CAPITAL CITY COAL BARONS

They Form a Pool and Exact Exorbitant Rates From Consumers.

STATE UNIVERSITY AFFAIRS.

A Flourishing Condition of the Institution Shown at the Regent's Meeting-Nebraka Army Orders-State House Notes.

FROM THE BEE'S LINCOLN BUREAU. I In the early fall months the coal dealers of Lincoln formed a pool that in all its workings is equal to a modern monopoly trust in dictating prices. The pool opened out in business by adopting a strictly cash basis, under the plea that coal could thus be furnished to the consumer at a cheaper rate. Since the adoption of this plan there has not been a man, however worthy, who has not had to pay the cash for his coal, even if he had to patronize money sharks for a thirty-day loan upon which to keep warm. In the meantime coal has not been sold a particle cheaper, as was intimated, but to the contrary, it has been advanced in price all along the line. A month ago a substantial reduction on freight rates was secured on coal shipments and the belief was general that it would be followed by a corresponding reduction to the consumer, but, on the contrary, hard coa consumer, but, on the contrary, hard coal was advanced in price. The rate on hard coal to the city of Lincoln from Chicago is to-day only 15 cents a ton more than the rate from Chicago to Omaha, and yet the Lincoln coal dealers, who pretend to sell coal on their cash basis at the lowest margin, exact $1 s ton more than coal has soid for in Omaha for the past thirty days. The rate on soft coal has been largely cut in the past six weeks, and yet Lincoln dealers sell soft coal at an average of 50 cents a ton more than soft coal sells for at Nebraska City after the freight to Lincoln is added. This is simply robbery practiced on the people of Lincoln. It shows that the coal dealers of Lincoln are in a combination, so that no matter what rein a combination, so that no matter what re-ductions in rates are gained they simply add to it their profit and pocket it with the sang froid of a professional. The tactics of the coal dealers of Lincoln, if uncontested for the coming four months, are such as will enrich them so they can retire from business with a competency, and this competency will be wrung from the masses of the people and from those who have waged the war for cheaper rates, only to see the concessions swallowed by this coal pool anaconda.

A judgment day to the coal pool of Lincoln

An important decision.

An important decision.

Judge Chapman yesterday rendered a decision in the district court of much more than local interest and importance. The decision was in one of the Dawson will cases that involves over $500 000 resets of Lincoln property. was in one of the Dawson will cases that involves over $500,000 worth of Lincoln property and that, in part, have been through all the federal courts. These cases arose over the construction of a will relative to valuable city property. They involved the ejectment of numerous residenters and property holders and one of the cases of ejectment ran the course of the federal courts and was decided against the present holder and occupant. Other owners then banded together and continued the fight, and when ejectment was brought against them in federal courts a new brought against them in federal courts a new showing was made in which these latter cases were sent back to the state cases were sent back to the state courts as having the proper jurisdiction. The fight then commenced in the state court at the last term of the district court before Judge Chapman and it was a decision on this hearing that he gave yesterday. The decision is directly opposite to that found in the like case in the United States supreme court. The decision created a whirt of excitement The decision created a whiri of excitement among the members of the bar when it was given and it means a great many dollars for the occupants of the property, many of whom are poor people. The case will now go to the supreme court of the state and if that holds with the decision of Judge Chapman, as many attorneys believe it will, the case will end with a portion of the property in the hands of each side in controversy, one side claiming for the federal and the other for the state courts. The decision created a whirl of excitement state courts.

WORK OF THE REGENTS.

The board of regents convened yesterday afternoon. There were present Messrs.

Gere, Burnham, Hull, Holmes and Mallalieu.

The principal business was listening to reports from the chancellor and stoward. The chancellor's report shows that the number of students in the collegiate classes is far in chancellor's report shows that the number of students in the collegiate classes is far in excess of former years, nor has the preparatory or Latin school declined in point of number, although the requirements for admission have been increased. The secretary and steward's report set forth the improvements made since the last meeting, the most important being that of putting in substantial cross walls in the basement of the main building, making a substantial structure. The first floor has also undergone needed repairs and presents a favorable appearance.

Regent Mallalieu introduced a resolution looking to a change in the methods of dealing with the senior class. Heretofore the members have been unable to learn whether their standing was of sufficient grade to permit them to graduate until a short time before the day of graduation. This ied to much embarrassment and unpleasantness. The resolution provides that the final examination of the senior class close two weeks before commencement exercises begin, thus giving the members a short vacation in which to make preparation for their closing university exercises. It also provides that the standing of each member and the recommendations of the faculty shall be filed with the secretary within one week after the termination of examination, so that seniors will know their fate in good season. termination of examination, so that seniors will know their fate in good season.

The financial report of the steward was examined by the finance committee and found correct in every detail.

Prof. Bossy, dean of the agricultural col-lege, presented his report. It recommends holding several farmers' institutes during the winter and that the members of the agri-cultural department should take part in these cultural department should take part in these institutes provided the necessary assistance can be given their classes, in the absence of the professor. The dean suggests that Robert Furnas, honorary lecturer on forestry, be invited to deliver six lectures on this very important subject and asks that some definite action be taken in reference to perfecting the organization of the agricultural experimental station in accordance with the provisions of the Hatch bill. This bill failed to make the appropriation as it contemplated, on account of some technical amendment, but the supposition is that congress will take immediate steps to rectify amendment, but the supposition is that congress will take immediate steps to rectify this unintentional error. A number of state institutions proceeded upon the assumption that the appropriation had been properly made and that the money would be available, and the failure of the bill to become a law has, in some cases, subjected them to inconvenience. The probability, judging from letters from the comptroller of the United States treasury, is that a deficiency appropriation will be made to meet all these cases. Professor Bessy's report set forth the objects and aims of this station in a very clear and intelligent manner.

Strong resolutions were passed favoring the appointment of Lieutenant Sendiy as judge advocate general of the United States army in the event of a vacancy and petitioning our members to congress to do all in their power to secure him the position.

In conversation with several professors, it was learned that the work of the term on the part of the student, has been accordingly gratifying.

EIGHTY DAYS IN JAIL.

Carney, the Tough, Gets a Long Bread and Water Sentence. John Carney, the thief and highwayman was up before Judge Berka yesterday afternoon to answer for a series of crimes committed Monday night. He first stole an overcoat from Sam Sugarman's store, on South Tenth street, and then beat the proprietor into insensibility with the butt of his revolver. Half an hour later he was caught stealing another overcoat from L. O. Jones' store. After being arrested he made a desperate break for liberty, and was only captured by Officer Cullen after an exciting chase. He listened to the testimony against him yesterday with a half-sneaking, half-dogged air, and when called upon to testify said he had nothing to offer. The judge gave him eighty days in the county jail, the first ten and last five of each month on bread and water. Carney is a thoroughbred tough and a danger-Carney is a thoroughbred tough and a danger-ous man to have at large. Only last week he had finished serving a term for attempted highway robbery. He came originally from St. Joe, and had the reputation there of being a reckless and abandoned criminal. He is supposed to have had a hand in the burglary of the Thurston mansion on Monday evening and to have been connected with a series of highway robberies committed a few weeks ago.
