, and I would have come, only my wife held her head a minute, and she said, 'Don't you go.
 It's only the bones of a dog. I have seen them.' Sure enough, I telephoned back for them to go and look the bones over, and then if they still wanted me to send me word again. They found it was just as she said."

The Sensation Worn Out.
 It is understood that the board of education does not purpose to hold any investigation of the recent case of corporal punishment until the regular meeting. The parties who feel aggrieved rushed into print and made the report of the incident. There has been a great deal of cheap sensationalism evolved out of the incident, and as there seems no great haste, the board apparently purposes taking its own time. There seems to be nothing which feel disposed to roll the little sensation over and over getting it pretty well worn out. When the board takes action in the matter the readers of the Bee will be duly informed. Until then there is little use in sounding in windy communications and personal effusions.

Sense and Nonsense.
 It has been announced that Rev. W. H. W.
 Rees will deliver his lecture on "Epitaphs or Grave Jokes" at the Methodist church next Thursday evening. This lecture has been received in the most flattering manner wherever delivered. It is a sure cure for all kinds of despondency, as will be seen by the effect it has on the people of Council Bluffs, where the lecture was delivered a short time ago. A correspondent of the Creston Advertiser says: "Rev. W. H. W. Rees, of Creston, delivered his lecture entitled 'Epitaphs' at this place last Monday evening. A fair sized audience was present to enjoy the lecture. If there is a town along the Chicago & Burlington & Quincy that needs a shaking up we advise them to send for Rev.
 Rees and have him lecture on 'Epitaphs.' As despondency, as well as the worst forms of dyspepsia, is having the very best attack of the blues. We hope to have the pleasure of hearing him again in the near future."

They Want His Seat.
 The report that Judge Looibourrow will resign his position on the bench on the first of January has caused an active canvass to be already commenced for a chance to fill the prospective vacancy. Among the aspirants are named John Griggs and W. F. Andrews of Audubon county; Attorneys Mailey and Beard, of Shelby; Kocafellow, Julian Phelps and Curtis of Cass, and others yet to be heard from. Intimate friends of Judge Loo-bourrow say there is nothing to the rumor but the least show for an empty seat on the bench causes candidates to spring up numerously.

Dangerous Lightning.
 The telephone exchange had a narrow escape from being burned out Friday night.
 The Pacific Mutual Telegraph company was moving some wires at the corner of Broadway and Bryant street, and allowed one of the poles to give enough to cause one of the telephone wires to touch an electric light wire below it. The sparks there had impaired the insulation, and whenever the wires touched the telephone exchange was a rapid unpleasant place. Several times the drops were red-hot, and had there been enough wind to have kept the pole swaying every drop would have been burned. From 5:30 until 5:45 no telephone calls were answered. The damage was slight and soon repaired. The company intend to put in a new 1,000-wire multiple switch-board about the 1st of February, but the occurrence of this kind may cause the change to be made sooner.

The World of Art.

"Pictures and books indicate the character of the home," says the philosopher. "The art of a century is the true exponent of its civilization," says another. Both are truisms and they show our people to be the noblest and our civilization the truest that the world has ever seen.

Each succeeding year brings out some new expression of thought in word, picture or model. In the art productions of to-day we have the solid, somber ideas of the Greek, the Roman and the Egyptian modeled into perfect grace by the chisel, brush and pen of the modern schools.

To select the best of these from the studios and studies of the artists, sculptors and scholars of the world is no small task, but occasionally some one possessed of an artistic eye, good judgment and a knowledge of the public demands will do this and get together just such a collection.

Such an one we have in our midst. It is the wonderful collection of Mr. J. D.
 Crockwell which he has secured for the holiday trade this year. He has the rarest and most beautiful specimens of art which Europe and America possesses; the finest productions of the standard authors and poets in every language, a thousand things to delight the childish heart. To enumerate or describe is utterly impossible. One must see to them to gain any conception or holiday goods call and see what he has to show you. No. 411 Broadway.

A Checkered Career.
 The confidence man continues to find Council Bluffs a profitable field for his operations.
 The last victim is S. S. Keller. A stranger entered his furniture store Friday, and after examining a mattress worth $2, said he would take it and asked for a blank check which he made out for $7 and received $5 in change.
 The name signed was S. D. Cook, and the mattress was ordered sent to his residence, but Mrs. Cook refused to receive it. The man had disappeared, but he is supposed to be a former employe of Parks & Son, grocers, Sargent & Pusey and Anton. Rink were likewise victimized a few days before for the same amount. The swindler is still at liberty, although the police are looking for him.

 this result.

Personal Paragraphs.
 J. J. Bliss, of Omaha, was in the city yesterday.
 W. C. Dieckey and wife returned to the Bluffs yesterday after a week's visit with friends at Ferragut, Neb.

Frank M. Gault, general agent of the Wabash, left last evening for Chicago. He will be absent but a few days.
 Mrs. Weber is in Nebraska City taking care of her daughter, Mrs. Peter Beck, who is dangerously sick with neuralgia of the heart.

George Hawthorn was out yesterday for the first time since his injury by a train car.
 His escape from permanent disability is miraculous.

John L. Martin is dangerously sick and his death is hourly expected. He was compelled to resign his position as test-master a short time ago on account of his ill health, but had lately been improving.

Fred Clancy, the popular clerk at the United States clothing store, is much rejoiced over a telegram received from Iowa City yesterday. It read: "Son three hundred pounds. All doing well." Ed Watis will sever his connection with the Council Bluffs department of the Omaha Republican and take charge of the circulation and advertising of the Reflector.
 Mr. O. H. Mikeseil succeeds him on the Republican.

Attention Knights.
 Every member of Bluffs division, U. R. K. of P. is requested to meet at Castle hall, Monday night, in full uniform. Degree work and business of importance will be transacted.

A Scared Mesmerist.
 Kansas City Times: One evening I selected a young man whom I thought to be good material on which to practice.
 It took a trifle longer than customary to get him well under headway, but finally his senses yielded and I congratulated myself upon having hit upon a good patient. Eagerly I followed his course over vast arid plains and scorching deserts, through tropical climates and polar seas, over precipitous mountains, through the clouds in a balloon, under the sea in a diving bill in great caves of untold beauty and through halls of golden finish—in fact, where he did not lead me would be far more easily told. At last for I was weary of our running race, the time came for releasing him from my control and once more allowing him to return to terra firma. I told him as much but he refused to come. I insisted that we had carried the performance far enough.
 He came not. I begged, implored and reasoned with him, and finally shook him, and yet he failed to "revive," nor did he until a bucketful of pure cold water was dashed in his face by one who had been an attentive witness to this. This is the last time I ever attempted
