

SOME SHADY OPERATIONS.

Philip Bulfer's Character Shown up in Its Full Light.

THE UNION PACIFIC CENSURED.

Charged With Having Incompetent Employees by a Coroner's Jury—Counterfeiter and Deserter—Novatny's Companions.

Bulfer's Bad Record.

Tuesday afternoon the Bee published exclusively an expose of an attempted swindling operation in which the name of one Philip Bulfer figured prominently as one of the alleged firm conducting it. That same night a young man called at the Bee office and after stating that his name was Philip Bulfer emphatically denied all knowledge of the scheme. He was closely questioned, and notwithstanding the fact that the interrogation embarrassed him greatly, and that a great mass of circumstantial evidence pointed to his connection with the fraud, his denial was printed.

It now transpires that Bulfer's record is a most unsavory one, and that by two firms in this city at least he is considered a swindler and a rascal of first magnitude.

His first appearance in the Bee was in a notice of Mr. G. M. Darrow, of W. L. Parrotte & Co., yesterday and from him learned that Bulfer attempted to swindle that large and successful firm, and that he had secured the services of Mr. J. M. Darrow, of St. Joseph, out of a large sum of money, the total amount being $6,000.

According to Mr. Darrow, Bulfer's history is as follows so far as known to the houses mentioned above, and as Mr. Darrow is a gentleman of undoubted veracity and eminent respectability he can be little doubted that Bulfer's denial published in this paper was a barefaced lie. Bulfer has twice failed in business in the little city of Atkinson, Holt county, Nebraska, at which place he conducted a general store and had times under unusual circumstances. While fraud could not be proven in the first case, it was considered to have been a very shady deal. In the second "failure," however, was the result of a deep laid swindling scheme concocted by Bulfer, and this fact he himself admitted in open court at the August term of the Holt county court held at O'Neill.

Of the first failure all that needs to be said is that he "sold out" to his brother and his stock place about one and one-half years ago. A short time after this he opened another general store in Atkinson. The salesmen who make that territory, Messrs. V. L. Parrotte & Co., yesterday and from him learned that Bulfer attempted to swindle that large and successful firm, and that he had secured the services of Mr. J. M. Darrow, of St. Joseph, out of a large sum of money, the total amount being $6,000.

This statement was also made to D. M. Steele & Co. and McDonald & Co., of St. Joseph, by Mr. Darrow, who stated that Bulfer had managed to obtain a stock from these three firms valued at over $4,000. About thirty days after this the Omaha firms were notified by an attorney at Atkinson that Bulfer had sold the entire stock to one Ben Collins, of Marshalltown, Ia., the consideration being $1,000.

Collins gave two notes in payment, one being for $400 and the other for $600. The first was paid. Before the second fell due Bulfer was arrested on the charge of obtaining goods under false pretenses and was taken to the county jail at O'Neill. He was instantly released on bail, Messrs Weeks & Millard, of that place, going on his bond. Before the trial came on the second note of $600 had become due and this Collins refused to pay. Then Bulfer got angry with Collins and went to the attorney representing the several firms and offered them the following terms: If he (Bulfer) would be promised immunity from punishment he would turn state's evidence and show that Collins was the rascal. This, owing to the fact that Collins was a wealthy man, and that there might be some technicality allowing Bulfer to escape punishment, was agreed to, and during the August term Bulfer stated in open court that he and Collins had conspired together to defraud the firms from whom they had bought goods. Judgments were obtained against Collins, who gave his notes to the several firms, and gave bond for their prompt payment.

The above facts are substantiated by Messrs. D. M. Steele & Co.

THE SWITCH OF DEATH.

The Coroner Inquires as to How It Was Left Open.

Yesterday an inquest was held at Dressel & Maul's by the coroner of the county of M. C. Haggerty, who died from injuries received in the collision between two engines in the yards of the Union Pacific at the South Omaha stock yards on last Tuesday night. There was a large attendance of railroad men, among them being the crew of engine 1159, the one into which the east-bound freight train had run, together with the crew set forth in brief in the report of yesterday and were fully substantiated by the testimony adduced by the coroner. It was admitted that the switch, connecting the east-bound track with the "lead," by means of which the five tracks of the yard are reached, was left open by Switchman Lilly, who was connected with the force of engine 1159. Lilly was a new man on the road, having been with it but a few days. He claimed that he had been a railroad man for twelve years. Foreman Phillips of engine 1159 testified that he had told Lilly to close the switch because it led to the main track. At the time the engines struck, Phillips was about to close the switch, but Lilly, having coupled the five cars to a string of cars which had been on the track for some time, Lilly the switchman denied that he had been lying on the ground, and that he had closed the switch and that he did not know that it led to a main track. This was controverted by Phillips' testimony as set forth in the outline of the inquest. The freight train, coming east, was entering the "lead," Peter Nelson, the engineer of 1159, shouted to Lilly that he thought there was a train coming onto them, and immediately Lilly ran in the direction of the open switch, and the last Nelson saw of him was his swinging his lantern to stop. A cloud of steam then arose and Nelson testified that he advanced to a place of safety and went through the window. Haggerty the fireman remarked also that he thought there was something coming down upon them, but before he could do anything to save himself he was crushed in the lower limbs. When he was picked up he was lying on the ground, and that he had separated and then flung him where he was found. The crew of 1159 claim that whether or not Lilly was told to close the switch, it was his duty to do so, especially after making the claim that he had been a railroad man for twelve years. Lilly went to his room after the accident, and did not show up again until late yesterday. The verdict of the jury is as follows:

"That the said M. C. Haggerty came to his death by a collision of engine 1159 and freight train No. 24, Union Pacific railroad, caused by not having proper switch signals and competent employees at that point in South Omaha."

