A GENUINE LOVE MATCH. The Balfour-Lytton Nuptials Celebrated at Knobworth. BRILLIANT SCENE AT THE CASTLE. List of the Wedding Presents—Bernhardt Denies That She Plagiarized "La Tosca"—Mitchell Scores Sullivan.

Lady Betty Balfour. [Copyright 1887 by James Gordon Bennett.] LONDON, Dec. 21.—[New York Herald Cable-Special to the Bee.]—The Earl of Lytton, who was both a poet and a diplomat at fifteen years of age, became, for the first time, a father-in-law, to-day. At 2 o'clock he left his new son-in-law, Mr. Gerald Balfour, and the bride, Lady Betty Lytton Balfour, at Knobworth in the ancestral hall to their begin their honeymoon.

Lady Betty Balfour's dress was sumptuous and tasteful. She inherits both her mother's beauty and her father's gentle intellectual features. Both bride and bridegroom seemed by their looks, to prove the story of the neighborhood that it was essentially a love match.
