The Elks' Opening.

The new club rooms of the local Elks' lodge were formally opened Friday night with a grand reception and banquet. The Bostonians were present as the honored guests of the evening, and at least 350 guests were present to receive them. The arrivals commenced as early as 8 o'clock and continued until after 9. At this hour dancing began and was continued until nearly midnight, when the following musical programme was

The affair was most noteworthy from the fact that it was as brilliant an assemblage as ever gathered at any public reception in Omaha. The new club rooms are simply magnificent and are ample for the accommodation of the order. The lodge room is a splendid apartment 50x30, and has three ante-chambers together with toilet rooms. The floor of the main room is covered with brussels carpet of the finest make. The furniture is of antique oak with leather cushions on the chairs and sofas. The dining and billard rooms are splendidly furnished and the kitchen is equipped with all the needs of the most fas-

A French Female Mason. Well-read Masons are familiar with the story of Mrs. Aldworth, the only female admitted into the mysteries of Freemasonry according to the York rite, says the Masonic Chronicle, and we now find that France can boast of another lady brother, duly initiated in a regularly constituted lodge. Madame de Xainfrailles, wife of the general of the same name, served as his aide-de-camp with such valor as to receive from Bonaparte, when first consul, a commission as major of cavalry.

The Lodge des Artistes, having announced the holding of a lodge of adoption, Madame de Xaintrailles received an invitation to be initiated as a woman. In those cases it was customary for the brethren to open and close their lodge before admission of the ladies. While the lodge was in session, the master was informed as to there being a superior officer in full uniform in the ante-chamber, presumptively as a visitor. The expert inquired as to whether the stranger possessed a diploma, where-upon the latter handed him the military commission. It was read in astonishment, where upon Cuvelier, the master, a veteran of the army, proposed that, in view of her military services, Madame de Xaintrailles should be services, Maname de Aantranies should be initiated into Masonry, as a man, should she so desire. Her answer was; "I have been a man for my country, and will be one for my brothers." She submitted to the ordeal, modified as the emergency demanded, and was proclaimed in her Masonic capacity, so that upon opening the lodge of adoption, the heroine preserved her place among the

In REPERBING to "mixed funerals" Grand In REFERENCE to "mixed funerals" Grand Master Darrah said in his address to the Grand Lodge that "a Masonic procession should be styled and guarded as much as a Lodge at labor—no one being permitted to either enter or retire from it without permission from the W. M. No Mason would think of admitting a profane to visit a lodge while at labor, much less permit one to take part in the ceremonies of conferring a degree. Yet a lodge would have as much right, legally, to admit a profane to visit as it right, legally, to admit a profane to visit as it would to admit him within a Masonic pro-

In a recent address P. G. M. Congdon, of New Jersey, said: "Man's greatest need on earth is friendship, constant, true and help-ful. Masonry multiplies friendships. The quality of sweet friendship, like that of her sister, mercy, is not strained. It blesses him who gives and him who takes, and so on to the end. Let our aim and efforts ever be to establish and maintain true and abiding friendships, and life will teem with richer blessings."

A Longs medical director, in the St. Louis Globe-Democrat, says: "I feel it my duty to say of an examiner who recommends for lodge membership a man who dies within two years of admission of consumption (un-less that disease follows a severe injury or an attack of some acute disease), that it is evident he has not given sufficient attention to the examination of the applicant, and his services as medical examiner should be dis-continued. Every doctor of experience and learning should recognize in persons disposed to consumption or tuberculosis, appearances present in cases years before the discase de-velops itself—as follows: Long eyetids: a pale face; very sensitive, and coughing for slight causes; thin, siender hands, with club-ended fingers and curved nails sharply de-fined; red lines of the gums, and when the body is made bare there will be found great leanness of the chest; hollowness of the subclavicular depressions; prominence of the scapulas; smallnass of the posterior-anterior diameter of the chest, and unusual width of the inter-costal spaces. This conformation should unerringly apprise the medical ex-aminer of the distant approach of that dreaded disease-consumption."

THE SUIT OF S. E. Glardon and others against the supreme lodge of the Knights of Pythias, began last week in the courts of St. Louis. The plaintiff's husband, who died re cently, was a member of the defendant cr-ganization, and held two insurance policiesone for $1,000 and the other for $2,000—which the society refuses to pay. The defense say that Mr. Glardon failed to pay his dues for a year, and also that he had been convicted of felony, but pardoned by Governor Critican-den, and that either of these causes was, ac-cording to the constitution of the order, suf-ficient to debar a beneficiary from collecting the policy. The facts appearing to be the policy. The facts appearing to be in ac-cordance with the statements of the defend-ant, Judge Lubke, after the case was called, rendered an opinion which virtually pre-vented the plaintiffs from recovering in the premises and they took a nonsuit.

tee, William Turner.
It is expected that this lodge will hold a point installation of officers with Omaha lodge No. 18, but the feasability of having it made public is questioned owing to the fact that the elevator leading to the new hall in the Barker block will not be completed in time.

THE ISON Moulders in their thirteenth an The Iron Moulders in their thirteenth annual ball given on Friday evening, as usual did themselves proud. Two hundred attended, twenty-eight numbers were danced, and the affair did not end until 3 o'clock. Supper was taken at the Hub. The music was furnished by Hofmann's orchestra.

Among the brilliant social events of the veck was the Col Follows ball Thursday week was the Cool Fellows ball Thursday evening at Masonic hall, given by the Patri-zens Militant of Ezra Milhard Canton No. 1. Over a hundred couples were present, and everybody voted the affair a grand success. Preceding the dance the patriarchs in full uniform gave some fine evolutions. Captain N. B. Helm was master of ceremonies.