The remains of Mr. Haggerty were last evening forwarded from "Burkett's" on North Sixteenth street to Ellsboro, where they will be buried at the home of his widow.

CHEMICALS WOULDNT WORK.

A Would-Be Counterfeiter a Deserter From the U. S. Army.

Howard B. Wallace, the man arrested for complicity in the manufacture of counterfeit money in Council Bluffs, but against whom nothing could be proven, confessed to the chief yesterday that he was a deserter from the United States army. He said he enlisted with the Twenty-second infantry at Leavenworth in 1864 and deserted at Santa Fe, New Mexico, in July, 1866. He claimed that he was induced to desert by Fred Manning, who represented to him that he had hit upon a way of making counterfeit ten-dollar gold pieces, and that there was a big fortune in it for both of them if they could establish a safe rendezvous and laboratory. Manning further informed him that to insure the success of their enterprise a little ready cash would be necessary, and Wallace, who entered into the nefarious

"IT WAS THE TRAIN."

The Alleged Murderers of Novatny are Heard From.

The circumstances attending the death of young Novatny, which were published in last Monday's Bee, are still fresh in the mind of the public. It will be remembered that he fell from the Union Pacific bridge to the bank of the river, was horribly mangled, and from the effects of the injuries died. Two men who had been stealing a ride on an engine shortly before the accident were suspected of having pushed him from the bridge with murderous intent. These were John Creighton and John Brannon. They disappeared that evening. The next day they wrote to Mike Conaway, president of the Plumbers' union, as follows:

"I just bought a paper and found that those trainmen have accused us of causing Frank's (Novatny's) death. They know that they do not tell the truth, as they made us get off and Frank went first and told me to come on. He covered me with mud and I got off with one of the trainmen on the same side Frank did, and then we all went down to find him, and he was all broke up and dying, and we wanted to have him carried up and get a doctor and the conductor said he would telephone for the coroner, and both trainmen went away and left us with Frank, and we stayed until Frank gave a gasp and we thought him dead, and did not want to be kept as witnesses, as we wanted to get to Kansas City and thought the train men would tell the truth. That is all I know, and I will turn back from here as soon as I mail this yours."

John Creighton and John Brannon, who were in the office of Dan Farrell, Glenwood, sheriff of Mills county, in a letter addressed to Mr. Conaway. It says among other things:

"Since I wrote the first letter we gave ourselves up to the sheriff of Mills county. He telephoned to the chief of police of Omaha, and would not hold us, so we will try to make Kansas City to night. Frank's friends knew he had no watch, and as we were good friends, it was our duty to give him one. It was those train men who did it by causing us to get off. But if we are wanted, they will send for us. I wish you would let the papers have this."

This letter is signed "John Creighton and John Brannon."

The jury have already decided that Novatny's death was accidental. The remains of the young man have been forwarded to his friends in St. Louis, Mo.

THE OMAHA DAILY BEE: FRIDAY, DECEMBER 23, 1887.

ONE MORE CHANCE.

The unseasonable warm weather has left a few more Overcoats on our hands than we desire to carry over into the new year, and in order to sell them right now, we have cut the prices all to pieces. Commencing to-morrow we will offer our very finest Overcoats at prices heretofore asked for medium qualities. The biggest cut we will make on our fur and plush trimmed goods. There are not many of them, but we have a few very fine garments trimmed with good fur and silk plush. We want to make a sweep with these goods and close them out before we take stock. We invite those who have so far managed to get along with their old or light weight Overcoats, and whom the open winter has kept back from buying a heavy one, to inspect these garments. They will be surprised to see how little money it takes now to procure such an elegant Overcoat. This is really a grand opportunity and the last chance this season.

In Men's Dress and Business Suits we have a beautiful stock--the largest in the city--and our prices are known to be by far the cheapest. Many fine suits have been marked away down in order to reduce stock and we will save you fully 25 per cent--if not more--on every suit.

The big trade we have had in Boys' Overcoats last week has broken up the sizes of several lots, but we still have a fair assortment. The prices are such that we expect them to be cleaned out soon.

Our Hat Department is known to offer better hats for less money than any regular hat house in the city. The fine Fur Derby's which we are selling for one dollar have made a name for us. No other house sells a hat of equal quality for less than $2 or $2.50. We have received several new styles for the holidays. Our finest hats at $2.50, $3 and $3.25 cannot be bought at any other house for less than $3.50, $4 and $5. We offer in this department a splendid line of Fur Caps at just one-half their regular retail prices.

The beautiful and artistic display of Men's Furnishings in our large windows will give an idea of the variety of goods we have and the prices we ask. We invite those who are puzzled with the all-absorbing question, "What to give," to look at our window and they will see what we can offer in the way of presents for gentlemen. Sensible and thoughtful men prefer and enjoy substantial Christmas gifts of this nature. There is a satisfaction in giving or receiving a present that one can be seen wearing, a gift that combines utility and beauty, and nowhere else can you get such goods so cheap. Our popular system of selling goods at the lowest prices will be continued during the holiday season. We have no fancy prices and those who purchase of us can save enough on each purchase to buy a nice present for themselves.

Beginning Monday we will present visitors at our store with a beautiful holiday souvenir, copies of which are displayed in our windows.

All goods marked in plain figures and at strictly one price.

Wing Sing Knocked Out.

Mike King and Wing Sing, an Irishman and a Celestial, got into a row down on Tenth street Wednesday night, and they made the whole square howl. King hit the Chinaman a belt on the point of the jaw, after they had slugged each other for five minutes, and scored as clean a knock-out as Sullivan could wish to see. Before the court yesterday Wing told the most plausible story, and he was allowed to depart, but King was mulcted in the sum of $8 and costs.