A REUNION of the family of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Calhoun, of Marshalltown, was arranged to take place at the house of their son-in-law, C. D. Thompson, 2210 Capitol avenue. Mr. and Mrs. Calhoun and daughter, Lulu, arrived on the fast train Saturday morning. Their sons, Albert and Frank, of the Times force, Kansas City, arriving last evening, and Will, of Council Bluffs, is ex-poeted this evening. Their daughters, Mrs. Thomson, Miss Emma, Ella and Hattie Cal-houn reside in Omaha. A pleasant time is expected. Mr. and Mrs. Calhoun will re-main for ten days.

Last evening the entire force of employes of the Union sewing machine office, at 1600 Howard street, headed by Mr. J. A. Douglas, repaired to the residence of Mr. G. S. Smith, the general agent, whom they pleasantly surprised by the presentation of an expension of the presentation prised by the presentation of an elegant gold chain and medallion. This spontaneous out-burst of appreciation was worthily bestowed. Mr. Smith has treated the employes of the office very handsomely during the past year, office very handsomely during the past year, having offered a handsome premium to the most successful salesman. The occasion was one of enjoyment to all concerned. The names of the donors are as follows: J. A. Douglas, J. Levine, W. Hodges, P. A. Bond, Adolph Melchers, A. D. Lafayette, E. H. Hemming, G. C. Hurbet, H. H. Wissler, F. L. Whitney, T. C. Davis, which constitute the Union force under the management of Mr. Smith.

A TELEGRAM to the Missouri Republican from Cincinnati says: Though the offi-cers of the Knights of Pythias have been very reticent, it has become known that there is a possibility of trouble to come. It appears that some time ago Supreme Chan-cellor Howard Douglass instructed all grand lodges to change their constitutions, so as to be in accord with the supreme laws, and pointed out wherein there were discrepancies. As far as heard from all the states excepting As far as heard from all the states excepting Illinois, Nebraska, Delaware, Oregon and Pennsylvania had complied. To day Illinois came in as requested. The supreme chancellor has issued a notice to the grand lodge of Pennsylvania, informing them that if his instructions are not complied with he will suspend that grand jurisdiction. In the case of Illinois, Supreme Chancellor Douglass had to face the very strong opposition in the grand lodge of both the supreme representatives, George W. Herman and C. E. Race, who, together with the grand keeper of records and seal, Henry B. Caldwell, cast their influence against the authority of the supreme chancellor. The grand chancellor took the foyal side, and has promulgated his order, complying fully with all the requirements of the supreme chancellor. Pennsylvania has refused, and, as before stated, has been given notice to obey or be suspended. This time, it is stated, they have to deal with a man with as much courage and pluck as the content of the supreme chancel on the supreme chancel or the supreme chancel or the supreme chancellor. In this issue is copied a telegram from Cincinnati to a St. Louis paper in regard to a difficulty among the Knights of Pythias. In this telegram among others is mentioned the jurisdiction of Nebraska as not complying with the instructions of the supreme chanwith the instructions of the supreme chan-cellor in regard to grand lodges altering their laws so as to conform with the laws of the supreme lodge. The lateness of the hour at which this quotation is made prevents a thorough investigation of the fac's. Unless the Brn is mistaken, the Nebraska grand lodge K of P. at its October session in this city determined to alter its constitution in obedience to the suggestions of the supreme chancellor. At the same time the Ne-braska body intimated that it yielded in no degree the justice of the position assumed no degree the justice of the position assumed by the promulgation of the objectionable rules. In view of these facts there is no danger of suspension of the Nebraska jurisdiction. Its grand body properly and gracefully acceded to the opinions of the head of the order and yet reserved the right to present certain corrections in the laws of the order to the supreme body in June next.

A perition for the organization of Lucullus lodge, No. 93, K. of P., has received the approval of the grand chancellor, and the lodge will be instituted in Omaha soon after New Year by District Deputy Cole.

PAST CHANCELLOR H. C. COLE, of Mt. Shasta lodge, No. 71, has been commis as district deputy grand chancellor for Doug as district deputy grand las county and the appointment gives general satisfaction. Mr. Cole is a competent Pythian and well fitted for the position.

OCCIDENTAL LODGE, No. 21, K. of P., of Co. lumbus, is enjoying a season of prosperity. Special meetings are held every week for rank work and the lodge has recently fitted up a new hall in elegant shape.

A very enjoyable meeting was that held recently by Mount Mina Lodge of Perfection, A. & A. S. A., Free Masons. A large number were in attendance among which were several prominent citizens of Lincoln, Lieutenant Dudly among the number. The degree was con ferred upon two applicants after which the lodge went into "love feast session," in which those present enjoyed themselves to

Diary of a Henpecked Husband. Chicago Mail: Frederick A. Rowley filed a bill for divorce to-day against Florence, his wife. Frederick had a penchant for diaries, and when he was married to Florence at Indianapolis on the 24th of May, 1886, he invested in a beautiful book, on the white pages of which each evening he intended to write the story of marital bliss. Some of these pages were submitted in the bill filed this morning, of which the following are samples:

"September 11, 1886.—Florence assaulted me with a large knife and threatened to kill me." "September 15 .- She beat me continually with whatever she could lay her

"October 15 .- My wife flourished a revolver at me, threatening to bore me full of holes."

"November 15.—The woman assaulted me to day with a het flatiron. I was terribly bruised and burned." "January 10, 1887.-My wife to-day resorted to that old chestnut, the um-brella. She pounded me with it, and demoralized the weapon." "March 1, 1887.—Florence went on a high ald drunk to-day. She created a scene at a public hotel and I feel terri-
